When I sat down to write my section of copy on this page, all I could think about was MY LIFE WAS OVER! — My high school life that is. My years at Central have been filled with adventures and excitement that I couldn't have missed for the world. I want to remember every single, nit-picky thing that went on here at CHS like pep rallies, Senior Day, and for me, graduation. As editors, Carrie and I tried our best to catch a glimpse of every aspect of Pounder life in the Champion. We hope that you'll enjoy looking at it now as well as when you're old and gray.

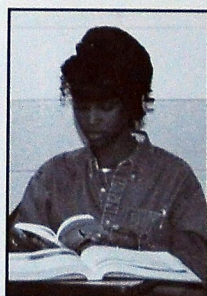

Best Wishes,
Charity Johns

Senior Officers: Pres. — Jamil Moore, Vice Pres. — Danielle Pope, Sec. — Jennifer Harris, Tres. — Charity Johns

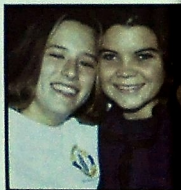

Seniors,
Well, this is it. We finally did it! Four years ago we never thought we would get to this point, and now we are the 98th graduating class of Central High. It has been an honor and a privilege to serve as your president the past three years. I want to thank all the officers and marshals for all your help this past year. I would also like to thank everyone who has supported me over the past three years. I'll never forget you and may God bless you in whatever you do, wherever you go.

Yours truly,

Jamil Moore
President, Class of '98

Mr. Hill and Mrs. Prince lead the recessional.

This is a portion of Dr. Nancy Prince's speech that she gave on Senior Day, May 8, 1998.

... The theme this year is Broadway lights ... My first thought when I learned the theme was how to tie together all the images of Broadway into a speech. My mind went searching for a meaning and a theme. One idea, part prose and song, kept repeating in my mind. Both are simple things I remember from childhood.

The first phrase is from a song, "This Little Light of Mine, I'm Gonna Let It Shine." The message from this theme is that each of you, no matter what size or wattage or how you see your light, need to let it shine. Choose to make your life and what you do with it something that others can see and something of which you can be proud. Being famous or successful does not always make a person feel content or happy. Talk to people who volunteer in the hospital, nursing homes, with special olympics, and with any organization that adds to the quality of life for another person. Their light brings joy into another person's life and in doing so enriches their own life.

Mr. and Mrs. Prince pose for a picture with the senior class officers.

Another thought comes from a favorite scripture. Matthew 5:13-17, "You are the light of the world. A city that is set upon a hill cannot be hid; Neither do men light a candle and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all in the house. Let your light shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your father which is in Heaven."

... Edith Wharton, a fine woman poet, said, "There are two ways of spreading light: to be the candle or the mirror that reflects it."

It is my wish that you be a candle. Share your light and remember that whether as an individual or as part of the group you are important and can shine. The smallest light will glow in a dark room and a thousand lights can make a glow in the night. "And if everyone lit just one little candle what a bright world this would be."

Thank you and God bless each and every one of you.

Senior Class of 1998
Last Will and Testament

Having been appointed chief executor of the estate of the Central High School class of 1998, I, Kristin Lawrence, do hereby make, publish, and declare the following to be the last will and testament of the Senior Class of 1998.

I, Natasha Webb, being of international background and superiority, do bequeath all my dresscode clothes to my sister, Holly, to prevent any further reprimands concerning her all-important appearance.

I, Tiffany Ellis, being of scholarly mind and sturdy body, do hereby will Patrick Chapell the ability to cope with the other Student Council officers without becoming a tyrant.

I, Lori Snow Bell, being of sound mind and slim body, will Holly Dyer the ability to succeed in all the attempts in life.

I, Stephanie Dyan Carver, of open mind and loud mouth, will Fallon Michelle Hardin a great senior year full of laughs, tears, and in the end, good-byes. Good luck, Tiger!

I, Heather Moser, being a child at heart, will my adopted little sisters, Kern Crawford and Ashley Hunsion, the ability to capture the stars. I have always got your back.

I, Amy Moser, being of absurd mind and content body, will Jason Moser all the Tennessee Traders he will ever want, and Brooke and Josh our family Alabama video. Good luck on surviving school.

I, Steven Malone, being of musical mind and short body, do hereby will Josh McDaniell and Cindy Turner my collection of Broadway soundtracks, and the "Two Lindseys" all the fun that Had at Governor's School and All-State.

I, Will Kimbrough, being of intelligent mind and thin body, do hereby will my sister, Erin, a happy and prosperous four years at Central High.

I, Melissa Houser, being of brilliant mind and imperfect body, do hereby will all teachers fortunate enough to teach my sister, Ashley, the ability not to expect any of the same pleasures they enjoyed while teaching me.

I, Lori Bush, being of shrewd mind and petite body, will to Leslie Morrow, Larrie Curry, Anna Wolfe, and Ashley Fitz my telephone and address book for those infamous late nights of prank calling.

I, Amanda Chambers, being of spiritual mind and fragile body, do hereby will Kim and Jody Thomas the ability to always keep their eyes on God, and to the underclassmen all of my former dresscode clothing.

I, Erika Rucker, will my "sister," Erin Statton, the ability to get through her last two years of high school with all the luck and love in the world.

I, Amber Nicole Blair, being of stable mind and fidgety body, do hereby will Adam Bolin a new person to listen to you play your guitar and sing over the telephone for hours on end, and I will a new lunch pal to listen to all of your problems and give you sound advice on the subject. I will love and miss you all.

I, Aaron Hudgins, will to Blake Lively my phone with built-in finger control and called I.D., and to Nadia a motorized boat with a crate.

We, the members of the Mallard's Mafia, David

Merriman, Jon Turner, and associates, will to the underclassmen a big plate of hot wings, a trip to Cancun Restaurant, Mexican switchblade, rusty El Camino, never ending rounds of Seinfeld, a stolen calculator, a copy of Jimi Hendrix, The Ultimate Experience, many trips up and down Branford Road, a fake pair of Oakleys, a bag full of Baskin-Robbins taster spoons, and a self-cooling, ill-gotten wicker chair.

I, Whitney Crawford, being of intellectual mind and straight hair, will my sister, Kern Crawford, my watch so she will be on time to school, my compact so she can pimp some more, the ability to find a job so maybe she will not have to save her lunch money, and last but not least, the VOLVO, hopefully!

I, Marc Keene, will Mrs. Evans a bottle of Ritlin so she will calm down a little.

I, Chrissy Perry, being of clueless mind, big heart, and fabulous body, will to the "Gap Girls" all my crazy personality, to Josh McDaniell the ability to raise as much heck in choir as I did, to Edward Berkowitz all the "NWO" for life and to know who your real friends are, to everyone in choir the ability to trip and fall over everything possible, and to everyone in the school to trust Jesus for everything in life.

I, Leslie Satterfield, being of good nature and kind heart, will the upcoming seniors the ability to stay in school and graduate — unlike many of our dropout classmates.

I, Raun Taylor, will Mandy Dixon the ability to not burn or bruise her rear end, whether it be in the tanning bed or while skating.

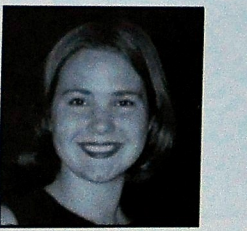

I, Jennifer Fox, of crazy mind and muscle-toned body, will Jenny Ottinger the ability to keep on acting crazy and to not care what everybody else thinks.

I, Charity Johns, being in high rank with most teachers and being able to weasel my way into every activity at CHS, do hereby will my little brother, Zach Johns, the ability to brown nose, and also all the memories and good times that I had doing the same thing.

I, Summar Holt, being incontinent with my current vehicular mobility, do hereby will my sister, Gurney Holt, my unbelievably "awesome" (HA!) mode of transportation, my Mustang.

I, Karl Bandfield, being of crazy personality, will Wendy Dackett all the Sprite and Ghecos she will need for her senior year.

We, Sara Blackwell and Danielle Pope, being of incredibly intellectual minds and proportional bodies, will the Tri-Hi-Y girls the ability to accomplish every goal and aspiration they desire.

Kristin Lawrence

I, Joey Bramlett, will no in particular underclassmen girls the ability to realize that it's okay to be jealous.

I, Veronica Simmons, of the Senior Class of '98, do hereby will Mario Rice the ability to graduate on time.

I, Jennifer Logan, being of intelligent mind and petite body, will to my little sister, Rachel, the ability to have as much fun and to be successful as I have these past four years at Central, and to Stuart Beva and Eric Dill the ability to carry on our game of "Gotha Last."

We, the senior girls of the '97-'98 varsity basketball team, being of athletic skill and under minds, will to the upcoming team the ability to fulfill Miss Lane's goal of ten wins as precisely as we have done, to Valerie Redman a date book so she can properly schedule her dates, to Laura Bradford a pack of tube socks, and to Shelley "Holy Cow" Howell the ability to dunk next year.

I, Jamil Moore, being of intellectually superior mind and Greek god-like body, will to my brother, Kashaad Moore, the mystical power and aura of the Jamil Moore, greatness. May he be as fantastically brilliant and unbelievably great as myself and the rest will follow accordingly.

I, Amanda Dennis, being of stressed mind and healthy body, will the underclassmen the patience and sanity to make it through Central High School.

I, Adam Thomas, being of astoundingly intelligent mind and extreme modesty, will to Adam Blakemore and Allan Cope the right to replace me in the Elite 5, to Sean Merriman the good sense to stop banging his head against trees, and I leave the underclassmen with these final words of wisdom, "May your guesses be accurate and your choices be multiple." Godspeed, and happy trails.

I, Marc Chillion, being of sound mind and athletic body, will Nick Sewell a new swimsuit and an outdoor motor for his rowboat.

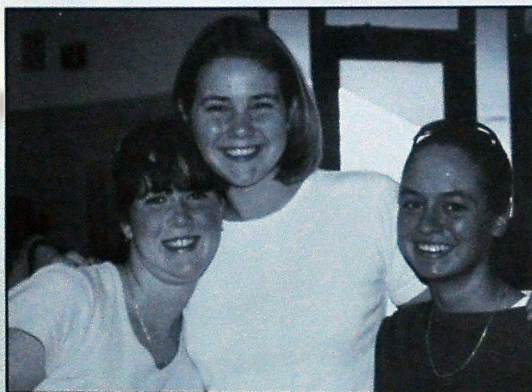

We, the senior cheerleaders, being of superior minds and vertically challenged bodies, will to next year's squad the ability to put up with Amber and Rachel's annoyingly excessive spirit, the frequent stops you'll be making for Jennifer Taylor to get some more food, and to next year's seniors to control "Captain" Holly from starting all the cheers.

We, the senior girl soccer players, of strange minds and "phat" legs, will the upcoming soccer team the ability to play hard, and win more than one soccer game.

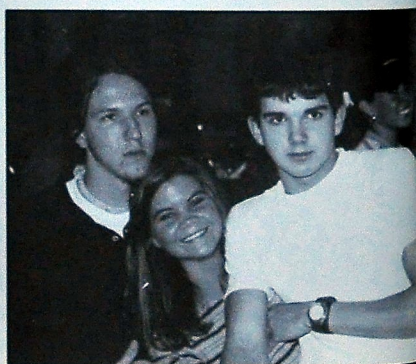

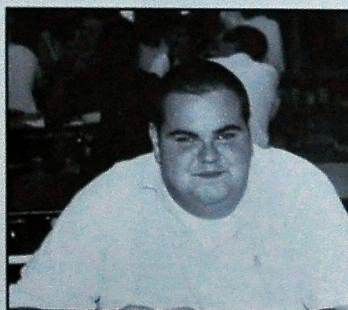

I, Candice Goff, being of bold mind and dysfunctional body, will all the underclassmen the strength to break through the steel bars and graduate — unlike so many class of '98 hopefuls.

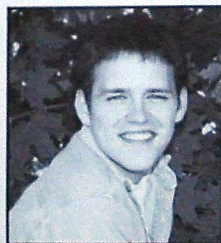

I, Kristin Lawrence, being of virtuous mind and scyscraping body, do hereby will the upcoming Senior Reader of the Will the patience to revise, and receive all the signatures of each will recipient, as well as Meghan Standil a front seat on bus 79 (watch those teeth), and Melanie Kilpatrick the ability to realize "Where the far" is. May the forthcoming Senior class keep their eyes on the prize, and God in their hearts.

The aforesaid will and testament of the Central High Class of 1998 will become effective immediately upon the stroke of midnight of May 29, 1998, the day for which we have all pinned, graduation!

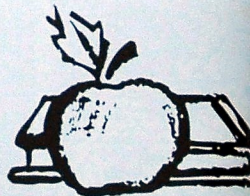

Danny Bowers

Steven Malone

"After awhile you learn that what you really are is all the experiences and all the thoughts you've ever had, and all the people who have touched your life, no matter how briefly."

"All the World is all I Am"

Tori Amos

Now silent are these hallowed, empty halls and gone our childish ways that once we knew.
We move into the future which now calls for past is past and present will be through.

The world, which filled with both despair and mirth, is but a book in which our course we write.
As moved by time throughout our life on earth,
each page is filled and gone the naive white.

We are the sum of everyone we know,
and we become, in turn of them a part.
Though separate ways we each now turn and go a bit of all is kept within our heart.

You find as time moves on that you become
All that you've ever known and ever done.

With the crowds cheering, I am now about to slide into home plate in the baseball game of life. I was caught up in the excitement of the game when suddenly the realization that the game is almost over hit me like a foul ball on the head. I was taken back to the first swing.

As the dust flew around my head, I was reminded of the first time I walked up to the plate — our freshman year. As rookies, Kristin Ainslie, president, and William Tate Kimbrough, vice president, led us. Jennifer Harris served as secretary, and Chrissy Percy was treasurer. Sports were a strong point for us. There were 11 freshmen on the boys' soccer team and 7 freshmen on the girls' soccer team. Bobby Neely and Skyler Phillips were on the golf team, and Josh Stephenson, Kevin McAllister, and Daniel Curtis dressed for varsity baseball as freshmen. Cheering for our team was Sara Blackwell and Melissa Marler. Hadden Penney, Eddie Davis, and Dagan Beckett were in the jazz band. There were 49 students in the first World Cultures class. Ten freshmen were in the Latin Club, 7 in the French Club, and 5 in FCA. Garret Meers was voted "Rookie of the Year." His award was given at the same presentation that Mrs. Womble fell off of the stage after her pho-so-precious "Bon voyage" speech. Our batting average was at its record high, and we were winning the game.

As we rounded first base headed for second, we were sure to keep our eyes on the ball. Helping us win the game during our sophomore year was our newly-elected president, Jamil Moore. Danielle Pope was elected vice president, and Charity Johns was voted treasurer. Jennifer Harris retained her position of secretary. Tiffany Ellis was a member of the Toss-Up Team. Alan Newell and Daniel Nance served on the Champion staff. Kristin Lawrence was selected for the 1996 Ensemble. Skyler Phillips was chosen for All-State Choir. Derek Mahaffey and Andy Simmons played boys' soccer. Natalie Clowers and Abbi Adams participated in basketball, while Susan Baker and Erika Rucker were members of the volleyball team. Derek Nauman wrestled, and April Tollett ran track. Steven Malone attended The Governor's School for the Arts. Garret Meers was voted Sophomore MVP. As we neared second, we began to realize just how great our game was going. We were half way to home plate.

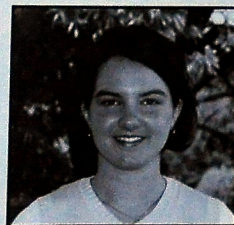

We were now on second, cautiously awaiting the hand signals from our third base coaches, our teachers. Jamil Moore and Danielle Pope retained their positions of president and vice president. The office of secretary was once again filled by Jennifer Harris, while Charity Johns guarded the treasury for the second year. Many juniors helped with our big project, prom, which was a big success. Steven Malone and Kristin Lawrence made All-East and All-State Choir. Fifteen juniors were members of NHS, and 27 were in

Beta Club. Fourteen juniors were a part of Student Council. Zack Bell, Bryan Henderson, and Josh Hager played varsity football. Jennifer Fox and Shylah Weaver dressed for girls' soccer, while Craig Davis and Jason Pruett played boys' soccer. Brandon Schroyer and Matt Wilson were on the CHS baseball team. Luke Grant played tennis, and Angie Catchings and Kelly Solock played softball. Thirty-seven students were in American Studies. Alonzo Hudgins and Steven Malone tied for the Most Valuable Player Award. The run to third base was long and hard, but now we could look forward to the home stretch.

Our trek from third to home seemed to last only a few moments. Homecoming, the first big event of the year, brought excitement. The student body chose the king and queen to be Alonzo Hudgins and Jennifer Logan. We voted Dr. Prince as the Senior Day Dedicatory. The court consisted of Alonzo Hudgins, Will Kimbrough, Steven Malone, Jamil Moore, Jason Pruett, Whitney Crawford, Jennifer Logan, Sarah Morgan, Heather Moser and Danielle Pope. Alonzo Hudgins and Jennifer Logan were crowned Mr. and Miss Central. Anna Ashby was Valedictorian, and Tiffany Ellis was Salutatorian. Alonzo Hudgins was honored with the Y-Teens' Mr. Football Award and helped the Pounders win 8 out of 11 football games. Donald Rush, Chris Ashcraft, Daniel Curtis, and Marc Chillion added spirit and spunk to baseball's winning season. The "dawg pound" spread Pounder spirit to all with their infamous cattle call, while the band cheered for the teams with the help of their precious "Frank N. Barrel."

Although this baseball game is over now, it will not soon be forgotten. Along with all the great plays we made, we also made many wonderful memories. Now we're headed for the big leagues. Class of 1998, keep your eyes on the ball and always remember our little league days. May God bless and keep you safe.

Thus reads the "stats" of the game of 1998.

 Lori Bush — "If you can't think of anything else to do — laugh!"
 Lashonda Butcher — "Be careful what you say to people because the words you say may be the last words they hear."
 Amanda Cahoon — "If I can visualize it, you've said too much!"
 Stephanie Carver — "Oh good! My horns are still holding up my halo!"
 Amanda Chambers — "Don't settle for anything less than the best, and remember, Jesus loves you."
 Marc Chillion — "Do everything your best, even if you best isn't that great."
 Candice Coit — "Escape from Alcatraz: High on life."
 David Dahlke — "For every trail there is a finish line, and for every finish line there is growth."
 Amanda Dennis — "Life goes on."
 Jeremy Dial — "Three rights make a left."
 Tiffany Ellis — "Ignore those who try to deter your path; they only want to ruin your spirit."
 Cyndie Granger — "A conscience is God's built in warning system ... be glad if it bothers you, be worried if it doesn't."
 Tajke Grant — "Two words ... think about it."
 Jennifer Harris — "It was a sad and sorry and sickening sight."
 Brian Henderson — "It's time to get live, it's time to represent, Central High, what time is it?"
 Sunimar Holt — "You can get by on charm for about fifteen minutes. After that you better know something."
 Melissa Houser — "Smile no matter what because even if your not happy, your smile could brighten someone else's day!"
 Alonzo Hudgins — "Do as I say, not as I do."
 Charity Johns — "Everything becomes a little different as soon as you say it out loud." "As far as you know."
 Will Kimbrough — "Shady, very shady indeed."
 Kristin Lawrence — "Keep on singing."
 Jennifer Logan — "Life is no fun without someone you love."

Steven, does it really taste that bad?

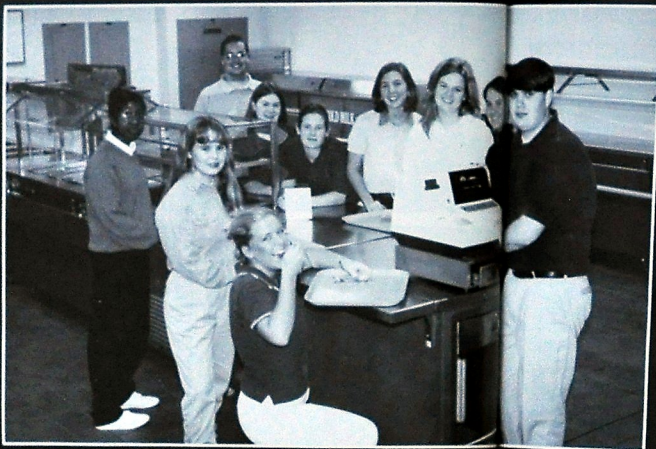

Giving blood didn't phase Will, but Shaun looks a little worried.

Do you recognize this dressed up pair? They have found a new career: modeling.

Central High School has started off another year with an excellent academic program. This year students have strived to do their best and reached their individual goals whether it be a high GPA, striving to make honor or star roll, or doing the best they can in every subject they take. This year more and more students are broadening their horizons by taking more JEP classes so they can have less work in college. Also, this year Mr. Hill chose several students from every grade level to participate in a program called Student Exchange. Our school drew Lookout Valley to exchange with and everything went very successfully. Central's students were praised for their behavior and high standards. Block scheduling has also worked out very well for the second year in a row. Central's academic standards continue to excel each year with the help of a great principal, Mr. Hill.

Academics

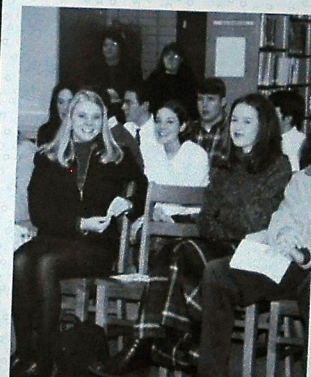

Expanding Our Focus

Central is also recognized for its honorable clubs such as National Honor Society (NHS), Beta Chi Mu Alpha Theta, and other foreign language clubs. Students have to have certain GPA's to be inducted into these clubs and they are well rewarded for that achievement. As many can see, Central's academics are greatly important to each honorable student and most of its students go far in life after graduation.

The Senior girls smile for the camera as they relax in the sun outside in the agora.

Larie Curry, Julie Holder, and Mandy Dixon eagerly await their induction into NHS.

There aren't many ways to show or tell people about pride in our school, and there aren't many people who could put that information into 6 or 7 pages correctly. That is where the newspaper staff came in. Some students want to grow up and write for a career. The Central-zine staff learned what it takes.

The staff started out a little slow, as one would assume. We learned how to put a paper together, like letter size, editing, and writing techniques. It wasn't always easy to cover every story that we wanted to cover and it wasn't easy to cover the stories that were assigned. We did the best we could, and we, the Central-zine staff, hope you enjoyed reading what we thought pride meant.

Towering Above The Rest

Above: Shylah has control of the ball.

We're looking forward to looking back on all of our victories this year. Pounder fans cheered our football team on to more win than they've had in years. The girls' basketball team, named 2nd in the district, pulled together to make this year a winning season as well. The boys' basketball team, plagued with tragedy and unfortunate losses, were determined to try their hardest to get through the rough times and still play their best. The baseball team sweated and strived to reach their goal, the State Tournament. All of our Pounders, whether they're on the field, court, course, or track, or cheering from the stands are characterized by an awesome spirit that towers above the rest.

The 1997 Girls Soccer season was disappointing after winning the district championship and making it into the region semifinals in 1996. "Rebuilding year" was an understatement losing 14 girls from the championship team, but a strong group of freshman and a few new players came in to team up with the 10 remaining players. The team took its lumps but continued to improve as the season progressed and ended the season with a string of good matches and a strong showing in the District 2A Semifinals against CSAS. Award winners were as follows:
MVP Award: Shylah Weaver
Offense Award: Mandy Evans
Defense Award: Jennifer Denham
100% Award: Jennifer Fox
Team Award: Stephanie Petty
Most Improved: Jennifer Pridemore
Iron Woman Award: Jennifer Denham and Jennifer Hart

The year started out with great expectations and a shot at the state championships. Lady Luck did not want to cooperate as a few serious injuries took place in the off season and the tragic loss of Warren Mackey shadowed over the team.

Hard work and team unity were evident as the season started and though maybe a little weaker than expected, the team was good.

As the season went on team play got better and we knew if we could get out of our own district, we would have a good shot at going to state.

Our only losses of the season came to district foe Art's and Sciences. The second loss cut our dreams short and we ended the season with a record of 12-2-2 for the varsity and 7-1 for the JV's.

The record is the best winning percentage by a central soccer team to date and some milestones were set. Nick Young became the new school leader in 3 categories.

1.) Career Goals: 66 2.) Single season Goals: 28 3.) Career Assists: 45

SPECIAL OLYMPICS

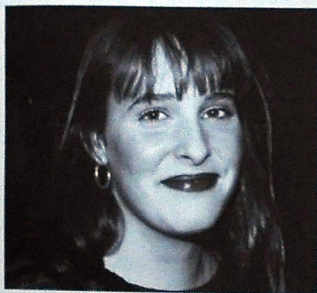

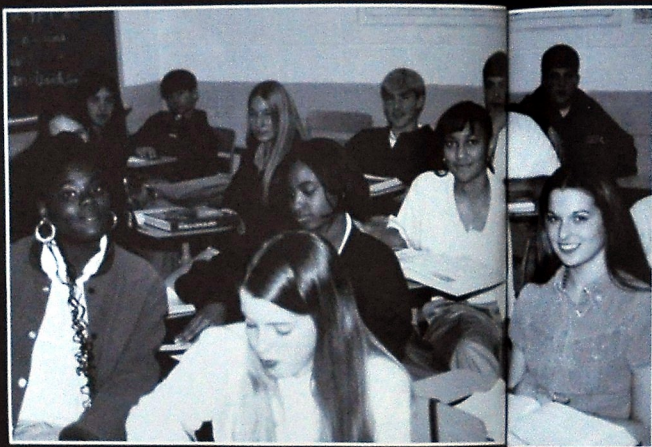

Kevin Johnson smiles with our congressman, Zeb Wamp, and our mayor, John Kinsey.

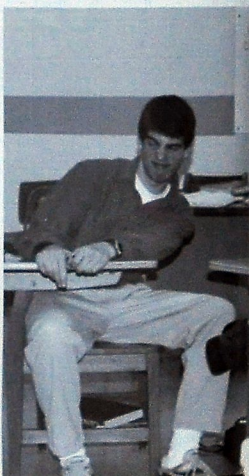

Johnny Richey designed the T-shirt for the Special Olympics for Central.

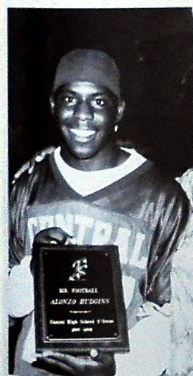

The yearbook gave surveys out to every student and asked them to give answers for questions such as, "What strange collectibles do you have?" and "If curiosity killed the cat, what killed the dog?" This year included many more senior sibling pictures than in years past. Spring breakers usually go on vacation and we've got some candids of them goofing around in the sun. There are also some shots of the most spirited people around: Central students.

Alonzo is proud to be Mr. Football!

Karla, April, and Christina are chillin' in the hall.

STANDING OUT AMONG THE CROWD

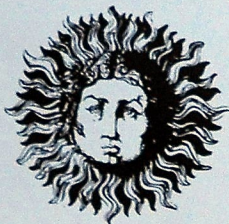

Spring breakers having fun, funny answers, and baby brothers and sisters can all be found in this years mini-mag. From the school's worst drivers to the person most likely to become a Preferred Stock Model, it's filled with fun and exciting occurrences of the year. We would like to thank everyone who gave pictures and completed their surveys.

SPIRIT

Jana Sylvester shows her school spirit in style.

Juniors have a good time at the pep rally.

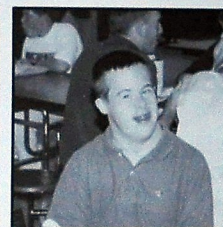

"The cheerleaders" take a break after the pep rally to pose for a picture.

Jason, Brandon, Craig, and John are tryin' hard to work it for the ladies.

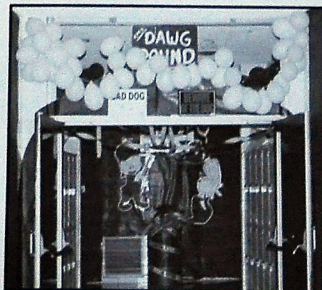

J-Bo and Zo are enjoying spirit day.

This year our traditional Spirit Week was reduced to three days. Two days were just plain 'dress down days', while Friday was labeled as "Purple and Gold Day." Faculty and students alike showed their spirit by wearing Central's school colors. Adam Hickman won the title for the most school spirit. One of the traditions of Spirit Week is that each class has a specific pod to decorate to show spirit for the Homecoming game. The class of '98 decorated B-pod and placed second, while the class of '99 decorated C-pod and came in first place for the second year in a row. The class of 2000 decorated D-pod and came in fourth place, and last, but not least, the class of 2001 decorated E-pod and came in third place.

The '97 winning football season has boosted the spirit throughout the school. The football team has improved their record this year to an 8-2 regular season record. The Purple Pounders won the Homecoming game for the first time in 13 years.

At the Homecoming Pep-rally, Alonzo Hudgins was announced as Mr. Football. Also at the pep-rally Brandon Hutton, Craig Davis, Jason Dill, John Cantrell, Marc Chillon, Travis Mc Masters, Blake Lively, and Skyler Phillips joined the cheerleaders in chants, cheers, and dancing to pump up the football team and the entire student body for the big game.

SURVEY SAYS ...

Some of Central's most embarrassing moments:

- "When I got my head stuck between two bars at Shoney's."
- "When I didn't dress down on a dress-down day."
- "When I walked out of the bathroom with my skirt tucked into my panty hose."
- "When I was in the cafeteria, and I thought I lost my green hat. It was on top of the Coke machine."

Is there any rivalry between the siblings at Central?

Jennifer & Rachel Logan because Rachel tries to copy off of Jennifer, and Jennifer gets mad.

Holly & Jill lively because Jill is always close behind.

The Hands twins (Which one's which?) because they dress alike.

Whitney & Keri Crawford — Who's the sweetest?

Johnny & Clayton Declaney — They fight over who's halber.

Most STL PID answer:

Oblivious because they stink.

Here's a clue: Sibling rivalry is between brothers and sisters — NOT schools against schools.

Juniors. Perhaps our growing and maturing occurs the most when we stand not as individuals but rather as a class that has grown to know each other through our experiences. Through our differences we have learned the value of compromise. This has made us stronger and prepared us for future relationships. It seems like only yesterday we were inexperienced freshmen but now we are approaching our senior year and are closer to entering the world outside of high school. Truly we should take pride in our work we have accomplished. Moreover, we must realize that one of our greatest achievements is the transformation we have made from strangers to friends. We have planned another memorable prom and have proven to do considerably well in our academics. Clearly, we will always remember these tedious school years as being filled with difficult classes, clubs, and committees. However, we must all understand that not only have we grown mentally, but we have grown as people. We have all settled into our unique and diverse personalities while at the same time we have united as a class. Surely, this is what our high school years should be like, and we have accepted this challenge. Furthermore, we have proudly achieved it.

NDERCLASSMEN

OUR DAY WILL COME

The underclassmen have kept themselves quite active this year. The juniors constantly met to ensure a successful prom. The sophomores had a candy-selling fundraiser in order to get an early start on their prom fund. However, sometimes these activities placed added pressure on already stressed schedules. Part of being an underclassman is enduring the hardships of peer pressure, stress and headache over time. Every year we make new friends and new enemies. As we grow older, time takes quite a toll on our minds but in the end we somehow survive. Despite the task ahead of us, underclassmen always succeed and come out on top. No matter what lies in front of us, all underclassmen are striving to meet the day in which we are triumphantly announced Seniors.

There are many opportunities to be active in at Central High. You could participate in a range of clubs. From NHS, Student Council, Tri-Hi-Y, or to the new Science Club. This was Central's first year having a science club. The Science Club's first project was having to do with recycling. Student Council sponsored another "Turkey Race". The race involved participation from the whole student body. Student Council also did "data match." Tri-Hi-Y received the feeling of satisfaction after providing a needy family with gifts for Christmas. The carnation sale was once again a great success from our Y-teens. Fellowship of Christian Athletes sponsored "See You At The Pole," which two hundred students of CHS gathered to pray for our school.

To the Right: The Homecoming Dance was enjoyed by many.

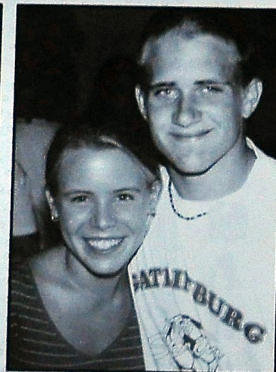

C Clubs/Dances

Desiring to Belong

"Dances" is a word that gets the attention of many students at Central. When there is the rumor of a dance coming up, people start preparing future dates and making hair appointments. Of course, there are some that dislike the thought of dances, but for the most part there is always a great turn out. The traditional dances we have are the Homecoming, Military Ball, and Prom. The Homecoming theme was school spirit, decorated with purple and gold. The Prom theme was "Because The Night Belongs To Us." The colors consist of lilac and black. Military Ball colors were white, gold, burgundy and green. The king and queen were Robert Mastin and Rebecca Drawbond. Everyone had a great time. The Soc Hops during our football season were the best. There are always great turn outs for those. Dances are a way to be involved in CHS and show our interest in our school.

At the induction for National Honors Society, Erica Cooper takes time to get her picture taken.

There is nothing like staring into the eyes of your love.

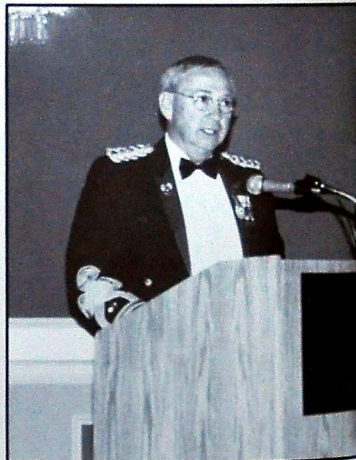

MILITARY BALL

On Saturday, February 28, the ROTC hosted the annual Military Ball. The climax of the evening was the coronation of the king and queen, Robert Mastin and Rebecca Drawbond.

Brian Smith, Josh Mashburn, Chris Vaughn, and Chris Johnson just finished presenting the colors.

Summar Holt and date enter the ballroom.

Kristen Clark, Sammi Johnson, and Carla Brown are anxiously awaiting the evening.

SUPERINTENDENT ADVISORY COUNCIL

Once Monday out of every month in the school year, these three students attend the Superintendent's Student Advisory Council meeting (SAC). Either Dr. Jesse Register, Superintendent of all county schools, or Mr. Don Lipson, Director of Secondary Education, presides over the meeting. Composed of outstanding students from each Hamilton County High School, there is one representative from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes sent from each school. The sole purpose of the SAC is to relate student concerns to the Register. This is accomplished in an open forum-type meeting, where student concerns are voiced and promptly addressed. SACOFF is an excellent conference that SAC members are given a chance to attend. The Student Congress on Policies, Mock School Board Meetings and various debates on a wide range of current school-related subjects. This council also provides over the county-wide student exchange program, which proves to be an insightful and successful way to exchange ideas and practices of other schools. The Central High branch of the SAC has proven to be dedicated and extremely devoted to this outstanding committee.

The Hispanic Heritage Month was celebrated from September 15 to October 15 in every state and territory of the United States. This national effort is designed to recognize Hispanic contributions to the American society. Central High School, under the leadership of Mrs. Quintero, Mr. Sanchez, and the Spanish Club, celebrated the National Hispanic Heritage Month with a series of in-house activities. Spanish Club members initiated their efforts by posting Hispanic theme information articles and pictures depicting famous Hispanic people and historical facts on the school's bulletin boards. The celebration culminated with a Spanish program that included prize drawings, gift handouts, and live music. During the past four years the Spanish Club has participated and sponsored many outside activities. The Club's last activity for 1997 was to sponsor the "Coats for Kids" campaign. In two weeks they collected 97 coats to be distributed to local families.

Pizza, a Party, and a Moonlight Ride

Jenny was so happy about the house they had found, for once in her life, it was on the right side of town. She unpacked her things with such great ease as she watched her new curtains blow in the breeze. How wonderful it was to have her own room!

School would be starting. She would have friends over soon. There would be sleep-overs and parties. She was so happy. It was just the way she wanted her life to be.

On the first day of school, everything went great. She made new friends and even got a date. She thought, "I want to be popular, and I'm going to be because I just got a date with the star of the football team." She recognized in this school you have to have clout, and dating this guy would only help her out.

There is only one problem stopping her fate: Her parents said she was too young to date.

"Well, I won't tell them the truth. They won't know the difference. What's there to lose?" Her parents sighed and said alright.

Excited, she got ready for the big event. But as she rushed around like she had no sense, she began to feel guilty about all the lies. What was a pizza, a party, and a moonlight ride?

Well the pizza was good and the party was great, but the moonlight ride would have to wait.

Well the pizza was good and the party was great, but the moonlight ride would have to wait. Jeff was now half drunk by this time, but he kissed her and said he was fine. Then the room filled with smoke and Jeff took a puff, many couldn't believe he was smoking that stuff.

Now, Jeff was ready to ride to the point at only after he had smoked a joint. They jumped in the car for a moonlight ride, but thinking he was too drunk to drive.

They finally made it to the point, but Jeff started to make a pass.

A pass is not what Jenny wanted at all, and by a pass, I don't mean playing football. Perhaps my parents were right ... I guess I am too young.

Why, how could I have been so dumb!" She used all her might to push Jeff away. "Please take me home. I don't want to stay."

Jeff cranked up the car and floored the gas. In a matter of seconds they were going too fast.

As Jeff drove off in a fit of anger, Jenny knew her life was in danger. She begged and pleaded for him to slow down, but he just got faster as they neared the town.

Just let me go home, and I will confess that tonight was a great lie. I really went out for a moonlight ride.

Then all of a sudden, she saw a big flash. "Oh God, Please Help Us! We're going to crash!" She doesn't remember the impact. Just everything went black.

She felt someone remove her from the twisted rubble. And heard, "Call an ambulance, these kids are in trouble."

Voices she heard ... a few words at best. She knew there were two cars involved in the wreck. Then wondered to herself if Jeff was alright, and if the people in the other car were alive.

She awoke in the hospital to find it facts so sad. "You've been in a wreck, and it looks pretty bad."

These voices echoed in her head. As they told her Jeff was dead. They said, "Jenny, we've done all we can do. It looks as if we'll lose you too."

"But the people in the other car," Jenny replied. "We're so sorry, Jenny. They also died." Jenny prayed, "Please God, forgive me for what I have done. I just wanted a real night of fun."

"Tell these people's family, I've made their lives dim, and I wish I could return their families to them. Tell Mom and Dad that I'm sorry I lied, and I could have been a good girl if I had only tried. Oh Nurse, won't you please tell them that for me?"

The nurse just stood there and never agreed. But took Jenny's hand with tears in her eyes. A moment later Jenny died.

A man asked the nurse, "Why didn't you do your best to bid that girl's one last request?" She looked at him with eyes so sad.

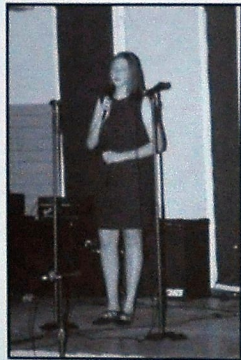

"Because the people in the other car were her mom and dad."

Mackey's 20 Points Boosts Pounders

We have gathered here in common bonds
To rejoice in his life and name
But we must not forget to be thankful
For their shared years he was born.
Cool guys and their much promised life promised not from day to day,
But a greater gift he gave to us upon death . . . with him to stay.
And though we don't comprehend or understand our loss we feel,
God the Father has him now with his comfort from above.
We question why oh Lord of ours that young man have to die.
But trust and faith must wait till our hearts
Not withstand when we cry.
We feel the sadness in our lives and the pain you have inside.
But remember that we loved him too and we are here to help your needs.
Yes, call on us if you need us.
For we are your depend.
Wherever we are we will be all of us . . .
Because he was our friend.

— Chuck Kiehn

Why?

Why so much hurt? Why so much pain?
Why so much grief? So much sorrow
In this life, he left behind.
So much love, so much to be gained.
With all the questions left unanswered,
All the hurt, pain, and grief
All his friends could do was ask why and stand in disbelief.
When they hear that he has been killed
There's not enough words to express the way they feel.
This may be something only time can heal.
People say "Be strong and hang tough.
You can get through this."
But many answers aren't enough.
We miss his smile and the little frown on his face.
But we do know now he's in a better place.
He didn't get to grow up and marry his wife
Maybe have a kid or two, full of life
Just like he was when he left this world, dark place
But Warren knew the Lord, and he saw the light
He knew all that was good and all that was right.
His parents raised him up in a good church, and they raised him pretty well!
They taught him to love the Lord and in the house of the Lord they'll dwell.
Without Warren, things won't ever be the same
There is always going to be something I'll remember about that name.
Not just the name but the person himself.
These things you feel, you can't keep on the shelf.
As the tears rolled down when we heard that he died.
The questions arise . . . and people wonder . . .

Why?

Fisherman's Prayer

God grant that I may live to fish,
Until my dying day
And when it comes to my last cast,
I then most humbly pray
When in the Lord's safe landing net,
I'm peacefully asleep,
Than in His mercy I be judged,
Big enough to keep

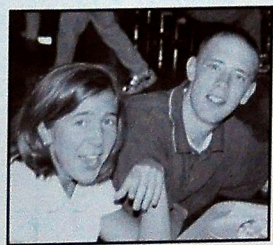

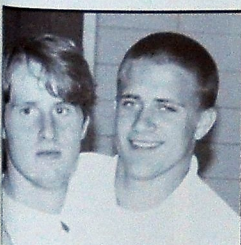

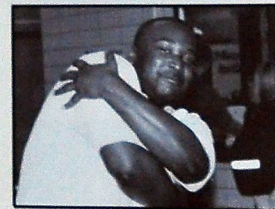

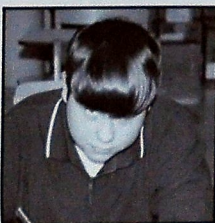

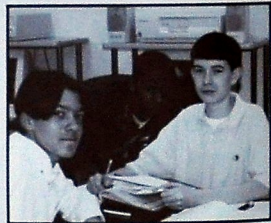

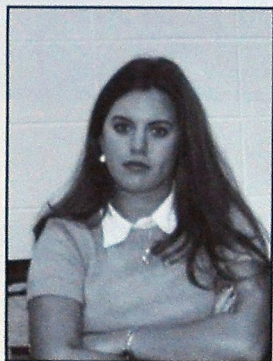

A rose once grew where all could see, sheltered beside a garden wall
And as the days passed swiftly by, it spread its branches straight and tall
One day a beam of light shone through a crevice that had opened wide
The rose bent gently toward its warmth, then passed beyond to the other side
Now, you who deeply feel its loss, be comforted — the rose blooms there,
Its beauty even greater now, nurtured by God's own loving care.

Since a young age Sergeant Major Clarence Jones has been influenced by his father and uncles to join the army. He did follow in his families footsteps.

After 25 years in the service he retired and went on to a even more stressful job: a teacher. He has been teaching for 16 years and says his daughter is graduating and so is he. Along with Crystal, Azeline (his wife) and him have a son, Clarence Jr., who is also following in the family tradition and is now serving in the marines. SGM Jones is completely satisfied with his life and has neither regrets nor wishes that haven't come true. Everyone at CHS wishes him the best of luck with everything he may encounter throughout his life.
