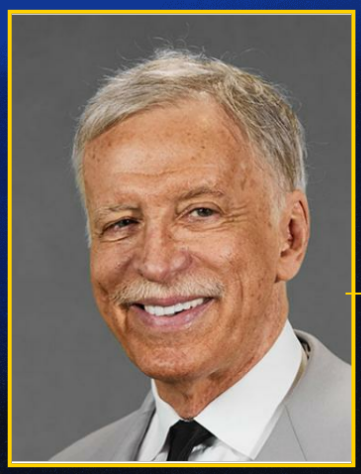
Los Angeles, California No Town Like Our Town



E. STANLEY KROENKE

OWNER/CHAIRMAN

Stanley Kroenke's journey to bring professional football back to Los Angeles culminated on Jan. 12, 2016 when National Football League owners ratified his proposal to return the Rams to Southern California.

Eleven years after NFL owners unanimously approved Kroenke to assume sole ownership of the franchise in 2010, he celebrated the opening of SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park – a 298-acre development with a 70,240-seat stadium as its crown jewel, which hosted Super Bowl LVI in 2022. The Rams celebrated the stadium's first season with fans in attendance with a world championship won in their home stadium, in their home city of Los Angeles. That year, Kroenke became the first sports team owner to win a Super Bowl and another major pro sports title in any given calendar year when the Denver Nuggets also won the NBA Championship.

The state-of-the-art SoFi Stadium rises from nearly 100 feet below ground on the former site of the Hollywood Park Racetrack and serves as the home to the Los Angeles Rams and Los Angeles Chargers. Additionally, the multi-purpose project serves as a West Coast campus for the National Football League, houses NFL Media's headquarters, and features hosting capabilities for future Super Bowls, NFL Drafts, and Pro Bowls.

"I think what Stan has built here and done here, in his creativity with this whole development, this probably is going to redefine this area of Los Angeles for the next century," Chargers Owner/Chairman Dean Spanos told The Associated Press. "It's going to be something that L.A. is going to be very proud to have."

Equipped with decades of real estate development experience, a passion for sports and a one-of-a-kind vision, Kroenke orchestrated the Rams' return home by privately financing the construction of a world-class stadium befitting the culture and style of Los Angeles.

"Stan has the vision, resources, inspiration and creativity to create the right setting for the NFL in Los Angeles," said Dallas Cowboys Owner Jerry Jones. "I have great admiration for his talent and skills, and I have great confidence in his leadership ability in guiding our league back into this very important community. He sees the big picture, knows how to do things on the big stage, and he knows how to do what's best for the long-term future. Stan Kroenke is a valuable asset to the National Football League."

In the months leading up to the opening of SoFi Stadium, Kroenke was named Los Angeles Business Journal's Business Person of the Year for 2020. The Rams' return to Los Angeles was named 2016's top sports moment at the 12th Annual L.A. Sports Awards.

DELIVERING A GLOBAL DESTINATION

In a marriage of sports, retail, commercial and residential development, Kroenke constructed a 3.1 million-square-foot stadium expandable up to 100,000 seats that anchors an urban village, complete with a 6,000-seat performance venue called The YouTube Theater, 300 boutique hotel rooms, 2,500 modern residences, more than 1.5 million square feet of retail, office, conference and meeting space. More than 20 acres of public parks, open space, pedestrian walkways and bicycle paths will divide the district into thirds, offering residents and visitors a regional gathering place in the center of the Los Angeles basin.

"(The) project is uniquely tied to Kroenke's vision of where global sports and entertainment are heading and his zeal to be at the forefront," sports reporter Liz Clarke detailed in The Washington Post in 2019.

In addition to hosting NFL games, SoFi Stadium and the district at Hollywood Park has transformed the area into a year-round sports and entertainment destination that delivers an unparalleled experience for residents and visitors. Beyond Super Bowl LVI in 2022, the stadium will host eight 2026 World Cup matches and has been awarded the Opening Ceremony of the 2028 Olympics. Previously, SoFi Stadium hosted the 2023 College Football Playoff National Championship and Wrestlemania in 2023. Think we should add some of the top concerts as well…

The NFL opened the league's West Coast headquarters in 2021, a 450,000 square foot Class A building with 214,063 square feet of office space and 74,922 square feet of studio and support space to serve as the home for NFL Network, NFL.com, NFL RedZone, the NFL app and many other department's supporting the league's media and business operations. In addition to office and studio space situated next to SoFi Stadium, the facility features NFL Media's first outdoor studio which hosts audiences and includes an outdoor field for filming purposes as well as public use.

"As home to the Rams and Chargers, and now NFL Los Angeles, SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park will be an attraction for NFL fans year-round," said NFL Commissioner

Roger Goodell. “Thanks to Stan’s vision, we know Hollywood Park will be the place to be – not just for football, but for entertainment and events, for living and for working. We are excited for NFL Los Angeles to join this transformative project.”

The NFL’s largest stadium was designed to reflect the climate, characteristics and culture of Southern California, and to capitalize on the site’s near-perfect weather. A transparent roof canopy covering 19 acres was developed. Under the lightweight roof made of ETFE, all sides of the building remain open, allowing for a natural integration between the indoor and outdoor public spaces.

“That stadium is off the charts,” said Al Michaels, the play-by-play voice for NBC’s Sunday Night Football. “It’s very different. It’s very special.”

Kroenke and project developers officially broke ground on SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park on Nov. 17, 2016.

ENRICHING THE COMMUNITY

Within months of relocating to Southern California, Kroenke’s Rams hosted their first local community improvement project in partnership with the Inglewood Unified School District as a continuation of the team’s commitment to service.

“The (community improvement) project, being completed through a grant from the Rams, is a visible manifestation of Stan Kroenke, the NFL and the Rams organization to the school children of Inglewood,” said Inglewood Mayor James T. Butts. “The Rams have shouted, ‘Inglewood kids count,’ and I salute them for their investment in the learning environment for our children.”

Since the initial community improvement project in 2016, the Rams have built new playgrounds and football fields in Inglewood, Watts, South LA and East LA. Through the team’s PLAY 60 Field Days, the Rams are impacting more than 10,000 students annually and another 10,000 students each year through Rams Readers, the team’s in-school literacy initiative. Under Kroenke’s leadership, the Rams have also aimed to level the playing field for girls, helping to sanction Girls flag football as a high school sport and have engaged 10,000 girls in flag football to complement the team’s extensive work in youth and high school football efforts throughout the region.

Upon returning home to Los Angeles, the Rams debuted Taste of the Rams, an annual event that takes place at SoFi Stadium and has raised more than $1.5 million for Los Angeles Regional Food Bank and provided more than 5 million meals to food insecure Angelenos. The Rams also introduced Rams Night for Wishes, an event that has raised more than $2 million for Make-A-Wish and granted more than 240 wishes of children battling illness.

Additionally, as part of the effort to help address education inequities, Kroenke’s Rams fund student success coaches in Inglewood and Watts through City Year, provide internships for public school high school students through LA Promise Fund and offer college scholarships through the Fulfillment Fund. The team also funds youth football programs in South LA and East LA designed to use the game of football to bridge the divide between communities of color and law enforcement.

As the fires broke out in Los Angeles in January of 2025, the Kroenke Family Foundation immediately made a $1 million donation to the LAFD Foundation. Kroenke also hosted an essentials distribution and resource fair for fire victims at the Shops at Hollywood Park. Additionally, the team provided assistance to American Red Cross and World Central Kitchen. With Mr. Kroenke’s support, the Rams made LAFD Air Ops their NFL Draft Headquarters to shine a national spotlight on the community’s first responders and hosted a special event attended by top Rams players and Head Coach Sean McVay to help thank the firefighters and law enforcement officers for their heroic efforts. After the NFL Draft, SoFi Stadium hosted another fire distribution with Habitat for Humanity and the entire Rams rookie class assisted. The Rams also hosted a school beautification in Altadena to help prepare for the school’s reopening and joined with United Way of Greater Los Angeles to host WalkUnitedLA, a 5k community walk/run to bring LA together to support wildfire recovery and uplift communities in need.

In 2022, the Los Angeles Business Journal honored Mr. Kroenke’s Rams as the "Business Angel of the Year" for their extensive community outreach, particularly supporting the Los Angeles Unified School District and addressing educational inequities. The award, presented at the Nonprofit and Corporate Citizenship Awards, recognized the team's commitment to providing access and inspiring social responsibility through various initiatives that create a lasting impact on the community.

Under Kroenke’s leadership, SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park are committed to positively impacting the Greater Los Angeles region and the City of Inglewood through world-class entertainment, outreach activities, the creation of new jobs, and local revenues.

“In shifting the center of gravity of West Coast sports to Inglewood, Kroenke has elevated the profile of the community and seeded the area with opportunity for years to come,” added Farmer. “A project of this magnitude changes the landscape both literally and economically.”

In partnership with the City of Inglewood, Kroenke committed to a 100 percent union job site with priority given to residents of Inglewood and designated local zip codes. Since breaking ground in 2016, more than 17,000 people worked on-site to help construct SoFi Stadium. In order to further create job opportunities for members of the local community, a 15 percent Inglewood resident apprenticeship goal was established to help workers develop professional and trade skills. At the completion of the stadium construction in Summer of 2020, over 95 Minority and Disadvantaged Businesses received more than $750 million in construction contracts and local area residents have received more than $93 million in wages.

As a whole, the City of Inglewood’s general fund is expected to receive tens of millions in annual revenue from SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park. According to initial estimates, the city is projected to receive $13 million in sales tax revenue during construction from equipment and materials purchased alone. Inglewood is also benefitting through other avenues such as ticket taxes, sales tax from retail operations, property taxes and a hotel occupancy tax. These funds help balance the city’s budget, improve and expand city services and infrastructure, enhance public safety, maintain open green space and support local youth.

AN INTERNATIONAL SPORTS LEADER

Regarded as one of the world’s leading sports proprietors, Kroenke’s teams have won titles in the NFL, NBA, NHL, MLS, and the National Lacrosse League. Kroenke’s sports holdings also include Arsenal FC (Barclays English Premiere League), which won its 13th FA Cup in 2017.

From 2000-2014, Kroenke owned the NBA's Denver Nuggets and the NHL's Colorado Avalanche, which are now a part of a family trust. Kroenke's Denver-based company, Kroenke Sports & Entertainment (KSE), owns the Colorado Rapids of Major League Soccer and the Colorado Mammoth of the National Lacrosse League.

Earlier this year, CNBC named KSE "the most valuable sports empire of 2025." Valued at $21.2 billion as of July 2025, the empire spans geography and sports. KSE also was recognized as one of Sports Business Journal's "Power Players" last year. Kroenke also owns Altitude Sports & Entertainment, which produces Rams preseason games.

Kroenke's teams won four championships (Los Angeles Rams, Colorado Mammoth, Colorado Avalanche and Denver Nuggets) in a three-year span. His three different big four sports league championships in a 18-month span is unprecedented in professional sports.

"It is evident that Stan knows how to achieve success in the sports world," Rams General Manager Les Snead said. "His teams have won championships in five different sports and he has experience in building a contender. The success we have experienced through the NFL Draft and free agency would not have been possible without Stan's support and his willingness to take risks to build our team."

On Jan. 12, 2017, Kroenke hired Sean McVay – the youngest head coach in modern NFL history – to lead the Rams. Since onboarding McVay, the Rams have six playoff berths and two Super Bowl appearances, winning Super Bowl LVI. McVay has a 80-52 regular season record and is 8-5 in the playoffs. He has led the Rams to seven winning seasons with four NFC West titles. McVay is the youngest head coach to win a Super Bowl at the age of 36 and the youngest head coach to win AP Coach of the Year at 31 in 2018. He is the second-fastest coach in franchise history to reach the 50-win mark and is the fourth-youngest head coach in the NFL despite entering his ninth season at the helm. Last season, McVay passed John Robinson for the most wins by a head coach in franchise history. McVay's seven winning seasons are the most by a head coach in franchise history.

Additionally, McVay's 33 wins in his first three years is the franchise's most wins since the 1974-76 seasons, and his record through the first four seasons (43-21 in 64 regular season games) of his coaching tenure is amongst the best start of all head coaches hired since 2000.

McVay and Les Snead currently rank third among active head coach and general manager duos for regular season and postseason wins with 88, leading up to the 2025 season. Their 88 wins together are 18th all-time among duos in NFL history.

According to The New York Times, 1997 was the first season to allow NFL owners to own cross-sport franchises. Among current NFL ownership, only two have had three teams to win a playoff game/series in the same year in North America. Kroenke was the latest to accomplish the feat as the Avalanche and Nuggets also made remarkable playoff runs during the 2018-19 season. Both the Avalanche and Nuggets secured first-round playoff wins, and Los Angeles advanced to the club's fourth Super Bowl (2018-19 season). The late Paul Allen's Seattle Seahawks (NFL), Portland Trail Blazers (NBA) and Seattle Sounders FC (MLS) previously did so in 2014.

Kroenke currently serves on the NFL's Broadcast Committee and has worked on multiple league committees, including the NFL's Workplace Diversity Committee. He also worked alongside his fellow owners to reach a new Collective Bargaining Agreement with the NFL Players Association in 2011.

In 2022, Kroenke was one of 15 exceptional business, civic and cultural leaders from across North America to receive Horatio Alger Award honors, which is awarded annually to individuals who have succeeded despite facing adversities, and who have remained committed to higher education and charitable efforts in their communities.

Stanley Kroenke, named after baseball legends Enos Slaughter and Stan Musial, was born in Cole Camp, Mo., and grew up in Mora, Mo. Kroenke and his wife, Ann, have a daughter, Whitney, and a son, Josh, Vice Chairman of KSE and KSE UK. Kroenke holds undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Missouri and he is a member of the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame (2009 Enshrinement Class).

KEVIN DEMOFF

PRESIDENT, TEAM & MEDIA OPERATIONS, KSE

NFL EXP	21st Year	RAMS EXP	17th Year

Kevin Demoff is in his second year as the President of Team and Media Operations for Kroenke Sports & Entertainment and his 17th year as the team president for the Los Angeles Rams. Demoff oversees operations of all KSE teams including the Denver Nuggets (NBA), Colorado Avalanche (NHL), Colorado Rapids (MLS), and Colorado Mammoth (NLL), as well as operations of all KSE Media properties including Altitude Sports and Entertainment, KSE Radio, and Outdoor Sportsman Group.

In his role, Demoff also serves as the Rams' top front office executive and liaison to owner and chairman, Stan Kroenke, on all organizational matters.

After serving on the working group that helped Kroenke return the Rams – Los Angeles' original professional sports team – home to L.A., Demoff continues to play a significant role in delivering on Kroenke's vision to design and construct Hollywood Park, the 298-acre sports and entertainment district in Inglewood that features SoFi Stadium, the home of the Rams. Beyond the stadium, the campus includes the 6,000-seat YouTube Theater, an office complex that is the home of the NFL's West Coast headquarters, a retail district that is under development, and is currently the largest entitled real-estate project in Southern California.

In addition to the entertainment district at Hollywood Park, Demoff has led the efforts for the construction of the team's practice facility in Woodland Hills. Demoff continues to collaborate with local officials and front office staff to create a state-of-the-art training facility and team headquarters surrounded by a sports and entertainment development.

Demoff works closely with General Manager Les Snead and Head Coach Sean McVay and was instrumental in delivering on Kroenke's promise of bringing a Super Bowl Championship to Los Angeles, with the Rams making history and topping the Cincinnati Bengals 23-20 at SoFi Stadium. Not only were the 2021 Rams only the second team in 56 years to play in (and win) the Super Bowl in their home stadium, but they were the first team in NFL history to host the AFC or NFC Championship in the same stadium where the Super Bowl would also be played.

Bringing Super Bowl LVI and LA28 Olympics to Los Angeles
Immediately on the heels of the National Football League's historic return to Los Angeles in 2016, Demoff and the Rams helped lead a regional effort to bring the Super Bowl to SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park. Micronomics projected in 2021 that Super Bowl LVI would have an economic impact up to $477 million across the greater Los Angeles region. Demoff and the Rams have also joined forces with the LA24 Olympic Bid Committee to help deliver the 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games to Los Angeles. In addition, SoFi Stadium hosted the College Football Playoff final and Wrestlemania in 2023.

Beyond the impact of the Super Bowl and other major events that are now hosted in LA and Inglewood, the Hollywood Park development is expected to generate hundreds of millions in new annual economic activity across the region. During construction, there were upwards of 3,500 construction workers on-site daily, with Inglewood residents given priority placement, and more than 17,000 workers have stepped on the stadium site since it broke ground in November 2016. In order to further create job opportunities for members of the local community, a 15 percent Inglewood resident apprenticeship goal for construction was established to help workers develop professional and trade skills. During construction, over 95 Minority and Disadvantaged Businesses had received more than $754 million in construction contracts and local area residents earned more than $129 million in wages. In addition, in partnership with the Anti-Recidivism Coalition (ARC) and 2nd Call, more than 100 union workers who were previously incarcerated found employment opportunities during the construction of SoFi Stadium. Once fully operating, the stadium and retail components together are expected to generate thousands of additional jobs with long-term regional benefits.

A Leader in Diversity and Inclusion
In Demoff's tenure with the Rams, he has shaped the club's business efforts with a focus on delivering a best-in-class experience for fans and partners, building a team that reflects Los Angeles, and increasing the club's presence in the community. With a strong commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion, Demoff has intentionally built one of the most diverse front offices in sports. The Rams rank in the top quartile of all NFL teams in terms of racial and gender diversity across the organization. As a result, Demoff was awarded the Daniel M. Rooney Lifetime Achievement Award from the Fritz Pollard Alliance in 2023 and was named one of Sports Business Journal's 2023 ALL-IN Leaders in Diversity, Equity and Inclusion. The San Fernando Valley Business Journal also recognized the Rams with a 2022 Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Award and the LA Chamber of Commerce honored Demoff with the Distinguished Business Leader Award. Looking to expand that commitment beyond Los Angeles, Demoff helped found the Black Sports Business Symposium, which aims to create new opportunities for diverse professionals in the world of sports and to increase Black representation in the industry. He also regularly supports programs aimed at increasing diversity across the NFL, including the Ozzie Newsome General Manager Forum and Quarterback Coaching Summit.

Demoff's commitment to DEI also extends to the team's community efforts which are largely focused on providing access and opportunity for young people from Black and Brown communities in Los Angeles. Each year, the Rams partner with LA Promise Fund to provide paid internships to deserving students from Los Angeles public high schools and expose them to career opportunities in professional sports. The Rams also became the first team in professional sports to partner on a corporate residency program with College Track, whose mission is to support students with limited resources to chart their course to and through college. The Rams have created a season-long mentorship program, Pathways to Success, which pairs minority students with Rams front office members and provides a variety of professional workshops and job shadowing opportunities. In 2021, the team created the Kenny Washington Memorial Scholarship to provide up to four years of financial support for 13 students from under-resourced communities who are among the first in their families to pursue post-secondary education. The scholarship, introduced in honor of the 75th anniversary of Washington becoming the first Black player signed by an NFL team in the modern era, also includes advisement support from Fulfillment Fund, an educational non-profit partner of the Rams.

Making an Impact on the Los Angeles Community
Demoff has spearheaded the organization's efforts to become one of the strongest philanthropic partners in professional sports. That focus has led the team to receive numerous awards for their charitable efforts as they continue to become part of the fabric of the greater Los Angeles region. Under Demoff's guidance, the Rams have focused on addressing education inequities, food insecurity, homelessness, community-police relations and youth justice.

Community pillars for the organization are the Watts Rams and North East Lincoln Rams youth football teams, which are coached by officers from the Los Angeles Police Department. The Los Angeles Rams formally adopted the Watts Rams in 2019 and the North East Lincoln Rams in 2022 to use the game of football to help bridge the gap between law enforcement and communities of color. The team also worked with Inglewood Parks and Recreation to rename their youth flag football league the Inglewood Rams. Each of the 26 teams in the Inglewood Rams flag football league is named after a current Rams player with Inglewood police officers serving as coaches and mentors.

Demoff also serves on the executive board of the United Way of Greater Los Angeles, and since 2017 he has served as the chair of its annual campaign which helps United Way transform lives and communities by creating pathways out of poverty for the most vulnerable residents through education, housing and financial stability. Each year, the Rams team up with United Way of Greater Los Angeles to host a 5K family run/walk to raise public awareness and funds to end homelessness. The event, which was renamed Walk United LA in 2021, aims to rally the community to help provide housing, education and opportunity for all. Demoff led the effort to bring WalkUnited LA to SoFi Stadium in 2021. Since 2019, the event has raised more than $4.2 million and the Rams and United Way hosted the 2025 WalkUnited LA at the Rose Bowl to support local wildfire recovery, housing and education.

In addition to these efforts, the Rams annually host the Taste of the Rams event, which raises money to address the food insecurity of 1 in 5 Angelenos. Introduced in 2016, the event has raised more than $1,500,000 for LA Regional Food Bank and has allowed them to provide nearly five million meals to Angelenos in need.

Demoff also joined the board of City Year Los Angeles, an organization that mobilizes AmeriCorps members for a year of full-time service in underserved communities to serve as tutors, mentors and role models for students to help them graduate high school, college and become career-ready young professionals.

Spearheading Crisis Relief and Recovery Efforts
When the COVID-19 pandemic hit the country in March 2020, the Rams partnered with KABC on a "Te'LA'thon for Los Angeles," which raised $2.2 million to benefit both LA Regional Food Bank and United Way of Greater Los Angeles to help those affected by COVID-19. The organization also made a commitment to fund monthly mobile food distributions in Black and Brown communities including two mobile distributions at SoFi Stadium that provided more than 7,000 families with nutritious food. In March of 2021, Demoff teamed with former Los Angeles Unified School District Superintendent Austin Beutner and the Rams official health partner, Cedars-Sinai, to make Hollywood Park a vaccination site for LAUSD teachers and staff. In two months, approximately 17,000 vaccines were administered to help reopen schools in the safest way possible.

In the wake of unimaginable tragedy that struck the Southern California region in 2018, the Rams hosted the Kansas City Chiefs at the LA Memorial Coliseum for a game that currently stands as the highest scoring Monday Night Football game ever and will be remembered for bringing LA Together. After a mass shooting and wildfires affected and displaced thousands of residents in the Southern California region, the Rams stood in solidarity with Angelenos to honor and pay tribute to affected individuals, their families and first responders who worked tirelessly to keep the region safe. Under Demoff's leadership, the Rams wrapped their arms around the community in a number of ways including giving away thousands of game tickets to those affected by the tragedies and honoring victims and the community through in-game elements. The Rams partnered with CBS-2 and United Way of Greater Los Angeles on a telethon that raised more than $2.1 million benefiting the relief efforts, and in addition more than $250,000 was raised for a variety of charities supporting the relief efforts through in-game 50/50 raffles, jersey auctions and player ticket donations tied to the game.

Corporate Citizenship
The Rams have received multiple accolades recognizing their impact on the greater Los Angeles region. The Salvation Army recently recognized the team with their annual Humanitarian Award and the Los Angeles Business Journal recognized them with the "Business Angel of the Year" award as part of their 2022 Nonprofit and Corporate Citizenship Awards. Additionally, the LA Chamber of Commerce honored the organization with the Distinguished Business Leader Award and the Valley Industry &

Commerce Association (VICA) inducted the Rams into the 2022 San Fernando Valley Business Hall of Fame.

Reinforcing the Rams' commitment to the Los Angeles community, Demoff was selected to sit on the Los Angeles Area Chamber of Commerce's CEO Council. He also serves on multiple boards including the LA Coalition for the Economy & Jobs, the Los Angeles Sports Council, and the Los Angeles Sports and Entertainment Commission, as well as its philanthropic initiative, ChampionLA. Additionally, Demoff is part of the American Cancer Society's CEOs Against Cancer, which is a partnership of the world's leading CEOs and the American Cancer Society dedicated to eliminating unnecessary deaths and suffering from cancer. He also serves as the Co-Chair of The Los Angeles Coalition for the Economy & Jobs, an independent, bipartisan membership organization established to bring together leaders from the region's business, labor, academic and nonprofit communities to advance sound policy initiatives that will help grow the economy and create quality jobs throughout the L.A. region.

Demoff was recently awarded Executive of the Year for the 2023 LA Sports Awards. Los Angeles Business Journal also recognized Demoff for five consecutive years on its annual LA500 list, honoring the most influential leaders and executives in Los Angeles. In 2016, he was recognized by the Sports Business Journal as one of its "Forty under 40" class members and in 2010 he was named one of the "NFL's 10 Future Power Brokers" by Sports Illustrated.

Before the Rams
Prior to joining the Rams, Demoff spent four seasons with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (2005-08), where he served as a consultant before being named Senior Assistant in 2006. In this capacity, Demoff assisted General Manager Bruce Allen in contract negotiations, salary cap management, strategic planning and both college and pro scouting. During his tenure with the Buccaneers, the team captured NFC South titles in 2005 and 2007 while posting a winning record in three of his four seasons.

From 2001-04, Demoff served as Director of Football Operations for the Los Angeles Avengers of the Arena Football League. He helped direct the team to its first-ever playoff berth and in his final three seasons with the club, the Avengers posted a record of 28-18, third-best in the Arena Football League, qualifying for the playoffs in each of those seasons.

TONY PASTOORS

VICE PRESIDENT, FOOTBALL & BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

NFL EXP	16th Year	RAMS EXP	16th Year

Tony Pastoors enters his 16th season with the Rams after joining the team prior to the 2010 season. He serves as the vice president of football and business administration.

In this role, Pastoors works directly with team president Kevin Demoff on all aspects of Rams operations. He partners with General Manager Les Snead and Head Coach Sean McVay in the development and implementation of the club's strategic plans for player signings and player acquisitions.

As the club's chief negotiator, Pastoors oversees the team's salary cap management, contract negotiations, compliance with the NFL's Collective Bargaining Agreement as well as the club's financial and strategic planning. Pastoors partners with Snead and McVay in the day-to-day management and execution of the team's football operations. In addition, he serves as a liaison to the club's business operations including marketing, partnerships, finance, ticketing, community relations, administration, and communications. Pastoors serves as part of the Rams' executive leadership team and represents the club at a league level, attending NFL league meetings on behalf of the organization.

Pastoors has played a pivotal role in the evolution of the Rams' team-building philosophy and his work has allowed the team to add star-level talent over the last handful of years. There isn't a significant roster or contractual decision that doesn't run through Pastoors and while many have deemed the Rams roster constructing methods as "unconventional" dating back to 2018, numerous clubs around the league have adopted the practices that Pastoors, Snead, and McVay have put into place. In both 2021 and 2022, Pastoors was honored in The Athletic's "NFL 40 Under 40" list.

Over the last few years, Pastoors has helped execute a trade for veteran quarterback Matthew Stafford along with the mid-season trades for Von Miller and Odell Beckham Jr., which helped put the Rams over the edge en route to their Super Bowl LVI victory. During the 2019 season, Pastoors worked closely on the trade deal that brought All-Pro defensive back Jalen Ramsey to the Rams and helped sign outside linebacker Leonard Floyd leading up to the 2020 season.

"Rams vice president Tony Pastoors has in the last six years proven masterful at finding creative ways to provide Snead and McVay with virtually any player they desire," said Gary Klein of The Los Angeles Times in 2022. Pastoors continues to find creative ways to structure contracts and extend player deals in a way that creates cap space and flexibility for the future. In partnership with Snead over the past two offseasons, Pastoors calculated new deals for Matthew Stafford, Kyren Williams, Alaric Jackson, Kevin Dotson, and helped sign high-prized free agents such as Davante Adams, Poona Ford, Darious Williams, Kamren Curl and Nate Landman.

He also has worked closely with McVay and Snead in recent years to keep key contributors of the Rams' Super Bowl roster intact and extended a lynchpin of the offensive line in Rob Havenstein, tight end Tyler Higbee, and others.

In January of 2017, Pastoors worked alongside Owner and Chairman Stan Kroenke, COO Kevin Demoff and Snead to reshape the culture of the Rams football operation and usher in a new era. The group led a broad coaching search that resulted in the hiring of Head Coach Sean McVay – the youngest head coach in modern NFL history.

Born and raised in Minneapolis, Minn. Pastoors received his degree from Dartmouth College, where he played football for the late Buddy Teevens.

Tony and his wife Emily, have two daughters.

MOLLY HIGGINS

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT, COMMUNITY IMPACT AND ENGAGEMENT

NFL EXP	24th Year	RAMS EXP	24th Year

Molly Higgins is the Executive Vice President of Community Impact and Engagement for the Los Angeles Rams. In her role, Higgins oversees the Rams community outreach and social justice efforts and aims to use the team's platform to fight for equality, drive equity and provide access and opportunity for youth.

Through various programs and initiatives, Higgins and her team work to address issues of poverty that disproportionately impact communities of color including education inequities, housing and food insecurities, community-police relations, youth justice and mentorship.

One of the Rams' signature programs is the Watts Rams youth football program consisting of 150 boys and girls who are coached by LAPD officers. Using the game of football, the goal of the program is to help bridge the divide between the Watts community and law enforcement allowing the kids to see the officers as human beings and mentors, while allowing the officers to get to know the community members they serve. The Rams fund all components of the program and throughout the year, provide engagement opportunities with current players and enrichment and educational experiences to help the kids dream beyond their current reality.

Beyond the Watts Rams, Higgins is driven by the fact that talent is equally distributed, but opportunity is not. With that as a focus, Higgins has placed an emphasis on the Rams being a collaborative partner in the education space with the goal of helping to close the achievement gap for low-income students. Through year-round school engagement including the Rams Readers literacy program, PLAY 60 youth health and wellness Field Days, mentorship programs, internship opportunities, incentive campaigns, playground builds, campus beautifications, career chats, college field trips and funding City Year student success coaches, the Rams are committed to ensuring a child's education and upward mobility are not dictated by their zip code.

Four years ago, the Rams created an additional education program when they introduced the Kenny Washington Memorial Scholarship to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the Rams becoming the first professional sports team in the modern era to sign an African-American player, Kenny Washington, in 1946. Each year, the scholarship provides up to four years of financial support for 13 students who are among the first in their families to pursue a post-secondary education.

Two years ago, the team continued their efforts to support the 1 in 5 Angelenos who struggle with food insecurity with efforts like mobile food drives as well as Taste of the Rams, which Higgins introduced in 2016 upon the team's return to Los Angeles. To date, the event has raised nearly $1.5 million dollars for LA Regional Food Bank and provided more than five million meals to Angelenos in need.

In 2025, the Rams and UnitedWay of Greater Los Angeles teamed up to host WalkUnited LA at the Rose Bowl. The largest annual event to end homelessness, WalkUnitedLA works to address the intersectional causes of poverty and benefit the diverse community organizations working to build a more equitable Los Angeles. Unique to 2025, this year's event focused on recovery efforts from the devastation caused by the Eaton and Palisades wildfires and United Way's life-changing initiatives focused on pathways for low-income students, families and communities to thrive. Quarterback Matthew Stafford and his wife, Kelly, served as the honorary chairs for WalkUnitedLA 2025 and were joined by teammates including OL Justin Dedich, DE Brennan Jackson, C Coleman Shelton and TE Davis Allen. The event also included live entertainment featuring a performance by DE Kobie Turner. WalkUnitedLA rallied together thousands of Angelenos and raised more than $500,000.

Beyond the organization's charitable priorities, the Rams community impact team works to understand each player's areas of interest and aligns them with causes they are passionate about to enable them to personally impact their community. When Andrew Whitworth joined the Rams in 2017, Higgins worked with him to create a community impact strategy. Leading up to Super Bowl LVI, his impact was recognized when he has awarded the NFL Walter Payton Man of the Year, the league's most prestigious honor that recognizes a player's commitment to philanthropy and community impact, as well as excellence on the field.

In addition to Higgins' community impact and engagement responsibilities, she is part of the Rams' executive team that helps shape the organization's off the field strategies.

The Sports Business Journal named Higgins to their 2020 class of "Game Changers." In 2019, the United Way of Greater Los Angeles recognized Higgins with an EmpowerHer Award for her commitment to advance equity in Los Angeles. During her time in St. Louis, Higgins was a recipient of the Bar Association of Metropolitan St. Louis' "Spirit of Justice Award" honoring individuals who have demonstrated accomplishment, leadership and integrity in facilitating and promoting justice. In 2014, Higgins was recognized as one of St. Louis' "Most Influential Business Women" by the St. Louis Business Journal. Higgins was named to the St. Louis Business Journal's 30 under 30 list in 2006, an annual award that honors 30 St. Louis-area business leaders under the age of 30.

Prior to joining the Rams, Higgins worked in public relations for Unigraphics Solutions, a NYSE-listed global computer software company.

A graduate of the University of Northern Iowa with a B.A. in public relations and a minor in marketing, Higgins is also a graduate of the Coro Women in Leadership program and participated in the Stanford Graduate School of Business Program for NFL Managers. HC SEAN MCVAY

HEAD COACH

NFL EXP	17th Year	RAMS EXP	9th Year

On January 12, 2017, Los Angeles Rams Owner/Chairman E. Stanley Kroenke named Sean McVay the 23rd full-time head coach in franchise history. McVay became the youngest coach in modern NFL history at 30 years old.

He has led the Rams to six playoff berths and two Super Bowl appearances in his first eight seasons, winning Super Bowl LVI at SoFi Stadium. McVay has a 80-52 regular season record and is 8-5 in the playoffs. He also has led the Rams to seven winning seasons with four NFC West titles. McVay is currently the fourth-youngest head coach in the NFL despite entering his ninth season at the helm, making him the fourth-longest tenured coach in the NFL behind Mike Tomlin, Andy Reid and John Harbaugh.

In 2024, McVay passed John Robinson (79 wins) for the most wins by a head coach in franchise history. He also tied Robinson for the most playoff berths by a coach in franchise history. McVay led a group that became the first team in NFL history to enter their bye week with a losing record and make the playoffs in consecutive seasons.

Under McVay, the offense ranked 10th in the NFL in passing yards per game (227.5), 13th in net yards per attempts (6.9), and 15th in yards per game (331.4) and first downs per game (20.1). The team also tied for seventh in fourth down conversion rate (66.7%) and tied for 10th in turnover margin (six).

QB Matthew Stafford finished in the top-15 in passing yards and touchdowns under McVay in 2024. He also surpassed 3,000 passing yards in a season for the 12th time in his career and became the 13th different quarterback in NFL history to accomplish the feat. Stafford passed Eli Manning for 10th all-time in career passing ayrds (59.809) and passing touchdowns (377).

RB Kyren Williams built on the success of his All-Pro season the year prior and tallied single-season career-highs in rushing yards (1,299) and rushing touchdowns (14) in 2024. Williams joined Hall of Famer Marshall Faulk and Todd Gurley as the only Rams players since 2000 to record 14 rushing touchdowns in a season. To date, his 31 scrimmage touchdowns since 2023 are the most in the NFL.

In 2024, the receiving corps recorded the 10th-most receiving yards and sixth-fewest drops (15). They also finished 12th in yards per reception (11.2). Despite missing five games, WR Puka Nacua recorded 79 catches for 990 yards and three touchdowns. He became the second player in NFL history to record at least 150 receptions, 2,000 receiving yards and nine touchdowns in his first 25 career games. Nacua also became the first player in franchise history and the 16th player in NFL history to record 150+ receiving yards, one receiving touchdown and one rushing touchdown in a game.

The Rams' offensive line ranked first in penalties per game (5.56), sixth in sacks allowed (31), tied for sixth in quarterback sack rate (5.5%), tied for seventh in hurries allowed (132), and 11th in pressures allowed (191). The unit also did not allow a sack in four consecutive weeks (Weeks 14-17),, which tied for the longest streak in franchise history and the first time they have accomplished the feat since 2013.

On defense, the Rams finished tied for fifth in red zone efficiency (50%) and sixth in goal-to-go efficiency (65.5%). Against the run, they allowed the 10th-fewest rushing touchdowns (13). The pass rush finished near the top of the NFL in all major categories and finished sixth in hurries (225), 10th in pressure rate (35.7%), and 13th in pressures (218). In the secondary, the team tied for the 12th-most interceptions (13) and allowed the 12th-fewest completions (354).

The team also had two Associated Press Defensive Rookie of the Year finalists in OLB Jared Verse and DE Braden Fiske. Verse was named the AP Defensive Rookie of the Year at NFL Honors at the conclusion of last season. His 89 total pressures (including postseason) were the second-most pressures by a rookie behind Khalil Mack's 102 in 2014. Overall, Rams rookies tallied the most sacks (13.5), tackles for loss (26), pressures (139), and quarterback hits (30) across the NFL in 2024.

DE Kobie Turner set single-season career-highs in tackles (62), tackles for loss (10) and passes defended (four). He also notched 8.0 sacks and became the second player in franchise history to record at least 10.0 sacks in his first 19 career games, joining Aaron Donald. OLB Byron Young also tallied career-highs in tackles (62) and tackles for loss (12). Young's 112 pressures in his first two seasons are the fourth-most in the NFL since pressures began being tracked in 2012.

During the 2023 season, McVay coached his 100th career regular season game and his 0.64 winning percentage became the fifth-highest among active head coaches in their first 100 regular season games. McVay also led the Rams to a 10-7 record and a berth in the Wild Card Round.

The McVay-led offense finished the regular season seventh in yards per game (359.3), seventh in yards per play (5.6), 11th in rush yards per game (120.3), and 10th in pass yards per game (239.0). The Rams offense also finished eighth in third down conversion rate (42%), fourth in fourth down conversion rate (61.9%), fourth in red zone efficiency (63.6%), and eighth in points scored per game (23.76).

Stafford was voted to the Pro Bowl and finished 11th in passing yards (3,965), which ranks among the top-10 most in a single season in franchise history. He also finished 11th in passing touchdowns (24), 12th in completions (326), and 10th in passing first downs (187). With the help of McVay, Stafford passed Fran Tarkenton and moved to 11th on the NFL's all-time passing touchdown list and became the 11th player in NFL history to throw for 53,000 career passing yards.

Kyren Williams emerged into a Second-Team All-Pro and Pro Bowl selection during the 2023 campaign. He finished third in rushing yards (1,144), sixth in yards per rush (5.0), and tied for seventh in rushing touchdowns (12). He also tied for the sixth-most receiving touchdowns (three) among running backs.

McVay also guided Nacua to a record-breaking rookie season. Nacua set the record for most receptions and receiving yards by a rookie in a single season in NFL history. His 181 receiving yards in the Wild Card Round also set an NFL rookie record for the most in a playoff game as well as the most in franchise history during a Wild Card Round matchup. McVay guided Nacua to finish ninth in receptions (104) and fourth in receiving yards (1,486) to go along with Second-Team All-Pro honors and a Pro Bowl nod.

The Rams offensive line was among the best in the league in several categies during the 2023 season. The unit paved the way for one of the league's best rushing attacks and finished tied for sixth in sacks allowed (34), seventh in sack rate (5.5%), seventh in pressures allowed (213), and ninth in pressures allowed per dropback (33.5%).

The defense also made steady improvements during the and finished seventh in opponents completion percentage (60.8%), 12th in opponents passer rating (88.0), 12th in opponent rush yards per game, and 11th in opponent rushing touchdowns allowed.

Aaron Donald became an eight-time All-Pro selection, which tied for the most by a defensive player and tied for the fifth-most overall. He finished ninth in the NFL in pressures (84) during the regular season. Linebacker Ernest Jones also finished 11th in the NFL in tackles (145), which set a single-season franchise record.

Additionally, rookies such as Turner and Young burst onto the NFL scene under McVay's leadership in 2023. Turner's 9.0 sacks tied the franchise record for most by a rookie, tying Donald's total in 2014. He also became the only rookie in franchise history to finish the regular season as the team's sack leader. Young finished one sack short of the franchise rookie record mark, finishing with eight on the season.

In 2022, McVay helped several Rams players receive notable recognitions for their performances on the field. Donald was voted to his ninth career Pro Bowl and was named to the NFLPA All-Pro team while former Defensive Back Jalen Ramsey was voted to his sixth Pro Bowl. Additionally, in his lone season with the Rams, former Linebacker Bobby Wagner fell three tackles short of breaking the Rams' single-season tackle record (142).

Before sustaining an injury in Week 11, McVay helped Stafford record the highest completion percentage of his career (68.0%). He also supported former Rams Quarterback Baker Mayfield, who led the Rams on a game-winning drive against the Raiders in Week 14 despite joining the team only two days prior. Mayfield and McVay led the Rams on a 98-yard touchdown drive to win the game. According to Elias Sports Bureau, that was the longest go-ahead touchdown drive to begin in the final two minutes of a game in the last 45 years. Mayfield earned Player of the Week honors following the game.

Former Running Back Cam Akers eclipsed the 100-yard rushing mark in three consecutive games to close out the regular season and became the first Rams running back to have three consecutive 100+ yard rushing performances in the same season since Todd Gurley in 2015.

McVay also helped Tyler Higbee break the single-season franchise record for receptions by a tight end (72) and become the team's all-time leader in touchdowns for tight ends (20).

Under the leadership of McVay in 2022, the Rams' defense ranked among the best in the NFL and finished first in opponent red zone efficiency (44.4%), second in goal-to-go efficiency (53.3%), and fourth in fewest missed tackles (103). The Rams' defense also finished tied for seventh in interceptions (16), and ninth in defensive total rush EPA (42.97).

McVay produced his fifth-straight winning season with the Rams in 2021, which was the longest consecutive winning season streak since the Rams posted four-consecutive winning seasons from 1983-1986. The 12-5 record earned L.A. its fourth postseason appearance and second Super Bowl appearance in McVay's first five seasons leading the franchise which was capped off by a Super Bowl LVI victory in the Rams' home stadium. McVay became the youngest head coach in NFL history to win a Super Bowl at the age of 36.

He also became the second-fastest coach in franchise history to reach the 50-win mark and was the youngest head coach to lead his team to a Super Bowl during the 2018 campaign. He was the youngest coach to win AP Coach of the Year at the age of 31 and won 70% of his first 50 games, which is the sixth-best winning percentage of all-time among coaches with at least 50 games.

The Rams offense thrived during the 2021 season and in Stafford's first year under center. Under McVay's guidance, the Rams offense ranked in the top 10 in total offense and fifth in passing offense. Stafford threw for almost 5,000 yards and Cooper Kupp won the Triple Crown, leading the league in receptions, receiving yards and receiving touchdowns.

The Rams would have sent four starters to the 2021 Pro Bowl had they not been preparing for Super Bowl LVI at SoFi Stadium. On offense, Kupp was selected to his first Pro Bowl. On defense, Ramsey earned his fifth straight Pro Bowl nod and Donald earned his eighth-straight Pro Bowl nod. Former Kicker Matt Gay was selected as the starter in his first Pro Bowl. The Rams also had four players selected as alternates including Matthew Stafford, former Tackle Andrew Whitworth, former Outside Linebacker Leonard Floyd and former Center Brian Allen. Kupp, Ramsey and Donald were All-Pro selections.

In a season that was anything but normal due to the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020, the Rams defense flourished earning the league's No. 1 ranked unit and dominating in three different categories. The Rams defense held opposing offenses to only 16.8 points per game, 281.9 yards per game, 190.7 passing yards per game and held each opposing quarterback to under 300 net yards passing. McVay won his third-career postseason contest, this time against a familiar opponent on the road against the Seattle Seahawks in a Wild Card game before falling to the Green Bay Packers at Lambeau Field in the Divisional Round.

In 2020, Donald became the third player in league history to be named NFL Defensive Player of the Year three times. He was also named the PFWA Defensive Player of the Year for the second time and joined teammate Jalen Ramsey on the PFWA All-NFL Team. Donald finished the season with 13.5 sacks.

L.A. finished 10th in the league in rushing, averaging 126.1 yards per game led by rookie Cam Akers with a team-best 625 yards on the ground. The Rams offensive unit finished just outside of the top-10 in total offense, amassing 377 yards per game (11th) and passing offense, averaging 250.9 yards per game (13th).

In a win-and-in Week 17 contest against the Arizona Cardinals, McVay helped former Quarterback John Wolford earn his first-career win in his first-career NFL appearance and start. Wolford finished the game completing 22-of-38 passing attempts for 231 yards.

McVay's third season as head coach in 2019 produced his third-consecutive winning season with a 9-7 record. Three-consecutive winning seasons had not been accomplished by a Rams team since 1999-2001, and it was only the third time since 1980 the franchise accomplished the feat.

Additionally, McVay became the first head coach since 2016 to have a winning record in each of their first three seasons as a head coach and became the fourth Rams head coach to have a winning record in three-consecutive seasons.

In his third year working with former QB Jared Goff, McVay helped him throw for over 4,000 yards for the second-consecutive season, becoming the first quarterback in franchise history to do so. Goff also climbed up the Rams' passing leader board, closing out the season sixth on the franchise list.

Under McVay's guidance, the Rams had multiple receivers finish the season with over 1,000 receiving yards. Former WR Robert Woods posted his second-consecutive season with over 1,000 receiving yards, finishing with 1,134. Kupp posted his first season with over 1,000 receiving yards, totaling a team-best 1,161. The 2019 campaign was the first time since 1999-2002 the Rams had consecutive seasons with multiple receivers recording over 1,000 yards. Despite changes in personnel and position due to injuries, L.A.'s offensive front managed to post six games without allowing a sack, good for a single-season franchise record. The defense received a boost when L.A. acquired Pro Bowler Jalen Ramsey via trade in Week 7 of the 2019 campaign. The defense went on to finish with the fourth-most sacks in the league (50.0) and was ranked 13th overall.

Following his second season as an NFL head coach, McVay ranked 17th on Fortune Magazine's World's Greatest Leaders Top-50 List. He was joined on the list by the likes of Bill Gates and Jacinda Ardern and the Prime Minister of New Zealand. The complete rankings are found in the May 2019 issue of Fortune.

The Rams defense proved stout down the stretch in 2018 and helped the team secure a first-round bye in the playoffs. The Rams held the Patriots offensive attack to only 13 points in Super Bowl LIII. The defense was led by Donald, who posted a franchise-best 20.5 sacks, the most ever by a defensive tackle. Donald recorded 183.5 sack yards, the most ever by a defender in a single season. As a unit, the Rams ranked sixth with 1.6 takeaways per game.

In his first season guiding the Rams, McVay completed one of the greatest offensive turnarounds in NFL history. He helped the Rams move from the 32nd-ranked scoring offense in 2016 to the league's top-scoring team in 2017, marking the first time in league history a team has gone from last to first in scoring. The first-year head coach led the Rams to an 11-5 record and their first NFC West title since the 2003 season. McVay guided the Rams to their first playoff berth since 2004.

Following his first season in L.A., McVay was named The Associated Press Coach of the Year, becoming the youngest head coach to ever win the award. Gurley brought home Offensive Player of the Year honors, while Donald was named the Defensive Player of the Year, marking the first time in the 45 year history of the awards there was a sweep of three of the league's top awards. The Rams placed eight players in the 2018 Pro Bowl, the most in a single season by the franchise since the 1999 campaign.

Under McVay's guidance in 2017, Goff flourished earning his first Pro Bowl appearance. Goff completed 296-of-477 (62.1 percent) of his passes for 3,804 yards with 28 touchdowns and seven interceptions posting a 100.5 QB rating on the season. Gurley led the league in scrimmage yards finishing the year with 2,093 yards, including 1,305 rushing yards and 788 receiving yards. Additionally, Gurley was the league's highest-scoring non-kicker posting 19 total touchdowns on the season.

The Rams' defense posted the fourth-most sacks (48.0), tied for sixth in interceptions (18) and finished the 2017 campaign fifth in total takeaways (28). The takeaways directly resulted in 126 points for L.A., the second-best total in the NFL.

In his first season as head coach, the Rams' special teams unit played an integral part in the team's success and was rewarded with a total of four special teamers being named to the Pro Bowl. The L.A. special teams unit was a top-10 finisher in 18-of-22 statistical categories in the 2017 special teams rankings.

Before joining the Rams, McVay completed his third season as Washington's offensive coordinator in 2016 after initially being promoted to the position on January 15, 2014. Prior to his promotion during the 2014 offseason, McVay spent three seasons as the team's tight ends coach (2011-13) and one as an offensive assistant (2010).

The 2016 Washington offensive unit broke many franchise records and ranked in the top-three in a number of statistical categories. The Washington offense became the first unit in franchise history to average over 400 yards per game (403.4) and notched a franchise record 6,545 total net yards.

Former Commanders Quarterback Kirk Cousins finished the year with single-season team records in completions (406) and passing yards (4,917) and matched his team record for 300-yard passing games (seven). His 4,917 passing yards ranked third in the NFL in 2016 and are the 15th-most in a season in NFL history. Cousins closed out the season ranked second in the NFL in passing yards per game (297.4), passing yards per play (7.84) and yards per play (6.4), in addition to being the league's third ranked offensive team, averaging 403.4 yards per game.

From 2015-16, Cousins threw for 9,083 yards, the fourth highest output by a quarterback trailing only Drew Brees (10,078), Matt Ryan (9,535) and Philip Rivers (9,178).

The Washington offense had eight players finish the season with at least 500 yards from scrimmage (DeSean Jackson, Pierre Garcon, Jamison Crowder, Rob Kelley, Chris Thompson, Jordan Reed, Vernon Davis and Matt Jones), tying the 2011 New Orleans Saints for the most in a single-season in NFL history.

McVay's group posted a breakout campaign in his second year as offensive coordinator in 2015, including record-setting performances by Cousins and tight end Jordan Reed. McVay's scheme and tutelage helped Cousins break the Washington records for attempts (543), completions (379), passing yards (4,166) and 300-yard passing games (seven) in a single season. Reed was a direct beneficiary of McVay's work, spending 2013 as a member of his unit during McVay's time as tight ends coach and being a focal point of the offense in 2015 when Reed recorded 87 receptions for 952 yards (both team records for a tight end) with 11 receiving touchdowns (one shy of the team record) in 2015.

Collectively, McVay's 2015 offense recorded Top 10 rankings in third down percentage (43.5, fifth in the NFL), red zone scoring percentage (61.2, eighth), yards per play (5.6, 10th) and points per game (24.3, 10th). Washington also led the NFL with a team-record 69.5 completion percentage in 2015.

In his first season as offensive coordinator in 2014, McVay helped the Washignton offense to a Top 10 league ranking in yards per play (5.7) despite starting three different quarterbacks. His work with the three passers was instrumental in setting a team record for completion percentage (66.5 percent, later broken in 2015) and helping facilitate the explosive debut season of wide receiver DeSean Jackson. Jackson averaged a league-best 20.9 yards per reception and became only the fourth player in team history to lead the NFL in that category.

In 2013, McVay played a crucial role in Reed's development, as the then-rookie compiled 45 receptions for 499 yards – both Washington's single-season rookie tight end records – despite Reed playing in only nine games. Under McVay's tutelage, Reed joined Chris Cooley (2004) as the only Washington tight ends named to the PFWA All-Rookie Team.

During Washington's NFC East championship season in 2012, McVay's unit was productive despite losing starting TE Fred Davis to a torn Achilles tendon in Week 7. Davis had led the team in both receptions (24) and receiving yards (325) through seven games before being placed on the reserve/injured list.

In 2011, McVay played an integral role in Davis' emergence, as the then fourth-year tight end surpassed his previous career highs despite playing in only 12 games. Davis caught 59 passes for 796 yards, the second-highest total on the team in both categories. Before missing the final four games of the season, Davis was on pace to set a franchise record in receiving yards by a tight end and was on pace to post the first 1,000-yard receiving season by a tight end in Washington's history.
McVay served as an offensive assistant for Washington in 2010 in addition to working with the tight ends during the final four weeks of the season. The Washington offense ranked eighth in the NFL in passing yards per game (244.6) and tight end Chris Cooley ranked second among NFL tight ends in receptions (77) and third in receiving yards (849). The offensive unit also set a franchise record for completions in a season (349), and registered a touchdown pass in 15 consecutive games for the first time in team history.

McVay joined the Washington coaching staff prior to the 2010 season after an undefeated regular season with the Florida Tuskers of the United Football League (UFL). The Tuskers finished a perfect 6-0 before losing in the UFL's inaugural championship game. McVay originally entered the National Football League as an offensive assistant with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2008.

During his time in Tampa Bay, McVay worked closely with wide receiver Antonio Bryant, who recorded career highs in receptions (83), receiving yards (1,248), and touchdowns (seven), en route to winning The Sporting News Comeback Player of the Year Award.

McVay graduated from Miami University (Ohio) where he played wide receiver from 2004-07, earning Miami's Scholar-Athlete Award in 2007. McVay's statue was unveiled in the university's "Cradle of Coaches". His grandfather, John, served in various roles – including vice president/director of football operations from 1983-94 – for the San Francisco 49ers from 1979-95, overseeing five Super Bowl championship squads and earning induction into the 49ers Hall of Fame in 2013.

OC MIKE LAFLEUR

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

NFL EXP	12th Year	RAMS EXP	3rd Year

Mike LaFleur enters his third season with the Los Angeles Rams as team's offensive coordinator. He joined the team ahead of the 2023 season after serving as the New York Jets offensive coordinator for the two seasons.

Under LaFleur's guidance in 2024, the Rams offense finished 10th in passing yards per game (227.5) and 15th in offensive yards per game (331.4) and first downs per game (20.1). The offense also finished in the top-15 in scrimmage yards (5.861) and tied for the seventh-highest fourth down conversion percentage (66.7%).

Young players continued to excel in the Rams offensive scheme in 2024 under LaFleur. RB Kyren Williams built on his All-Pro season from a year ago and tallied single-season career-highs in rushing yards (1,299) and rushing touchdowns (14). Williams joined Marshall Faulk and Todd Gurley as the only Rams players since 2000 to record 14 rushing touchdowns last season. His 31 scrimmage touchdowns since 2023 are the most in the NFL. WR Puka Nacua recorded 79 receptions for 990 yards and three touchdowns last season. He became the second player in NFL history to record at least 150 receptions, 2,000 receiving yards and nine receiving touchdowns in his first 25 career games, joining Odell Beckham Jr. Additionally, former WR Cooper Kupp became the first player in NFL history to record 600 or more receptions, 7,500 or more receiving yards and 50 or more touchdowns catches in a player's first 100 career games.

The offensive line finished first in penalties per game (5.56), sixth in sacks allowed (31), tied for sixth in quarterback sack rate (5.5%), tied for seventh in hurries allowed (132) and 11th in pressures allowed (191). The offensive line did not allow a sack in four consecutive weeks (Weeks 14-17), tied for the longest streak in franchise history and the first time they've accomplished the feat since 2013.

During his first season in Los Angeles in 2023, the Rams had a top-ranked offense. The unit finished the season seventh in yards per game (359.3) and yards per play (5.6), 11th in rushing yards per game (120.3), 12th in yards per rush (4.3), 10th in passing yards per game (239.0), and eighth in first downs per game (20.6), third down conversion rate (42%), and points scored per game (23.76). The offense also finished fourth in fourth down conversion rate (61.9%) and red zone efficiency (63.6%). The Rams had the best yards per game ranking since 2019.

Many offensive players excelled under LaFleur's guidance in 2023 including record-breaking rookie Nacua, Williams, and Stafford. Nacua broke NFL and franchise records almost every week of play and finished the regular season with the most receiving yards (1,486) and receptions (105) in a single season for a rookie in NFL history. Williams recorded his first season with 1,000 or more rushing yards and captured many accolades throughout the year. Stafford led a very young offense and finished with a passer rating of 92.5.

Before joining the Rams, LaFleur spent two seasons with the New York Jets as offensive coordinator. In 2022, WR Garrett Wilson became the first rookie in Jets history and one of 23 players in NFL history to record at least 1,000 receiving yards in his first NFL season. Under the guidance of LaFleur, the Jets offense tied for the most explosive plays in the fourth quarter (39) and recorded a league-best 41 explosive plays by rookies. Additionally, the Jets 10 offensive touchdowns by rookies was fifth-most in the NFL.

LaFleur also helped backup quarterback Mike White record a 405-passing yard performance in Week 8. White became the fifth player in NFL history with more than 350 passing yards in at least two of his first five starts. Despite facing injuries early in the season at the quarterback position, the Jets passing offense finished the 2022 season ranked 15th in passing yards per game (219) as well as 14th in receiving yards (4,040), yards per reception (11.32) and yards after the catch (1,850). The Jets offense also finished 11th in goal to go efficiency (76.2%).

In his first year in the offensive coordinator role, LaFleur worked with four different quarterbacks that threw for more than 290 yards in a game, the first team in NFL history to accomplish that feat. Each of the four quarterbacks also threw two touchdown passes in a game during the season, the first time that has happened since 1987. He oversaw a Jets offense that was one of the youngest in the league and became just the second team since 1970 with a rookie leader in passing, rushing and receiving yards.

LaFleur's offense also featured a rookie receiver, Elijah Moore, that finished in the top 10 among rookies in receiving yards in 2021. This marked the fourth consecutive season a rookie receiver in LaFleur's offense finished the year atop the league's rookie rankings in receiving yards. The Jets rushing attack also improved and over the final eight games, the offense increased their rushing output by more than 50 yards per game and averaged 5.2 yards per carry, which was second-best during that span. Under LaFleur's guidance, rookie fourth-round pick Michael Carter became the first rookie to lead the Jets in rushing since 2006.

Before joining the Jets coaching staff, LaFleur spent four seasons with the 49ers from 2017-20. In his final three seasons in San Francisco, he served as the passing game coordinator and helped the 49ers offense finish in the top 10 in scoring (24.9) and total offense (370.6) while George Kittle set a then NFL record for tight ends with 1,377 receiving yards in 2019 and became a two-time All-Pro selection. During the 2019 season that ended with a Super Bowl appearance, the 49ers offense had 13 different players record at least one touchdown catch, tying the NFL record for the most players with a touchdown catch in a single season. Quarterback Jimmy Garoppolo also finished fourth in yards per attempt (8.2), fifth in completion percentage (67.5%), and ninth in passer rating (98.6) among quarterbacks with at least 25 starts since 2018.

Before joining the 49ers, LaFleur served as an offensive assistant with the Atlanta Falcons for two seasons, first working with the tight ends in 2015 and then the wide receivers in 2016. During his time with the receivers, Julio Jones finished second in the league in receiving yards (1,409) and averaged 17.0 yards per catch, which was the fourth-best average in the league among qualified receivers. The Falcons receivers totaled 3,226 receiving yards, the second-most in the NFL that season, which helped propel the Falcons to Super Bowl LI. In his one season working with tight ends, Jacob Tamme ranked in the top 10 for receiving yards amongst tight ends (657).

LaFleur began his NFL coaching career as an offensive coaching intern working with the Cleveland Browns offensive line in 2014. LaFleur and the offensive line helped the Browns running backs rush for 16 touchdowns which was tied for the second-most in the NFL.

Prior to joining the NFL ranks, LaFleur coached at the collegiate level for five seasons and started his coaching career at his alma mater, Elmhurst College, in 2009 as an offensive assistant working with the quarterbacks. He also served as an offensive coordinator at Saint Joseph's College from 2010-12 and then Davidson College in 2013.

A native of Mount Pleasant, MI, LaFleur was a team captain and three-time letter winner as a quarterback and safety at Elmhurst. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in physical education in 2009. LaFleur and his wife, Lauren, have two children. His father, Denny, won a National Championship at Central Michigan in 1974, before later becoming an assistant coach at the school. His brother, Matt, is the head coach of the Green Bay Packers and served as the Rams offensive coordinator in 2017.

In 2024, the Rams had two Associated Press Defensive Rookie of the Year finalists in OLB Jared Verse and DE Braden Fiske. Verse took home the Defensive Rookie of the Year honors and also was named the Pro Football Writers Association Defensive Rookie of the Year. His 89 total pressures (including playoffs) were the second-most by a rookie behind Khalil Mack's 102 in 2014. Overall, the Rams defensive rookie tallied the most sacks (13.5), tackles for loss (26), pressures (139) and quarterback hits (30) across the NFL in 2024.

With 8.0 sacks on the year, he became the second player in franchise history to record at least 10.0 sacks in his first 19 career games, joining Aaron Donald. Young tallied career-highs in tackles (62) and tackles for loss (12).

The Rams defensive backs finished last season ranked 12th in completions allowed (254) and tied for 12th in interceptions (13). The rookie safety duo, Kamren Kinchens and Jaylen McCollough, each recorded four interceptions, tied for the second-most among rookies in the NFL. S Quentin Lake also stepped into a larger role and played 100 percent of the team's defensive snaps through the first 17 games of the season and was one of three defenders in the NFL to accomplish the feat. Lake became the 11th Rams defensive back to record 100 tackles in a season. His 111 tackles are the fifth-most for a defensive back in franchise history.

In 2023 when Shula was coaching linebackers and serving as the team's pass rush coordinator, former LB Ernest Jones set the franchise record for most tackles in a single season (145), despite missing a game due to injury, and finished 11th in the NFL in tackles. Jones also finished with the eighth-best defensive grade (82.1), the fifth-best run defense grade (90.0), the seventh-best tackling grade (80.5), and the ninth-best pressure grade (78.2) among linebackers, according to Pro Football Focus. Jones was one of 13 players in the NFL to finish with a run defense grade over 90.0 that season.

Additionally, Young had a stellar rookie campaign and recorded 8.0 sacks, which tied for second-most on the team and is tied for the second-most by a rookie in franchise history behind Turner and Donald. Young also finished second on the team in pressures (50), quarterback hits (21), and finished third in hurries (29). Turner (9.0) and Young finished first and second respectively in sacks amongst rookies in the NFL. The Rams also had four defensive players record six or more sacks during the 2023 campaign.

In 2022 under Shula's leadership, the Rams secondary shined with rookies stepping up to play significant snaps. The Rams secondary finished tied for seventh in interceptions (16) and 12 of them were hauled in by players in the secondary.

Former Rams' DB Jalen Ramsey finished second in the NFL in passes defended (18) and tied for third in pass breakups (12) and 11th in interceptions (four) to earn his sixth-career Pro Bowl nod. Additionally, rookie DB Cobie Durant led the NFL in interception return yards (151) on three interceptions. He became the first Rams rookie, and eighth player in NFL history, to record a sack and interception in the same game within their first two NFL games during a Week 2 matchup against the Falcons. Former S Taylor Rapp also had one of his best seasons under Shula and was the 12th-highest graded safety during the 2022 season, according to PFF.

With the guidance of Shula during the team's Super Bowl-winning season in 2021, Jones became an instant contributor as a rookie starting 15 games. Shula helped Jones have a standout performance in Super Bowl LVI with seven tackles (six solo), 1.0 sack, one pass breakup, and four quarterback pressures. Shula's unit supported the Rams defense which finished sixth in the NFL in opponents rushing yards per game (103.2), sixth in opponents rush yards (1,754) and fifth in yards per rush (3.96) in 2021.

The Rams' defense was the top-ranked unit in 2020, allowing the fewest points per game (18.5), passing yards per game (190.7) and total yards per game (281.9). The

With the help of Shula, former LB Cory Littleton put together a career year in his third pro campaign. His 125 tackles led the team and was tied for 10th-most in the NFL in 2018, in addition to posting the most passes defended (13) by any linebacker in the league.

In 2017, former LBs Alec Ogletree and Mark Barron each posted over 100 tackles. Barron, a converted safety playing his first season in former Defensive Coordinator Wade Phillips' system, posted a career-high and tied for a team-best three interceptions on the season.

Prior to joining the Rams in 2017, Shula spent two seasons as defensive quality control coach with the Chargers. He assisted with the defensive line, which saw a breakout season from rookie DE Joey Bosa, who finished the 2016 season tied for sixth in the AFC in sacks with 10.5.

Shula entered the NFL after spending one season as defensive coordinator at John Carroll University in 2014. During that season, John Carroll reached the quarterfinals of the NCAA Division III playoffs and finished 10th in Division III in scoring defense.

Prior to his time at John Carroll University, Shula spent three seasons as a graduate assistant at Indiana University, working primarily with the defensive backs. Shula entered the coaching ranks as the assistant linebackers coach at Ball State in 2010.

He was a linebacker at Miami (Ohio) from 2004-08, where he was a teammate of Head Coach Sean McVay for four seasons.

NFL EXP	10th Year	RAMS EXP	3rd Year

Chase Blackburn enters his third season with the Los Angeles Rams as the special teams coordinator.

In 2024, Blackburn led a special teams unit that included two rookies in K Joshua Karty and WR Jordan Whittington, who were selected to the Pro Football Writers of America All-Rookie Team. The special teams unit recorded four blocked kicks last season, which tied for the most in the NFL. Former OLB Michael Hoecht tallied three blocked kicks, which also led the league and tied Nolan Cromwell (1987) and Pat Thomas (1978) for the most in a season by a Rams player.

Karty converted 29-of-34 field goal attempts and tied Frank Corral for the most made field goals by a rookie kicker in franchise history. His 119 points are also the most points scored by a Rams kicker in their rookie season and the second-most points scored by a rookie in franchise history behind Eric Dickerson's 120. Karty finished the regular season as one of only nine kickers in NFL history to connect on at least 14 consecutive field goals during their rookie campaign and became only the second Rams kicker to accomplish the feat, joining Greg Zuerlein in 2012. He also tied for seventh in percentage of field goals made from 50 or more yards (85.7%) and tied for 12th in field goals made of 50 or more yards (six). Karty was named the NFL Special Teams Player of the Month in December/January after converting all 13 field goal attempts, including three from 50 or more yards.

P Ethan Evans built on a strong rookie campaign and finished the 2024 season ranked first in percentage of punts landing inside the 10-yard line (25.5%), second in percentage of punts landing inside the 20-yard line (54.5%), and tied for second in punts landing inside the five-yard line (six). He also ranked third in punts landing inside the 10-yard line (14) and percentage of punts landing inside the five-yard line (10.9%).

Whittington tallied 453 kickoff return yards, which ranked 13th in the NFL and first among rookies in 2024. It also marked the most by a Rams rookie since 2012.

During the 2023 season , Blackburn led a young special teams unit that featured a rookie punter in Evans and a rookie long snapper in Alex Ward. With Blackburn's guidance, Evans finished the regular season ranked 10th in the NFL in yards per punt (49.2) and 12th for the longest punt (72 yards). Evans earned Special Teams Player of the Week honors after he averaged 52.6 yards per punt on five attempts in a win over the Seattle Seahawks in Week 11. It was the first time a Rams punter took home that honor since former P Johnny Hekker won it during the 2020 season.

Additionally, the Rams special teams unit finished ninth in made field goals (32), despite facing multiple kicking changes, and 10th in yards per punt (48.5). The last time the Rams finished in the top 10 in both categories was in the 2018 season.

Blackburn joined the Rams after spending a season with the Tennessee Titans as their assistant special teams coordinator in 2022.

In Tennessee, the Titans special teams unit finished first in yards per punt (53.1), fifth in opponent yards per punt return (10.78), seventh in opponent yards per punt (45.1), and tied for ninth in opponent field goals made (25). Despite using three kickers throughout the course of the season, the Carolina kickers converted 26-of-29 field goal attempts. The special teams unit also blocked a punt and returned it for a touchdown against the Vikings in Week 6.

During the 2020 season, Blackburn guided rookie P Joseph Charlton to NFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors after tying a franchise-record with five punts inside the 20-yard line during a game at Washington in Week 16. The special teams unit also set a franchise-record that season for the most punts inside the 20 (46.7%), which ranked third in the NFL.

In 2019, Blackburn helped rookie K Joey Slye set a franchise record after making an NFL-best eight field goals from 50 or more yards. Carolina's punting unit also converted two fake punts for first downs and P Michael Palardy landed 25 punts inside the 20-yard line with only three touchbacks all season.

During his first season as special teams coordinator in 2018, the Panthers ranked sixth in the NFL in field goal percentage. Kickers Graham Gano and Chandler Catanzaro combined to make 19-of-21 field goal attempts, including 5-of-6 from 50 yards or more. Gano's 63-yard game-winning field goal against the Giants tied for the longest game-winning field goal in NFL history and the second-longest all-time.

In 2017, Blackburn coached a Panthers special teams unit that produced a kickoff return touchdown and punt return touchdown in the same season for the first time since 2003. Gano also earned his first Pro Bowl appearance after setting a franchise-record and leading the NFL in field goal percentage (96.7), converting 29-of-30 attempts. In the NFC Wild Card Round against the Saints, Gano set a franchise playoff-record with a 58-yard field goal, which also tied an NFL postseason record.

He made his coaching debut with the Carolina Panthers in 2016 serving as a coaching intern. That season, the Panthers led the NFL and tied a team record with three blocked field goals.

Before beginning his coaching career, Blackburn played in the NFL for 10 seasons including eight with the New York Giants from 2005-12 and two with the Panthers from 2013-14. He entered the NFL as an undrafted free agent and appeared in 132 career games (45 starts) and recorded 265 tackles, 4.5 sacks, four interceptions, 10 passes defended and four forced fumbled. He also tallied 123 tackles, two forced fumbles and three fumble recoveries on special teams. Blackburn became a Super Bowl XLVI champion when the Giants defeated the New England Patriots in 2011. He is one of two current NFL coaches to record an interception in a Super Bowl as a player.

During his collegiate playing days at Akron, Blackburn saw action at linebacker and defensive end. He played in 45 games (34 starts) for the Zips and totaled 293 tackles, 38 tackles for loss, 11.0 sacks and three interceptions. Blackburn earned Second-Team All-MAC honors as a junior in 2003 and played in the Gridiron Classic as a senior in 2004.

Under Pleasant's guidance during the 2023 season, the Rams secondary recorded 10 interceptions, with nine coming from defensive backs. The Rams finished the regular season ranked third in pass breakups and tied for 15th in passes defended. The last time the Rams finished the regular season in the top half of those categories was in 2020 when Pleasant mentored the cornerbacks.

In his first year with the Lions in 2021, Pleasant mentored undrafted rookie CBs A.J. Parker and Jerry Jacobs, who led all NFL undrafted players in snaps played on either offense or defense that season. The young cornerback duo was the only pair of undrafted rookies to play at least 400 snaps on offense or defense and both players saw more than 500 snaps of action in the 2021 campaign.

Additionally, Jacobs and Parker each produced seven passes defended and a forced fumble, becoming the eighth and ninth undrafted rookies in NFL history to produce a season with at least seven passes defensed and a forced fumble. They also became the first set of rookie teammates to accomplish this feat.

Pleasant joined the Detroit Lions coaching staff ahead of the 2021 season to serve as the team's defensive backs coach and pass game coordinator after his first coaching stint with the Rams from 2017-20 as the cornerbacks coach.

CHRIS BEAKE

SAFETIES

NFL EXP	27th Year	RAMS EXP	4th Year

Chris Beake enters his 27th season coaching in the NFL and his fourth with the Los Angeles Rams.

Under Beake's guidance in 2024, the Rams safeties finished first in defensive touchdowns (three), tied for third in interceptions (nine), and ninth in completion percentage (65.7%). The Rams also became the first team this century to have three different safeties record at least one defensive touchdown in the same season.

The Rams rookie safety duo, Kamren Kinchens and Jaylen McCollough, each recorded four interceptions, tied for the second-most among rookies and the sixth-most in the NFL. Kinchens recorded the longest interception returned for a touchdown in franchise history (103 yards). Additionally, safety Quentin Lake stepped into a larger role as a team captain and played 100 percent of the team's defensive snap through the first 17 weeks. His 111 tackles are the fifth-most by a defensive back in franchise history. Additionally, safety Kam Curl recorded a single-season career-high in passes defended (nine), tied for 14th-most in the NFL among safeties last season.

In 2023, Beake mentored former defensive back Jordan Fuller who was one of 11 players in the league to force six or more furnovers leading into the final game of the regular season. Beake also played a role in the development of Lake, who had a breakout season notching 53 tackles, one fumble recovery, five pass breakups, and six passes defended. Additionally, Beake mentored S John Johnson, who finished the season 18th among secondary defenders in passer rating against as the primary defender (35.4) to go along with his two interceptions on the season.

The Rams' inside linebackers had a productive season under Beake's guidance in 2022. In his first and only season with the team, former linebacker Bobby Wagner had a career year and finished three tackles short of setting the Rams' franchise record for tackles in a single season, which was set by James Laurinaitis (142) in 2011 and 2012. He was also Pro Football Focus' top-ranked linebacker in the regular season with a 90.7 grade. Wagner finished tied for 10th in tackles against the rush (84), 13th in tackles (140), tied for 20th in stops (51), and tied for 38th in tackles for loss (10).

Beake also played an instrumental role in the development of former linebacker Ernest Jones in 2022. He finished 35th in tackles (113), which was second on the team behind Wagner. With the elite play from both inside linebackers, the Rams rush defense was among the best in the NFL and only allowed two players to eclipse the 100-yard rushing mark. The Rams were one of four teams to enter Week 17 without allowing a 100-yard rusher that season.

Beake spent nine years of his career in Denver working with the Broncos defense serving as pass game specialist (2021), defensive assistant (2019-20), defensive assistant/defensive line (2016-18), defensive assistant (2014-15) and defensive quality control (2013).

During Beake's nine seasons in Denver, the Broncos allowed the third-fewest total yards (327.4) and seventh-fewest points (21.8) in the league. The Broncos were also one of just two NFL teams to finish in the top eight against the run (seventh/106.4 ypg) and against the pass (second/221.0 ypg) during that span.

In his first year as defensive pass game specialist in 2021, Beake continued to push the Broncos secondary, working directly with safeties such as Justin Simmons and Kareem Jackson. Opposing offenses were challenged in the pass game as the Broncos defense ranked fourth in opposing completion percentage (60.7%), fifth in passing touchdowns allowed (22), sixth in opponent passer rating (85.0) and eighth in passing yards allowed (3,652). As a collective unit, the Broncos defense made 13 interceptions for 221 return yards.

In 2020, Beake took on increased coaching responsibilities in the secondary, stepping into an elevated weekly and gameday role with several coaches missing time due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Denver led the NFL in red zone defense (47.5%, 29-of-61) for the second consecutive season while outside linebacker Bradley Chubb and safety Justin Simmons were voted to their first Pro Bowls.

From 2013-20, the Broncos defense featured eight players who combined for 20 Pro Bowl selections, led by 2010's NFL All-Decade linebacker Von Miller, who led the NFL with 81.0 total sacks during that span. Beake worked extensively with the Broncos' outside linebackers in 2018 as Miller was selected to his seventh Pro Bowl and Chubb set the franchise rookie record for sacks (12.0).

In his two seasons (2011-12) with the Browns, Beake worked with one of the youngest offenses in the NFL, helping to develop a quarterback group that included draft choices Colt McCoy and Brandon Weeden.

Beake spent two seasons with Seattle, serving as the Seahawks' offensive quality control coach in 2008 and offensive assistant/assistant special teams coach in 2009. From 2004-06, he coached linebackers for the Atlanta Falcons, tutoring All-Pro Linebacker Keith Brooking, who earned the final two of his five career Pro Bowl selections in 2004 and 2005.

Beake started his NFL career with San Francisco in 1998 as a pro personnel assistant and spent the next five seasons with the 49ers coaching on both sides of the ball.

He is a graduate of the U.S. Air Force Academy, where he played quarterback from 1990-92 and majored in civil engineering. He began his coaching career as a defensive graduate assistant for his alma mater in 1994. Beake served as a Civil Engineer Officer in the Air Force from 1995-98 while earning his master's degree in business administration from the University of West Florida.

Beake's father, John, was the general manager of the Denver Broncos from 1984-98, part of a 44-year career as a coach or administrator at the high school, college or pro levels. Chris and his wife, Andrea, have a son, Colin (18) and twin daughters, Madeline and Emilie (12). He was born on Sept. 10, 1972, in Kansas City

ROB CALABRESE

OFFENSIVE ASSISTANT

NFL EXP	6th Year	RAMS EXP	2nd Year

Rob Calabrese enters his second season with the Los Angeles Rams as an offensive assistant. He joined the Rams coaching staff after spending three seasons with the New York Jets as the quarterbacks coach from 2021-23.

In his first season with the Rams, Calabrese supported multiple position groups across the offensive unit. Under his guidance, the team finished the 2024 season ranked 10th in passing yards per game (227.5) as well as 15th in offensive yards per game (331.4) and first downs per game (20.1). The Rams also finished inside the top-15 in scrimmage yards with 5,861 on the year.

Despite working through many quarterback changes during the 2023 season with the Jets, Calabrese helped guide QB Zach Wilson to 2,482 yards of total offense. He threw for 2,271 yards and eight touchdowns in 12 games played on the season.

In 2022, the Jets saw three different quarterbacks record at least two games of 300 or more passing yards and became the only team in the NFL to do so. QB Mike White became only the fifth player in NFL history to record more than 350 passing yards in at least two of their first five career starts. Calabrese also helped QB Joe Flacco become the first player with two passing touchdowns in the final two minutes of a fourth quarter.

During his first season with the Jets in 2021, he mentored Wilson who improved steadily throughout his rookie season. In the last seven games, Wilson ranked in the top half of the NFL starters (min. 100 attempts) in total touchdowns and in the top five in fewest turnovers. He ended the season without an interception in 156 passing attempts, the longest rookie streak in franchise history and longest streak by a Jets quarterback since 2000. Under Calabrese's leadership, three other quarterbacks saw action in 2021. White became the first quarterback in NFL history with 300+ passing yards and a 75+ completion percentage in his first career start. Additionally, Calabrese helped the transition of acquiring Flacco midseason and in his only game of action recorded a 100+ passer rating. QB Josh Johnson saw action for the first time in three seasons and threw for 300+ yards, becoming just the fifth quarterback in the last 30 seasons to not start a game and still throw for 300+ yards.

Prior to the Jets, Calabrese spent two seasons with the Denver Broncos as their offensive quality control coach from 2019-20. He worked with multiple different quarterbacks as the Broncos were forced to use five different starters as a result of injuries. He made his NFL coaching debut with the Broncos in 2019 when Joe Flacco started the first eight games completing 65.3% of his passes, the best mark of his career at the time. Calabrese also helped rookie quarterback Drew Lock start the final five games of the season and compile a 4-1 record. The Broncos offense finished second in the NFL in fourth down conversion rate (68.8%) that season.

Before entering the NFL coaching ranks, Calabrese coached at the collegiate level. He spent time at Wagner College from 2016-18 and held various positions. He served as the running backs coach in 2016 and then became the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach from 2017-18. Under his leadership, the offense averaged 28 points per game in 2018, which was almost a seven-point per game improvement from the season prior and the school's best average in nine seasons.

Calabrese also spent two seasons as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Central Florida. He worked with the quarterbacks and wide receivers and was selected as one of 30 coaches for the NCAA-AFCA Future Football Coaches Academy.

He began his coaching career at Oviedo High School in Florida mentoring the quarterbacks for a season in 2013.

Before Calabrese became a coach, he played quarterback and wide receiver at Central Florida, where he registered 1,276 passing yards and 12 touchdowns to go along with 494 rushing yards and two touchdowns. He also attended East Islip High School, where he broke school records for career passing yards and touchdowns.

He is a native of Islip Terrace, New York. Calabrese and his wife, Taylor, have two sons, Kayden and Cooper.

Joe Coniglio enters his third season with the Los Angeles Rams as their outside linebackers coach after serving at the Naval Academy for two seasons.

During the 2024 season, the Rams outside linebackers took another step under Coniglio's guidance. The pass rush unit finished the season ranked sixth in hurries (225), 10th in pressure rate (35.7%), and 13th in pressures (218). Rookie OLB Jared Verse was named the Associated Press Defensive Rookie of the Year and PWFA Defensive Rookie of the year after he tallied 66 tackles, 11 tackles for loss, 4.5 sacks, two forced fumbles and two passes defended. Verse's 89 total pressures (inluding playoffs) were the second-most pressures by a rookie behind Khalil Mack's 102 in 2014. His 17.2% pressure rate last season was the second-highest by a rookie in the Next Gen Stats era behing Micah Parsons' 19.5% pressure rate in 2021. Verse and rookie DE Braden Fiske became the first two rookies in franchise history to record at least 4.5 sacks, two forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries in their rookie seasons. The duo finished the season with a combined 120 pressures, the most by any rookie duo since 2018.

Additionally, OLB Byron Young built on his stellar rookie campaign and tallied career-highs in tackles (62) and tackles for loss (12). He also notched 7.5 sacks, taking his career total to 15.5 which marks the third-most among players drafted in 2023. His 112 pressures in his first two seasons are the fourth-most in the NFL since pressues began being tracked in 2012.

During the 2023 season, Coniglio played a vital role in helping Young burst onto the NFL scene. His 8.0 sacks ranked third for most sacks by a rookie in franchise history. He also became the first rookie in franchise history to be in the sack column in his first three regular season games. Among rookies, Young finished in the top 10 in most defensive snaps played, tackles for loss, hurries, quarterback hits, pressures, sacks and tackles. He finished the regular season ranked 16th in pressures, 15th in sacks among outside linebackers, and tied for seventh in quarterback hits. Former OLB Michael Hoecht also notched single-season career-highs in tackles, sacks, pressures, and pass breakups in his first year playing the position as a full-time starter.

During his time at Navy in 2022, the defense finished third in the nation against the run. The unit was the only defense ranked in the top 25 that faced three of the top 10 rushing offenses in the country. The Navy defense also finished third in fewest first downs allowed, 23rd in sacks, 22nd in fumble recoveries, and 32nd in total defense. Coniglio also mentored senior striker John Marshall, who finished third in the nation in sacks and tackles for loss per game while setting school records for single-season and single-game sacks. Marshall became the only unanimous First-Team All-American Athletic Conference selection in 2022.

Despite having one of the toughest schedules in the country in 2021, the Navy defense finished 32nd in the nation in run defense (130.4 yards allowed per game), 51st in passing defense (218.2 yards allowed per game), 34th in total defense (348.6 yards allowed per game), and 34th in red zone defense (.778).

He joined the Naval Academy from Kent State, where he coached the outside linebackers and served as the defensive recruiting coordinator for two seasons. During his second stint with the Golden Flashes, Coniglio helped lead the team to a 3-1 record in a COVID-shortened season and their first bowl win in school history with a 51-41 victory in the 2019 Tropical Smoothie Cafe Frisco Bowl.

He also spent five seasons at Rhode Island, where he served as defensive line coach, special teams coordinator and recruiting coordinator. During his time with the Rhode Island Rams, they were among national (FCS) leaders in numerous defensive categories. In 2017, Rhode Island was the only defensive line in the nation to have five players register five or more sacks and 10 or more tackles for loss. The defense broke the program's sack record that season and produced their third different all-conference player during Coniglio's coaching stint. The following season in 2018, Rhode Island ranked 31st in the FCS in total defense. Addtionally on special teams in 2018, Rhode Island ranked in the top 20 in punt return defense, kick return average and punt return average.

From 2012-13, Coniglio was the defensive line coach at Northern Michigan.

He also spent three seasons at Kent State from 2009-2011 while earning a master's degree. His roles during his first stint at Kent State included special assistant to the head coach, defensive graduate assistant, video coordinator and defensive volunteer. Coniglio worked closely with the defensive line and helped develop future NFL players Roosevelt Nix, Ishmaa'ily Kitchen and Monte Simmons. During that period, Kent State's defense ranked in the top tier of numerous NCAA categories, including 10th in the nation in total defense in 2010. The following season in 2011, the Golden Flashes ranked 21st in total defense, and in 2009 the defense was fourth in tackles for loss and 17th in sacks.

A two-time All-Mid-American Conference defensive end at Miami (OH), Coniglio was a three-year starter and three-year winner of the RedHawks' Vic Waltz Defensive Lineman of the Year award. He also helped Miami (OH) win three MAC East titles and ranks fifth among the program's sack leaders.

Coniglio and his wife, Jessa, have a daughter, Anna, and two sons, Joseph and Matthew.

Gould has 35 seasons of coaching experience, including four as a head coach at UC Davis and 24 years working in the Pac-12 Conference.

During his career, Gould has mentored some of the game's elite running backs, including Rams All-Pro and Pro Bowler Kyren Williams, and coached Super Bowl champions such as Marshawn Lynch, C.J. Anderson and Shane Vereen. Anderson spent time with the Rams in 2018 and appeared in Super Bowl LII against the New England Patriots.

Gould also mentored college standouts Bryce Love and J.J. Arrington, as well as NFL players such as Jahvid Best and Justin Forsett. He has coached a total of eight Pro Bowl selections, three First-Team All-America picks, and six First-Team all-conference honorees. Five of the past eleven Super Bowls have featured a running back whom Gould has coached.

During the 2024 season with the Rams, Gould helped the rushing attack finish 14th in rushing first downs (119) and tie for 15th in rushing touchdowns (14). With consecutive 1,000-yard rushing seasons, Williams became the first Rams running back to accomplish the feat since Todd Gurley in 2017 and 2018. He built on is All-Pro season and record career-highs in rushing yards (1,299) and rushing touchdowns (14). Williams became the sixth Rams running back to record 14 rushing touchdowns in a season and the first since Gurley in 2018. He rushed for at least 60 yards in 12 consecutive games (Weeks 3-15) and passed Eric Dickerson (11 games) for the longest streak of 60+ rushing yard games in franchise history. Williams has recorded 31 scrimmage touchdowns since Week 1 of the 2023 season, the most across the NFL over that span.

During his first season in the NFL in 2023, the Rams finished ranked 11th in rushing yards (2,045), 12th in yards per rush attempt (4.3), eighth in rushing touchdowns (18) and 11th in tackles avoided on rushes (89). It was the first time the Rams rushed for 2,045 or more yards since the 2018 campaign.

Under Gould's leadership, Williams finished third in the NFL in rushing yards (1,144), sixth in yards per rush (5.0) and tied for seventh in rushing touchdowns (12) despite missing four games due to injury. It was the first time Williams eclipsed 1,000 rushing yards in his NFL career and he was the first Rams running back to do so since Todd Gurley in 2018. Additionally, with 12 rushing touchdowns on the season, Williams tied Gurley, Wendell Tyler, Eric Dickerson and Marshall Faulk for the seventh-most rushing touchdowns in a single season in franchise history.

Before joining Sean McVay's staff, Gould spent six seasons at Stanford where he guided Bryce Love to a record-breaking season in 2017. Love set the school's single-season rushing record (2,118), single-game rushing record (301), and was named the 2017 Doak Walker Award winner. Love also was the Lombardi Award winner and Heisman Trophy runner-up as a junior. He set Stanford records for rush average (6.79) and consecutive 100-yard rushing games (nine). The Pac-12 Offensive Player of the Year and unanimous All-American finished with the fourth-most rushing yards and fifth-most touchdowns in school history. Love was drafted in the fourth round of the 2019 NFL Draft by Washington.

Prior to joining Stanford, Gould was the head coach at UC Davis from 2013-16. During his time as head coach, the Aggies posted the Big Sky Conference's highest Academic Progress Rate (APR) from the NCAA all four years. Gould helped guide Gabe Manzanares to record the program's best rushing total (1,285 yards) in more than a decade during the 2013 season. Manzanares won Big Sky Newcomer of the Year honors and ranked among the conference and FCS leaders in several statistical categories.

Gould coached the running backs for 16 years at California from 1997-2012 and was eventually promoted to associate head coach in 2008 and had added responsibilities as run game coordinator in 2011. Gould developed several of the top running backs at Cal including NFL players such as Lynch, Arrington, Best, Vereen, Adimchinobe Echemandu, Forsett, Tarik Smith and Will Ta'ufo'ou. Other players who worked with Gould and later signed NFL contracts include Chris Manderino and Byron Storer. Nine of the program's top 11 individual rushing seasons and six of Cal's all-time top rushers were coached by Gould.

Marshawn Lynch was the 2006 Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Year, J.J. Arrington was eighth in the 2006 Heisman Trophy voting after leading the country with 2,018 rushing yards, and Jahvid Best was a two-time All-Pac 12 First-Team selection. Both Lynch and Best were first-round picks in the NFL Draft, while Arrington and Vereen were second-round selections.

He was a candidate for the 2010 American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) Assistant Coach of the Year Award and participated in NFL internships with the Atlanta Falcons, Arizona Cardinals, Green Bay Packers, Los Angeles Rams, San Francisco 49ers and St. Louis Rams.

Following his college graduation, Gould began his collegiate coaching career at his alma mater, Oregon, from 1990-91. He also coached the defensive backs at Portland State in 1992 and at Boise State from 1993-96.

A native of Scottsdale, Arizona, Gould played defensive back at Scottsdale Community College from 1984-85 before earning a scholarship to Wichita State. When the Shockers discontinued their football program, Gould chose to play at Oregon where he earned his bachelor's degree in human services.

Gould and his wife, Teresa, have two sons Tevin and Trae.

SCOTT HUFF

TIGHT ENDS

NFL EXP	2nd Year	RAMS EXP	1st Year

Scott Huff joins Los Angeles in 2025 as the tight ends coach after spending last season coaching the offensive line with the Seattle Seahawks.

In his first NFL season, the Seahawks offensive line finished fifth in rushes per touchdown (22.53), eighth in passing yards per game (236.5), tied for the 11th-most rushing touchdowns (17), and tallied the 14th-most yards per game (332.2). Under his guidance, C Olu Oluwatimi started the final eight games of the season and allowed just six hurries and eight pressures. QB Geno Smith totaled career-highs in passing yards (4,320) and completion percentage (70.4%). RB Zach Charbonnet also had a breakout season and led the team with a career-high eight rushing touchdowns.

Previously, Huff spent seven seasons with the Washington Huskies (2017-23) as their offensive line coach. From 2017-19, he was the Huskies run game coordinator on top of his duties as offensive line coach. Under his guidance from 2017-2023, the Huskies had at least one First-Team All-Pac-12 offensive lineman each season, and two first-teamers on three occasions. In all, seven UW offensive linemen coached by Huff have spent time on an NFL roster including four draftees. OL Troy Fautanu (2024) and OL Kaleb McGary (2018) were both first-round draft picks.

In 2023, Huff was part of a coaching staff that for the second year in a row, produced an offensive line that ranked among the nation's best in sacks allowed (11) and permitted just 46 tackles for loss. That group received the Joe Moore Award, recognizing them as the best offensive line in the nation. The award-winning unit was led by Fautanu, a Third-Team All-American who was also named to the All-Pac-12 first team for the second season in a row. He took home the 2023 Morris Trophy as the top offensive lineman in the Pac-12 Conference.

In 2022, Washington led the nation in both passing offense (369.8 yards per game) and third-down conversion rate (57 percent), and finished second in total offense (515.8 yards per game). Just one season earlier, Washington finished the season 73rd in pass offense and 114th in total offense. The unit also paved the way for the FBS's No. 25-ranked rushing offense and allowed just seven sacks, the second-fewest in the nation. Four of UW's five starting linemen received some level of All-Pac-12 honors.

In 2021, Huff added another First-Team All-Pac-12 selection to his résumé as Jaxson Kirkland earned that honor for the second season in a row. In 2019, Washington's offensive line paved the way for yet another 1,000-yard rusher (RB Salvon Ahmed), while limiting opponents to just 22.0 sacks in 13 games. In 2018, McGary won the Morris Trophy as the Pac-12's best offensive lineman. The offensive line helped the Huskies rush for 179.9 yards per game (third in the Pac-12) and paved the way for RB Myles Gaskin to become the second player in NCAA-FBS history to rush for 1,200 yards in four consecutive seasons.

In his first season in Montlake in 2017, Huff mentored an offensive line that helped Gaskin rush for 1,380 yards and 21 touchdowns. Two of his linemen, Coleman Shelton and McGary, earned First-Team All-Pac-12 honors.

Prior to his time at Washington, Huff coached 11 seasons at his alma mater, Boise State (2006-16), under Chris Petersen. During his final season with the Broncos in 2016 as co-offensive coordinator and offensive line coach, his unit was a semifinalist for the Joe Moore Award, given to the top line in the nation, as Boise State placed two linemen on the All-Mountain West Conference First-Team. He also was a nominee for the Broyles Award, given to the assistant coach of the year. As co-offensive coordinator, the Broncos led the MWC in total offense (472.8 yards per game) and the offensive line allowed just 19.0 sacks in 13 games as Boise finished the year 10-3.

In 2015, Boise saw two offensive linemen earn First-Team All-MWC while a third picked up honorable mention. OL Rees Odhiambo was selected by the Seahawks in the third round of the 2016 NFL Draft while OL Marcus Henry signed with the Saints as an undrafted free agent. Huff moved back to coaching the offensive line in 2014 where the Boise State team ranked ninth in the nation in scoring (39.7) and 14th in total offense (494.3). They had one offensive lineman be named First-Team All-MWC (Henry) while another made the Second-Team (Odhiambo). From 2012-13, Huff was promoted to special teams coordinator on top of his duties as tight ends coach. Boise led the Mountain West in kickoff return average in 2012 with 26.0 yards per return. In 2013, the Broncos led the Mountain West in field goal percentage (89.5 percent) and punt return average (15.7 yards per return).

In two seasons back coaching the tight ends (2010-11), the Boise State offense ranked among the top-10 in both total offense and scoring. As the Broncos offensive line coach in 2007-09, Huff helped the Broncos finish 10-3 in 2007, 12-1 in 2008 and a perfect 14-0 in 2009. Over those three seasons, Boise State allowed an average of just 12.3 sacks per season. The 2009 team led the nation in scoring offense and gave up just five sacks all year. After having served as a graduate assistant coach at Arizona State following his playing career, Huff's first full-time coaching job came in 2006 when he joined Boise as the tight ends coach. The 2006 season ended with a perfect 13-0 record and a notable win over Oklahoma in the Fiesta Bowl. In his four-year playing career (1999-02) at Boise, Huff started 40 games at center and earned First-Team All-Western Athletic Conference as a senior. He helped lead the Broncos to a 12-1 overall record and the WAC championship. In 2005, he was named to the Broncos Stadium 35th Anniversary Team.

A native of Phoenix, Ariz., Huff earned his bachelor's degree in business administration in 2002 and his master's in secondary education from Arizona State in 2005. Huff and his wife, Shannon, have two sons, Scott III and Sullivan, and a daughter, Savannah.

BEN KOTWICA

ASSISTANT SPECIAL TEAMS

NFL EXP	18th Year	RAMS EXP	1st Year

Ben Kotwica joins Los Angeles in 2025 as assistant special teams coach after spending the last two seasons as the Denver Broncos special teams coordinator.

Kotwica has 17 years of NFL coaching experience across six teams, most recently with the Denver Broncos. He joined the Broncos after one season as assistant special teams coach for Minnesota in 2022. He also spent time with Atlanta Falcons (2019-20), Washington Commanders (2014-18) and the New York Jets (2007-13).

Kotwica helped the Broncos stay near the top of the special team ranks in the NFL in 2024 as they finished the season first in punt return average (15.7), sixth in field goal percentage (91.2 percent), 10th in net yards per punt (42.2), and 10th in opponent punt return average (8.7). Under Kotwica, the team recorded their highest kick return average (28.0), second-highest punt return average (15.7), third-highest field goal percentage (92.1 percent), and third-highest net yards per punt (42.2) in franchise history.

In 2023, Kotwica led the transformation of a Broncos special teams unit that ranked near the top of the league in multiple categories. They ranked first in punt return average (16.3), second in opponent punt return average (6.3), eighth in kickoff return average (24.9), and ninth in opponent kickoff return average (21.5). The special teams unit also had one of its best seasons in franchise history finishing the season first in yards per punt return (16.3), tied for second in field goals made (30), third in field goal percentage (88.2 percent), sixth in yards per punt (46.3), sixth in yards per kickoff return (24.9), and tied for seventh in punts inside the 20-yard line (27). Kotwica oversaw the development of kick returner Marvin Mims Jr., who was named an Associated Press All-Pro kick returner (first-team) and a Pro Bowler for a second consecutive season. He led the NFL in yards per punt return with 16.7 and became the first Broncos player to lead the NFL in punt-return average since Rick Upchurch in 1982. As a rookie, he was an Associated Press All-Pro Second-Teamer as a kick returner and made his first career Pro Bowl after he averaged 16.4 yards per punt return and 26.5 yards per kickoff return.

In 2024, K Wil Lutz tied the franchise record for the most made field goals in a season with 31, joining Jason Elam (1995 and 2001). His five made field goals from 50-or-more yards were a single-season career-high and his 91.2 field goal percent was the second-highest single-season total of his career.

In his lone season with the Vikings in 2022, Kotwica helped coach a unit that posted top-10 rankings in kickoff return average (25.6) and opponent punt return average (7.7). Under Kotwica's guidance, long snapper Andrew DePaola earned Associated Press All-Pro and Pro Bowl honors for the first time in his career. Among eligible kickoff returners, RB Kene Nwangu posted the NFL's fifth-highest kickoff return average (26.3) and totaled 35 returns for 920 yards with one touchdown. His 920 kickoff return yards and 26.3 yards per kickoff return were the highest by a Viking since running back Cordarrelle Patterson registered 1,019 kickoff return yards in 2015 and a 31.7 kickoff return average in 2016.

Prior to the Vikings, Kotwica spent two years (2019-20) with the Falcons as the team's special teams coordinator. He oversaw a unit that led the NFL with five fumble recoveries in 2019, the most by a team in a single season since the New York Giants (five) in 2012. K Younghoe Koo was named to his first career Pro Bowl after the 2020 season after he tallied single-season career-highs in made field goals (37) and field goal percentage (94.9 percent).

Spending five seasons as special teams coordinator for Washington from 2014-18, Kotwica guided a unit that posted the fifth-fewest kickoff return yards against (2,970) and tied for seventh in gross punt average (45.7). During the 2017 season, Washington surrendered 18.7 yards per kickoff return, the second-lowest average in the league that season.

During his seven seasons with Atlanta and Washington (2014-20), Kotwica's special teams units recorded two kickoff returns for touchdowns (tied for the second-most in the NFL) and five total scores on special teams (tied for the fifth-most in the NFL).

He started his NFL coaching career in 2007 with the New York Jets where he was a part of the coaching staff for seven seasons from 2007-13. He began his tenure as a defensive/special teams quality control coach (2007-08) before he was promoted to assistant special teams coach (2009-12) and then special teams coordinator (2013). As special teams coordinator for the Jets in 2013, Kotwica's unit ranked 12th in the league in opponent kickoff return average (22.3). K Nick Folk posted one of his best single seasons in 2013 under Kotwica when he totaled the second-most made field goals (33) in his career and tied for 10th in the league in field goal percentage (91.7 percent). In six years (2007-12) as an assistant on the Jets' staff, Kotwica helped coach a special teams unit that recorded 10 combined kickoff and punt return touchdowns, tied for the most in the AFC and second most in the NFL in that span. The Jets also ranked first in kickoff return average (24.6) and fourth in kickoff return yards (8,705).

Before working his way to the NFL, Kotwica served as defensive coordinator for the United States Military Academy Prep School from 2005-06. His start in coaching came nine years after he concluded his collegiate career, where he played linebacker for Army from 1993-96.

Kotwica is a decorated officer who spent eight years in the United States Army after graduating from the United States Military Academy at West Point. His military career includes operations in Bosnia-Herzegovina, Korea, and Iraq. Commissioned as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Aviation Branch of the Army, Kotwica was selected to fly the AH-64 Apache Longbow, the world's top attack helicopter. Last season, the Rams offensive line finished first in penalties per game (5.56), sixth in sacks allowed (31), tied for sixth in quarterback sack rate (5.5%), tied for seventh in hurries allowed (132) and 11th in pressures allowed (191). The offensive line did not allow a sack in four consecutive weeks (Weeks 14-17), tied for the longest streak in franchise history and the first time they've accomplished the feat since 2013. OL Kevin Dotson led the charge on the line and allowed only 1.0 sack, four quarterback hits, five hurries and 10 pressures from Weeks 6-17.

Under Kromer's guidance in 2023, the Rams offensive line allowed the lowest sack total (22.0) since the 2020 season and propelled the run game signigicantly. The Rams offensive line also finished seventh in quarterback sack rate (5.5%) and pressures allowed (213).

Rookie OL Steve Avila had a stellar first season and led the team in offensive snaps played (1,094), which was the most snaps played for a Rams offensive lineman since 2021. Among rookie offensive linemen, Avila ranked second in offensive snaps played and was the only Rams player to play every offensive snap. He also finished fifth in sacks allowed (2.0).

Dotson finished with the second-best overall grade (85.2) and the best run blocking grade (88.8) among all guards, according to PFF. Additionally, veteran Alaric Jackson was tied for first in sacks allowed (1.0) among tackles who played over 500 offensive snaps.

In 2022, Kromer worked closely with the tight ends and helped Tyler Higbee sustain his productivity in McVay's offense. In Week 16 against the Broncos, Higbee eclipsed 3,000 career receiving yards and became the Rams' all-time leader in touchdowns for tight ends (20).

Higbee is currently the Rams' all-time leader in receptions (361), receiving yards (3,668) and touchdowns for tight ends (24). Under the guidance of Kromer, he tallied a career-best 72 catches for 620 yards and three touchdowns during the 2022 season. His 620 receiving yards were the second-most of his career. Additionally, his 404 yards after catch was a career-high, the fourth-best amongst tight ends, and the 28th-highest YAC total in the NFL that season. During his first five seasons with the Rams from 2017-2021, Kromer primarily worked with an offensive line that anchored one of the most productive offenses in the NFL during that span.

In 2021 during the team's Super Bowl-winning season, the offensive line finished tied for sixth in sacks allowed (31), seventh in sack percentage (4.9%), fifth in pressures allowed (173) and third in pressures allowed per dropback (26.8%).

In his fourth season in L.A. in 2020, Kromer helped a rushing attack that finished 10th in the league, averaging 126.1 rush yards per game.

In 2019 with the help of Kromer's adjustments throughout the season due to injury along the offensive front, the offensive line did not allow a sack in a franchise-best six games, while also allowing the fewest sacks in the league (22).

Kromer spent the 2016 season with the Buffalo Bills as an entry-level coaching assistant. Prior to the Bills, he spent four seasons at the University of Oklahoma as a student assistant for the football program.

Kromer earned a bachelor of arts degree in communications.

He is the son of the longtime NFL offensive line coach Aaron Kromer, who has 21 seasons of NFL experience.

DAVE RAGONE

QUARTERBACKS

NFL EXP	14th Year	RAMS EXP	2nd Year

Dave Ragone enters his second season with the Los Angeles Rams as the quarterbacks coach. He joined the Rams after spending three seasons with the Atlanta Falcons as their offensive coordinator from 2021-23.

Under Ragone's guidance, QB Matthew Stafford finished in the top-15 in passing yards and touchdowns in 2024. He also surpassed 3,000 passing yards in a season for the 12th time in his career and became the 13th different quarterback in NFL history to accomplish the feat. Stafford passed Eli Manning for 10th all-time in career passing yards (59,809) and passing touchdowns (377). Stafford recorded four-consecutive games (Week 10-13) with multiple touchdown passes and no interceptions for the second time in his Rams career (Week 13-16 in 2023) and became the only Rams quarterback to accomplish the feat in franchise history. During the 2024 campaign, the Rams quarterbacks finished with the seventh fewest interceptions, 10th in passing yards per game (227.5), 13th in completed passes (367), and tied for 14th in passing rating (93.7) and passing first downs (192).

Ragone joined the Rams after spending three seasons with the Atlanta Falcons as their offensive coordinator from 2021-23. During the 2023 campaign, the Falcons finished ninth in rushing offense with 2,159 rushing yards and 127 rushing yards per game, tied for eighth with 121 rushing first downs, and ranked fourth in tackles avoided on rushes (106). The offense also ranked seventh in yards per reception (11.5).

Under Ragone's guidance, rookie running back Bijan Robinson ranked in the top 20 in rushing yards (976), yards per rush (4.6), and rushing first downs (50). After a productive first season, Robinson was named to PFWA's All-Rookie Team and was one of six finalists for the 2023 Pepsi Zero Sugar NFL Rookie of the Year. He also set the franchise record for yards from scrimmage by a rookie (1,463). Tight End Kyle Pitts ranked in the top 10 among tight ends in the NFL in receiving first downs (35) and yards per reception (12.6).

In 2022, Atlanta's offense led the NFL in fewest penalties, finished third in rushing yards per game, and 10th in third down conversion rate. The Falcons also had the third-highest successful play rate on rushing attempts (45.1%). The rushing offense averaged 74.5 more rushing yards per game in 2022 than the year prior, which was the largest one-season improvement by any team since 2001. The Falcons became the first team to have four players with at least 250 rushing yards through the first eight games of a season in NFL history with running backs Cordarrelle Patterson (340), Tyler Allgeier (324), Caleb Huntley (265) and quarterback Marcus Mariota (280).

During the 2022 campaign, Ragone mentored two quarterbacks, Mariota and rookie Desmond Ridder, who started the final four games and had 73 completions for 708 passing yards which was the most by a player in his first four career starts in franchise history. He became the third rookie to attempt at least 100 passes and not record an interception in his first four starts in NFL history, joining Dak Prescott and Gardner Minshew. Receiver Drake London also made franchise history with the most receptions by a rookie (72). The Falcons became the fourth team to have a 1,000-yard rookie rusher and an 800-yard rookie receiver in the same season in NFL history with Allgeier (1,035 rushing yards) and London (866 receiving yards).

In Ragone's first season as offensive coordinator in 2021, Atlanta was the only team to have a wide receiver (Russell Gage), tight end (Pitts), and running back (Patterson) each record at least 50 receptions and 500 receiving yards in the NFL that season. The Falcons running backs and tight ends combined for 2,251 yards receiving, which led the NFL that season and set a single-season franchise record.

With a young offense that season, many rookies produced and set franchise records under the leadership of Ragone. Pitts set the single-season rookie receiving record and the single-season receiving record for a tight end. He earned his first-career Pro Bowl nod and became the second rookie tight end to eclipse 1,000 receiving yards in NFL history (1,026).

Prior to his time in Atlanta, Ragone spent five seasons with the Chicago Bears from 2016-20. For the first four seasons from 2016-19, he served as the quarterbacks coach and became the pass game coordinator in 2020. That season, Ragone coached Quarterbacks Mitchell Trubisky and Nick Foles, who helped the team achieve a Wild Card bid.

Under Ragone's mentorship in 2019, Trubisky tallied 3,138 passing yards in over 14 games, recording back-to-back 3,000-yard passing seasons which was only accomplished twice before in franchise history. The Bears offense ranked in the top-15 in the NFL in completions (371). In 2018, Ragone guided Trubisky to a Pro Bowl. He became just the sixth quarterback in franchise history to throw for 3,000 yards in a season. His four games with a passer rating of at least 120.0 were the most in single-season in franchise history and his four games with at least 300 passing yards tied for the most in a single-season in the team's history. In 2017, Trubisky set Bears' rookie records with 2,193 passing yards and 196 completions. In the final five games of the regular season, he completed more than 67 percent of his passes, which was the fifth-best in the NFL during that span. The year prior in 2016, Ragone guided the Bears offense to set franchise marks in gross passing yards (4,139), net passing yards (3,969), and passing first downs (211) despite having three quarterback changes during the season.

Before his stint in Chicago, Ragone spent the 2015 campaign with the Washington Commanders as the offensive quality control coach. Working with Sean McVay, he helped Quarterback Kirk Cousins lead the NFL in completion percentage (69.8) and finish fifth in passer rating (101.6).

Ragone made his NFL coaching debut with the Tennessee Titans as the wide receivers coach from 2011-12 and then served as the quarterbacks coach in 2013. As the wide receivers coach, he guided receiver Nate Washington to a career-high 1,023 receiving yards. He became the Titans first 1,000-yard receiver since 2004.

He began his professional coaching career as a quarterbacks coach with the Hartford Colonials of the UFL in 2010.

Before becoming a coach, Ragone played in the NFL for three seasons as a quarterback for the Houston Texans from 2003-05. He also spent time with the Berlin Thunder in 2005 and received NFL Europe Offensive MVP honors after leading the league in passer rating (97.5) and setting a league record with 174 consecutive passes without an interception.

Ragone played collegiately at Louisville, where he was a three-time Conference USA Offensive Player of the Year and led the Cardinals to three consecutive bowl games.

Scheelhaase also spent two years coaching the running backs and wide receivers and took on run game coordinator responsibilities (2021-22). Before splitting duties for the program, he coached the receivers for two seasons (2019-20) and the running backs for one season (2018).

During his tenure at Iowa State, the Cyclones appeared in five bowl games and began the season in the AP Top 25 in four of six seasons with the program. The Cyclones also finished with a winning record in five of six seasons and the program produced three of the most productive offenses in school history since 2019.

The Cyclones offense improved from 20.2 points per game in 2022 to 26.2 points per game under his leadership as offensive coordinator. They led college football with 11 offensive touchdowns of 50 or more yards and many players were recognized for their outstanding play including redshirt freshman Quarterback Rocco Becht, who was named Big 12 Offensive Freshman of the Year and Second-Team Freshman All-American. Becht completed 231-of-367 passes for 3,120 yards and 23 touchdowns. He broke nearly every ISU freshman passing record and his touchdown mark was the most in a single season for a Cyclone quarterback since Brock Purdy (27) in 2019. Hutchinson was also named First-Team All-Big 12 for the third consecutive season and was named a Biletnikoff Award finalist. He led the Big 12 and broke his own single-season record with 107 catches, becoming the first Cyclone in school history to record 100 catches in a single season and the first player in Big 12 history to lead the conference in receptions three consecutive seasons. Hutchinson finished his collegiate career with the eighth-most catches in Big 12 history and the third-most receiving yards in ISU program history. He recorded a reception in every game he appeared in, which was the second-longest streak in school history, and tied for the seventh-longest active streak in college football. That season, Scheelhaase was named a finalist for FootballScoop's Wide Receiver Coach of the Year.

During the 2021 season, the Cyclones recorded the fourth-best scoring average (31.3) and fifth-best total offense (424.5 yards per game) in program history. That season, two-time consensus All-American Running Back Breece Hall led the conference and ranked sixth nationally in rushing yards (122.7 yards per game) and was second nationally in touchdowns (23). Smith has coached 14 seasons in the NFL and spent eight with the Los Angeles Chargers (2016-23) before joining the Rams. He has helped five players earn a combined 11 Pro Bowl selections during his time in the NFL coaching ranks.

In his first season with the Rams, Smith mentored a unit that finished fourth in hurries (198), tied for seventh in pressures (267), 11th in tackles for loss (56) and 14th in sacks (33.0). DE Kobie Turner built on a stellar rookie campaign and set single-season career-highs in tackles for loss (10) and passes defended (four). He also totaled 8.0 sacks and became just the second player in franchise history to record at least 10.0 sacks in his first 10 career games, joining Aaron Donald. Turner's 17.0 sacks are the second-most by a player in their first two seasons in franchise history, trailing Donald's 20.0.

Rookie DE Braden Fiske also tallied 8.5 sacks on the year, the most among rookies last season and the third-most in franchise history. His three multi-sack games last season were the most by a rookie in franchise history. Fiske also recorded the most hurries (40) and tied for the second-most pressures (51) among interior defensive linemen in their rookie season. Fiske and OLB Jared Verse became the first two rookies in franchise history to record at least 4.5 sacks, two forced fumbles, and two fumble recoveries in their rookie seasons. Both players were finalists for the Associated Press Defensive Rookie of the Year Award.

During his time with the Chargers, Smith coached the defensive line for the first six seasons (2016-21) before switching to outside linebackers (2022-23). Smith also served as the Chargers' interim head coach to close out the 2023 season. Smith coached Chargers OLB Khalil Mack and guided him to consecutive Pro Bowl seasons from 2022-23.

In 2023, Smith helped the Chargers defense finish 13th in yards per rush (4.1) and red zone efficiency (52.9%). During that span, Bosa was selected to three of his four Pro Bowl appearances and earned 2016 Defensive Player of the Year honors as well as First-Team All-Pro recognition from Sporting News in back-to-back seasons in 2019-20. Smith coached the defensive line in 2021 and helped his unit transition from a 4-3 base front to a 3-4 base front.

Over his first five seasons with the Chargers, Smith guided Bosa and Defensive End Melvin Ingram III to three Pro Bowls each. During his time under Smith's tutelage, Bosa set an NFL record with 19.0 sacks in his first 20 games. Smith was part of a staff that helped the defense finish in the top-10 in total defense three straight seasons (2018-20). In 2020, Smith coached four defensive linemen who recorded multiple sacks on the year, while Bosa ranked second in the AFC with 15 tackles for loss.

The year prior, Smith was part of a defensive staff that led the sixth-ranked total defense and the league's fifth-ranked pass defense. It was the fourth time in 20 years the Chargers had a top-five passing defense. In 2018, Smith helped the Chargers defense finish ninth in total defense, rushing defense, and passing defense. It was the first Chargers unit to finish in the top-10 in total defense since 2014 and the highest-ranked rushing defense since 2012.

Smith helped the duo of Bosa and Ingram become one of the most dynamic tandems in the NFL, combining for 23.0 sacks in 2017 and leading the league in pressures. Additionally, the defensive unit finished fifth in the NFL with 43.0 sacks on the season, with the defensive line recording 36.0. That group also helped the Chargers finish first in red zone defense and rank third in pass defense.

In his first season with the Chargers, Smith's defensive line contributed to the team's 10th-ranked rush defense. They held nine opponents to less than 100 yards on the ground and recorded the NFL's second-highest percentage of tackles for loss. Bosa captured NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year honors after leading all rookies with a team-high 10.5 sacks despite playing in just 12 games.

Prior to joining the Chargers, Smith spent two years coaching the defensive line for the Tennesee Titans (2014-15). He helped the Titans defense implement a 3-4 scheme and DL Jurrell Casey post a career-high 13 tackles for loss in 2014. In 2015, the Titans defense finished 12th in the league with 39.0 sacks and Casey was voted to his first Pro Bowl.

DREW WILKINS

PASS RUSH COORDINATOR

NFL EXP	16th Year	RAMS EXP	1st Year

Drew Wilkins joins Los Angeles in 2025 as a pass rush coordinator after spending last season coaching outside linebackers with the New England Patriots.

In his first season with the Patriots, Wilkins coached a unit that included Anfernee Jennings and Keion White. Jennings recorded career-highs in tackles (78) and sacks (2.5). White took a jump in his second professional season and tallied career-highs in tackles (56), sacks (5.0), and tackles for loss (seven). White also tied for the team lead in sacks and Jennings finished with the third-most.

Prior to joining the Patriots, Wilkins spent two seasons with the New York Giants as their outside linebackers coach. He coached a unit that included OLB Kayvon Thibodeaux, the fifth overall selection in the 2022 NFL Draft. Thibodeaux finished the 2023 season with a career-high 11.5 sacks which also led the team. His 11.5 sacks were tied for the 12th-most in the NFL. Jihad Ward, who had previously played for Wilkins in Baltimore, recorded a career-high five sacks in 2023.

In Wilkins' debut season with the Giants in 2022, Thibodeaux was selected to the All-Rookie Team by the PFWA and was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week for his dominant performance on Dec. 18 in Washington when he recorded a team-high 12 tackles (nine solo), three tackles for loss and a strip sack whose fumble he recovered and returned one yard for his first NFL touchdown. Thibodeaux also recorded a game-sealing strip-sack in the Giants' victory over the Baltimore Ravens. After missing the first two games due to injury, Thibodeaux improved as the season progressed and was named a Pro Bowl alternate.

Despite being limited to only seven regular season games, second-year pro Azeez Ojulari finished second on the team with 5.5 sacks and led the team with three forced fumbles. Ward recorded career-highs of 43 tackles and seven tackles for loss (tied for team-lead).

The 2022 Giants ranked fifth in the NFL in third-down defense as their opponents converted just 35.1% of their opportunities. They also ranked fifth in the NFL in red-zone defensive efficiency in 2022. The Giants allowed 45 fewer points and recorded seven more sacks than they had the previous season, a major reason their victory total increased by five games. They earned their first playoff berth since 2016 and won their first playoff game since 2011.

Prior to joining the Giants, Wilkins spent 12 seasons with the Baltimore Ravens. He spent the last 10 working with Michigan defensive coordinator Don 'Wink' Martindale, including the last four coaching the outside linebackers. His tenure included a Ravens victory in Super Bowl XLVII.

In 2021, the Ravens' defense led the NFL against the run and allowed just 84.5 yards a game. Baltimore was third in the league in third-down defense, a conversion percentage of just 34.8 percent (70 of 201). Wilkins mentored rookie outside linebacker Odafe Oweh, who was selected to the All-Rookie Team by the PFWA. Oweh tallied the second-most pressures (49), third-most hurries (34), fourth-most sacks (5.0), and tied for the eighth-most tackles for loss (five) among rookies.

The previous season, the Ravens allowed the NFL's second-fewest points per game (18.9), produced the No. 2 third-down defense (34.0%), and registered an NFL-high 25 forced fumbles. The 2019 Ravens produced a franchise-best 14-2 record and won a second straight AFC North title. Baltimore allowed the third-fewest points (17.6) and fourth-fewest net yards (300.6) per game in the NFL.

OLB Matthew Judon was selected to two Pro Bowls (2019, 2020) during his tenure with Wilkins in Baltimore. Wilkins also coached OLB Terrell Suggs, who registered 139.0 career sacks (eighth in NFL history) and was selected to seven Pro Bowls.

Wilkins debuted as Baltimore's outside linebackers coach in 2018, when the Ravens had the league's top-ranked defense where they allowed 292.9 yards per game. Baltimore also held teams to the second-fewest points per game (17.9). OLB Za'Darius Smith also recorded then career-highs in sacks (8.5), tackles for loss (10), total tackles (45), and passes defended (two) while starting just eight games. Smith's 25 quarterback hits in 2018 are the second-highest single-season total of his career.

In 2017, Wilkins worked with a defensive unit that led the league in both takeaways (34) and interceptions (22). Suggs was named to his seventh Pro Bowl this season after recording 11.0 sacks, his highest total since 2014. He also forced four fumbles, the third-highest single-season total of his career.

During Wilkins' three seasons (2014-16) as a defensive assistant, he was responsible for the weekly production of the defensive playbook, scouting reports, film breakdown, and assisting with the development of the defensive line in practice. In his third and final season as an analyst, the team tied for the most interceptions (18), totaled the fifth-most takeaways (28), and allowed the fifth-fewest rushing yards (1,430) In 2015, the Ravens defense allowed the eighth-fewest yards (5,398), the 12th-fewest rushing yards (1,661) and the 13th-most tackles for loss (83). GREG WILLIAMS

INSIDE LINEBACKERS

NFL EXP	17th Year	RAMS EXP	2nd Year

Greg Williams enters his second season with the Los Angeles Rams as the inside linebackers coach. He joined the Rams coaching staff after spending a season with the Green Bay Packers as their defensive pass game coordinator.

During his first season with the Rams in 2024, Williams led an inside linebacker core that recorded the 12th-most tackles (255), tied for the ninth-most pass breakups (six), 11th-most interceptions (one) and had the 16th-fewest missed tackles (30). Williams helped former ILB Christian Rozeboom have a career-year after tallying a single-season career-high in tackles (135), tackles for loss (five) and pass breakups (three). His 135 combined tackles are the fifth-most by a player in a single-season in franchise history. From Weeks 9-17, Rozeboom ranked fourth in tackles (80) and tied for eighth in solo tackles (44). He recorded at least eight tackles in 11 games last season, tied for the third-most such games in the NFL in 2024.

Additionally, rookie ILB Omar Speights burst onto the NFL scene in Week 8 and finished the season leading all rookies in tackles from that point on with 66. Speights tied for the ninth-most tackles by a rookie in franchise history despite starting just 10 games. According to Pro Football Focus, Speights finished the season with the best run defense grade (77.6), best tackling grade (82.3) and the fourth-best defensive grade (69.4) among rookie linebackers. His 94.1 PFF grade in Week 13 was the highest grade among all defenders and he was named to the PFF Defensive Team of the Week.

During his time in Green Bay, Williams helped the Packers defense finish ninth in opponent pass yards per game (206.8), opponent passing yards allowed (3,515) and opponents percent of passing attempts resulting in sacks (8.6%). The Packers secondary also finished eighth in opponent completions allowed (342) and tied for 10th in opponent passing touchdowns allowed (21).

Before his season in Green Bay, Williams spent four seasons with the Arizona Cardinals as their cornerbacks coach from 2019-22. In his final season with the Cardinals, he guided a cornerback group that finished second in the league in yards allowed per completion (10.10), the best single-season mark for the team since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger. Arizona also allowed only 40 completions of 20 or more yards, which tied for third-best in the NFL.

In 2021, Williams helped the Cardinals defense finish seventh in takeaways (27) and eighth in points allowed (349). The unit also finished seventh in opponent pass yards allowed per game (214.4) and tied for 11th in opponent completions allowed (367). CB Byron Murphy finished the season tied for 12th in the NFL in interceptions (four).

Williams helped the Cardinals defense finish 10th in the NFL in opponent pass yards per game (226.4) and passing yards allowed (3,623). The unit also ranked 14th in opponent passing touchdowns allowed (26). Cornerbacks Patrick Peterson and Dre Kirkpatrick combined for six interceptions (three each) on the season. Murphy also registered 2.0 sacks and two fumble recoveries and was one of only two cornerbacks to register multiple sacks and fumble recoveries that season. He became the first Cardinals cornerback to accomplish that feat in a season. In 2019 under Williams' guidance, Murphy started all 16 games as a rookie and finished third among rookies in passes defensed (10).

Prior to his stint in Arizona, Williams spent the 2018 campaign with the Denver Broncos coaching the defensive backs. With Williams help, the Broncos defense tied for fifth in the NFL with 17 interceptions and CB Chris Harris Jr. was selected to the Pro Bowl after posting a team-best three interceptions along with a sack. Additionally, Safety Justin Simmons finished second on the team with 97 tackles (71 solo). The Broncos held opponents to 27 points or less in 14 games that season, which tied for the most in the NFL.

From 2016-17, Williams coached defensive backs for the Indianapolis Colts, where he mentored S Malik Hooker who finished third among NFL rookies with three interceptions despite playing in just seven games in 2017. That season, DB Rashaan Melvin recorded 10 pass breakups, which was tied for 22nd-most in the NFL. The Colts defense also finished fifth in opponent completions allowed (324) that season.

In 2016, Williams helped DB Vontae Davis finish tied for 17th in the league in pass breakups (11). DB Darius Butler also ranked tied for eighth in interceptions (three) that season.

Williams also served as the assistant secondary coach for the Chargers from 2013-15 where he worked with S Eric Weddle, who was selected to the Pro Bowl in 2013 and 2014. The Chargers defensive unit finished the 2014 season ranked fourth in the league in opponent passing yards per game (214.2) and ninth in total defense.

Before working with the Chargers' secondary, Williams spent four seasons as their assistant linebackers coach from 2009-12. In 2012, he was part of a staff that helped the Chargers finish ninth in total defense allowing 326.4 yards per game and sixth in rushing defense allowing 96.4 rush yards per game. The defense registered 38.0 sacks on the year, which tied for 11th in the NFL, and 21.0 of the sacks came from linebackers which included Shaun Phillips who had a team-high 9.5 on the year.

In 2011, Williams mentored LB Antwan Barnes, who posted a career-high 11.0 sacks despite starting just five games that season. The year prior in 2010, the Chargers were first in the NFL in total defense allowing 271.6 yards per game and passing defense allowing 177.7 passing yards per game. They were also tied for second in sacks (47.0) and Phillips notched a team-high 11.0 sacks on the way to earning his first Pro Bowl selection. In 2009, Phillips led the NFL with a career-best seven forced fumbles and LB Stephen Cooper added a career-high three forced fumbles.

Williams spent time coaching at the collegiate level before making the leap to the NFL ranks. In 2008, he worked as a graduate assistant at the University of Pittsburgh after serving as the defensive backs coach and recruiting coordinator at Arkansas Tech from 2006-07.

He also served as an assistant coach at College of DuPage from 2004-05 after starting his coaching career as an intern at Arizona State in 2003.

Williams had a successful playing career before he began coaching. He played wide receiver and safety at the University of North Carolina from 1994-97 before entering the NFL as an undrafted free agent with the Chicago Bears in 1998. He spent time in training camp with the Bears and the New York Giants and also played two seasons with the Amsterdam Admirals of NFL Europe from 1999-2000. He earned All-Europe recognition in 1999 after leading the league with six interceptions. Williams also played one season with the San Francisco Demons of the XFL in 2001 and five seasons in the Arena Football League with the Indiana Firebirds from 2001-03 and the Chicago Rush from 2004-05.

Williams is a native of Bolingbrook, Illinois and has two sons, Junior and Dominic.

ERIC YARBER

WIDE RECEIVERS

NFL EXP	14th Year	RAMS EXP	9th Year

Los Angeles native Eric Yarber is in his ninth season with the Rams serving as the team's wide receivers coach.

In 2024, the receiving corps had the sixth-fewest drops (15), 10th-most receiving yards (4,096) and 13th-most receptions (367) in the NFL. The unit also ranked 12th in yards per reception (11.2) and 14th in yards after the catch (1,958). Despite missing five games last season, WR Puka Nacua recorded 79 receptions for 990 yards and three touchdown catches. He became the second player in NFL history to record at least 150 receptions, 2,000 receiving yards and nine receiving touchdowns in his first 25 career games, joining Odell Beckham Jr.

Additionally under Yarber's guidance, former WR Cooper Kupp became the first player in franchise history, and the 16th player in NFL history, to record more than 150 receptions, more than 7,500 receiving yards and more than 50 touchdown receptions in a player's first 100 career games. Kupp also tallied the most receptions by a player in their first 100 career games with 625 and passed Elroy Hirsch for the most receiving touchdowns in franchise history with 57. Kupp's 629 career receptions are the third-most in franchise history.

Yarber also helped WR Tutu Atwell reach career-highs in receptions (42) and receiving yards (562) in 2024 while former WR Demarcus Robinson notched career-bests in receiving yards (505) and receiving touchdowns (seven). In 2023, Nacua set the NFL rookie record for most receptions (105) and receiving yards (1,486) in a single season. He also set the NFL rookie record for most receiving yards in a playoff game, set a franchise record for most receiving yards in a Wild Card game (181), and was a finalist for the NFL's Offensive Rookie of the Year Award. Kupp became the franchise leader in postseason receptions (50).

The year prior in 2022, Yarber helped Kupp sustain the success from his historic 2021 triple crown-winning campaign. Before he was sidelined with an injury in Week 10, Kupp was on his way to another stellar season ranking second in the NFL in receptions (72), third in yards after catch (422) and fifth in receiving first downs (42), receiving touchdowns (six), and receiving yards (812). Yarber also played an instrumental role in the development of former WR Van Jefferson. For a three-year stretch from 2020-22, Jefferson's 14.96 yards per reception ranked tied for seventh in the NFL amongst receivers.

In 2021 with the guidance of Yarber, Kupp became the fourth player in NFL history to win the receiving Triple Crown by leading the NFL in receptions, receiving yards, and receiving TDs. He led the second place receivers in all three categories by some of the widest margins of any receiving Triple Crown winner. Kupp's season was capped off by becoming the Super Bowl LVI MVP, the 2021 NFL Offensive Player of the Year and was voted to his first Pro Bowl. Kupp also was voted First-Team All-Pro. Jefferson had a breakout 2021 season, starting all 17 games and hauling in 50 catches for 802 yards and six touchdowns. With Yarber's leadership, mid-season acquisition Odell Beckham Jr. was able to quickly acclimate to the Rams' offensive system and play a key role in the offensive production during the Rams' Super Bowl run.

In 2020, Kupp and former WR Robert Woods led the Rams pass catchers, finishing with 974 and 936 receiving yards, respectively. Woods added a team-high six receiving touchdowns, 155 rush yards and two rushing touchdowns.

The 2019 campaign saw a breakout year from Kupp, who returned from a season-ending injury during the 2018 season. Kupp recorded his first 1,000-yard season of his career with 1,061 receiving yards and led the team in receptions (94). Kupp finished with a career-high 220 yards on seven receptions against the Bengals in the Rams' International Series win in Week 8. His 220 yards were the most receiving yards in an international game in NFL history. Woods also ended the season with over 1,000 receiving yards, giving L.A. consecutive seasons with multiple receivers totaling over 1,000 receiving yards since a run of four-straight seasons from 1999-2002.With the tutelage of Yarber, the Rams quickly acclimated 2018 offseason acquisition Brandin Cooks into the league's No. 3 scoring offense. Cooks (1,204) and fellow wideout Robert Woods (1,219) posted career-highs in receiving yards while becoming the first Rams receiving duo to surpass 1,000 yards each since Torry Holt and Isaac Bruce in 2006.

During the 2017 season, the newly-acquired Woods recorded a then personal-best 781 yards receiving, which ranked third amongst the 2017 free agent wide receiver group. Kupp finished with a team-best 869 yards receiving, the second-most amongst all rookies and was named to the Pro Football Writers Association (PFWA) All-Rookie team. Prior to joining the Rams in 2017, Yarber spent the previous five seasons with the UCLA Bruins in the same capacity. Yarber joined the Bruins staff as a receivers coach in 2012. During his tenure, seven of Yarber's receivers were selected in the NFL Draft, including three in the 2016 NFL Draft.

The Bruins' pass offense ranked 18th in the nation (295.6 yards per game) in 2016. That season saw the emergence of receivers Darren Andrews, Jordan Lasley and Kenneth Walker. Andrews ranked 10th in the Pac-12 in receptions per game and led the team with 55 catches. Lasley came on strong over the course of the season and recorded 41 receptions and led the team with six touchdowns. Walker notched 22 catches and four touchdowns.

Jordan Payton was invited to the Senior Bowl and was selected by the Cleveland Browns in the 2016 NFL Draft. Payton became UCLA's all-time receptions leader during the 2015 campaign and the first Bruin to ever catch 200 career passes. He also moved up to third on the all-time receiving yards list and ranked among the nation's top 25 in receiving yards (1,106) and receiving yards per game (85.1). Thomas Duarte, a Miami Dolphins draft selection, earned second-team all-conference honors after registering 10 touchdown catches, which ranked fourth on the all-time school single-season list and was 17th in the NCAA. Devin Fuller, drafted by the Atlanta Falcons, moved up to the top six in career receptions.

In year two at UCLA, Yarber helped senior Shaq Evans, a fourth-round selection of the New York Jets in the 2014 NFL Draft, finish his career ranked tied for 10th on the school's all-time receptions list. Evans earned an invite to the Senior Bowl and the NFL Combine after catching nine touchdowns in 2013, tied for ninth on the all-time school list.

In 2011, Yarber worked as Tampa Bay's wide receivers coach for a promising young unit that included the development of second-round pick Arrelious Benn and fourth-round pick Mike Williams. Williams turned in one of the top seasons by a receiver in Buccaneers history, recording 65 receptions for 964 yards and 11 touchdowns. He led all rookie receivers in each of these categories, earning The Sporting News and PFW/PFWA All-Rookie Team selection while finishing second in voting for the Associated Press Offensive Rookie of the Year Award. Yarber also oversaw the emergence of Benn, who was becoming an important part of the Tampa Bay offense prior to a season-ending knee injury in Week 13.

Yarber joined Tampa Bay after spending three seasons (2007-09) at the collegiate level as the wide receivers coach at Arizona State. While at ASU in 2009, Yarber coached two standout wide receivers in Kyle Williams and Chris McGaha. Williams finished the 2009 campaign with 815 receiving yards on 57 catches and eight touchdowns before being invited to the Senior Bowl and becoming a sixth-round draft pick of the San Francisco 49ers in the 2010 NFL Draft.

McGaha racked up 56 catches for 673 yards and four touchdowns on his way to earn second-team All-Pac 10 honors.

Prior to his work with the Sun Devils, Yarber coached wide receivers for two seasons (2005-06) under Tyrone Willingham at the University of Washington. With Yarber's assistance, two receivers, Sonny Shackleford and Anthony Russo, turned in strong performances, with Russo finishing third in the Pac-10 Conference with a 17.3 yards-per-catch average and Shackleford finishing fourth in touchdown catches (seven) and eighth in receptions (50) and receiving yards (666).

During the 2003-04 seasons, Yarber coached the San Francisco 49ers' wide receivers, and in his first year guided Pro Bowler Terrell Owens to a 1,000-yard season. During this time, Yarber was also instrumental in the development of wide receivers Cedrick Wilson and Brandon Lloyd, as the duo ranked first and second among 49ers' receivers in yards after the catch with a 13.6 and 13.1 average (min. 10 receptions) respectively in 2004.

From 1999-2002, Yarber coached at Oregon State, where he worked with the running backs for one season (1999) before switching to wide receivers (2000-2002). He coached Ken Simonton, who was inducted into the Oregon State Hall of Fame after setting program records that still stand today. Simonton posted records in career rushing yards (5,044), attempts (1.041); touchdowns (59) and 100-yard games (26). Simonton was the first Beaver to gain 1,000 or more yards in three seasons. His work with receivers Chad Johnson and T.J. Houshmandzadeh led to the two being selected in the second and seventh rounds, respectively, by the Cincinnati Bengals in the 2001 NFL Draft. Johnson also earned a Senior Bowl invitation.

Yarber coached his first year in the NFL in 1998, working as an offensive assistant/assistant running backs coach with the Seattle Seahawks, after spending the 1997 season coaching receivers at UNLV. His coaching career began in 1996 when he took a secondary coaching position at his alma mater, Idaho.

Yarber was selected by Washington as a 12th-round pick in the 1986 NFL Draft and spent three seasons as a wide receiver and punt returner. He was part of the Washington squad that defeated the Denver Broncos to win Super Bowl XXII in 1988, leading that team with 37 punt returns. At Idaho, Yarber was a Kodak All-American and the Big Sky Conference's Most Valuable Player during his senior year, catching 75 passes for 1,103 yards. He attended Crenshaw High School in Los Angeles. Yarber earned a Bachelor's in general studies from the University of Idaho in 1995. He is married to Estevanica and has one son, Kameryon.

GM LES SNEAD

GENERAL MANAGER

NFL EXP	31st Year	RAMS EXP	14th Year

Les Snead is entering his 14th season as General Manager of the Los Angeles Rams and was hired for the position in February of 2012. In his role as General Manager, Snead partners with Head Coach Sean McVay to direct all personnel decisions for the club. In addition, Snead coordinates all aspects of the club's football operations with the Head Coach and joins forces with team president Kevin Demoff and Vice President of Football & Business Administration, Tony Pastoors, to direct the team's business ventures.

Snead's tenure has been marked by strategic, aggressive moves that have created a strong core nucleus of talent and depth throughout the roster. Snead set his philosophy in motion just days after his hiring and has continued it through the 2025 NFL Draft.

After guiding the Rams through an organizational rebuild and transition back home to Los Angeles, Snead and the Rams have continued to thrive in the contention phase of NFL roster building and have created a team-building philosophy and model that other clubs have emulated. Under Snead's guidance, the Rams have recorded seven winning seasons, reaching the postseason six of the last eight seasons with two Super Bowl appearances and one world championship. Snead is also the winningest General Manager in franchise history with a combined 119 wins across the regular season and playoffs in his tenure.

The Rams' recent Super Bowl LVI victory was made possible due to a series of trades executed by Snead for established and proven players. In January of 2021, Snead traded for veteran QB Matthew Stafford. Ahead of the team's final preseason game, Snead acquired former RB Sony Michel from the Patriots. Additionally, following a strong start to the season, Snead made more moves to complete an already talented roster, acquiring star outside linebacker Von Miller and signing former WR Odell Beckham Jr. Each addition proved to be paramount to the Rams' championship run.

Since becoming General Manager, Snead has orchestrated 87 trades, which ranks in the top half of the league since 2012. The Rams have selected 112 players in the NFL Draft under Snead with seven receiving All-Pro honors. During Snead's tenure, the Rams have also acquired All-Pro players such as WR Davante Adams, DB Jalen Ramsey, LB Bobby Wagner and OL Andrew Whitworth.

During the 2025 NFL Draft, Snead traded the Rams first round pick and 2025 third round pick to the Atlanta Falcons in exchange for a 2026 first round pick, a 2025 second round pick and a 2025 seventh round pick. With the team's first selection, Snead drafted TE Terrance Ferguson (46th overall) out of Oregon. In the third round, Snead selected OLB Josaiah Stewart (90th overall) out of Michigan and then RB Jarquez Hunter out of Auburn in the fourth round (117th overall). With the team's two fifth round selections, Snead picked DT Ty Hamilton (148th overall) out of Ohio State and LB Chris "Pooh" Paul Jr. (172nd overall) out of Ole Miss. Snead drafted WR Konata Mumpfield (242nd overall) out of Pitt with the Rams final selection.

Snead selected 10 players in the 2024 NFL Draft. With the team's first round one pick since 2016, he selected OLB Jared Verse (19th overall) out of Florida State. In the next round, Snead traded up to selected Verse's college teammate in DL Braden Fiske with the 39th overall pick. The Rams selected RB Blake Corum (83rd overall) out of Michigan and DB Kam Kinchens (99th overall) out of Miami in the third round. In the fifth round, Snead drafted OLB Brennan Jackson (154th overall) out of Washington State. With four selections in the sixth round, he selected DL Tyler Davis (196th overall) out of Clemson, K Joshua Karty (209th overall) out of Stanford, WR Jordan Whittington (213th overall) out of Texas, and OL Beaux Limmer (217th overall) out of Arkansas. Snead selected OL KT Leveston (254th overall) out of Kansas State with his final pick.

Verse became the second Snead draft pick to win AP Defensive Rookie of the Year, joining future Hall of Famer Aaron Donald. He led all rookies in pressures, hurries and quarterback hits in 2024. Verse also tied for second in tackles for loss. Fiske was a runner up for the Defensive Rookie of the Year Award and led the team with 8.5 sacks, the third-most in a season by a rookie in franchise history. He recorded the most hurries and tied for the second-most pressures among interior defensive linemen during his rookie season. Limmer started 14 games at center as a rookie and Whittington made contributions on offense and special teams. Additionally during the 2024 offseason, Snead bolstered the roster through free agency with signings of S Kam Curl and backup QB Jimmy Garoppolo. Snead also brought back Super Bowl LVI Champion DB Darious Williams for a second stint with the team.

With the Rams first pick in the 2023 NFL Draft, Snead selected OL Steve Avila out of TCU in the second round (36th overall). He then selected OLB Byron Young out of Tennessee (77th overall) and DE Kobie Turner out of Wake Forest (89th overall) in the third round. In the fourth round, Snead selected QB Stetson Bennett out of Georgia (128th overall). With four picks in the fifth round, Snead selected OLB Nick Hampton out of Appalachian State (161st overall), OL Warren McClendon out of Georgia (174th overall), TE Davis Allen out of Clemson (175th overall) and WR Puka Nacua out of BYU (177th overall). Snead spent three sixth-round picks on CB Tre Tomlinson (182nd overall), OLB Ochaun Mathis out of Nebraska (189th overall) and RB Zach Evans out of Ole Miss (215th overall). Snead made three seventh-round selections in P Ethan Evans out of Wingate (223rd overall), S Jason Taylor II out of Oklahoma State (234th overall) and DE Desjuan Johnson out of Toledo (259th overall).

Avila played the most snaps for a Rams offensive lineman since 2021 and the most snaps by a Rams rookie since Cooper Kupp in 2017. Among rookie offensive lineman in 2023, Avila ranked second in most offensive snaps played and he was the only Rams player to play every offensive snap that season. Young's 8.0 sacks his rookie season were the second-most sacks by a rookie in franchise history at the time. He also generated the second-most pressures among all rookie defenders in 2023 and played the most snaps by any rookie edge defender in the Next Gen Stats Era (since 2016).

Turner and Nacua burst onto the NFL scene during their rookie campaigns. Turner became only the second player in franchise history to record at least 10.0 sacks in his first 19 career games, joining Aaron Donald. He also tied Donald for the most sacks by a rookie in franchise history with 9.0. Nacua became a national sensation. Nacua recorded the most receptions and receiving yards by a rookie in a single season in NFL history. He became just the second rookie in NFL history to have at least 1,000 reciving yards after being drafted outside the top 100. He finished his second season with the seventh-most receptions in a player's first two seasons and passed Justin Jefferson for the second-most receiving yards through a player's first 25 career games. Nacua earned Pro Bowl and Second-Team All-Pro honors in 2023.

In the 2022 NFL Draft, the Rams were without a first-round draft pick for the fifth-straight season after trading early picks to acquire proven talent and reward the team's core-nucleus with long-term contracts. The Rams were busy on Days 2 and 3 with eight selections in Rounds 3-7. Snead's first selection in Round 3 was Wisconsin G Logan Bruss to help solidify a strong position group that already features two Wisconsin Badgers in T Rob Havenstein and former G David Edwards. With the team's seven picks on Day 3, Snead added depth to the secondary by selecting DBs Cobie Durant (Round 4) and Derion Kendrick (Round 6), as well as Safeties Quentin Lake (Round 6) and Russ Yeast (Round 7). Snead also also added to the offensive backfield with the selection of Second-Team All-Pro RB Kyren Williams (Round 5).

With a total of nine picks in the 2021 Draft, Snead and his staff selected four offensive players and five players to bolster the defense. On Day 2 with the 57th overall pick (Round 2), Snead selected WR TuTu Atwell out of Louisville and LB Ernest Jones with the 103rd overall pick (Round 3). The following day, the Rams picked DL Bobby Brown (Round 4) out of Texas A&M.

Leading up to the 2020 NFL season, Snead led negotiations in the signing of free agent and former Rams players and Super Bowl Champions: OLB Leonard Floyd, DL A'Shawn Robinson, and Pro Bowl K Matt Gay.

Snead added offensive support with the Rams' first two picks in the second round of the 2020 NFL Draft by selecting former RB Cam Akers (52nd overall) out of Florida State and former WR Van Jefferson (57th overall) out of Florida. With one of the team's later picks, Snead selected DB Jordan Fuller (Round 6) out of Ohio State which helped improve a defense that eventually became the league's number one ranked unit during the regular season.

The Rams made six trades in the 2019 NFL Draft, including a trade out of the first round to acquire additional draft capital. L.A. used its first pick of the Draft to select former DB Taylor Rapp out of Washington in the second round (No. 61 overall). The 2019 Draft class also featured late round picks such as former DT Greg Gaines (Round 4), former OL David Edwards (Round 5) and former DB Nick Scott (Round 7), who played significant and meaningful snaps during their time with the Rams.

Snead took a different approach to the 2018 offseason compared to previous years, making trades to acquire players and bolster draft capital. From the start of the new league year on March 14 through the completion of the 2018 NFL Draft, Snead and his staff executed 11 trades that resulted in the acquisition of players such as former CBs Marcus Peters and Aqib Talib, and former WR Brandin Cooks. Additionally, the Rams landed coveted free agent DT Ndamukong Suh. Prior to the start of the 2018 season, L.A. rewarded two former first-round picks in DT Aaron Donald and RB Todd Gurley II with long-term contracts, making both Donald and Gurley the highest paid players at their positions following a 2017 season when they won Associated Press Defensive and Offensive Player of the year accolades, respectively.

In the 2018 Draft, Snead selected 11 players, despite not having a pick in the first two rounds. L.A. used its first two picks on offensive linemen picking T Joseph Noteboom (No. 89 overall) out of TCU and former C Brian Allen (No. 111 overall) from Michigan State. The Rams used seven of the remaining nine selections to bolster depth along the defensive front. All 11 picks were on the roster entering the 2019 offseason program.

From 2012-2017, Snead made 52 selections in the Draft, with five earning All-Pro honors, the most in the league during that timeframe. Snead's draft choices included back-to-back Associated Press Rookie of the Year honorees in Donald (2014 Defensive Rookie of the Year) and Gurley (2015 Offensive Rookie of the Year). Both players went on the earn AP Offensive and Defensive Player of the Year honors following the 2017 season.

The Rams have reaped early dividends from many of Snead's initial selections, particularly in the early rounds. Of the 13 players Snead selected in the first or second round of his first four drafts, seven were named to the Pro Football Writers of America All-Rookie Team following their first season. In total, 10 players drafted by Snead have made an All-Rookie Team.

Despite not owning a first-round selection, Snead was active in free agency during the 2017 offseason to supplement the young talent accumulated through the draft on the Rams roster. The first moves made by Snead with Head Coach Sean McVay were the signings of Pro Bowl T

Andrew Whitworth and WR Robert Woods.

In the 2017 NFL Draft, Snead maneuvered trades to select TE Gerald Everett (No. 44 overall) out of the University of South Alabama. The Rams used three of their first four selections on pass catchers, selecting WR Cooper Kupp (No. 69 overall) and former WR Josh Reynolds (No. 117 overall), in addition to DB John Johnson III, who is in his third stint with the team, with the second of two third round selections (No. 91 overall). As a group, the 2017 draft class started 26 games as rookies, led by Johnson who started 11 games at safety. The 2017 rookie class was highlighted by Kupp being named to the PFWA All-Rookie Team. Kupp went on to eventually capture the receiving triple crown, becoming the first player since 2005 to lead the NFL in receptions, receiving yards and receiving touchdowns in 2021. Kupp also won the NFL's Offensive Player of the Year Award and become Super Bowl LVI MVP that same season.

The 2016 season kicked off with a blockbuster pre-draft trade from No. 15 overall to No. 1 overall with the Tennessee Titans to select Cal QB Jared Goff. The trade sent the Titans the Rams' first-round draft pick (No. 15), two second-round draft picks (No. 43, No. 45), and a third-round draft pick (No. 76) in 2016. Tennessee also obtained Los Angeles' first-round and third-round picks in the 2017 NFL Draft. In addition to receiving the No. 1 overall pick, Los Angeles received the Titans' fourth-round (No. 113) and sixth-round (No. 177) selections in 2016.

The Rams' 2016 Training Camp roster was the youngest roster in the NFL. Since the Snead administration has been in place, the Rams boasted the youngest roster during the 2012, 2014 and 2016 seasons. The Rams were the second-youngest team in 2015.

In 2015, Snead led a draft that focused on revamping the run game. The process began by selecting Gurley No. 10 overall and then selecting four offensive linemen with the team's next six selections, highlighted by Wisconsin T Rob Havenstein (No. 57 overall). Havenstein has gone on to start all 130 regular season games played and 11 postseason contests with the organization. The Rams boasted the third youngest offensive line in the NFL during the 2015 season, which showcased Havenstein who did not allow a sack as a rookie.

Gurley became just the third Rams rookie running back to eclipse the 1,000-yard rushing mark since Hall of Famers Eric Dickerson (1983) and Jerome Bettis (1993). Gurley led all rookies in rushing and finished third among all NFL runners in rushing yards (1,106). His season culminated with a Pro Bowl berth, Pro Football Writers of America Rookie of the Year Award and NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year , marking the second-consecutive year that a Rams rookie took home NFL rookie honors (Donald –DPOY 2015). Gurley had his best season as a pro in 2018, leading the league with 2,093 scrimmage yards and 19 total touchdowns to earn Associated Press Offensive Player of the Year accolades.

Snead and his staff made a total of 11 selections in the 2014 draft. With their first-round pick, they selected Donald, a Pittsburgh All-American who earned Pro Bowl honors and was named NFL Defensive Rookie of the year after posting 9.0 sacks, the second most by any NFL defensive tackle that season. Donald bested his rookie performance in year two and garnered 11.0 sacks, which tied for most in the league at his position on his way to his second-consecutive Pro Bowl nod and went on to win Associated Press Defensive Player of the Year honors in 2018. After becoming the highest paid defensive tackle in NFL history, Donald thanked Snead and the Rams with a franchise-best 20.5 sacks, the most by an interior defensive lineman in league history, earning his second-consecutive AP Defensive Player of the Year honors. Since Donald was drafted in 2014, he's been selected to the Pro Bowl every season and has received First-Team All-Pro Honors seven of the eight years in the NFL.

Snead and his staff have had plenty of success with undrafted free agent signings over the last eight years. Of the 53 players on the team's final 2016 roster, 15 joined the Rams as undrafted rookie free agents under Snead's watch. That group included Pro Bowl P Johnny Hekker, LS Jake McQuaide and special teams standout LB Cory Littleton, who blocked two kicks during the 2017 season. Other undrafted free agent signings that have contributed to the Rams success have been G Coleman Shelton, QB John Wolford and T Alaric Jackson.

Snead inherited a roster that had endured one of the most difficult stretches in league history in St. Louis from 2007 to 2011. The team posted a 15-65 record (.188 winning percentage), the worst ever by an NFL team during any five-year period. The Rams' 15 wins during that stretch were the fewest in the league, and Detroit, which had the second-lowest win total during the same time frame, recorded 10 more wins than the Rams with 25. From 2012-15, the Rams logged 27 wins to increase their winning percentage to .422.

In the spring of 2012, Snead directed a trade that sent the second overall pick in the 2012 draft to Washington in exchange for the sixth and 39th picks that year, along with Washington's first round picks in both 2013 and 2014. Snead made two additional trades in April of 2012 that allowed the Rams to make four of the first 50 selections in the 2012 draft. The surplus of picks allowed the Rams to strategically maneuver in the 2013 Draft as well. With the Rams sitting at No. 16, Snead surmised that he wouldn't be able to stand pat and land highly-coveted WR/PR Tavon Austin, so he worked out a deal with the Buffalo Bills. The Rams moved up to Buffalo's eighth spot and selected the speedy playmaker from West Virginia. Austin scored six touchdowns as a rookie – four receiving, one rushing and one on a 98-yard punt return. In the Rams' win at Indianapolis in 2013, Austin became one of three rookies in NFL history to score three touchdowns of 50 yards or more, joining Hall of Famer Gale Sayers and Randy Moss.

With the 22nd pick, which the Rams owned as part of the Washington trade, Snead made another deal that helped the club recoup a significant portion of what he sent to Buffalo. The Rams swapped places with the Atlanta Falcons, and with the 30th selection, Snead was able to secure the player he targeted at No. 22 - Georgia LB Alec Ogletree. As a rookie, Ogletree led the Rams with 155 tackles and added 1.5 sacks, six forced fumbles and an interception.

Prior to joining the Rams, Snead spent 13 seasons with the Atlanta Falcons serving as the club's director of player personnel from 2009-11, a pro scout, and the team's director of pro personnel. During his time in Atlanta, Snead was part of a personnel staff that signed, traded for, or drafted 16 players that earned Pro Bowl honors.

Snead helped construct a roster that was one of the NFL's best over a four-year span. From 2008-11, the Falcons had four consecutive winning seasons winning 43 games, the fifth-most wins in the NFL over that time period. The Falcons played in one Super Bowl and two NFC Championship games during Snead's time with the club.

Snead joined the Falcons after three seasons (1995-97) in the pro scouting department of the Jacksonville Jaguars. He was hired by the Jaguars prior to the franchise's first season and helped put together a team that garnered an AFC Championship berth in just its second year of existence. Jacksonville won its first division title in Snead's final year with the team.

Snead played tight end for Auburn from 1992-93 and was part of the Tigers' perfect 11-0 team in 1993. He also earned Southeast Region Academic All-American honors during his college career.

The Eufaula, Ala. native holds a Bachelor of Science degree in psychology and planned to attend medical school until he was offered a graduate assistant coaching position at his alma mater. He earned a Master of Education degree at Auburn while working as a graduate assistant and he also served as an administrative assistant of football operations in 1995 at Auburn.

In addition to his duties with the Rams, Snead also sits on a pair of advisory boards, including GAMEBREAKER, a soft shell headgear company powered by D3O Impact Technology to help alleviate some of the abrasions that come with playing any contact or non-contact sport. Snead also serves as a board member on the Curry School Foundation Board at UVA, a dynamic group of professionals who have committed themselves as fundraisers and ambassadors of the school, promoting Curry's work among their networks of colleagues and acquaintances.

Snead is married to Kara Henderson Snead, a former sports media personality who has worked for NFL Network co-hosting NFL Total Access and providing in-depth interviews, pregame and postgame reports and sideline reports for a variety of shows across the network including NFL Total Access, Around the League, NFL GameDay Morning and NFL GameDay Final. Kara graduated cum laude from Duke University. She began her career as a production assistant at ESPN and later ABC News. Her on-air career began at NESN in 1998 as the co-host of NESN's "Front Row". Young began his scouting career as a Midwest scout for the Reese's Senior Bowl in 2019, where he was responsible for scouting portions of the midlands and southeast. He became the first NFL player to scout for the Senior Bowl as a regional scout covering the Midland areas.

Young is a Scouting Academy alumnus and served as a football operations assistant and recruiting analyst at Lindenwood University for two seasons from 2017-19.

Training Camp

The Rams hosted Training Camp at Loyola Marymount University for the second consecutive year in 2025. It was the 55th training camp in Southern California for the franchise. The 2020 season marked the first time the Rams held training camp at their team facility (on the campus of California Lutheran University), after the NFL mandated its teams conduct training camp from their own facilities in 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Over the course of Rams' history, the team has held training camp at several locations in the Southern California area, including: Compton College (1946), Loyola University (1947-48), University of Redlands (1949-60), Chapman College (1961-66), California State-Fullerton (1976-71, 1973-90, '93), California State-Long Beach (1972), UCI (1991-92, 1994, 2016, 2021, 2022), their team facility on the campus of CLU (2020) and Loyola Marymount (2024).

SoFi Stadium

SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park has transformed the site of the former Hollywood Park Racetrack into a year-round sports and entertainment destination for the enjoyment of people throughout Southern California, as well as visitors from around the world.

SoFi Stadium, the centerpiece of the 300-acre Hollywood Park mixed-use development, is the largest stadium in the NFL. It has a seating capacity of 70,000, which can be expanded to 100,000, and features 260 luxury suites and over 13,000 premium seats. The stadium, along with the 2.5-acre American Airlines Plaza and the 6,000-seat YouTube Theater, is located under the same roof canopy.

Home to both the Los Angeles Rams and Los Angeles Chargers, SoFi Stadium is a state-of-the-art venue, with cutting edge technology, and a sleek design. In the four years since it opened its doors to fans, the stadium has welcomed over 10 million guests and earned the title of “Stadium of the Year” in 2025. It has also hosted a variety of major events, including Super Bowl LVI, the 2023 College Football National Championship, WrestleMania 2023, and numerous international soccer matches and record-breaking concerts.

SoFi Stadium is set to host the FIFA World Cup in 2026, Super Bowl LXI in 2027, and the opening ceremonies for the 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games, plus will be converted into the largest Olympic swimming venue in history.

Located just six miles off the coast, a short drive from LAX and the City of Inglewood’s Crenshaw/LAX Line, is Hollywood Park. This vibrant retail and residential district being built by Los Angeles Rams Owner/Chairman E. Stanley Kroenke is the largest urban mixed-use development under construction in the Western United States. The district is anchored by the Shops at Hollywood Park, an 890,000-square-foot retail and dining area that includes The Meeting Spot, COSM, Cinepolis Luxury Cinemas, Iconix Fitness, JD Sports, Google Code Next Lab, Phenix Salon Suites, Verizon, weekly farmers markets, and much more.

The mixed-use development is all linked by walkable paseos and plazas and centered around the 3.1 million square-foot SoFi Stadium, one of Los Angeles’ most striking architectural structures. Stylish residences and a modern open-office campus complement the entertainment and retail district, creating a world-class destination.

In 2021, the NFL opened their West Coast Headquarters at Hollywood Park which houses operations for NFL Media, including the NFL Network, NFL RedZone, the NFL app, NFL.com, NFL Fantasy and the NFL’s social media lab, plus staff across a variety of departments including marketing, club business development, and media sales. In addition to office and studio space situated next to SoFi Stadium, the facility features NFL Media’s first outdoor studio, which hosts audiences and includes an outdoor field for filming purposes as well as public use.

Under development is the 13-story, 300 guest room Kali Hotel and Rooftop, Autograph Collection, a landmark lifestyle hotel and Hollywood Park Studios, which will occupy 12 acres with five sound stages initially serving as the host site of the International Broadcast Center (IBC) for the 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games.

SoFi Stadium is one of the most technologically advanced venues and houses the largest video board in sports. The 120-yard-long Infinity Screen video board is the first HD video system ever built into a stadium. The Infinity Screen is the first-of-its-kind and the only dual sided, center-hung 4k videoboard ever created. It is a 70,000 square foot, high-definition television that spans from one end of the field to the other.

The Infinity Screen's oval display features approximately 8 million pixels, spaced 8 millimeters from center to center and can be uniquely or congruently programmed with statistics, live and/or animated content.

In addition, SoFi Stadium features five levels of an additional 20,000 square feet plus ribbon board throughout the bowl. SoFi Stadium has 90,000 square feet of digital LED in its seating bowl alone.

SoFi Stadium's unique roof canopy features a single-layer of Ethylene Tetrafluoroethylene (ETFE), which creates a semi-clear cover that protects from weather elements. The ETFE has a 65 percent frit pattern, which reflects 40 percent of visible and solar rays and 42 percent of UV rays. As a result, the temperature is approximately 4 degrees cooler inside the building than outside.

Each panel on the roof canopy is covered in a special LED light system. The LED roof screen is 12 acres long or 6.5 city blocls. With over 216,000 LEDs, the roof turns into a dynamic display for passengers flying in and out of LAX.

One of the hallmarks of SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park is the long-term impact it will have on the city of Inglewood and the surrounding region. More than 17,000 jobs were created over the course of SoFi Stadium's construction period. During the construction, Inglewood businesses earned more than $105 million in revenue and Inglewood residents earned more than $38 million in wages. SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park held about 45 community and other events, with an emphasis on Inglewood, in 2021 through community engagement efforts focused on four areas. These areas include: STEAM education, sustainability, financial empowerment and health and wellness.

Unique Elements of SoFi Stadium

- SoFi Stadium is the first indoor-outdoor stadium to be constructed. It has a seating capacity of approximately 70,000, expandable up to 100,000. It features 260 luxury suites, more than 13,000 premium seats and approximately 3.1 million square feet of usable space.
- Adjacent to the stadium and under the same canopy are a 2.5-acre open-air plaza named American Airlines Plaza and the 6,000-seat YouTube Theater.
- SoFi Stadium welcomed its 10 millionth guest to the venue in August 2025.
- The stadium's event level sits 100 feet below grade level. To accomplish this, over seven million cubic yards of dirt were excavated from the stadium bowl alone and re-distributed around the site.
- Nearly 100,000 tons of steel and cable were installed, and 144,000 cubic yards of concrete were used to construct SoFi Stadium.
- SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park utilizes 26m gallons of reclaimed water a year for landscape irrigation and maintenance, saving an equal amount of drinkable water for the region.
- There are approximately 5,000 trees onsite.
- SoFi Stadium was named "Stadium of the Year" for the second consecutive year by Pollstar Magazine, a leading industry trade publication.
- On a clear day, you can see the Pacific Ocean to the West, the Santa Monica Mountains, and the Hollywood Sign to the North. To date, SoFi Stadium has hosted over 4.3 million fans.
- SoFi Stadium features the first-ever dual-sided video board, the Infinity Screen. Consisting of 70,000 sq. ft. of digital display, the experience is similar to watching a 55"-60" television, from every seat in the stadium.
- The Infinity Screen is comprised of multiple screens, allowing the event host to show consistent or varied content.
- In addition, SoFi Stadium features an additional 20,000 square feet of digital display on other LED ribbon boards in the bowl.
- When complete, Hollywood Park will have up to 2,500 residences, a hotel, a retail district reaching up to 890,000 square feet, up to 5 million square feet of office space, and more than 25-acres of public parks and open space.

Watts Rams

Designed to bridge the gap between communities of color and law enforcement, the Watts Rams is a coed youth football program coached by Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) officers. Through LAPD's Community Safety Partnership Bureau (CSPB) and Project Blue, community leaders are able to connect with local youth. This unique program allows young student-athletes to see police officers as human beings and mentors, while allowing the officers to get to know the youth and families they serve. Rams head coach Sean McVay and LAPD Officer and former Watts Rams head coach Zarren Thompson announced the partnership at Rams Training Camp in 2019.

Beyond the game of football, the Rams provide the Watts Rams with educational opportunities, access to players, coaches and staff, and enrichment activities throughout the year. The program also emphasizes character development and community service. More than 150 youth currently participate in the Watts Rams football program's 9U, 10U, 11U, 12U and 13U divisions. The program also features a flag football and cheerleading team.

In December 2024, the Rams hosted the third annual Inspire Change Bowl for the Watts Rams and North East Lincoln Rams youth football and cheerleading programs to celebrate their 2024 seasons. The bowl featured a flag football clinic and divisional matchups between the Watts Rams and North East Lincoln Rams 10U, 12U, 13U and 14U teams.

North East Lincoln Rams

Nickerson Gardens Field Unveiling

Leading up to the Los Angeles Rams 2024 home opener against the San Francisco 49ers, the team partnered with the Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles (HACLA) to install a 60-yard turf football field at Nickerson Gardens, the largest housing development west of the Mississippi. The installation will bring enriching programming to underserved youth and create a lasting impact on the young people of the Watts public housing development and community at large. The very same field was brought to Hermosa Beach during the 2024 NFL Draft by the team and SoFi. Rams safety and team captain Quentin Lake and running back Kyren Williams joined the event to unveil the field and lead youth in a flag football clinic.

As part of the unveiling, the Rams worked with HACLA, Project Blue, ThinkWatts Foundation and Watts Gang Taskforce, to invite over 100 youth from various housing developments in Watts to come together for a moment of unity on the field. After the ribbon cutting, the team hosted a football clinic and flag football game for the united community of Watts. The Rams and Chargers co-sponsored high school teams and provided uniforms (courtesy of Nike), stipends for coaches, coaching manuals, officials, athletic trainers, equipment and transportation for the season. The program was created to offer more opportunities for young women to engage in football. The program started with eight teams and 96 players and expanded to 16 teams and more than 400 players during the second season.

Beyond the Bell Flag League

In 2021, the Rams partnered with Beyond the Bell (BTB) after-school sports league to launch a flag football league for Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD) middle school students. The league operates at 110 LAUSD middle schools and has more than 5,000 student-participants. The Rams provided reversible jerseys, flag football kits, footballs, flag belts and kicking tees to each school participating in the Beyond the Bell Flag Football League. In addition, the Rams host free flag football clinics throughout the season.

Rise With the Rams

For the past seven seasons, the Rams have teamed up with RISE for a season-long leadership and community building program featuring local high school football programs with a cross-section of ethnic and socioeconomic backgrounds. The initiative is designed to harness the unifying power of sports and build relationships, leadership, understanding, acceptance and cultural competency for student-athletes and coaches. In 2024, the program featured five sessions for varsity girls flag and boys tackle football teams from El Camino Real Charter High School and Thomas Jefferson Senior High School. Since 2018, the Rams and RISE have engaged more than 25 high school football teams throughout the greater Los Angeles region through the RISE with the Rams program.

Free Youth Football Camps and Clinics

The Rams partner with local nonprofits and youth football programs to host free football clinics throughout Southern California. Youth participate in football-related drills and competitions. The clinics also feature character education sessions that focus on transferrable life skills attained through sport and teamwork.

In celebration of Women's History Month, the Rams hosted free girls' flag football clinics and tournaments for over 900 local elementary, middle and high school students. During the clinics, attendees participated in football-related drills and competitions led by women from USA Football, Rams staff members and high school girls flag mentors. Additionally, Rams staff members and Nike representatives participated in panel discussions about their experiences playing sports and how the skills they gained as athletes translate to working as women in professional sports.

Football Clinics & Character Chats for Incarcerated Youth

Since 2018, the Rams have hosted coed football clinics and character discussions at youth correctional facilities throughout the region. The clinics feature current Rams players, staff and alumni, who lead participants in football-related drills and discussions about the value of good character, goal setting and how to inspire change and more.

Rams Partner with Watts-native STIX

For the fourth year, a Watts native, rapper, producer and the founder of the Thinkwatts Foundation, Brandon “STIX” Salaam-Bailey, teamed up with the Rams to address social injustices.

Most recently, the Rams concluded their 2025 Black History Month Canvas of Culture initiative that honors the past and celebrates the future of Black culture via events in the LA community, by releasing a special video of Rams defensive end Kobie Turner and Watts artist, producer, and founder of the ThinkWatts Foundation, Stix, partnering up to educate the next generation on song creation and the music industry.

Turner, a gifted singer and musician himself, who made it to the quarterfinals of last season’s The Masked Singer as “Goo”, teamed up with Stix for an unforgettable music workshop to educate, inspire, and empower local youth. Together, they shared their personal journeys with music and guided six highschoolers, including former members of the Watts Rams - a coed youth football program coached by Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) officers and sponsored by the Rams - through the entire process of recording a song, from songwriting and production, to recording vocals in the studio. The inspiring video shows Kobie and Stix first meeting the kids at sneaker boutique TILT.INGLEWOOD to talk about their relationship with music, before walking them through the process of creating a song at the legendary East West Studios in Hollywood and concludes with a listening event of the final song at the Rams practice facility in Woodland Hills.

As a special highlight, the kids had the unique opportunity to be featured on the track “In the Gap”, alongside Stix, which is an anthem about perseverance and unity – two themes that run strong in the Black community. Stix drew inspiration for the song from “Kingfish: The Story of Kenny Washington”, a documentary about the LA-native and UCLA standout who was the first Black player to be signed by an NFL team (the Rams) in the modern era. This initiative blends sports, music, history, and mentorship, creating a platform for young Black voices to be heard and celebrated.

In 2022, the Rams and the NFL worked with the Thinkwatts Foundation to host an event for community members in the Watts neighborhood. As a part of the evening, the NFL and Little Caesars recognized the great work being done by local community leaders by providing the Thinkwatts Foundation with a $125,000 grant to support programs and initiatives led by the community leaders in Watts and surrounding areas. In addition, during the Rams Week 16 Inspire Change game against the Denver Broncos, the team announced STIX as their recipient of the inaugural 2022 Inspire Change Changemaker Award. The league’s Inspire Change Changemaker Award recognizes individuals who are making a difference in their communities through social justice work, either individually or as part of a nonprofit organization, across each of the NFL’s 32 club markets.

In 2020, STIX produced an original song titled “It Takes All Of Us,” which was one of the phrases highlighted by the NFL for their continued commitment to social justice. Rams team captains selected the phrase to be on the helmet sticker for the 2020 season. The music video, filmed in Inglewood, Watts and South Los Angeles, debuted during the Rams virtual Kickoff for Charity event. All proceeds generated by the event supported the team’s efforts to help bridge the digital divide disproportionately impacting under-resourced students in Los Angeles. In addition, the Rams and STIX produced a PSA featuring players reading an original spoken-word piece written by STIX. The PSA debuted before the opening game at SoFi Stadium against the Dallas Cowboys on Sunday Night Football. Last season, the Rams partnered with Stix, Sisters of Watts, Eastside Riders and the Watts Rams to host a holiday distribution event for families in need.

Geared for Greatness and Loads of Loge Program with Pacsun

In 2023, the Los Angeles Rams and Pacsun launched their “Geared for Greatness” initiative in continuation of their efforts to combat chronic absenteeism. To kick it off, the two organizations donated washer and dryer sets to local schools in historically under-resourced communities. Through their “Loads of Love” program supported by Thinkwatts Foundation, 20 schools from Compton Unified School District and Los Angeles Unified School District received a set, ensuring students have clean clothes. In addition, the Rams and Pacsun donated $2 million worth of clothing to under-resourced schools served by Compton Unified School District, Inglewood Unified School District, Los Angeles Unified School District and Partnership for Los Angeles Schools throughout the year. On May 24, 2024, the Rams and Pacsun joined Thinkwatts Foundation and the Los Angeles Unified School District to host a free Pacsun Pop-Up Shopping Experience and washer and dryer ribbon cutting for students from 112th STEAM Academy in Watts. The students also enjoyed a youth football clinic and received autographed cards from Rams running back Kyren Williams who joined the special day.

Leading up to the 2023 season, the Rams and Pacsun renewed their partnership centered around incentivizing attendance at Partnership schools in Watts, South LA and Boyle Heights. In 2023, Rams and Pacsun rewarded students at George Washington Carver Middle School and Florence Griffith Joyner Elementary with an exclusive shopping experience. In addition, Pacsun merchandise was donated to the other 18 Partnership schools throughout the school year. Over the past four years, Pacsun and the Rams have donated more than $3 million in product to provide new, on-trend clothing to over 30,000 students throughout LA County.

In May 2025, the team continued their Geared for Greatness initiative at Budlong Elementary School in South Los Angeles to gift their school and students with $1million of clothing as well as a new washer and dryer set.

Staff Days of Service

Several times a year, the Rams front office staff takes time out of the office to volunteer with local nonprofits. Since returning home to Los Angeles in 2016, Rams staff members have provided more than 15,000 hours of community service, impacting 60 local nonprofits and 75 schools (as of July 2025) through the Staff Days of Service program.

Giving Tuesday

In honor of “Giving Tuesday” in 2024, the Rams and Shoes that Fit teamed up for the third year to provide new athletic shoes to 300 students at Tarzana Elementary School in Tarzana. With the support of Rams partner, Bloom Ranch, the event featured a Rams PLAY 60 Field Day and special appearances from members of the Rams’ 2024 rookie class, Rams Cheerleaders and team mascot Rampage. The team also continued their special effort encouraging Season Ticket Members and Suite Owners not planning to attend the Rams vs. Arizona Cardinals or Rams vs. Seattle Seahawks games to donate their tickets to a nonprofit organization in Los Angeles through the “Rams House For The Holidays” initiative.

In 2020, Rams players awarded $750,000 to 25 nonprofits focused on social justice across the greater Los Angeles region. Following the deaths of Breonna Taylor and George Floyd, Rams players came together to discuss how they could help address the injustices that continue to plague society. The players decided to pull resources together to financially support organizations doing critical work focused on long-term systemic change. The Rams invited 25 social justice nonprofits to share information about their work, those they serve and how the players could assist. After listening and learning, the players awarded each organization with a donation ranging from $20,000 to $50,000. Recipients included A Place Called Home, Brotherhood Crusade, College Track, Heart of Los Angeles (HOLA), Homeboy Industries, SoLa I Can Foundation, Anti-Recidivism Coalition, Liberty Hill Foundation, Operation Progress, Partnership for Los Angeles Schools, Big Brothers Big Sisters of Greater Los Angeles (BBBSLA), Boys & Girls Clubs of Metro Los Angeles (BGCMLA), Children’s Institute, Fulfillment Fund, St. Joseph Center, BOSS, Communities in Schools (CIS), Covenant House, HomeLight Family Living, LA Family Housing, LAPD Community Safety Partnership, LA Regional Food Bank (LARFB), Los Angeles Room and Board, Sharefest and Social Justice Learning Institute (SJLI).

Rams Season of Giving

The cornerstone volunteer effort of the Staff Days of Service program is the team's annual Season of Giving. Since 2018, Rams players, cheerleaders, mascot Rampage, and front office staff have participated in annual Season of Giving days of service that have helped distribute holiday meals and gift cards to more than 18,000 Southern California residents battling food insecurity, host shopping sprees for hundreds of children served by local nonprofits and hospitals, as well as host holiday parties and gift distributions for communities in need.

Last season, the Rams partnered with Call Jacob to host a shopping spree for 100 youth (ages 5-14) served by The Salvation Army. Rams players, Rams Cheerleaders and staff members were paired with a child and take them shopping to purchase up to $200 in holiday gifts, courtesy of the Rams. Rams players joined front office staff to start their 'Season of Giving' campaign at the West Valley Food Pantry in Woodland Hills. The event featured a Thanksgiving mobile produce and grocery distribution aiming to serve nearly 150 families. Rams players, Cheerleaders and mascot Rampage also joined 50 North East Lincoln Rams and 50 Watts Rams youth football players at the Rams practice facility in Woodland Hills for a tour and "Ramsgiving" meal. In addition, the team partnered with Pechanga and the Los Angeles Regional Food Bank to host a large-scale, drive-through food distribution at SoFi Stadium for Inglewood residents. Holiday meals and nutritious food were distributed to more than 20,000 meals. During the event, Rams Cheerleaders, Rampage, front office staff members, LA Regional Food Bank and Pechanga volunteers greeted visitors and helped load their vehicles with meals. Also part of the team's Season of Giving efforts, Rams players, Legends, cheerleaders and staff members provided holiday meals at A Place Called Home and Food Share of Ventura. The team also joined the City of Inglewood's 10th Annual Turkey Giveaway presented by PepsiCo and Don Lee Farms, and Puka Nacua and Blake Corum also participated in food drives at Covenant House and the Boys and Girls Club of Metro Los Angeles. To round out the season, Rams Cheerleaders and mascot Rampage joined Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) officers and Watts Rams youth football players for a ride on Santa's sleigh through Pueblo Del Rio and Watts to spread holiday cheer to community members.

The Alliance: Los Angeles

In a collaboration to pursue positive change in communities of color and develop meaningful programs, the 12 professional sports organizations in Los Angeles County and Orange County have joined together with Play Equity Fund to launch The Alliance Los Angeles, a comprehensive five-year commitment to drive investment and impact for social justice through sport. It demonstrates how student-led initiatives can drive social change and transformation by addressing critical issues such as education, access, social competencies and pathways to sports careers. The Alliance empowers youth voice, advocates for equity and engages in civic action.

Certified #RamsHouse

In 2020, the Rams launched the Certified #RamsHouse program to support businesses throughout the Los Angeles region. The Rams focus efforts on the small businesses of Season Ticket Members and Black-owned businesses in Inglewood and throughout Los Angeles. Each Certified #RamsHouse receives branded window decals, banners, shirts, hats and other items to showcase their Rams pride. As part of the program, Rams fans are encouraged to visit Certified #RamsHouse businesses on preferred days and share their experiences on social media using #RamsHouse. Since the launch of the Certified #RamsHouse program, the team has supported 84 local businesses and 40 small businesses in Inglewood.

50/50 Raffle

Since 2017, Rams fans have had the opportunity to purchase 50/50 raffle tickets on game day. The winner receives half (50%) of the jackpot total from the game's raffle ticket sales and the other half (50%) benefits the Los Angeles Rams Foundation.

When the Rams clinched the NFC West division during the 2021 season, the team's 50/50 Raffle raised a total of $342,975, which set the new NFL regular season record and broke the previous record of $332,110 set during Super Bowl LIV. The Rams also broke the league's single-season 50/50 Raffle record by surpassing $3 million in 2021. Through their 50/50 raffle, the team has raised over $9 million total.
