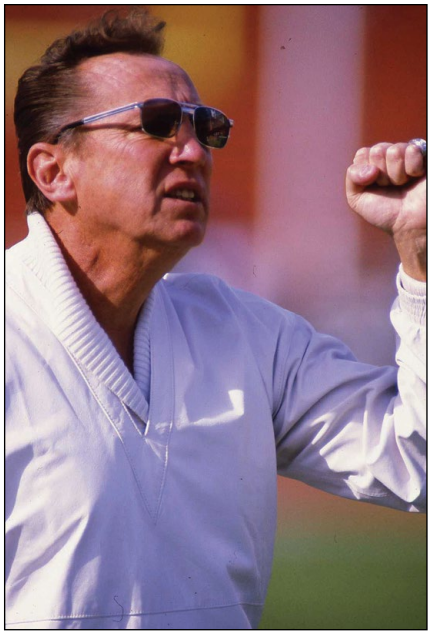
COMMITMENT TO EXCELLENCE

AL DAVIS

JULY 4, 1929 - OCT. 8, 2011



Al Davis, a true legend, was a maverick, a giant among giants, a star among stars, a hero, a mentor and a friend.

When Davis passed away during the 2011 season, football lost an innovator, a pioneer with a deep love and passion for the game, a man who most assuredly will never be forgotten or duplicated. A Pro Football Hall of Famer who arguably did more to change the game than any other individual, Davis was honored the day after his passing with a moment of silence at every NFL stadium.

At one of those venues, Houston's Reliant Stadium, Davis' players took the field without his guidance for the first time in 17,710 days. And in one of so many franchise games for the ages, this comeback featuring key contributions from three of his first-round draft choices, the Raiders that day honored Davis by doing what he cared about most – they won.

"Just win," Davis once said. "Play hard. Try not to make mistakes, but don't worry about mistakes because there's only one thing that counts: Just win."

Before that win in Houston, Davis' death spawned an overwhelming outpouring of statements from football executives, coaches and players, past and present. A clear common thread in those expressions of remembrance was that anyone with any level of affinity for football should acknowledge that the game would not be what it is without Davis.

That's not just because Davis held the titles of general manager, head coach, league commissioner and principal owner, and led the Raiders to more wins than any other team. The game would not be what it is because, through his unyielding efforts to build the finest franchise in sports, Davis broke social barriers, creating opportunities for countless individuals, and cared selflessly about people, treating them the way they wanted to be treated. No one has had a more profound and lasting impact on pro football.

SEEDS OF GENIUS

Had Davis remained in coaching, fellow innovator Bill Walsh once theorized, Davis would be considered one of the greatest coaches of all-time.

On Jan. 19, 1963, the American Football League Raiders made a 33-year-old Davis the youngest general manager and head coach in pro history. And before the budding genius called his first play, Davis took complete control over all phases of the franchise, including changing Oakland's uniform colors to silver and black, to resemble the great Army teams he had idolized during the 1940s, and re-branded the Raiders into an image that is today instantly recognized worldwide.

"If there's anything that we've done that I'm particularly proud of," Davis recalled later in his life, "I would have to say the perpetuation of the greatness of the Raiders; to take a professional football team and give it a distinct characteristic, that's different from all others."

That characteristic in his first season on the Raiders sideline became forever linked to winning. Davis earned Coach of the Year honors after leading the Raiders, 1-13 the season before, to the most significant year-to-year improvement in pro football history, a 10-4 mark. Although he sacrificed his coaching career to become AFL Commissioner following the 1965 season, the profession always remained important to him, partly because it served as the foundation for his contributions to football.

That foundation was first poured in his hometown, the borough of Brooklyn, N.Y., where he played basketball and learned some of his unshakeable principles under Coach Al Badain at Erasmus Hall High School.

Davis graduated with a degree in English literature from Syracuse University, which later honored him with a Letterman of Distinction award, and shortly after, in 1950, launched his career as line coach at Adelphi College.

After entering the Army in 1952, Davis served as head football coach at Ft. Belvoir, Va. There, he molded a national power, finishing with a win over Maryland, the reigning national champion.

Davis worked in the player personnel office of the Baltimore Colts for one year (1954), then spent two seasons (1955-56) as line coach and chief recruiter at The Citadel, before becoming in 1957 the University of Southern California's line coach.

His next job didn't take him very far, moving across town from USC to the Los Angeles Chargers of the new AFL, but the move to pro football was a major step. Hired by Sid Gillman in 1960 as the Chargers' offensive ends coach, Davis helped the team to a pair of division titles in just three years.

That rise gave Davis the opportunity to lead his own team in 1963. Several factors influenced his head-coach blueprints. In addition to his coaching career, the precision of the Black Knights of the Hudson, their quickness and explosion with Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis, left an indelible impression on Davis growing up. He also took several chapters from another sport.

"As a young guy," he said, "I had a dream that someday I would build the finest organization in professional sports. I had a lot of thoughts on how I would do it. I had the inspiration of two great organizations when I was growing up.

"The Yankees to me personified the size of the players, power, the home run, and intimidation and fear. Very important characteristics to me of what I thought a great team and a great organization should have. The Dodgers, under Branch Rickey, were totally different in my mind. They represented speed. They represented development of players, a way of playing the game, the Dodger way of playing the game. And I always thought that someone intelligent could take all the qualities, the great qualities of both, and put them together and use them."

In addition to those qualities, he also instilled in the Raiders tenets that were all his own, and in the process, he revolutionized pro football.

Offensively, Davis created the vertical game, now known as stretching the field.

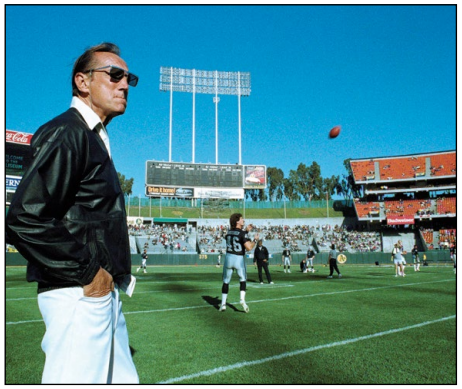
"When we came out of the huddle," he remembered about his Raiders, "we weren't looking for first downs. We didn't want to move the chains. We wanted touchdowns. We wanted the big play, the quick strike. It's No. 1 to say that you want to do that, it's No. 2 to say that you have the players to do it, but it's No. 3 to do it. Do it on first down of any football game, on that defense that you're playing against. For those cornerbacks that play out there on the corners, to know that the Raiders are coming at you, they're coming at you on top, they've got the speed to do it, and they will do it. It's like having the bomb and being willing to drop it. The adage that goes around in professional football, and I hear everyone say it, 'Take what they give you.' That all sounds good to everybody, but I always went the other way: We're going to take what we want."

On the other side of the line, Davis also wanted to attack, to put pressure on the pocket, and do more than just disrupt the offense physically.

"I do believe that this is a game, psychologically, of intimidation and of fear. I don't mean cowardly fear, but fear. I think this: That somewhere within the first five to 10 plays of the game that the other team's quarterback must go down, and he must go down hard. That alone sets the tempo for a game."

Once that tempo was established, taking a cue from college basketball, Davis was the first to utilize his cornerbacks in a bump-and-run principle.

"We used to call it the press. We got the idea from John Wooden, when he had his great zone press, with his great basketball teams, where they picked you up as soon as you took the ball out, and they pressured you. And we got the idea and called it press. And then I think Don Shula started calling it bump-and-run, so we changed to bump-and-run."



Davis' vision to see where the game was headed, or to pave a new road to winning, led future successful coaches like Bill Parcells and Bill Belichick to regard Davis as the NFL's most intelligent individual.

From 1963-2002, the Raiders dominated pro football, posting the game's best cumulative won-loss record. Earning the moniker "Team of the Decades," the franchise posted 17 winning seasons over an 18-year stretch from 1963-80. The Raiders then posted 11 more winning campaigns from 1982-2002, including double-digit wins in 1983, 1984, 1985, 1990, 1993, 2000, 2001 and 2002. All told under Davis, the Raiders won four league championships -- Super Bowls XI, XV and XVIII and the 1967 AFL title.

FROM HEAD COACH TO COMMISSIONER, TO MERGER

Persuaded by American Football League owners who viewed him as the perfect person to lead their battle against the established NFL, Davis reluctantly became league commissioner on April 8, 1966. Remarkably, Davis would spend less than 16 weeks in that role, but the shots his administration fired during that short period still reverberate today.

For the first half of the 1960s, the AFL and NFL fought a tenacious fight for college talent, but they battled with a significant unwritten rule that veterans were off limits. A little more than a month after Davis took office, the NFL's New York Giants violated that rule, signing veteran Buffalo kicker Pete Gogolak. As longtime Raiders executive Al LoCasale remembered, the NFL took a shot with a revolver and Davis shot back using a machine gun.

Davis passionately and strategically convinced AFL owners to go after established NFL stars. In a short period, the AFL had signed many of the NFL's veteran playmakers, including the NFL's leading passer John Brodie, and Roman Gabriel from the Los Angeles Rams.

"We had about four or five quarterbacks all lined up," Davis said. "Three or four of their other great players had already signed. It was a preliminary strike to let them know what's going to happen if they continue this."

Within months, the two leagues had agreed to a merger that formed the league familiar to today's fans, including as part of the agreement a world championship game now known as the Super Bowl. Having served as the driving force behind that merger, Davis resigned on July 25, 1966, returned to Oakland as head of football operations and purchased an interest in the franchise. Davis, who became managing general partner in 1972, teamed with head-coach successors John Rauch, John Madden and Tom Flores in building a stalwart that would become the league's most successful franchise.

A CHAMPION OF DIVERSITY AND EQUALITY

A trailblazer, Davis innovated not only how the game was played and coached, but also changed who held those roles, opening countless doors for qualified individuals, regardless of skin color.

Davis was 17 when, a short distance from his home, Jackie Robinson broke the color barrier in Major League Baseball. Shortly after, at Syracuse, Davis befriended Bernie Custis, who would fight racism and become pro football's first black quarterback. At USC, Davis started recruiting players from historically black colleges, and convinced future Pro Football Hall of Famer Willie Wood to remain at the school as the Trojans' quarterback. Wood and Ron Mix became the school's first interracial co-captains, and Davis helped Mix understand how athletics could serve as a leader in ushering needed social change.

With the Chargers, Davis teamed with Gillman to lead the fight for equality. In addition to refusing to stay at segregated team hotels, the team, inspired by Davis, recruited players from black programs, creating what Eddie Robinson called a new day for players of color and giving them a sense of belonging in the American Football League.

Davis supported both his Raiders and other AFL players when two specific instances of racism reared its ugly head in the 1960s. The Raiders scheduled a 1963 preseason game with the Jets in Mobile, Alabama, where the seating would be segregated. Several Black players raised objections with Davis, the team's coach and general manager, who backed his players, and the game was relocated to Oakland.

In 1965, upon arriving in New Orleans before the AFL All-Star Game, Black players from both squads, angered over discrimination, were set to boycott the contest. They agreed to play when Davis and other team executives moved the game to Houston.

Later that decade, Davis brought to the Raiders guard Gene Upshaw and tackle Art Shell, eventual Hall of Famers. Upshaw and Shell joked that a convention of pro football's black offensive linemen could be held in a phone booth. But Davis gave them an opportunity, and Upshaw said he never experienced racism on the Raiders because Davis would never tolerate it.

And neither would Davis tolerate discrimination at the game's most important position. A year after Upshaw as a rookie helped the Raiders to an AFL championship, Davis in 1968 made Eldridge Dickey the first African-American quarterback ever selected in the first round. Again, Davis cared about one thing: Winning.

"We called it an untapped reservoir," Davis recalled. "We wanted to win. We wanted the players. We weren't interested in who they were, or exactly where they came from. I've always said, it's not important to be consistent; it's important to be right. It was done because it was right and fair, and to help the team win, and continue to win.

"The Raiders did become a proving ground for great minority players. I think it was an evolution, an evolution of equity and fairness, and we hope that's one legacy we leave."Another legacy Davis left was hiring in 1989 the NFL's first African-American head coach, Shell. Davis told Shell the reason he hired him was not because he was black, but because he was the best available candidate for the job, and because he was a Raider. Upon winning his coaching debut, Shell had to remind reporters that he was not the game's first minority head coach. A decade before, Davis had hired Tom Flores to lead the Raiders to two Super Bowl victories. Additionally, Davis later made Amy Trask the NFL's first female chief executive.

THE RAIDER MYSTIQUE

To Davis, shattering barriers wasn't only about race or gender. He defined it on a larger scale, by creating an environment that allowed any individual the chance to succeed, and in the process fostered a unique brotherhood.

"The fire that burns brightest in me," Davis said, "and the fire that burns brightest in this organization is the will to win."

That philosophy evolved the Raiders' locker room into an us-versus-them mentality, a group that like its owner valued being feared more than respected. Davis brought in mavericks and molded them into champions, a group of rugged and colorful individualists that carried Davis' torch with swagger and intimidation.

Many of the players that won for the Raiders were rejected by other teams. But Davis did not treat them like misfits. He treated them like men, and those men brought him three Super Bowl titles and dominated the league like no other team.

"We may take a player in who doesn't have good social habits, or has been a failure somewhere else," Davis explained. "But it's predicated on bringing them into an environment, that can inspire them the will to do great, and they have done great."

A BELIEF IN HOW TO TREAT PEOPLE

Part of Davis' ability to acquire the right players and put them in an environment that bred success was his belief in how to deal with people. Davis always said that the Golden Rule was not good enough.

"When you have to lead men, you don't do unto others as you would have others do unto you," Davis said. "You do unto them, in a paramilitary situation, as they want to be done unto. You have to treat them the way they want to be treated."

That way of treating people led friends and former players to remember Davis as the epitome of loyalty. And in turn, he showed the rest of the NFL how to treat former players. Of all the awards he received, the recognition from men that played the game meant the most to Davis. In 1997, the NFL Alumni inducted Davis into the Order of the Leather Helmet, a lifetime-achievement award. Six years earlier, the NFL Players Association honored Davis with its inaugural Retired Players Award of Excellence, citing the care he had shown players long after they retired.

"I feel we're one of the last bastions of hope, as a team image, as a team organization," Davis explained. "I don't want to give that up with the Raiders. We believe in tradition. We believe in the glory. We believe in the debt we owe to our players from the past."

No question, the way Davis treated people led to a record nine Hall of Famers asking him to present them in Canton, Ohio, at their induction ceremonies, an exceptional fact that exists nowhere else in sports, and speaks volumes of Davis' compassion for others.

In 1992, Davis earned his own enshrinement in the Pro Football Hall of Fame, and for the first time stood at the familiar podium after someone else – his most successful Raiders coach, Madden – had introduced him. Davis took the opportunity to look back on the team that mirrored his life.

"Enshrinement is a reflection of a life's work, a reflection of a love affair with the greatest game the world has ever known. This honor is a testament to a great organization, and to all the capable people that have poured their talent and enthusiasm and loyalty into the greatness of the Raiders, and the Raiders legend and mystique."

SANDRA DOUGLASS MORGAN

PRESIDENT

Sandra Douglass Morgan is entering her fourth season as President of the Las Vegas Raiders. As President, she oversees all business operations for the globally recognized franchise and plays a central role in shaping the Raiders' long-term strategic vision—across the evolving sports and entertainment landscape and in the community.

Under her leadership, the Raiders have expanded their business strategy and established Allegiant Stadium as a global destination for premier sports and entertainment events—including the Super Bowl, Pro Bowl, international soccer matches, and record-setting concerts. Working in partnership with the Las Vegas Convention and Visitors Authority and other public-private collaborators, Morgan helped secure the 2027 College Football Playoff National Championship and the 2028 NCAA Men's Final Four—both of which will be held in Nevada for the first time. These milestone selections reflect the national recognition of Allegiant Stadium and Las Vegas as world-class hosts for the biggest stages in sports.

The Raiders and the Raiders Foundation have also deepened their philanthropic reach—supporting youth sports, education, and mental health resources across Nevada. Morgan is a champion for inclusive leadership, and her tenure has been marked by efforts to strengthen internal culture, create space for a wide range of perspectives, and build meaningful opportunities for future generations in sports business and beyond.

In 2024, Allegiant Stadium was named the #1 stadium in the United States and #2 worldwide by Billboard in its year-end rankings of top-grossing live-event venues. The stadium has hosted some of the world's most iconic artists, including Beyoncé, Taylor Swift, The Rolling Stones, Billy Joel with Sting, George Strait, Pink, and Morgan Wallen—further cementing its place as a premier global destination for live entertainment and sports.

Prior to joining the Raiders, Morgan served as Chairwoman of the Nevada Gaming Control Board, City Attorney for the City of North Las Vegas, and was a member of the Nevada State Athletic Commission. She currently serves on the Board of Directors for Allegiant Travel Company and Fidelity National Financial, Inc., and on the Board of Trustees for the UNLV Foundation. Morgan is also a member of the State Bar of Nevada and the District of Columbia Bar. A proud resident of Nevada for over four decades, Morgan currently resides in Las Vegas with her husband, Don, and their two children, Dylan and Dana.

JOHN SPYTEK

GENERAL MANAGER

23rd season in NFL | 1st season with Raiders

BACKGROUND

Years	Pro Team	Position
2004	Detroit Lions	Operations Intern
2005	Philadelphia Eagles	Scouting Intern
2006	Philadelphia Eagles	Scouting Assistant
2007-09	Philadelphia Eagles	College/Pro Scout
2010-12	Cleveland Browns	Director of College Scouting
2013	Denver Broncos	Area Scout
2014-15	Denver Broncos	National Scout
2016-20	Tampa Bay Buccaneers	Director of Player Personnel
2021-22	Tampa Bay Buccaneers	Vice President of Player Personnel
2023-24	Tampa Bay Buccaneers	Asst. General Manager
2025	Las Vegas Raiders	General Manager

John Spytek was named General Manager of the Las Vegas Raiders on Jan. 24, 2025, becoming the sixth General Manager in franchise history.

Spytek enters his 23rd year in the NFL after spending the last nine seasons with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, serving as the Assistant General Manager (2023-24), Vice President of Player Personnel (2021-22) and Director of Player Personnel (2016-20).

During his time in Tampa Bay, the Buccaneers secured five playoff appearances, six playoff victories, four NFC South division titles and a Super Bowl championship. The team's six playoff wins since 2016 are tied for the seventh-most in the NFL during that span.

In his first offseason with the Raiders, Spytek strategically supplemented the roster with key additions through trade, free agency, and the draft. After securing a long-term contract extension with Maxx Crosby, a perennial Pro Bowl selection and team leader, Spytek executed a trade with Seattle for quarterback Geno Smith, obtaining the two-time Pro Bowl signal-caller in exchange for a late third-round draft pick.

Spytek continued to add impactful players through the early free agency period, adding several projected starters on defense, while tabbing veterans for service on the offensive line and backfield. In his first draft at the helm, Spytek and his staff made 11 selections, marking the most by the Raiders since 2007. Headlining the draft haul in the first round was running back Ashton Jeanty, a dynamic ballcarrier and record-setting Heisman Trophy candidate at Boise State. Spytek conducted a pair of Day 2 trades, moving back twice in the second round and collecting two additional third-round picks in the process. Spytek and Head Coach Pete Carroll completed their first draft together with potential playmakers and increased depth and competition throughout the roster.

In Tampa Bay, Spytek helped draft four players who earned PFWA All-Rookie Team honors (CB Vernon Hargreaves, LB Devin White, T Tristan Wirfs and RB Bucky Irving) and five players who were selected to a combined nine Pro Bowls and three AP All-Pro selections (WR Chris Godwin, DT Vita Vea, White, Wirfs and S Antonie Winfield Jr.). He was also integral in the signings of key free agents C Ryan Jensen, LB Shaq Barrett, DT Ndamukong Suh, QB Tom Brady and QB Baker Mayfield, while helping trade for DE Jason Pierre-Paul and TE Rob Gronkowski. The Buccaneers were the only team in the NFL to have multiple draft picks selected to the All-Rookie Team in consecutive seasons from 2019-20. In 2021, Tampa Bay was able to return all 22 starters from the Super Bowl LV championship team, becoming the first to do so in the salary cap era.

Prior to joining the Buccaneers, Spytek spent three seasons with the Denver Broncos, where he worked as Southwest area scout in 2013 and as a national scout from 2014-15. The Broncos' 37 regular season and 42 overall wins were the most in the NFL over that three-year span, culminating in a Super Bowl 50 victory following the 2015 season.

Before joining the Broncos, Spytek spent three seasons (2010-12) as the Cleveland Browns' Director of College Scouting. While with the Browns, Spytek assisted in drafting six players who earned PFW/PFWA All- Rookie Team honors and five players who were selected to a Pro Bowl.

Spytek began his player personnel career working as an intern with the Philadelphia Eagles in 2005, earning a full-time college scouting assistant position in 2006 and spending three years as a college/pro scout from 2007-09. His first job in the NFL was as an operations intern with the Detroit Lions in 2004.

A native of Pewaukee, Wisc., Spytek played linebacker at the University of Michigan from 1999-2002, earning a bachelor's degree in general studies and a master's in sports management.

Spytek and his wife, Kristen, are parents to Jack and Thomas. Together, they co-founded the National CMV Foundation in 2014 to educate families about congenital CMV, a virus that ultimately claimed the life of their 21-month-old daughter, Evelyn, in 2014.

PETE CARROLL

HEAD COACH

31st season in NFL | 1st season with Raiders

Pete Carroll was named Head Coach of the Las Vegas Raiders by Owner Mark Davis on Jan. 25, 2025, pairing one of the most accomplished and respected coaches in pro football history with the iconic NFL franchise. Carroll, whose storied coaching career has spanned the past five decades, joins the Silver and Black following 14 seasons as the most successful head coach in Seattle Seahawks history, a tenure that came at the heels of a dynastic nine-year run in the college ranks at USC.

Carroll's overall NFL head coaching record is 170-120-1 (.586) in the regular season and 11-11 in the postseason. In his 18 years of NFL head coaching, his 181 combined wins are the 16th-most in NFL history. Carroll guided the Seahawks to back-to-back Super Bowl appearances and a Super Bowl XLVIII victory following the 2013 season. His career as an NFL head coach has also included posts with the New York Jets (1994) and the New England Patriots (1997-99).

COACHING BACKGROUND

Years	Team	Position
1974-76	University of the Pacific	Graduate Assistant
1977	University of Arkansas	Graduate Assistant
1978	Iowa State	Secondary
1979	Ohio State	Secondary
1980-82	North Carolina State	Defensive Coordinator/Secondary
1983	University of the Pacific	Asst. Head Coach/Offensive Coord.
1984	Buffalo Bills	Defensive Backs

2001-09	USC	Head Coach
2010-23	Seattle Seahawks	Executive V.P. & Head Coach
2025	Las Vegas Raiders	Head Coach

In his tenure as head coach in Seattle from 2010-23, Carroll helped construct the best teams in franchise history with a 137-89-1 record, two Super Bowl appearances, 10-plus wins in five consecutive seasons (2012-16) for the first time in franchise history, and five NFC West Division titles.

Seattle reached the postseason in 10 of Carroll's 14 seasons as coach, advanced to the divisional round seven times, won two NFC Championships and one Super Bowl, while claiming the No. 1 seed in the NFC twice. Under Carroll's watch, Seattle led the NFL in scoring defense for four-consecutive seasons from 2012-15, becoming the first defense in the Super Bowl era to accomplish that feat.

In 2023, Carroll's final campaign on the Seattle sidelines, the Seahawks posted the team's 11th season with a winning record in 12 years.

Carroll has been successful in establishing a winning culture behind a philosophy of team growth through competition with a strong emphasis on protecting the football. This was evident with Seattle returned to the postseason in 2022 as the NFC's seventh seed with a 9-8 record in the regular season. Seattle needed to win its final two games to join the playoff field, and the Seahawks were successful, helping Carroll became the ninth head coach in NFL history to make the playoffs in 12 different seasons.

The 2021campaign was an uncharacteristic one for Seattle, as the Seahawks missed the postseason for the first time since 2017. However, after a disappointing 3-8 start, Carroll's Seahawks finished strong, rattling off four wins in their final six games, helped by the emergence of Seattle's running game, finishing the season with 1,056 rushing yards since Week 13, most in the NFL. Seattle scored 30 or more points in each of those wins.

In a year impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic, the 2020 Seahawks concluded the season with a 12- 4 record and as champions of the NFC West. It was the 11th division title in franchise history and fifth under Carroll, tying Mike Holmgren for the most by a Seattle head coach. It was the 14th time in 18 seasons that Seattle qualified for the postseason and ninth time in Carroll's 11 seasons as head coach. The Seahawks scored a franchise-record 459 points while winning 12 or more games for the fifth time in club history.

Carroll's 2019 team held a 10-2 record through the first three quarters of the season but despite an uncharacteristic 1-3 mark to finish the year secured the no. 5 seed in the NFC playoffs, winning the Wild Card Game and advancing to the Divisional Round for the seventh time in the last 10 seasons. Posting a franchise-best 7-1 road record, Seattle reached 10 wins for the seventh time in eight seasons, something accomplished only five times in franchise history from 1976-2011. The Seahawks became the second team in NFL history to win 10 one-score games in a single season, joining the 1978 Oilers (10-6 record) and Carroll earned his 100th regular season win in franchise history, extending his own franchise record.

The 2018 Seahawks exceeded some expectations as they won 10 games for the sixth time in seven seasons and advanced to the Wild Card playoffs. After a 4-5 start to the season, Seattle became the 28th team with a losing record after nine games to advance to the postseason, scoring the second-most points in franchise history (428) and leading the NFL with a rushing attack that accumulated 2,560 yards, the third-most in franchise history, marking the top-three rushing seasons all under Carroll (2012, 2014, 2018).

Seattle concluded the 2017 season with a 9-7 record and a second place finish in the NFC West. Despite significant injuries on the defensive side of the ball and missing its top-two running backs, Seattle entered the final-quarter of the season with an 8-4 record and remained in the hunt for an NFC West.

The Seahawks won the 10th division title in franchise history in 2016 with a 10-5-1 record. Seattle's defense finished in the top five for the fifth consecutive season (2012-16), an impressive feat during an era of unprecedented scoring and yardage numbers in NFL history. Seattle's NFL-record streak of not losing by more than 10 points in 85 regular season games (95 games including playoffs) ended at Green Bay (12/11/16), and its NFL-record streak of 88 regular season games (98 games including playoffs) where it has led or been within one score in the fourth quarter came to an end at Tampa Bay (11/27/16).

After beginning the 2015 season 0-2, 2-4 and 4-5, the Seahawks became the 22nd team with a losing record after nine games to advance to the postseason, winning six of their last seven games to post a 10-6 record and finishing in the top-10 in defense for a franchise-record fifth consecutive season (2011-15). Seattle defeated the Vikings in Minnesota in the Wild Card round before bowing out to Carolina on the road in the divisional round.

Seattle's defense finished 2015 ranked second (291.8 ypg) while the offense ranked fourth in the NFL (378.6 ypg), setting the franchise-record with 6,058 yards. It was the fourth time in franchise history, the first since 2005, with a top-five offense.

The team won its ninth division title in club history in 2014, third under Carroll, after winning the NFC West with a 12-4 record. Seattle fell to New England, 28-24, in Super Bowl XLIX in Glendale, Ariz., in a season that saw it begin 3-3 but finish the season with a 9-1 record and the No. 1 seed in the NFC for the second consecutive season.

The Seahawks also became the fourth team in NFL history to lead the league in the fewest points and yards allowed in back-to-back seasons (2013- 14), and first since the 1985-86 Chicago Bears. The Seahawks led the league in defense for the second straight year while the offense had the No. 1-ranked rushing attack with a franchise-record 2,762 yards and ranked in the top-10 in offense (ninth overall) for the first time since the 2007 season.

In 2013, Carroll led Seattle to its first Super Bowl title in franchise history with a resounding 43-8 victory over the Denver Broncos in Super Bowl XLVIII in New York/New Jersey on February 2, 2014, after a franchise-best 13-3 regular season record, and joined Jimmy Johnson and Barry Switzer as the only coaches to win a college football national title and a Super Bowl in their career.

Carroll and Seattle General Manager John Schneider constructed one of the best defenses in the last 12 years at the time, leading them to the NFL title. The Seahawks defense ranked first overall in the NFL in total defense (273.6 ypg), passing defense (172.0 ypg), points allowed (14.4 ppg), takeaways (39), interceptions (28), turnover differential (+20) and opponent quarterback rating (63.4).

The youngest Super Bowl-winning roster in NFL history (26 years, 162 days) was led by second-year QB Russell Wilson, who became the third youngest quarterback to win the title game (25 years, 65 days).

In 2012, Carroll led Seattle to the NFC Divisional Playoff, posting the fourth-best record in franchise history (11-5). Seattle won its first postseason road game since 1983 with a Wild Card Game victory at Washington.

One of the youngest teams in the NFL to end the season for the second-consecutive year (second overall, third-youngest defensive starters, fourth-youngest offensive starters), Seattle started 4-4 but went on to finish the season 7-1 led by the rookie Wilson and the league's fourth-ranked defense, that also led the league allowing 245 points (15.3 ppg).

Carroll's 2011 squad also ranked as one of the youngest in the NFL, beginning the season with the second-youngest roster in Week 1, once having the third-youngest offensive line during the season and ending the year with the second-youngest starting defensive unit in the league.

He saw his 2011 defense improve weekly, ending the season ranked ninth in the league in total defense, just the sixth time Seattle had boasted a top-10 defense and first since 1997. His offense switched gears from a quick strike, no-huddle group to a grind-it-out ground game led by RB Marshawn Lynch over the last half of the season. That offensive mentality helped Seattle rank fifth in the NFL with 1,212 rush yards over the last nine games of the season.

Always competing, the Seahawks jumped out to a 4-2 record to begin the 2010 season and parlayed that into the club's fifth NFC West title in the past seven seasons, punctuating the season with a 41-36 victory over the defending Super Bowl Champion New Orleans Saints at Lumen Field in the Wild Card Game.

Carroll returned to the NFL after spending nine years (2001-09) as head coach at USC, where he won seven consecutive Pac-10 titles (2002-08), two national championships (2003-04) and led the Trojans to a 97-19 (.836) record. He reached a bowl in each of his nine seasons and won seven of those contests. His 88 victories from 2001 to 2008 tied Bob Pruett of Marshall for most by a Division I coach in their first eight seasons since 1900 (Penn's George Woodruff - 102). He reached 50 career USC wins faster than any head coach in Trojans history. From 2002-08, his teams appeared in an NCAA-record seven consecutive BCS bowls, recorded at least 11 victories seven times (an NCAA record) and finished ranked in the AP top-four each year. USC was the AP's No. 1 team for a national-record 33 straight polls (including two preseason polls) and was ranked in the AP Top-10 for a school-record 63 consecutive games. His teams were ranked in the AP Top-25 for 102 consecutive games, a school record. In 2009, he was named Coach of the Decade by Lindy's.

Also under Carroll, USC was the first school to have three Heisman Trophy winners in a four-year span (QB Carson Palmer, QB Matt Leinart, RB Reggie Bush). He also coached winners of the Walter Camp, Chuck Bednarik, Johnny Unitas, Doak Walker and John Mackey Awards. Carroll produced 34 All-American first-teamers and 53 NFL draft picks (including 14 first rounders, with a No. 1 selection in Palmer and a No. 2 pick in Bush). His USC program had the nation's most draftees in 2006, 2008 and 2009.

USC posted a 12-1 record in 2008 and advanced to its fourth consecutive Rose Bowl, defeating Penn State, 38-24, to become the first team to win three straight Rose Bowls. In the polls, the Trojans finished ranked second by USA Today and third by AP. USC finished first in scoring defense (9.8 ppg, its finest in 41 years), surrendering just 14 touchdowns in 2008.

In 2007, USC went 11-2 and finished second in the USA Today poll and third in the AP poll, for its sixth-straight AP Top-4 ranking. USC's 49-17 win over Illinois in the Rose Bowl equaled the most points ever in the bowl game. Five players were named All-American first-team selections.

USC posted an 11-2 mark in 2006, finished No. 4 in the final polls and shared the Pac-10 title at 7-2 to capture an unprecedented fifth straight conference crown. Five Trojans were All-American first-teamers and Carroll was named the Pac-10 Coach of the Year for the third time.

Carroll's Trojans held AP's No. 1 ranking for the entire regular season in 2005. USC went 12-1 overall to advance to the BCS Championship Game in the Rose Bowl. The Trojans, who finished second in both polls, boasted a school-record six All-American first-team selections, including Heisman Trophy-winning tailback Bush. He was the 2005 Pac-10 Co-Coach of the Year, as well as the American Football Coaches Association Division I-A Region 5 Coach of the Year.

In 2004, he guided No. 1-ranked USC to its second consecutive national championship with a convincing win over Oklahoma in the BCS Championship Game in the Orange Bowl. USC became only the second team ever to hold its AP preseason No. 1 ranking all the way through a season. It was only the 10th time that a team won back-to-back AP crowns. His team was 13-0, setting a program record for wins, and went 8-0 in the Pac-10. A school-record six Trojans were named All-American first-team.

In 2003, the Trojans won the AP national championship, its first national crown since 1978, and entered the Rose Bowl also ranked No. 1 in the USA Today/ESPN poll. USC was 12-1 overall and finished the season ranked second. USC's 534 points set a Pac-10 record. Five Trojans were first-team All-Americans. Carroll was named the 2003 American Football Coaches Association Division I-A Coach of the Year, Home Depot National Coach of the Year, Maxwell Club College Coach of the Year, ESPN.com National Coach of the Year, Pigskin Club of Washington D.C. Coach of the Year and All-American Football Foundation Frank Leahy Co-Coach of the Year. He also was named the Pac-10 Co-Coach of the Year.

In 2002, USC posted its first 11-win season since 1979 and obtained its highest ranking (No. 4) since 1988. Heisman Trophy-winning QB Palmer and S Troy Polamalu were named first-team All-Americans.

Carroll was named USC's head football coach on December 15, 2000, and in his first season, led the Trojans to the Las Vegas Bowl and a 6-6 record.

Carroll began his NFL career as defensive backs coach for Buffalo (1984) and Minnesota (1985-89) before becoming the New York Jets' defensive coordinator (1990-93) and head coach (1994). He spent two years as San Francisco's defensive coordinator (1995-96), leading the league in total defense in 1995, before leading New England to a 27-21 record and two playoff appearances as head coach (1997-99).

Carroll spent the 2000 season as a consultant for pro and college teams, doing charitable work for the NFL and writing a column on pro football for CNNSI.com.

He began his coaching career at the collegiate level, serving as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Pacific, for three years (1974-76), working with the wide receivers and secondary. He then spent a season as a graduate assistant working with the secondary at Arkansas (1977) under Lou Holtz, helping the Razorbacks win the 1978 Orange Bowl, and then a season each as an assistant in charge of the secondary at Iowa State (1978) and at Ohio State (1979). He spent the following three seasons (1980-82) as the defensive coordinator and secondary coach at North Carolina State, before returning to Pacific in 1983 as the assistant head coach and offensive coordinator.

Carroll was a two-time (1971-72) All-Pacific Coast Conference free safety at Pacific and earned his bachelor's degree in business administration in 1973. He received his secondary teaching credential and master's degree in physical education from Pacific in 1976. He was inducted into the Pacific Athletic Hall of Fame in 1995. In May of 2022, Carroll received an honorary doctorate degree from the university.

He was a three-sport (football, basketball and baseball) standout at Redwood High School in Larkspur, Calif., earning the school's Athlete of the Year award as a senior. He played quarterback, wide receiver and defensive back on the football team. He was inducted into the inaugural Redwood High School Athletic Hall of Fame in 2009. He then played football at Marin Junior College in Kentfield, Calif., from 1969-70 before transferring to Pacific.

CARROLL

Carroll's passion for working with people goes beyond the football field and into the community. Throughout his career he founded and championed philanthropic efforts in Seattle, Los Angeles, and across the nation.

While at USC, he started A Better L.A., and in Seattle he created A Better Seattle. Both work with community-based street outreach teams serving youth impacted by gangs and the juvenile justice system.

Carroll also spearheaded efforts to bring the youth empowerment and education program WE Day to the United States, resulting in WE Day being held across the country.

In 2020, Carroll hosted the podcast "Flying Coach,'' along with Steve Kerr, world champion head coach of the NBA's Warriors, combining sports with social justice issues.

In 2021, Carroll launched the award-winning podcast "Amplify Voices: Conversations from the Heart," spotlighting some of the most inspiring and influential voices today, as well as imparting Carroll's legacy of caring leadership. Today, Carroll continues his philanthropic efforts by supporting organizations and causes addressing social justice and education.

Carroll was born on September 15 in San Francisco. He and his wife, Glena, have three children and eight grandchildren.

2024	Chicago Bears	Wide Receivers/ Interim Offensive Coordinator
2025	Las Vegas Raiders	Wide Receivers

Chris Beatty enters his first season with the Las Vegas Raiders as the wide receivers coach, bringing with him four seasons of NFL coaching experience and 15 seasons of college experience.

In 2024, Beatty served as the wide receivers coach for the Chicago Bears, where he mentored WR DJ Moore who accumulated 966 yards on a career high 98 catches with six touchdowns. He was promoted to interim offensive coordinator for the final five games of the season.

Prior to Chicago, Beatty spent three seasons as a wide receivers coach for the Los Angeles Chargers. During the 2021-23 seasons, Beatty's group led all AFC receiving corps with 1,337 receptions. The wide receiver core had combined for 14,117 receiving yards under Beatty, ranking second in the conference.

In 2023, the Chargers ranked first in targets (613) and first in targets per game (36.1). The Chargers 4,312 total receiving yards also ranked ninth in the NFL. WR Keenan Allen set a career-high and a franchise record in receptions (108), for a total of 1,243 receiving yards. He ranked third amongst all NFL receivers in yards per game (95.6).

In 2022, Beatty helped the Chargers offense rank third in passing offense (269.6 net passing yards per game) and ninth in total offense (359.3 total net yards per game). They set a single-season NFL record by featuring six players, including four receivers — Allen, DeAndre Carter, Joshua Palmer and Mike Williams — with at least 500 receiving yards and three touchdown receptions.

In 2021, the Chargers offense ranked fourth in the NFL in total offense (390.2 net yards per game) and first the AFC in passing offense (282.4 net passing yards per game). The offense ranked fifth in the league in third-down efficiency (45.2 percent) and led the NFL with 22 fourth down conversions and seven two-point conversions. Williams had a breakout season under Beatty, setting career highs in catches (76) and receiving yards (1,146) while hauling in nine touchdowns. Meanwhile, Allen recorded 106 receptions for 1,138 yards and six touchdowns, en route to his fifth-straight Pro Bowl. That also marked Allen's fifth-straight season with at least 95 catches, the second-longest streak in NFL history. Beatty helped develop Palmer as a rookie, as he finished with four touchdowns, including three in the fourth quarter, ranking second among all rookie wide receivers.

Beatty served as wide receivers coach at the University of Pittsburgh from 2019-20. On top of developing premier talent on the perimeter for the Panthers' offense, Beatty held a prominent role in Pittsburgh's recruiting efforts.

In 2019, Beatty coached WRs Maurice Ffrench and Taysir Mack to combine for the most receptions by a pair of receivers in the Atlantic Coast Conference (159). With the help of Beatty, French's 96 catches broke former Arizona Cardinals wide receiver Larry Fitzgerald's single season school record. Beatty also recruited and developed future Biletnikoff Award-winning WR Jordan Addison.

Prior to Pittsburgh, Beatty spent three seasons (2016-18) at the University of Maryland, working with the wide receivers and handling associate head coach and co-offensive coordinator responsibilities over his final two seasons in College Park. During his time with the Terrapins, Beatty was integral in the development of eventual first-round draft selection, DJ Moore, who was named 2017 Big Ten Wide Receiver of the Year. On the recruiting landscape, Beatty's presence helped Maryland secure top 30 nationally ranked recruiting classes in both 2017 and 2018.

Beatty spent the 2015 season as assistant head coach/running backs at the University of Virginia, where helped coach RB Taquan Mizzell to total nearly 1,500 scrimmage yards for the Cavaliers.

From 2013-14, Beatty coached wide receivers at the University of Wisconsin. He added recruiting coordinator responsibilities for his second year in Madison, Wis. In those two seasons, the Badgers won 20 games and appeared in New Year's Day bowl games to cap each season. The 2014 Wisconsin team went 11-3, won the Big Ten West and defeated Auburn in the Outback Bowl. He also coached future NFL wide receivers Jared Abbrederis and Alex Erickson.

Prior to Wisconsin, he went to the University of Illinois, serving as co-offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach for the Fighting Illini for one season in 2012. Beatty spent the 2011 season at Vanderbilt University as wide receivers coach/recruiting coordinator, helping tutor future second-round draft choice WR Jordan Matthews.

From 2008-10, Beatty coached running backs and wide receivers at West Virginia University. Beatty tutored RB Noel Devine to accumulate over 3,600 rushing yards in their three years together. Over his final two seasons with the Mountaineers, Beatty developed and instructed WR Tavon Austin, who was the eventual No. 8 overall selection in the 2013 NFL Draft.

Beatty then spent one season (2007) as the running backs coach at Northern Illinois University, working alongside former Chargers head coach Brandon Staley when he was a graduate assistant for the Huskies. Beatty coached running back Justin Anderson to total 1,245 rushing yards that season. His first opportunity as a college coach came in 2006, serving as offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Hampton University. In Beatty's lone season with the Pirates, the team posted a 10-2 record and won the Mideastern Atlantic Conference to secure a Football Championship Subdivision playoff berth. His offense averaged 34.2 points per game, ranking seventh in the FCS. Hampton's 2006 team featured six players that eventually earned NFL contracts.

Beatty broke into coaching as the head coach at three Virginia high schools — North Stafford High (1998-2000), Salem High (2001-02) and Landstown High (2003-05). In those eight seasons, his teams combined for a 78-18 record. At Landstown, Beatty led the Eagles to three straight state championship game appearances, winning the Virginia 3A State Championship in 2004 with future NFL wide receiver Percy Harvin III. He was named Virginia 3A Coach of the Year following that season, after coaching Landstown to a 14-0 record and a No. 9 national ranking.

PERSONAL: A native of Centreville, Va., Beatty played wide receiver for four seasons (1991-94) at East Tennessee State, ending his career as the program's all-time leader in receiving yards (1,813). He earned All-Southern Conference honors as a senior and graduated with a bachelor's degree in the spring of 1995. Beatty then went on to play in the Canadian Football League, signing with the CFL-expansion Baltimore Stallions in 1995. Two seasons later, he signed with the Hamilton Tiger-Cats before retiring and beginning his coaching career. Beatty and his wife, Kris, have a son, Aaron.

Bob Bicknell joins the Raiders in 2025 as a senior offensive assistant, bringing with him 31 years of coaching experience, including 16 seasons in the NFL coaching ranks.

Bicknell comes to the Silver and Black after spending the 2024 season with the New England Patriots as the tight ends coach. Bicknell led a tight end unit that combined for 113 receptions for 1,170 yards (10.4 avg.) and five touchdowns in 2024. New England's unit ranked fifth in receptions and sixth in receiving yards among tight end units in the NFL. Bicknell's tight end group was led by TE Hunter Henry, who finished the season with 66 receptions for 674 receiving yards (10.2 avg.) and two touchdowns. Among tight ends in the NFL, his 66 receptions ranked tight for sixth and his 674 receiving yards ranked eighth.

Before his time in New England, Bicknell spent two seasons with the New Orleans Saints (2022-23) as a senior offensive assistant under Dennis Allen. Over his two seasons with the team, the Saints offense averaged 335.5 total yards per game, the 16th most in the NFL over that span. The Saints offense also scored 20.7 points per game over Bicknell's two seasons with the team, the 16th best mark in the league.

From 2018-20, Bicknell served as wide receivers coach of the Cincinnati Bengals, where he was instrumental in the development of a pair of young wideouts in Tyler Boyd and Tee Higgins. Bicknell's tutelage in his first season in Cincinnati in 2018 helped Boyd make a big jump in his third campaign, when he finished with 76 receptions for 1,028 yards and seven touchdowns – the first 1,000-yard season of his career. A second round draft pick out of Clemson in 2020, Higgins finished his rookie season under Bicknell with 67 receptions for 908 yards and six touchdowns – his 67 catches tying a Bengals rookie record at the time.

Prior to his arrival in Cincinnati, Bicknell spent the 2017 season as the wide receivers coach at Baylor University, where he helped sophomore Denzel Mims to career-highs in catches (61), receiving yards (1087) and TDs (eight) – a receiver that was a second-round draft pick (NYJ) just two years later.

Bicknell served as wide receivers coach for four seasons under Head Coach Chip Kelly with the San Francisco 49ers (2016) and Philadelphia Eagles (2013-15). In San Francisco in 2016, Bicknell helped WR Jeremy Kerley logged career highs in receptions (64) and TDs (three). During his Eagles tenure (2013-15), Bicknell was a part of an Eagles offensive unit that set franchise records in points, touchdowns, passing yards, completions, and completion percentage during his time with the team. In 2015, Bicknell coached a receiving corps that became just the third group in Eagles franchise history to feature three players with 50-or-more receptions in the same season, after accomplishing the same feat in 2014. Second-year WR Jordan Matthews had 85 receptions, which tied for the fourth-most in Eagles single-season history, and led the team with 997 receiving yards and eight touchdowns.

In 2014, Bicknell helped WR Jeremy Maclin, who suffered a torn ACL in training camp a year prior, return to the field and establish career highs in receptions (85), receiving yards (1,318) and touchdowns (10) en route to his first career Pro Bowl selection. Additionally, under Bicknell's watch in 2014, Matthews went on to rank second all-time among Eagles rookies in receptions (67), receiving yards (872) and receiving touchdowns (eight). In 2013 WR DeSean Jackson set career highs in receptions (82) and receiving yards (1,332), and tied his career high with nine touchdowns as he was selected to his third Pro Bowl under Bicknell. Fellow WR Riley Cooper set career-highs in receiving yards (835) and touchdowns (eight).

From 2010-12, Bicknell was on the Buffalo Bills' coaching staff, serving as tight ends coach from 2010-11 and wide receivers coach in 2012. In 2012 he helped WR Stevie Johnson to his third consecutive 1,000-yard receiving season as he led the team with 79 receptions for 1,046 yards and six touchdowns. In 2011, Bicknell coached TE Scott Chandler, who caught six touchdowns, tying the franchise record for a tight end in a single season.

Prior to his arrival in Buffalo, Bicknell spent the previous three years with the Kansas City Chiefs as the tight ends coach (2009), offensive line coach (2008) and assistant offensive line coach (2007). His 2009 tight end unit was led by TE Tony Moeaki, who finished with 47 catches (t-14th among TEs) for 556 yards (15th among TEs) and three touchdowns. In 2008, Bicknell's offensive line paved the way for a rushing offense that ranked tied for the AFC lead with 4.8 yards per carry while Chiefs G Brian Waters earned the fourth Pro Bowl selection of his career.

Before joining NFL coaching, Bicknell served as the offensive line coach at Temple University in 2006. Prior to his time at Temple, he spent eight years in NFL Europe (1998- 2005), including stints as the offensive coordinator/offensive line coach for the Cologne Centurions (2004-05) and Berlin Thunder (2001-03). During his time in Europe, Bicknell won three consecutive World Bowls as part of the coaching staff of the Thunder (2000-01) and Frankfurt Galaxy (1999). In 2002, Bicknell oversaw a Berlin offense that led the league with 3,704 yards from scrimmage and 2,667 passing yards. The offense was anchored by Brian Waters, who was a guard on the Thunder's offensive line at the time. In his first season as offensive coordinator, Bicknell's unit ranked second in the league with 3,243 yards from scrimmage on the way to the team's second straight World Bowl title in 2001.

Bicknell began his coaching career at Boston University, where coached for five years (1993-97), coaching safeties (1993), running backs (1994) and linebackers (1995-97).

PERSONAL: A native of Holliston, Mass., Bicknell was a three-year letterman as a tight end at Boston College (1989-91)...He comes from a football family, as his father, Jack, was the head coach at Boston College from 1981-90 and spent 13 seasons as a head coach in NFL Europe before retiring in 2007...His Brother, Jack Jr., is currently the offensive line coach at West Virginia University...Bicknell and his wife, Stacey, have two children – Gabriella and Grace.

BRENNAN CARROLL

RUN GAME COORDINATOR / OFFENSIVE LINE

7th season in NFL | 1st season with Raiders

COACHING BACKGROUND

Years	College/Pro Team	Position Coached
2002-03	USC	Graduate Assistant
2004-09	USC	Recruiting Coordinator/Tight Ends
2011-14	Miami	Recruiting Coordinator/TEs and WRs
2015-20	Seattle Seahawks	Run Game Coordinator/Offensive Line
2021-23	University of Arizona	Offensive Coordinator/Offensive Line
2024	University of Washington	Offensive Coordinator/Offensive Line
2025	Las Vegas Raiders	Run Game Coordinator/Offensive Line

Brennan Carroll enters his first season with the Raiders as the run game coordinator/offensive line coach, bringing 22 years of coaching experience to the post.

Carroll most recently served as the offensive coordinator/offensive line coach with University of Washington in 2024. In his lone season with the Huskies, Carroll led an offense that ranked fifth in the Big Ten in passing yards per game (261.7) and sixth in total yards per game (390.5). He also helped mentor RB Jonah Coleman as he earned third team All-Big Ten honors after rushing for a career-high 1,053 yards with 10 touchdowns. Coleman's 81.0 rushing yards per game ranked sixth-best in the conference.

Prior to his time at Washington, Carroll held the same title with the University of Arizona for two seasons (2021-23). In 2023, Carroll's offense finished eighth in the nation in passing yards per game (308.3), sixth in total passing touchdowns (36) and 20th in total yards per game (448). Additionally, the Wildcats offense ranked in the top 10 in the nation in third down conversion percentage (49.1 – sixth), completion percentage (71.6 – sixth), and saw LT Jordan Morgan selected in the first round (25th overall) in the 2024 NFL Draft.

Carroll tutored QB Noah Fifita as he won the Pac-12 Freshman Offensive Player of the Year award after finishing fourth in the FBS with a 73.6 completion percentage, best among freshmen QB nationally, and his 23 pass touchdowns tied for the most of any FBS freshman. He also saw WR Tetairoa McMillan earn All-Pac-12 second team honors after finishing fifth in the nation in receiving yards (1,402), while WR Jacob Cowing tied for the sixth-most touchdown receptions (13) in the FBS.

In 2022, Carroll orchestrated an offense that finished ranked sixth in the country in passing yards per game (318.4). Under his guidance, QB Jayden de Laura threw for 3,685 yards and 25 touchdowns, which ranked sixth and third respectively in program history for a season. He also saw WR Dorian Singer post a breakout year after recording career-highs with 66 receptions, 1,105 yards and six touchdowns. Cowing finished with 1,034 yards (4th in Pac-12) on 85 receptions (1st in Pac-12), marking the first wide receiver duo in program history to each record 1,000-plus yards in a single season. Carroll's offense saw a 76-place improvement in scoring from the previous season, going from 124th to 48th nationally.

In his first season at Arizona, Carroll helped guide WR Stanley Berryhill III and OL Josh McCauley to All-Pac-12 honorable mention honors. Berryhill recorded a team-leading 83 receptions and 744 yards, while McCauley started every game at center and earned the highest Pro Football Focus rating among Arizona's offensive linemen.

Carroll entered the NFL coaching ranks with the Seattle Seahawks, working alongside his father and current Raiders head coach, Pete Carroll, as the run game coordinator/offensive line from 2015-20.

The Seahawks' offense was among the NFL's best during Carroll's time in Seattle, with the team ranked among the top five in rushing in three different seasons (2015, 2018, 2019) and first in rushing offense in the NFL in 2018. Offensive players on Seattle's roster made 11 trips to the Pro Bowl during Carroll's tenure with the Seahawks, led by QB Russell Wilson's five appearances. The franchise posted an overall record of 61-33 in those six seasons with five playoff appearances.

In 2020, the Seahawks clinched the NFC West with a 12-4 record and finished the season ranked in the top 10 in rushing yards per attempt (6th – 4.8) and points per game (8th –28.7), while scoring the most points in a season in franchise history (459).

In 2019, Seattle earned a spot in the Wild Card round for the second-straight year after the offense ranked fourth in rushing yards per game (137.5). Carroll worked with an offensive line that saw LT Duane Brown and G Mike Iupati be named Pro Bowl alternates as they paved the way for RB Chris Carson to rush for a career-high 1,230 yards, which ranked fifth in the NFL.

In 2018, Seattle earned a Wildcard Playoff berth after leading the league in rushing yards with 2,560 yards. Carroll helped Brown earn second-team All-Pro honors, while Carson become the Seahawks first 1,000-yard rusher since 2014. The Seahawks also became the fourth team in NFL history to have a 1,000-yard rusher and three 300-yard rushers (RB Mike Davis, RB Rashaad Penny and QB Russell Wilson), becoming the first team to do so since the 2001 Steelers.

In 2017, the Seahawks finished with a 9-7 record and ranked 15th in total offense per game (330.4) and 23rd in rushing yards per contest (101.8). Wilson led the team with 586 rushing yards on 95 attempts (6.17 avg.) and three rushing touchdowns.

In 2016, Seattle clinched the NFC West with a 10-5 record and finished ranked 12th in the league in total offense (357.2). Carroll aided a run game that saw RBs Christine Michael and Thomas Rawls combine for nine rushing touchdowns.

In his first season in 2015, Carroll aided the league's third-ranked rushing attack with 141.8 yards per game and fourth-ranked offense (378.6 yards per game).

Prior to the NFL, Carroll spent four seasons serving as the tight ends and wide receivers coach, as well as handling recruiting coordinator duties, for the University of Miami from 2011-2014. The Hurricanes had three recruiting classes ranked in the top 15 nationally during those seasons, and WR Phillip Dorsett was drafted in the first round (29th overall) in the 2015 NFL Draft.

Carroll's coaching career began at USC where he spent the 2002 and 2003 seasons as a graduate assistant before being elevated to the Trojans' tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator for six seasons (2004-09). He coached the 2007 Mackey Award winner Fred Davis, as well as Dominique Byrd, who was selected in the third round of the 2006 NFL Draft. During his time at USC, the Trojans won 91 games, won four Rose Bowls and defeated Oklahoma in the national championship game in the 2005 Orange Bowl.

PERSONAL: A native of Columbus, Ohio, Carroll played tight end in college for Pittsburgh (1999-2001) and Delaware (1997)...Earned his bachelor's degree in social sciences...He and his wife, Amber, have three children.

NATE CARROLL

ASSISTANT QUARTERBACKS, GAME MANAGEMENT

15th season in NFL | 1st season with Raiders

COACHING BACKGROUND

Years	College/Pro Team	Position Coached
2011-12	Seattle Seahawks	Defensive Assistant
2013	Seattle Seahawks	Offensive Assistant
2014-17	Seattle Seahawks	Assistant Wide Receivers
2018-21	Seattle Seahawks	Wide Receivers
2022-23	Seattle Seahawks	Senior Offensive Assistant
2024	Carolina Panthers	Passing Game Coordinator
2025	Las Vegas Raiders	Assistant Quarterbacks, Game Management

Nate Carroll joins the Las Vegas Raiders in 2025 as assistant quarterbacks coach/game management, bringing with him 14 years of coaching experience in the NFL.

Before joining the Raiders, Carroll served as the pass game coordinator with the Carolina Panthers in 2024, overseeing a young passing attack that included three rookies as the only team in the NFL with three players in the top-15 of rookie receiving yards with efforts from WR Xavier Legette (497), WR Jalen Coker (478) and TE Ja'Tavion Sanders (342). Sanders also surpassed Ian Thomas for the most receiving yards (342) by a rookie tight end in Panthers history and finished second among rookie tight ends in the NFL in catches (33) and receiving yards. Under Carroll, QB Bryce Young recorded a career-high 21 total touchdowns after starting in just 12 games.

Carroll spent 13 seasons (2011-23) with the Seattle Seahawks before his stint in Carolina, serving in various roles on both sides of the ball. Over his time in Seattle, Carroll was part of a coaching staff that helped the organization to nine playoff appearances, two NFL Championships and a Super Bowl XLVIII title. Carroll spent the majority of his Seahawks tenure working with wide receivers (2014-21), first as the assistant wide receivers coach from 2014-17, then as the wide receivers coach from 2018-21. Over his eight seasons overseeing receivers, three different players logged 1,000-yard seasons, Doug Baldwin (2015, 2016), Tyler Lockett (2019, 2020, 2021) and DK Metcalf (2020). Lockett joined Steve Largent as the second player in franchise history with three-straight 1,000-yard receiving seasons.

In 2023 as a senior offensive assistant, Carroll was part of an offense that averaged 5.5 yards per play, the 11th best mark in the NFL. The team also ranked fifth in the league in fewest giveaways (17), aided by only losing five fumbles (t-2nd in the NFL). Seattle's receiving core was led by Metcalf, who recorded his second-consecutive 1,000-yard season (1,114) as he became the the third player in NFL history to reach 50 receptions, 900 yards and five touchdowns in each of his first five seasons (A.J. Green, Randy Moss).

In 2020 as the wide receivers coach, Carroll saw WR Tyler Lockett and WR DK Metcalf etch their names in the club's record books after becoming the second pair of 1,000-yard receivers in Seahawks history (Brian Blades and Joey Galloway in 1995). Lockett set a team record with 100 catches and 1,054 yards, the sixth player in club history to register back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons. Metcalf was voted to the Pro Bowl and named to the Associated Press All-Pro Team (second team), after setting a club record for most receiving yards in a season with 1,303. The duo also gave Seattle two receivers with 10-plus touchdowns in a season for the second time in franchise history (Steve Largent and Daryl Turner in 1984).

In 2019, Carroll's unit was led by Lockett and Metcalf - his rookie season. Lockett set a career-high with 1,057 yards and became the eighth player in franchise history to record a 1,000-yard season. Metcalf moved directly in to the starting lineup and recorded the second-most receptions (58) by a rookie in franchise history and his receptions and 900 yards ranked second and third, respectively, in the NFL among rookie wide receivers.

In his first year leading wide receivers in 2018, Lockett led the group in catches (57), yards (965) and touchdowns (10, 6th NFL), while Doug Baldwin was second on the team with 50 catches for 618 yards. When Lockett was targeted, Seattle's QB Russell Wilson was 57 for 70 (81.4%) for 965 yards with 10 touchdowns and zero interceptions, good for a perfect 158.3 passer rating, a feat last accomplished in the 2009 season.

From 2014-17, Carroll served as assistant wide receivers coach, assisting with a unit led by Doug Baldwin, who led the team in catches and receiving yards for four straight seasons (2014-17). Baldwin also notched back-to-back Pro Bowl selections in 2016 and 2017. Under Carroll, Baldwin recorded back-to-back seasons with 1,000+ receiving yards, becoming the fifth player in franchise history to accomplish the feat and just the first 1,000-yard receiver for the Seahawks since 2007 (Bobby Engram).

Carroll moved to a new role in 2013 as an offensive assistant, working alongside wide receivers coach Kippy Brown during Seattle's Super Bowl XLVIII winning season. Seattle's receiving group under Brown and Carroll helped Wilson become the first quarterback in NFL history with a 100-plus passer rating in each of his first two seasons (2012-13).

In his first two seasons (2011-12) on the Seahawks coaching staff as a defensive assistant, Carroll's primary responsibilities included video study of opponents, self-scouting, playbook production and assisting several coaches, including defensive coordinator Gus Bradley.

PERSONAL: A graduate of USC, he earned his degree in psychology in 2010. Carroll was a three-sport star at Peninsula High in Palos Verdes, Calif., earning Athlete of the Year honors in 2006, passing on playing college football to attend USC. Born on March 24, 1987, in Edina, Minn., Nate is the youngest son of head coach Pete Carroll. Married to Anna, the couple has two sons.

2025	Las Vegas Raiders	Assistant Offensive Line

Andy Dickerson enters his 20th season in the NFL and first season as assistant offensive line coach with the Las Vegas Raiders.

Dickerson most recently was in his second stint with the Browns, serving as the team's offensive line coach in 2024. Last season, he assisted an offensive line that paved the way for RB Jerome Ford to lead the team with 565 rushing yards and tied with RB Nick Chubb for the team lead with three rushing touchdowns.

Prior to Cleveland, Dickerson spent three seasons with the Seattle Seahawks, first as run game coordinator in 2021 and then as offensive line coach from 2022-23. During his tenure in Seattle, the Seahawks ranked fourth in the NFL with 4.67 rushing yards per attempt.

In 2023, Seattle's offensive line blocked for a rushing attack that averaged 4.1 yards per carry. RB Kenneth Walker III finished with 905 rushing yards and eight touchdowns. The offensive line protected QB Geno Smith, who earned his second consecutive Pro Bowl nod after passing for 3,624 yards and 20 touchdowns, while tying a Seahawks franchise record with five game-winning drives.

In 2022, Dickerson led an offensive line that started rookie offensive tackles in Charles Cross and Abraham Lucas. Cross and Lucas became the first rookie duo to start a team's first 15 games at tackle since the 1970 merger. Dickerson's unit helped protect Smith who was named to the Pro Bowl and the AP Comeback Player of the Year. Seattle's rushing attack finished seventh in the NFL in yards per rush (4.80) and ended the season averaging 176.0 yards per game the final three weeks (second in the NFL). Walker III led all rookie runners in attempts (228), yards (1,050) and rushing touchdowns (9).

In 2021, he helped guide Seattle's running game to the third best mark in the NFL in rushing yards per attempt (5.02). The Seahawks ground attack finished strong as RB Rashaad Penny led the NFL with 671 yards rushing over the final five games of the season to go along with six touchdowns. Under Dickerson's guidance, T Duane Brown was named to the Pro Bowl for the first time since 2017.

Prior to his stint in Seattle, Dickerson was the assistant offensive line coach for the St. Louis/Los Angeles Rams from 2012-20.

In 2020, the Rams offensive line allowed the sixth-fewest sacks (25) in the NFL. The offensive line paved the way for rookie RB Cam Akers to record 145 carries for 625 yards and two touchdowns, including a 171-yard performance that was the second-most by a Rams running back in franchise history.

In 2019, the offensive line was forced to make adjustments throughout the season due to injury. Despite losing two starters, the unit went on to not allow a sack in a franchise-best six games while also allowing the fewest sacks in the league (22).

In 2018, Dickerson assisted a Rams' offensive line that saw the same starting five for all 16 games and three postseason games during Los Angeles' run to Super Bowl LIII. QB Jared Goff was provided time to throw for career highs in yards (4,688), touchdowns (32) and passer rating (101.1) for the No. 2 ranked offense in the league. For the second consecutive season, the Rams' O-line also ranked in the top 10 for fewest sacks allowed.

In 2017, the offensive line paved the way for one of the biggest offensive turnarounds in NFL history, helping the team improve from the 32nd-ranked scoring offense in 2016 to the league's top-scoring team the following year. RB Todd Gurley II to lead the league in total touchdowns (19) and scrimmage yards (2,093) en route to earning AP Offensive Player of the Year accolades.

Dickerson helped coach an offensive line that protected QB Case Keenum, who set career-highs in attempts, completions, completion percentage, passing yards and passing touchdowns in 2016.

For the third-consecutive year, the Rams boasted one of the NFL's top rookie runners in 2015. The Rams offensive line blocked for Offensive Rookie of the Year and rookie Pro Bowler Gurley to rush for 1,106 yards, which placed him third in the NFL in rushing yards. The Rams finished seventh in the NFL in rushing offense and allowed the fewest sacks in the league (18).

In 2014, St. Louis averaged 102.2 rushing yards per game, while RB Tre Mason finished second among all rookies and led the Rams with 765 rushing yards in 2015.

In 2013, Dickerson assisted an offensive line that allowed only 36 sacks, the eighth lowest total in the NFL. The offense registered their highest scoring average (21.8) since 2006 and were led by RB Zac Stacy who rushed for 973 yards, third-most by a rookie in team history.

In his first season with the Rams, Dickerson helped guide an offensive line that allowed just 35 sacks after giving up 55 the previous year.

Dickerson spent the 2011 season with the New York Jets as a coaching assistant, his second stint with the club after previously working with New York in a defensive quality control/coaching assistant capacity from 2006-08.

He also spent two years with the Cleveland Browns, serving as assistant offensive line coach in 2010 and defensive quality control in 2009.

Dickerson first entered the league with the New England Patriots as an operations assistant/intern over the 2004-05 seasons.

He spent the summer of 2003 as a Washington Commanders training camp intern before joining the offensive staff at Tufts University as a graduate assistant.

PERSONAL: A native of Wilmington, Del., Dickerson was a two-sport athlete at Tufts, playing football and track & field, performing in the shot put, discus and hammer throw.

John Glenn joins the Las Vegas Raiders as the linebackers coach in 2025, bringing with him 13 years of NFL coaching experience.

He most recently served as the assistant special teams coach for the Washington Commanders in 2024.

Prior to the Commanders, Glenn spent 12 seasons with the Seattle Seahawks from 2012-23, serving as the linebackers coach since 2018. He was a member of the Super Bowl XLVIII winning team in 2014.

In his final season in Seattle in 2023, Glenn coached LB Bobby Wagner who led the NFL in tackles (283) and became just the third player in NFL history to record 100-plus tackles in 12 consecutive seasons.

In 2022, Glenn guided LB Jordyn Brooks who transitioned from a weakside linebacker to middle linebacker and led the NFC and was fifth in the NFL with 161 tackles. It is also marked the fourth-most tackles for a single-season in Seahawks history. He also developed LB Cody Barton as he recorded 136 tackles, four tackles for loss, a pair of sacks, six passes defensed and two interceptions.

In 2021, Glenn led a linebacker room that saw Brooks have a breakout campaign, ranking second in the NFL with a franchise-record 183 tackles. Wagner finished with 170 tackles, second most in franchise history, while being selected to his eight consecutive Pro Bowl. Wagner was also named second-team All-Pro.

In 2020, Wagner became the first player in franchise history to record nine consecutive 100-tackle seasons. He was voted to the Pro Bowl for the seventh time and selected to the Associated Press All-Pro first team.

In 2019, Glenn's linebacker core was led by Wagner and K.J. Wright. Wagner recorded the second-most tackles in franchise history with 159 (first in NFL), trailing his own franchise record of 167, while Wright posted a career-high 132 tackles, marking the fifth 100-tackle season of his career.

Glenn served a variety of roles upon joining the Seattle staff in 2012, beginning as a coaching and special teams assistant. He was then promoted to the role of defensive quality control coach the following season and became a defensive assistant before assuming the role of a linebacker's assistant in 2017.

2022-	Las Vegas Raiders	Defensive Coordinator

Patrick Graham enters his fourth season as defensive coordinator with the Silver and Black, bringing with him 16 years of experience in the NFL, including six years as a defensive coordinator.

In his NFL career, Graham has coached in the playoffs in eight seasons, winning seven division titles, two conference championships and one Super Bowl (XLIX).

Last season, Graham oversaw a defense that ranked in the top 15 in total yards allowed per game (333.1), rushing yards allowed per game (116.9) and passing yards allowed per game (216.2). He led a defense that saw 18 different players record at least a half-sack, the most players with at least a half-sack in Raiders history in a single season. LB Robert Spillane had a career year with 158 tackles, third most in the NFL and the most in a single season in team history. DE Maxx Crosby earned his third-straight Pro Bowl selection under Graham's guidance, and fourth overall, after recording 45 tackles, 17 tackles for loss, 7.5 sacks and five passes defensed in only 12 games. Crosby was part of a defensive line unit that recorded 20 passes defensed, the second most in the NFL among D-line units. Graham helped the passing defense allow under 150 net passing yards in five games this season, tied for the third most of such games in the NFL in 2024.

In 2023, Graham oversaw a defensive unit that ranked 9th overall in points allowed per game (19.5), a 17-place improvement from 2022. Similarly, Graham's total defense in 2023 finished 15th in the league after previously holding the 28th spot in 2022. Over the second half of the season, the Raiders defense was one of the best units in the NFL. From Week 9-18, the defense led the NFL in points allowed (16.0), ranked tied for 10th in the NFL in takeaways (14) and ranked tied for third in sacks (30). Under Graham's guidance, DE Maxx Crosby finished the season ranked tied for first in the NFL in tackles for loss (23), sixth in sacks (14.5) and third among NFL defensive lineman in tackles (90), en route to his third-straight Pro Bowl, second-career AP Second Team All-Pro selection and third-consecutive PFWA All-AFC selection. Graham also saw free agent acquisition LB Robert Spillane have a career year with 82 tackles (66), 3.5 sacks, three interceptions, four passes defensed, seven tackles for loss, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery.

In his first season with the Raiders, Graham oversaw a unit that scored three defensive touchdowns, tied for the third-most in the NFL in 2022. His defense ranked 19th in rushing yards allowed per game (122.8) and saw a slight improvement in tackles for loss (68) and stuffs (39) from the 2021 season. Under Graham's guidance, DE Maxx Crosby was named to his second career Pro Bowl after registering career highs in tackles (88), tackles for loss (22) and sacks (12.5). Crosby's 88 tackles are the most in a single season by a Raiders defensive lineman and he became only the second defensive lineman in franchise history to record 20+ tackles for loss in a single season. Graham also aided in the development of several young players who got significant playing time, including undrafted rookie CB Sam Webb, who posted 33 tackles, the fifth-most in the NFL among undrafted rookies. LB Luke Masterson finished with 50 tackles (26 solo), ranking third-most in the NFL among undrafted rookies and second-most in a single season in Raiders' history by an undrafted rookie.

Graham served his second stint with the New York Giants from 2020-21, serving as the club's assistant head coach/defensive coordinator.

In 2021, Graham oversaw a defense that tied for fourth in the league in passes defensed (83), a mark that ranked 12th in franchise history, and tied for 12th in interceptions (15). Graham's defense was effective against the pass, holding teams to 225.8 passing yards per game, which ranked 15th in the NFL.

Under Graham's guidance, the Giants defense improved significantly in 2020, ranking ninth with 357 points allowed, which marked 94 fewer than their total in 2019. The defense was 12th in the NFL by allowing 349.3 yards per game after finishing 27th at 377.3 yards the previous season. It marked the club's best defensive finish since 2016 when they ranked 10th in the league with 339.7 yards a game. Additionally, the Giants defense allowed an average 5.3 yards a play in 2020, the NFL's ninth-lowest figure.

After placing 20th in the NFL in 2019, Graham helped the rushing defense rank 10th 111.4 yards a game and mark a season best since 2016 when they tied for third at 88.6 rushing yards a game. The pass defense improved from 28th in the NFL in 2019 to tie for 16th with 237.9 yards allowed a game, the team's best since 2013 when the Giants allowed 223.3 yards a game and ranked 10th in the league.

Graham saw the Giants record 40 sacks in 2020, their highest total since 2014. DE Leonard Williams led the team with 11.5 sacks, the most by a Giants' player since OLB Jason Pierre-Paul's 14.5 in 2014.

With Graham's direction, veterans ILB Blake Martinez, Pro Bowl CB James Bradberry and S Logan Ryan excelled in their first season in a new defense. Martinez led the Giants and ranked third in the NFL with 151 tackles (86 solo). Bradberry started all 15 games in which he played, leading the team with three interceptions and tied for second in the NFL with 18 passes defensed. Ryan, a cornerback most of his career, started 13 games at safety in Graham's defense and finished second on the team with 92 tackles (67), one sack, one interception, nine passes defensed, three forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries.

Graham earned his first defensive coordinator role with the Miami Dolphins in 2019. He led a unit that had a constantly evolving cast of players because of roster transactions and injuries. The secondary's best player, former first-round draft choice Minkah Fitzpatrick, was traded to Pittsburgh on Sept. 17. CB Xavien Howard played in five games before going on injured reserve with a knee injury. S Reshad Jones, a two-time Pro Bowler, and Bobby McCain appeared in four and nine games, respectively, before they were placed on the injured reserve list on the same day.

Prior to joining the Dolphins, Graham spent the 2018 season as the Green Bay Packers inside linebackers coach and defensive run game coordinator. Under his tutelage, Martinez totaled 144 tackles (91) and a career-high five sacks. Green Bay's defense limited opponents to 4.3 yards per rush, which ranked 13th in the league.

In his first stint with the Giants, Graham coached the defensive line from 2016-17. In 2017, Graham helped Pierre-Paul lead the team with 8.5 sacks and DT Damon Harrison posted 76 tackles, which led all NFL defensive tackles.

In 2016, Graham's unit was instrumental in the Giants defense becoming the most improved in the NFL. The team allowed 158 fewer points and 1,290 fewer yards than it did in 2015. Their 17.8 points per game allowed was second in the NFL and the team's best since 2002.

Graham began his NFL coaching career in New England, where he spent seven seasons with the Patriots (2009-15). He was a coaching assistant in 2009 before being promoted to defensive assistant in 2010 and linebackers coach in 2011. Graham moved to defensive line from 2012-13 before returning to linebackers in 2014-15.

During his tenure in New England, the Patriots won the AFC East title all seven season, the conference championship twice and Super Bowl XLIX. In his five years as a position coach (2011-15), New England led the NFL in takeaways (150) and was tied for fourth in sacks (214).

GRAHAM

Graham's linebacker unit helped the team finish ninth in total yards allowed (339.4) in 2015 and 10th in points allowed (19.7). LB Jamie Collins tied a franchise record with five forced fumbles, earning the first Pro Bowl selection of his career and was named second-team All-Pro.

In 2014 Patriots finished their season with a Super Bowl victory against Seattle. Graham's linebackers helped the team's defense rank eighth in the league in points allowed (19.6) and ninth in rushing yards allowed (104.3) despite LBs Jerod Mayo and Don't'a Hightower missing 14 games combined due to injury. Collins led the team with 115 tackles (74) and also totaled four sacks and four forced fumbles.

Graham worked with the defensive line for the second straight year in 2013. Despite DT Vince Wilfork suffering a season ending injury in Week 4, New England's defense finished fifth in the league in sacks (48) and 10th in points allowed (21.1). The team's five top sack totals all came from defensive linemen, topped by DE Chandler Jones (11.5).

In 2012, Graham helped Wilfork earn his fifth Pro Bowl selection and first-team All-Pro honors, after totaling 59 tackles (41) with three sacks, two forced fumbles and six fumble recoveries. Additionally, Graham helped Rob Ninkovich transitioned from linebacker to defensive end in 2012, while totaling eight sacks.

Graham's first season as a position coach was in 2011 with the linebackers. New England finished with a 13-3 record, winning the AFC Championship. Mayo led the team with 103 tackles (97) and became the first player in franchise history to total 100-plus tackles in each of his first four seasons.
In 2010, Graham served as a defensive assistant with the Patriots, who finished second in the NFL with 38 takeaways and eighth in points allowed (19.6). He began his NFL coaching career in 2009 as a coaching assistant with New England.

Graham joined New England following two seasons (2007-08) as a graduate assistant at Notre Dame, where he worked with the defense. He spent three seasons (2004-06) as an assistant coach at Richmond, mentoring tight ends from 2005-06 and the defensive line in 2004.
Graham began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Wagner (2002-03). He coached the junior varsity team to an undefeated season, while also serving as strength and conditioning coach and academic coordinator.

PERSONAL: Graham played collegiately at Yale, where he was a defensive lineman for the 1999 team that shared an Ivy League title with Brown... He earned a bachelor's degree in sociology with a concentration in economics and African American studies...A native of Waterbury, Conn., Graham and his wife, Pamela, have two children, Morgan and Silas.

DEUCE GRUDEN

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING ASSISTANT

10th season in NFL | 8th season with Raiders

COACHING BACKGROUND

Years	College/Pro Team	Position Coached
2016	Washington Redskins	Strength and Conditioning Intern
2017	Washington Redskins	Strength and Conditioning Assistant
2018-19	Oakland Raiders	Strength and Conditioning Assistant
2020-	Las Vegas Raiders	Strength and Conditioning Assistant

Deuce Gruden enters his 10th season in the NFL and eighth with the Silver and Black as a strength and conditioning assistant.

Gruden works extensively with all position groups throughout the roster with a focus on strength training. His responsibilities also include assisting the athletic training staff in transitioning players back from injury into participation and managing performance data for the team's strength and conditioning staff.

In 2024, Gruden's strength training helped produce two Pro Bowlers in DE Maxx Crosby and rookie TE Brock Bowers. Crosby earned his fourth-straight Pro Bowl selection after leading the team with 7.5 sacks and tying for sixth in the league in tackles for loss (17). Bowers established multiple NFL records after recording the most receiving yards by a rookie tight end (1,194) and the most receptions in a single season by a rookie in NFL history (112). Gruden helped the 2024 rookie draft class successfully transition to the NFL as they combined for 66 starts. T DJ Glaze and G Jackson Powers-Johnson each made 14 starts on the offensive line, with Powers-Johnson earned PFWA All-Rookie honors.

In 2023, Gruden helped DE Maxx Crosby earn his third-straight Pro Bowl selection after finishing with career highs in total tackles (90), TFLs (23) and sacks (14.5). His strength training allowed LB Divine Deablo to start a career-high 15 games and finish second on the team with 105 tackles, while his work with the defensive line aided DE Malcolm Koonce, who registered a career-high eight sacks, and DT John Jenkins, who set career highs in starts (17), tackles (61), tackles for loss (four) and passes defensed (four).

In 2022, Gruden saw five Raiders players make the Pro Bowl in WR Davante Adams, DE Maxx Crosby, RB Josh Jacobs, QB Derek Carr and P AJ Cole. He also assisted in the strength development of four undrafted free agents who made the final 53-man roster, tied for the most over the last 10 seasons by the Raiders and the most since 2019.

In 2021, Gruden helped the Raiders finish with a 10-7 record, earning their first postseason berth since 2016. Gruden also saw the Silver and Black produce four Pro Bowlers in P AJ Cole, DE Maxx Crosby, LB Denzel Perry and WR Hunter Renfrow, marking the first career selection for all four players.

Gruden's assistance in the weight room helped the Raiders produce two Pro Bowlers in 2020, as RB Josh Jacobs and TE Darren Waller each earned the nod for the first time in their careers. Waller set a new club record with 107 receptions and posted career highs in receiving yards (1,196) and touchdowns (nine), while Jacobs surpassed the 1,000-yard mark with 1,065 yards on the ground and a career-high 12 touchdowns.

In 2019, Gruden continued his work with implementing the team's strength and conditioning program and saw T Trent Brown and C Rodney Hudson earn Pro Bowl honors, while G Richie Incognito, FB Alec Ingold, Jacobs and Waller were named as alternates. Gruden also saw the 2019 rookie class combine to lead the NFL in scrimmage touchdowns (17), sacks (14.5), yards after the catch (676), rushing yards (1,167), rushing touchdowns (seven) and rushing first downs (60) among their rookie peers. The Raiders rookies also ranked second in receptions (107) and receiving yards (1,112).

During his first season with the Raiders in 2018, Gruden worked with TE Jared Cook as he earned his first Pro Bowl selection in 2018. Gruden also helped train Hudson and G/T Kelechi Osemele in 2018, who were named Pro Bowl alternates.

Prior to joining the Raiders, Gruden served as a strength and conditioning assistant with the Washington Redskins for two seasons (2016-17). He was promoted as a full-time strength and conditioning coach during the 2017 offseason after initially joining Washington as a strength and conditioning intern during the 2016 season, a year in which the strength staff helped produce five Pro Bowlers.
In addition to his coaching responsibilities, Gruden played an integral role in training athletes at ESPN's Wide World of Sports in Orlando for Jon Gruden's QB Camp, where he led workouts for college players preparing to participate in the NFL Combine.

PERSONAL: Native of Tampa, Fla. ...Earned a master's degree from A.T. Still University in Kinesiology with a focus in corrective exercise...Certified in USA weightlifting coaching and as a Strength and Conditioning Specialist...A competitive powerlifter who won gold at the 2017 International Powerlifting Federation's World Classic Powerlifting Championships in Belarus...Attended Lafayette University where he earned a degree in biology, while also playing running back for the Leopards from 2012-15.

COACHING BACKGROUND

Years	College/Pro Team	Position Coached
2021	Miami Dolphins	Defensive Assistant
2022	Houston Texans	Assistant Defensive Line
2025	Las Vegas Raiders	Assistant Defensive Line

Kenyon Jackson enters his first season as the assistant defensive line coach for the Las Vegas Raiders in 2025. He joins the Silver and Black after spending the 2022 season as the assistant defensive line coach with the Houston Texans.

In 2022, the Texans' defense tied for fourth in the NFL with 49 sacks. Under Jackson's guidance, DL Jerry Hughes finished with 9.0 sacks, 10 tackles for loss and two fumble recoveries, all of which were team highs. Hughes' three contests with multiple sacks ranked as the fifth-most multi-sack games in the league. Jackson also helped DL Ogbo Okoronkwo register career highs in tackles (44), tackles for loss (nine) and sacks (five).

Prior to his time in Houston, Jackson served as the assistant defensive line coach for the Miami Dolphins in 2021. That season, he saw the Dolphins record the fifth-most sacks in the league (48.0), tie for ninth in forced fumbles (14) and rank tied for 13th in rushing yards allowed per game (109.8). DT Christian Wilkins tied for first among all NFL defensive linemen with 89 tackles, marking the highest total by a Dolphins defensive lineman since 1993. DL Emmanuel Ogbah also posted a career-high 12 passes defensed, the most by an NFL defensive lineman since 2016.

PERSONAL: Native of Little Rock, Ark...Played four seasons (2016-19) as a defensive tackle at the University of Illinois, where he appeared in 31 career games and recorded 74 tackles (27 solo), two sacks, two passes defensed and one fumble recovery...Son of former NFL TE Keith Jackson, a six-time Pro Bowler with the Eagles, Dolphins and Packers...His brother, Keith Jackson Jr., was an All-SEC defensive lineman at Arkansas and was drafted by the St. Louis Rams in the seventh round (248th overall) of the 2007 NFL Draft.

In his lone season at Ohio State, Kelly helped guide the Buckeyes to a 14-2 record and a National Championship in the first year of the 12-team College Football Playoff, averaging 36.3 points per game across their four playoff victories. He directed the No. 14 scoring offense (35.7 points per game) and the No. 30 total offense (429.4 yards per game) in the nation last season.

During his time at UCLA, Kelly finished with a 35-34 overall record. His Bruins' team ranked 17th nationally in rushing in 2023 and set a school record with 503.6 total yards per game in 2022. In 2021, Kelly's offense led the Pac-12 in scoring and ranked 12th nationally (36.5), while ranking 14th in rushing (215.1). His offense in 2020 also led the Pac-12 in scoring and ranked 12th nationally in rushing at 230.6 yards per game.

Prior to returning to the college level, Kelly served as the head coach of the San Francisco 49ers in 2016. He saw the 49ers improve from the league's 21st-ranked rushing attack in 2015 (1,544 yards) to the fourth-best rushing offense in 2016 (2,019 yards) as RB Carlos Hyde rushed for 988 yards in just 13 contests (76.0 yards per game).

Over Kelly's three seasons in Philadelphia, the Eagles ranked third in the NFL in points per game (26.9), third in total offense (392.8 yards per game) and fourth in rushing yards per game (131.3). The Eagles also recorded the second-most running plays of 10-or-more yards (175) and the fourth-most passing plays of 25-or-more yards (109). In 2015, QB Sam Bradford registered a career-high 3,725 passing yards while setting single-season franchise records with 346 completions and a 65.0 completion percentage in 14 games. WR Jordan Matthews had 85 receptions which tied for the fourth-most receptions in Eagles single-season history, while leading the team with 997 yards and eight touchdowns.

In 2014, Kelly's team posted its second consecutive 10-6 record as the offense scored a team-record 474 points after setting the franchise record with 442 points a year prior. WR Jeremy Maclin posted 85 receptions for a career-high 1,318 yards and 10 touchdowns, while QB Mark Sanchez set a team record at the time with a 64.1 completion percentage. The Eagles had four players selected Second-Team AP All-Pro, and eight players named to the Pro Bowl, including RB LeSean McCoy, who finished third in the NFL with 1,319 rushing yards.

In Kelly's first year as the Eagles head coach in 2013, he guided the team to a 10-6 record and an NFC East Division title, becoming just the second head coach in league history to win a division title in his first season in the NFL. Philadelphia set an NFL record with 99 plays of 20-or-more yards, while leading the NFL in rushing yards per game (160.4) and ranking fourth in points per game (27.6). QB Nick Foles threw 27 touchdowns and just two interceptions with a passer rating of 119.2, the fifth-highest quarterback rating in NFL history. McCoy set single-season franchise records and led the NFL in rushing yards (1,607) and yards from scrimmage (2,146), while WR DeSean Jackson recorded career highs with 82 receptions for 1,332 yards and nine touchdowns. Five Eagles, including McCoy and Jackson, were selected to the Pro Bowl while three players earned First-Team AP All-Pro honors in McCoy, G Evan Mathis and T Jason Peters.

As head coach at Oregon (2009-12), Kelly's teams produced a 46-7 (.868) overall record and victories in the Rose Bowl and Fiesta Bowl. In four seasons, the Ducks scored 44.7 points per game while leading the nation in big plays, including 220 pass plays of 25-or-more yards and 110 rushes of 25-or-more yards. Kelly became the first coach in school history to guide the program to three consecutive undisputed conference championships (2009-11) and led the Ducks to their first three 12-win seasons (2010-12). Under his direction, Oregon made an appearance in a BCS Bowl game in each of his four seasons, including a trip to the National Championship game in 2010. Kelly was named the Pac-10 Coach of the Year in back-to-back seasons in 2009 and 2010, and Associated Press Coach of the Year in 2010.

In 2012, Kelly's Ducks posted a 12-1 record, including their third consecutive conference championship and a Fiesta Bowl victory. Oregon ranked second in the nation in scoring (49.6 points per game) and fifth in total offense (537.4 yards per game). Freshman QB Marcus Mariota threw 32 touchdowns while RB Kenjon Barner finished sixth in the nation with 1,767 rushing yards.

Kelly led Oregon to a 12-2 record in 2011, their second straight conference championship and a win in the Rose Bowl. The team finished third in the country in points per game (46.1) and fourth in FBS in total offense (522.8 yards per game).

The 2010 Ducks finished with a 12-1 record and earned a trip to the BCS Championship game while averaging the most points (47.0 points per game) and total yards (530.7 yards per game) in the FBS. In becoming the Pac-10's first unbeaten regular season champion in five years, Kelly was named AP Coach of the Year, Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year, Walter Camp Coach of the Year and Pac-10 Coach of the Year.

In 2009, Kelly was promoted to head coach at the University of Oregon following two seasons as the team's offensive coordinator. In his first season as head coach, he led the Ducks to a 10-3 record and a trip to the Rose Bowl, while the offense finished sixth in the country in points per game (36.1) and rushing yards per game (231.7).

Kelly spent the previous 13 years at his alma mater, the University of New Hampshire. As offensive coordinator at UNH, he helped QB Ricky Santos earn the Walter Payton Award as the most outstanding player in FCS in 2006. Kelly also coached the Wildcats' offensive line (1997, 1998) and running backs (1992, 1994-96). The New Hampshire offense averaged better than 400 yards of total offense per game in seven of his eight seasons.

PERSONAL: A native of Dover, N.H., Kelly played quarterback and safety at the University of New Hampshire from 1981-84. Following his playing career, Kelly was an assistant at Columbia University for two seasons (1990-91), coaching on the defensive side of the ball and special teams. In 1992, he returned to New Hampshire to become the running backs coach before spending the 1993 season as the defensive coordinator at Johns Hopkins University. Married to Jill Cohen-Kelly.

Rob Leonard enters his first season as the run game coordinator/ defensive line coach for the Las Vegas Raiders in 2025, his third season with the Silver and Black. Leonard now has 15 years of coaching experience, including 12 seasons coaching in the NFL ranks.

Last season (2024), Leonard coached a defensive line unit that recorded 20 passes defensed, the second most in the NFL among D-line units. The Raiders also logged 38 total sacks, including 18 sacks over the last six games, tied for the fourth most in the NFL over that span. Despite injuries throughout the defensive line, the Raiders saw sack production in 2024 with 18 different players recording at least a half-sack, tied for the most in the NFL and the most players with at least a half-sack in Raiders history in a single season. Leonard saw DE Maxx Crosby earn his fourth consecutive Pro Bowl selection after finishing the season with 45 tackles, 17 tackles for loss (t-6th in NFL), 7.5 sacks, 20 quarterback hits and five passes defensed (t-5th among DL).

In his first season with the Raiders in 2023, the defense recorded 46 total sacks, tied for the 13th most in the NFL. The Raiders' 46 sacks were also the most in a single season by the Silver and Black since 2010 (47). Under Leonard, DE Maxx Crosby finished the season ranked tied for first in the NFL in tackles for loss (23), sixth in sacks (14.5) and third among NFL defensive lineman in tackles (90), en route to his third-straight Pro Bowl, second-career AP Second Team All-Pro selection and third-consecutive PFWA All-AFC selection. Leonard also saw DE Malcolm Koonce make a big improvement, recording a single-season career-high 8.0 sacks, the second most on the team and tied for the fourth most in a single season in Raiders history by a player in their first three seasons.

Leonard joined the Raiders after spending one season with the Baltimore Ravens as an outside linebackers coach in 2022. In 2022, Leonard helped Baltimore's defense rank in the top-5 in four categories: No. 3 in points allowed per game (18.5), No. 3 in defensive red zone TD percentage (46.4), No. 3 in rushing yards per game (92.1) and No. 4 in third-down efficiency (34.9). Under Leonard's guidance, his unit combined for 19.5 sacks, including OLB Justin Houston who recorded 9.5 sacks and became the first Ravens defender in franchise history to produce three straight multi-sack games.

Prior to Baltimore, Leonard spent three years (2019-21)with the Miami Dolphins, where he held multiple positions during his tenure....He led a linebacker corps that produced 329 total tackles, 34 tackles for loss and 19.5 sacks, while tying for the NFL's fourth-most quarterback hits (61) over that span...

Under Leonard's tutelage in 2021, rookie OLB Jaelan Phillips finished with a Dolphins' rookie record with 8.5 sacks, good for second among all NFL rookies.

As the assistant defensive line coach in 2020, Leonard helped Miami's defense finish first in the NFL in both takeaways (29) and third-down defense (31.2 percent)....Spent the 2019 season as Miami's linebackers coach, helping Baker rank fourth in the AFC with 124 total tackles.

He spent the first six seasons of his NFL coaching career (2013-18) as an assistant with the New York Giants.

In 2018, Leonard served as outside linebackers coach, helping DE Olivier Vernon lead New York with seven sacks and 21 QB hits...As the assistant defensive line coach in 2017, helped guide DT Damon Harrison to produce 76 tackles, which ranked second on the team and led all NFL defensive linemen.

From 2013-16, Leonard was part of a staff that coached the NFL's most-improved defense, going from 32nd (420.3 yards per game) in 2015 to 10th (339.7 yards per game) in 2016 in total yards allowed...That season, the Giants finished 11-5 and earned a playoff berth...New York ranked eighth in the NFL in total defense in 2013, allowing just 332.3 yards per game.

Prior to joining the NFL ranks, Leonard coached at his alma mater, North Carolina State, where he was a graduate assistant for three seasons (2010-12), helping the Wolfpack appear in three consecutive bowl games.

In 2009, he served as a defensive assistant with Cardinal Gibbons High School in Raleigh, N.C.

Leonard was a three-year letterman at safety and linebacker at North Carolina State, initially joining the team as a walk-on before earning a scholarship following his freshman season at Washington & Jefferson College...In 2008, he led the Wolfpack with 95 tackles and earned the team's Mike Hardy Award, given annually to the player who plays beyond his capabilities.

PERSONAL: Attended Moon Area (Moon Township, Pa.) High School, where he earned first-team All-Conference honors as a cornerback, while also playing as a running back, kick returner and punter...He also earned second-team all-state honors at cornerback...Leonard and his wife, Anna, have two sons, Bo and Luke, and a daughter, Mary.

2022	Notre Dame	Running Backs
2023	Notre Dame	Run Game Coordinator/Running Backs
2024	Notre Dame	Associate Head Coach/Running Backs
2025	Las Vegas Raiders	Running Backs

Deland McCullough enters his first season as running backs coach with the Las Vegas Raiders in 2025.

Since becoming a running backs coach in 2011, McCullough has helped develop running backs who have accumulated over 1,000 yards of offense 16 times.

He joins the Silver and Black after spending the past three seasons with Notre Dame, first as running backs coach in 2022, then as run game coordinator in 2023 and associate head coach in 2024. He was named a finalist for top running backs coach in the nation all three years.

In 2024, McCullough led a rushing attack that ranked third in the NCAA in rushing touchdowns (45), fifth in rushing average (5.7), and seventh in total rushing yards (3,215). He developed and coached top 2026 NFL Draft Prospects Jeremiyah Love to 1,187yds and 17 touchdowns and Jadarian Price to 787 yards and seven touchdowns.

In 2023, he developed and coached 2024 fifth-round draft pick RB Audric Estimé to 1,341 yards and 18 touchdowns - one of the best rushing seasons in program history.

In 2022, both Estimé and Logan Diggs surpassed 1,000 total yards of offense—becoming the first Notre Dame running back duo to accomplish that since 2015.

Prior to Notre Dame, McCullough served as the associate head coach/running backs coach at Indiana in 2021, where he coached RB Stephen Carr to a career year, scoring six touchdowns and rushing for 600 yards over nine games.

Before returning to Indiana, McCullough spent three seasons with the Kansas City Chiefs (2018–2020). He played a key role in their back-to-back Super Bowl appearances and 2020 championship win. During his tenure, Chiefs running backs ranked among the league's best in yards after contact and fewest sacks allowed. McCullough coached Pro Bowler Anthony Sherman and helped rookie first-round draft pick Clyde Edwards-Helaire eclipse 1,000 scrimmage yards. He also coached standout RBs Kareem Hunt, Damien Williams, LeSean McCoy, and Le'Veon Bell. Recognized as NFL's Top Running Backs Coach at the 2020 Combine.

At USC in 2017, McCullough helped guide the Trojans to a Pac-12 title and Cotton Bowl appearance. His backfield duo of Ronald Jones and Stephen Carr earned All-Pac-12 honors, with Jones being named an All American and later selected in the second round of the 2018 NFL Draft.

From 2011 to 2016, McCullough led Indiana's running backs and served as special teams coordinator in 2016. He developed and coached future NFL standouts Tevin Coleman and Jordan Howard as well as NFL running backs Devine Redding and Stephen Houston. Coleman surpassed 2000 rushing yards in 2014 and led an running back group that rushed for 3,163 yards. That season Coleman was also a consensus All American and was fifth in Heisman Voting. In 2015, Howard and Redding each surpassed 1,000 rushing yards. Mccullough was a two-time finalist as the top running backs coach in the nation and was the Big Ten Running Backs coach of the year in 2014.

McCullough began his coaching career at Miami (Ohio) in 2010, helping the team capture the MAC Championship and win the GoDaddy.com Bowl.

PERSONAL: A native of Youngstown, Ohio, McCullough played running back at Miami (Ohio), where he was a three-time All-MAC selection and two time All-American...He was the first Miami player named MAC Freshman of the Year (1992) and a finalist for the Doak Walker Award...Graduated as Miami's career leader in rushing yards (4,368) and rushing attempts (949)...Led the team in rushing four straight seasons and was inducted into the Miami Athletics Hall of Fame in 2004...Played professionally from 1996–2001 with the Cincinnati Bengals, Philadelphia Eagles, CFL's Winnipeg Blue Bombers, and XFL's Chicago Enforcers...As a Bengals rookie, he led the NFL preseason in rushing before a knee injury in the last preseason game...In Winnipeg, he amassed almost 1,700 all-purpose yards in 1999 before another knee injury...Before his coaching career, McCullough served as a teacher, Head Football coach then high school principal...Won a sports Emmy Award for an ESPN special on his life and is also is the co-author of his acclaimed memoir, Runs in the Family, released in 2025...McCullough and his wife, Darnell, have four sons: Deland II, Dasan, Daeh, and Diem.

TY McKENZIE

DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT / LINEBACKERS

12th season in NFL | 1st season with Raiders
(5 as a player)

COACHING BACKGROUND

Years	College/Pro Team	Position Coached
2015	Colorado	Graduate Assistant
2016	Stanford	Defensive Assistant
2017	Los Angeles Rams	Assistant Special Teams
2018-19	Tennessee Tians	Inside Linebackers
2020	Detroit Lions	Linebackers
2021	Indianapolis Colts	Coaching Fellow
2022	Miami Dolphins	Outside Linebackers
2024	North Carolina	Defensive Analyst
2025	Las Vegas Raiders	Defensive Assistant/Linebackers

Ty McKenize enters his first season as the defensive assistant/linebackers coach for the Las Vegas Raiders in 2025. He brings six years of NFL coaching experience with him after having played in the league for five seasons as a linebacker.

McKenzie served as a defensive analyst at North Carolina in 2024, working primarily with the linebackers. He helped LB Power Echols earn honorable mention All-ACC honors after recording 102 tackles, 5.5 tackles for loss, one interception and two forced fumbles. The Tarheels' defense also finished fourth in the conference in sacks (41).

In 2022, McKenzie served as the outside linebackers coach for the Miami Dolphins. Under his guidance, LB Elandon Roberts registered 100-plus tackles for the first time in his career and LB Jaelan Phillips led the team with seven sacks. McKenzie also worked with LB Bradley Chubb who earned his second career Pro Bowl selection after finishing with eight tackles.

Prior to joining the Dolphins, McKenzie spent the 2021 season with the Indianapolis Colts as a coaching fellow.

In 2020, McKenzie served as linebackers coach for Detroit. He worked with linebacker Jamie Collins, who led the team with 101 tackles and three forced fumbles. Collins was tied for second on the team with six passes defensed that year.

McKenzie spent two seasons (2018-19) with the Tennessee Titans as inside linebackers coach. In 2019, McKenzie helped the Titans reach the AFC Championship game. Inside linebacker Rashaan Evans was second on the team in tackles (111) and tackles for loss (9). In 2018, McKenzie mentored inside linebacker Jayon Brown, who was one of just six NFL linebackers to have at least six sacks, one interception, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery during the season. Tennessee had the third-ranked scoring defense (18.9) in the league that year, which was the team's best scoring defense since 2008. The Titans also finished second in red zone defense (44.7).

McKenzie's first NFL coaching job was in 2017 with the Los Angeles Rams, where he served as an assistant special teams coach. He helped the Rams win the NFC West that season and finish No. 1 in Rick Gosselin's annual special teams rankings. Four Rams specialists – punter Johnny Hekker, kicker Greg Zuerlein, long snapper Jake McQuaide and returner Pharoh Cooper – earned Pro Bowl selections.

Prior to entering the NFL, McKenzie was a defensive assistant at Stanford in 2016. He worked with the defensive line, coaching defensive tackle Solomon Thomas, who became the third overall pick of the 2017 NFL Draft, the highest-selected non-quarterback in Stanford history. Thomas also earned first-team All-Pac 12 and second team All-America honors in 2016.

McKenzie moved into the collegiate coaching ranks in 2015 as a graduate assistant at Colorado.

His first coaching job was at Berkeley Preparatory School in Tampa, where he was the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for two seasons (2013-14).

PERSONAL: Originally a third-round pick (97th overall) by the New England Patriots in 2009, McKenzie played five years in the NFL with the Patriots (2009), Tampa Bay Buccaneers (2010) and Minnesota Vikings (2011-13). He was selected as a Pro Bowl special teams player in 2012. A graduate of South Florida, McKenzie was the active tackle leader in the NCAA at the time of his graduation. McKenzie lettered two seasons (2007-08) as a linebacker at South Florida, where he led the team in tackles both seasons. He earned second-team All-Big East honors as a junior in 2007 and first-team All-Big East honors as a senior in 2008 and finished his career as the school's single-season record holder for tackles (121 in 2007). McKenzie also played one season each at Michigan State (2004) and Iowa State (2006). He earned second-team All-Big 12 honors as a sophomore in 2006. A Tampa native, McKenzie has four children.

2022-	Las Vegas Raiders	Special Teams Coordinator

Tom McMahon enters his fourth season as special teams coordinator of the Las Vegas Raiders. Last season (2024), McMahon led a unit that averaged 29.6 yards per kickoff return, the fifth best average in the NFL in the league's first year of a new kickoff format – also helping the Raiders offense to start drives at the 30.2 yard line on average, the ninth best mark in the league. The Raiders also allowed just 24.8 yards per kickoff return to opponents in 2024, the third best mark in the league – also leading to opposing offenses starting drives at the 28.8 yard line on average, the second best mark in the NFL. McMahon's punt unit also logged a 42.5 net yards per punt average, the ninth best average in the league. McMahon oversaw P AJ Cole post a single-season career-high 50.8 gross punting average, the best mark in the NFL. Cole also recorded 17 punts of 60+ yards in 2024, the second most in the NFL and the most in a single season in Raiders history. K Daniel Carlson also made 34-of-40 (84.2%) field goal attempts and scored 125 total points in 2024. His 34 field goals ranked sixth in the NFL and he logged his fourth career season with 120+ points - one of 13 kickers in NFL history to record 4+ seasons of 120 points in their first seven seasons. Under McMahon, RB Ameer Abdullah led the team in both kickoff and punt returns and averaged 32.9 yards per punt return, the fifth best mark in the NFL (min. 5 returns).

In 2023, McMahon's special teams unit led the NFL with a 45.1 net punting average, which is also the best average in a single season in Raiders history (since 1976). The punt team also downed 45.3% (34-of-75) punts inside the 20-yard line, the fifth most in the NFL. Under McMahon's leadership, P AJ Cole earned his third-straight Pro Bowl selection, his second-career AP First Team All-Pro selection and his second PFWA All-NFL Team selection after averaging a league-leading and Raiders-record 45.1 net yards per punt. Cole also set an NFL record in Week 9 last season after posting 63.6 yards per punt, the highest single-game average in NFL history (min. four punts). WR DeAndre Carter also averaged 9.7 yards per punt return in 2023, tied for 11th in the NFL in 2023 and the sixth best average by a Raiders returner in a single season since 2000.

In his first season with the Raiders in 2022, McMahon led a special teams unit that produced two Pro Bowl selections in K Daniel Carlson and P AJ Cole. Carlson broke an NFL record in 2022, making 11 field goals of 50+ yards and ranked tied for second in the league in field goal percentage (91.9). Cole finished fifth in the NFL in yards per punt (48.8) and downed 8.5 percent of his punts inside the five-yard line, the second-best percentage in the NFL. Under McMahon, the special teams unit also only allowed 20.1 yards per kick return in 2022, the second lowest average in the NFL.

McMahon is a 32-year coaching veteran who has coached special teams at the NFL level for the past 17 seasons. Before joining the Raiders, he served four seasons as special teams coordinator for the Denver Broncos. Before joining the Broncos' staff, he worked as special teams coordinator for Indianapolis (2013-17), Kansas City (2012) and St. Louis (2009-11). During his time in the NFL, McMahon has coached seven players to Pro Bowl selections: P AJ Cole (2022, '23), K Daniel Carlson (2022), P Dustin Colquitt (2012), LS Matt Overton (2013), K Adam Vinatieri (2014), P Pat McAfee (2014, '16) and LS Casey Kreiter (2018).

McMahon has seen his units establish all-time records in several categories. His Falcons unit in 2008 set an NFL mark by allowing just 49 yards in punt returns for the season, while his Colts group in 2015 allowed only 156 yards on kickoff returns to set a league record. In addition, Vinatieri set the NFL record by making 44 consecutive field goal attempts in a stretch from 2015-16. His Raiders units have also produced records, including K Daniel Carlson breaking the NFL single-season record with 11 field goal makes from 50+ yards in 2022 and P AJ Cole breaking the single-game gross punting record with 63.6 yards per attempt in Week 9 of 2023.

During McMahon's four seasons in Denver, K Brandon McManus has ranked among the league's best, making 103-of-124 field goals (83.1 percent) and 117-of-122 extra point attempts (95.9 percent). McManus ranked second in the NFL with 21 made field goals from 50-plus yards, including an NFL single-season record tying 10 made field goals from 50-plus yards in 2020.

In 2021, McMahon saw P Sam Martin place 28 punts inside the 20-yard line, which ranked tied for fifth-most in the league. Under his guidance, K Brandon McManus moved into second all-time for field goal percentage (82.7 percent), total points (837) and field goals made (195) in team history.

McMahon guided the Broncos to improvement in net punting and punt returns in 2020. He saw PR Diontae Spencer ranked second in the league among qualifying players in punt return yards (15.8 avg.) while P Sam Martin helped the Broncos improve from 26th to 14th in net punting. McMahon's unit was the only team in the AFC to earn three Special Teams of the Week Honors in 2020 with key performances from McManus (Week 4 and 6) and Spencer (Week 14). McManus, who had three games with two 50-plus yard field goals, became the first kicker in NFL history with two games with a pair of 50-plus yard made field goals in the fourth quarter or overtime of the same season.

In 2019, Denver's special teams units ranked third in the NFL in kickoff return average (25.4 yards per return) while allowing the sixth fewest yards on kickoffs (439). Spencer was named a Pro Bowl alternate in his first season after finishing third in the league in kickoff return average (29.1) and tied for seventh in punt return average (8.0) among qualifying players.

In its first year under McMahon's guidance in 2018, Denver's special teams units improved in several significant categories. The Broncos led the NFL with four blocked kicks and were one of only two teams to block a field goal attempt (2), an extra point attempt and a punt. LS Casey Kreiter was selected to his first career Pro Bowl that season.

The Colts featured one of the NFL's most consistent special teams units during McMahon's five seasons in Indianapolis, ranking in the league's Top 5 in field goal percentage (89.6 / 3rd), net punting average (41.3 / 3rd), gross punting average (46.4 / 4th) and kickoff return average (24.5 / 5th) during that span. Three Colts special-teamers combined for five Pro Bowl selections playing for McMahon: punter Pat McAfee (2014, '16), kicker Adam Vinatieri (2014) and long snapper Matt Overton (2013).

In 2017, the Colts were one of just four clubs to produce multiple special-teams takeaways without committing a turnover on those units. Indianapolis was also one of just two teams to allow fewer than 100 punt return yards (80) as punter Rigoberto Sanchez ranked fourth in the NFL with his 42.6-yard net punting average that broke the NFL rookie record. McAfee set a Colts record with a league-leading 49.3-yard gross punting average under McMahon in 2016 to earn his second career Pro Bowl selection. Vinatieri made his first 19 field goals that season to set an NFL record with 44 consecutive field goals made dating to the previous year. In 2014, McMahon helped Vinatieri (30-of-31 FGs) and McAfee (42.8 net avg., 30 punts inside the 20, 70 kickoff touchbacks) become just the fourth kicker-punter duo to both earn First Team All-Pro recognition from the Associated Press.

With the Chiefs in 2012, McMahon's special-teams unit ranked fourth in the NFL with three takeaways. Punter Dustin Colquitt earned his first career Pro Bowl selection after ranking second in the league with 45 punts placed inside the 20.

Coaching special teams for the St. Louis Rams from 2009-11, McMahon worked with talented returner Danny Amendola, who led the NFL with 3,572 combined return yards (812 PR / 2,760 KR) during his first two NFL seasons (2009-10).

McMahon began his NFL career as an assistant special teams coach for Atlanta from 2007-08. During his two years with the Falcons, Jerious Norwood ranked third in the NFL with a combined 2,628 kick return yards.

Before joining the NFL, McMahon coached outside linebackers and special teams at the University of Louisville in 2006. That season, kicker Art Carmody was named the Lou Groza Award winner as the nation's top kicker after converting 21-of-25 field goals (.840) and all 60 extra point attempts for 123 total points.

McMahon spent 11 seasons at Utah State University from 1995-2005 in a variety of roles. After beginning his tenure with the Aggies as a graduate assistant from 1995-97, he went on to serve as special teams/linebackers coach from 1998-2000 and defensive line coach/recruiting coordinator from 2001-05.

PERSONAL: A native of Helena, Mont., McMahon got his start in coaching at his alma mater, Carroll College, in 1992 as the school's secondary coach...He spent one year as an assistant coach at Bozeman (Mont.) High School in 1993 before returning to Carroll to coach the secondary in 1994...McMahon and his wife, Kim, have three children: Dawson, Emmett and Quincy.

2020-21	Oklahoma	Offensive Analyst
2022	USC	Graduate Assistant
2023-24	Incarnate Word	Offensive Coordinator & Quarterbacks
2025	Las Vegas Raiders	Offense Quality Control

Conner McQueen enters his first season in the NFL and his first season as offense quality control coach with the Raiders, bringing with him eight years of collegiate coaching experience.

McQueen spent the past two seasons as the offensive coordinator at Incarnate Word. During that time, Incarnate Word averaged 33.6 points per game and finished with a 20-5 record and a Southland Conference championship.

In 2024, the offense finished 10th in the FCS in passing yards per game (275.6) and third in total passing touchdowns (37). UIW led the Southland Conference in offensive touchdowns (61), total points (471), passing yards (3,859) and passing touchdowns (37). Under McQueen's tutelage, QB Zach Calzada was named Southland Conference Player of the Year after leading the FCS in passing touchdowns with 33 and finishing sixth in passing yards (3,351) and passing yards per game (279.25). He added four rushing touchdowns and has amassed over 3,500 yards of total offense, ranking eighth in FCS for total offense. Under McQueen's guidance, WR Jalen Walthall earned Southland Offensive Player of the Year honors by ranking second in FCS with 14 receiving touchdowns and fourth in receiving yards with 1,149. McQueen produced 11 players that were selected to All-Conference teams, including six players earning First Team honors.

In 2023, McQueen's offense at Incarnate Word finished second in the FCS in total offense (480.1) and passing offense (323.1). UIW led the Southland Conference in total offense, scoring offense, passing yards per game, yards per carry, total first downs, third down conversion and total touchdowns. McQueen coached six Cardinal offensive players to All-Conference honors, led by Calzada, who was named Southland Newcomer of the Year. WR Brandon Porter was named Southland Offensive Player of the Year an QB Richard Torres was named to the Phil Steele FCS 2023 Freshman All-American Third Team.

Prior to Incarnate Word, McQueen served as a graduate assistant at USC in 2022, working with the quarterbacks under head coach Lincoln Riley. The Trojans' offense broke six program records, including most yards passing in a single season (4,696 yards), most passes attempted in a single season (515), most touchdown passes in a single season (43), lowest percentage of passes had intercepted (0.97%), most games scoring 30-plus points (12) and most games scoring 40-plus points. McQueen worked alongside QB Caleb Williams who was named the Heisman Trophy winner after completing 333-of-500 passes (66.7%) for 4,537 yards and 42 touchdowns with just five interceptions, plus he rushed for 382 yards and 10 touchdowns.

McQueen spent two seasons as an offensive analyst at Oklahoma (2020-21), primarily assisting with running backs and tight ends. The Sooners won the Big 12 in 2020 and had five offensive players named to all conference teams.

Prior to working at Oklahoma, McQueen was a graduate assistant working with the defense at UCLA in 2018 and 2019 under current Raiders offensive coordinator Chip Kelly.

He began his coaching career at Texas A&M, first as a student assistant coach in the spring of 2017 and then as an offensive quality control assistant in the 2017 season.

PERSONAL: A native of Klein, Texas, McQueen played quarterback and holder at Texas A&M from 2012-16...He earned his bachelor's degree in accounting and master's degree in financial management...His father, Mark, was a quarterback at Texas A&M from 1981-1982...His grandfather, Bob McQueen, played football at Tulsa and is in the Texas High School Football Hall of Fame after winning 17 district titles and two state championships as the head coach

A.J. NEIBEL

HEAD STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

21st season in NFL | 13th season with Raiders

COACHING BACKGROUND

Years	College/Pro Team	Position Coached
2003-08	Oakland Raiders	Strength and Conditioning/ Sports Medicine Associate
2009-10	San Francisco Giants	Strength and Conditioning Consultant
2011-12	Atlanta Falcons	Strength and Conditioning Assistant
2013-15	Atlanta Falcons	Head Strength and Conditioning
2016	Atlanta Falcons	Athletic Performance Manager
2017-18	Jacksonville Jaguars	Athletic Performance Specialist/ Physical Therapy Assistant
2019	Oakland Raiders	Head Strength and Conditioning
2020-	Las Vegas Raiders	Head Strength and Conditioning

A.J. Neibel, who holds 20 years of NFL experience in the sports performance and strength and conditioning realm, enters his seventh season as head strength and conditioning coach of the Silver and Black.

Neibel oversees all elements of the Raiders' strength and conditioning program, developing and implementing a comprehensive strategy for all position groups throughout the roster. Neibel directs all strength training, manages the team's performance data and works closely with the athletic training staff to transition players back from injury into participation.

In 2024, Neibel helped produce two Pro Bowlers in DE Maxx Crosby and rookie TE Brock Bowers. Crosby earned his fourth-straight Pro Bowl selection after leading the team with 7.5 sacks and tying for sixth in the league in tackles for loss (17). Bowers established multiple rookie records by recording the most receiving yards by a rookie tight end in NFL history (1,194) and the most receptions in a season by a rookie in NFL history (112). Neibel and his staff trained 16 players who appeared in all 17 regular season games and helped transition a rookie draft class that accounted for 66 starts.

In 2023, Neibel helped DE Maxx Crosby earn his third-straight Pro Bowl selection and second career AP Second Team All-Pro selection after finishing with career highs in total tackles (90), TFLs (23) and sacks (14.5). Neibel's strength training also helped the offensive line tie for the 12-fewest sacks allowed in the NFL (40). P AJ Cole also earned his third-straight Pro Bowl selection after leading the NFL in net punting average (45.1).

In 2022, Neibel's staff helped produce five Pro Bowlers in WR Davante Adams, DE Maxx Crosby, RB Josh Jacobs, QB Derek Carr and P AJ Cole, the most by the Raiders since 2016. He saw Jacobs total 1,653 yards on the ground to become the first Raider to lead the NFL in rushing since 1985, while Adams set a franchise record with 1,516 receiving yards and lead the NFL with 14 touchdowns through the air. Neibel also excelled in helping the 2022 undrafted free agent class, with four players making the 53-man roster out of training camp, tied for the most over the last 10 seasons by the Raiders and the most since 2019.

In 2021, Neibel and his staff's work with the team helped the Raiders earn a 10-7 record, clinching the club's first postseason berth since 2016. Under Neibel's guidance, the Raiders produced four first-time Pro Bowlers in P AJ Cole, DE Maxx Crosby, LB Denzel Perryman and WR Hunter Renfrow. Renfrow set career highs in catches (103), receiving yards (1,038) and touchdowns (nine), while Cole averaged a league- and career-high 50.0 yards per punt, a mark that ranks eighth all-time in NFL history. Additionally, Crosby and Perryman anchored a defensive unit that ranked sixth in the AFC with just 337.2 yards per game allowed.

In 2020, Neibel and his staff helped field a team that produced two offensive Pro Bowlers in RB Josh Jacobs and TE Darren Waller, while also seeing numerous other veteran players establish career highs in appearances, starts and statistical milestones. Jacobs appeared in a career-high 15 contests, setting personal bests in carries (273), rushing touchdowns (12), receptions (33) and receiving yards (238).

In part due to Neibel's strength program, Waller was once again able to compete in all 16 contests for the second consecutive campaign. He put together one of the most prolific campaigns by a player in Raiders history, compiling 1,196 receiving yards and nine touchdowns, while breaking Hall of Famer WR Tim Brown's single-season receptions record by tallying 107 on the year, fourth-most in the NFL and most among all tight ends. Waller became just the sixth tight end in NFL history to surpass 100 receptions in a single season, while also hauling in at least five passes in an incredible 13 contests and tallying five 100-yard contests.

In his return to the Silver and Black in 2019 after previously spending six seasons with the Silver and Black from 2003-08, Neibel helped produce two Pro Bowlers in T Trent Brown and C Rodney Hudson. The two paved the way for rookie running back Jacobs, who became the first-ever 1,000-yard rookie rusher in team history, while helping the club surrender just 29 sacks on the year, good for eighth-fewest in the NFL.

Neibel and his staff also excelled in helping the 2019 rookie class make the transition from college to the NFL, as the Raiders rookies combined to lead the NFL in scrimmage touchdowns (17) amongst their rookie peers. The Raiders rookies also ranked first in sacks (14.5), yards after the catch (676), rushing yards (1,167), rushing touchdowns (seven) and rushing first downs (60), while ranking second in receptions (107) and receiving yards (1,112).

Neibel's return to the Raiders came after spending the previous two seasons (2017-18) with the Jacksonville Jaguars as the club's athletic performance specialist/physical therapy assistant. In his role with the Jaguars, Neibel assisted both the medical and strength and conditioning staff transition players from injury back into participation, while helping manage performance data for the team's coaching staff. The team garnered eight Pro Bowl selections over two seasons under Neibel's guidance.

Prior to his stint with the Jaguars, Neibel spent six years (2011-16) with the Atlanta Falcons in a variety of roles. Over his five years with the club, the Falcons earned 21 total Pro Bowl selections under Neibel's direction, including four from WR Julio Jones (2012, 2014-16), and three apiece from TE Tony Gonzalez (2011-13) and QB Matt Ryan (2012, 2014, 2016).

In 2016, Neibel was tabbed as the club's athletic performance manager after serving as the team's head strength and conditioning coach during the previous three seasons (2013-15). In his first two seasons (2011-12) with the Falcons, Neibel was on staff as strength and conditioning assistant. Before joining the club, Neibel spent time working for the Atlanta Falcons' Therapy Center in Snellville, Ga.

Prior to Atlanta, Neibel also worked in the Bay Area with the San Francisco Giants of Major League Baseball and their affiliate, the San Jose Giants, as a strength and conditioning consultant from 2009-10. In his first tour with the Raiders, Neibel helped train athletes as a strength and conditioning/sports medicine associate.

PERSONAL: Native of Cupertino, Calif. ...Earned a degree in sports psychology from Long Beach State in 1996...Earned a second degree in physical therapy from Cerritos College in 1998 and a master's degree in advance exercise science from Concordia University in Chicago...Notable qualifications include being USA weightlifting certified, level one, Olympic lifting coach, a certified strength and conditioning specialist with the National Strength and Conditioning Association and certified in Russian Kettle bell training.

GREG OLSON

QUARTERBACKS

24th season in NFL | 7th season with Raiders

Greg Olson rejoins the Raiders in 2025 as the team's quarterbacks coach, marking his 24th year in the NFL and seventh with the Silver and Black. Olson is in his third stint with the Raiders and brings 13 years of experience as an offensive coordinator at the NFL level, working with the Detroit Lions (2005), St. Louis Rams (2006-07), Tampa Bay Buccaneers (2009-11), Raiders (2013-14, 2018-21) and Jacksonville Jaguars (2015-16).

In 2023, Olson served as the quarterbacks coach for the Seattle Seahawks and helped guide QB Geno Smith's continuing resurgence as a signal-caller. Smith earned his second-consecutive Pro Bowl selection, completing 64.7 percent of his passes (323-for-499) for 3,624 yards and 20 touchdowns. Smith's completions, passing yards and touchdowns each marked his second-best single season totals in each category, and his nine interceptions were a career low for him as a starter. Smith also tied a Seattle franchise record with five game-winning drives during the season, as Seattle became the first NFL team since 1970 with five game-winning touchdowns in the final two minutes of regulation or overtime in a single campaign. He also had seven go-ahead touchdown passes in the fourth quarter or overtime, which are the most in a season in league history.

COACHING BACKGROUND

2022	Los Angeles Rams	Senior Offensive Assistant
2023	Seattle Seahawks	Quarterbacks
2025	Las Vegas Raiders	Quarterbacks

Olson returned to the Rams in 2022 as their senior offensive assistant, marking his third stint with the team. He helped QB Baker Mayfield win his third career Offensive Player of the Week Award after making his Rams debut just two days after joining the team. Olson also helped the Rams offense lead the NFL in fourth down conversion rate (78.9%). TE Tyler Higbee broke the Rams single-season franchise record for receptions by a tight end (72) and became the Rams' all-time leader in touchdowns by a tight end (20), while RB Cam Akers became the first Rams running back to have three consecutive 100+ yard rushing performances (Weeks 16-18) in the same season since Todd Gurley in 2015

Olson coordinated a Raiders offense that finished the 2021 season ranked No. 6 in the league in passing (268.6 avg.) and No. 11 in the NFL in total offense (363.8 avg.). QB Derek Carr enjoyed a standout campaign in 2021, passing for a career-high 4,804 yards to mark his fourth-straight 4,000-yard season, all coming under the guidance of Olson. Additionally, Carr notched career-highs in completions (626) and attempts (428), while posting a 68.4 completion percentage, which marked the third-best of his career. Carr eclipsed the 300-yard passing threshold six times during the season, including a 435-yard effort in an overtime win against Baltimore that stands as the most ever by a Raiders quarterback in a season opener and the third most in a single game in franchise history. Carr was named the AFC Offensive Player of the Month for September after guiding Las Vegas to a 3-0 start. In a Wild Card contest at Cincinnati, Carr set the franchise playoff record for attempts (54) and tied the team standard for completions (29).

Olson's offense also saw the emergence of WR Hunter Renfrow, who became just the second wideout in Raiders history to record 100 catches (103), while accumulating 1,038 receiving yards and earning his first Pro Bowl selection. Olson took over the play-calling duties in Week 6 of the 2021 regular season and promptly piloted the Raiders to back-to-back games with 30-plus points, both victories.

In 2020, Olson helped the offense record a 4,000-yard passer, 1,000-yard receiver and 1,000-yard rusher for the second consecutive season after becoming the first offense to do so in franchise history in 2019. The unit produced two first-time Pro Bowlers in RB Josh Jacobs and TE Darren Waller, as Jacobs became the first rusher in franchise history to tally back-to-back seasons with at least 1,000 rushing yards to start his career, and Waller broke Hall of Famer WR Tim Brown's team record for most receptions in a single season with 107.

The offense had one of the most successful campaigns in club history, ranking top-10 in nearly all major offensive categories, including points per game (27.1 – 10th), net yards per game (383.3 – eighth), passing yards per game (263.6 – seventh), sacks surrendered (28 – 10th) and third down percentage (46.0 percent – sixth). The team's net yards per game and passing yards per game ranked third and second in franchise annals, respectively. The team also tallied 157 points on 34 scoring drives lasting at least 10 plays, the fifth-most scored in the NFL.

Olson helped mentor QB Derek Carr put together one of his best seasons as a Raider, completing 348-of-517 pass attempts for a career-high 4,103 yards. Carr tossed 27 touchdowns to just nine interceptions for a career-high 101.4 passer rating, the second-highest passer rating recorded in a single season in franchise annals. Olson also helped shape one of the greatest seasons in team history by a player in Waller, who became just the sixth tight end in league history to surpass 100 catches in a season, as he also posted a career-high 1,196 receiving yards and nine touchdown receptions. Waller hauled in at least five passes in an incredible 13 games last season, finishing fourth overall in the NFL in total catches. He also surpassed 100 receiving yards in five contests, giving him 10 total since the beginning of 2019, the most in the NFL among all tight ends.

On the ground, Olson's offense propelled Jacobs to become just the third rusher in franchise history to surpass the 1,000-yard mark in multiple seasons, joining RBs Marcus Allen and Mark van Eeghen. Jacobs also found the end zone on the ground a career-high 12 times in 2020, a mark that's tied for third in franchise history and tied for fourth in the NFL this past season.

In 2019, Olson's unit produced two Pro Bowlers in T Trent Brown and C Rodney Hudson. Brown earned his first selection to the All-Star game in his first season with the Raiders, while it was Hudson's third time earning the accolade.

The offense improved its ranking in many major statistical categories from the 2018 season, including net yards per game (363.7 – 11th), third down percentage (43.8 – seventh), touchdown passes (22 – tied 19th), passer rating (101.0 – eighth), interceptions (eight – tied fifth fewest) and sacks allowed (28 – eighth fewest). The club finished second in completion percentage with a mark of 70.2 percent, inching up from their fifth-place finish in 2018, while jumping up six spots to finish tied for 12th in passing yards per game with a 256.9 average on the year. Additionally, Olson guided the team to an NFL-best 158 points on drives of at least 10 plays, the most by the Raiders since at least 2000.

Among many other significant improvements was the club's total giveaways. The team turned the ball over just 17 times in 2019, tied for the seventh fewest in the NFL and seven less turnovers than the offense committed in 2018, netting a 15-spot improvement league wide. The 17 giveaways committed by the team also marked the second fewest in franchise history behind the team's 14 in 2016.

Among the offense's individual success was Carr, who benefited from being mentored by Olson. Carr completed a career-high and new franchise-record 70.4 percent of his passes in 2019, finishing 361-of-513, while becoming the first quarterback in franchise history to record multiple seasons with at least 4,000 passing yards. His completion percentage ranked second in the NFL and stands as the eighth-best completion percentage for a single season in NFL history. Carr also earned a career-high 100.8 passer rating, joining QB Ken Stabler as the only two quarterbacks in franchise history to surpass the 100-point barrier.

On the other end of Carr's success was Waller, who posted 90 receptions for 1,145 yards and three touchdowns, while setting the club record for most 100-yard receiving contests (five) by a tight end. Waller's five 100-yard contests ranked first in the NFL among tight ends in 2019, while his yards and receptions both placed second en route to being named a Pro Bowl alternate.

Olson also molded a rookie class that made significant contributions in 2019. Amongst their peers, the Raiders rookies finished first in yards after catch (676), first in rushing yards (1,167), first in rushing touchdowns (seven), first in rushing first downs (60), second in receptions (107), second in receiving yards (1,112), second in touchdown receptions (10) and second in first-down receptions (62).

Highlighted in the 2019 rookie class were FB Alec Ingold, Jacobs, TE Foster Moreau and WR Hunter Renfrow. Jacobs became the first-ever Raiders rookie to surpass 1,000 rushing yards, while breaking the club record for most 100-yard contests (five) by a rookie en route to two NFL Offensive Rookie of the Month awards, the only player in team history with multiple Rookie of the Month honors. Under Olson, both Jacobs and Ingold were selected as Pro Bowl alternates and helped the team improve 12 spots from 2018 to finish 13th on the year with a rushing average of 118.3 yards per game. Through the air, Moreau led all rookie tight ends with five touchdown receptions, while Renfrow finished with the second-most receptions (49) by a rookie receiver in club history. In all, the rookies combined for a team-record 17 touchdowns in 2019, the most in the NFL amongst all rookie classes.

In 2018, Olson oversaw an offense that underwent many changes due to injuries, but still saw Carr produce career highs in many statistical categories. Carr set then-personal bests in passing yards (4,049), completion percentage (68.9 percent) and yards per attempt (7.3 avg.), while his 381 completions still mark a career high. His 4,049 passing yards made him 1-of-3 quarterbacks in franchise history to surpass the 4,000-yard barrier.

Carr's completion percentage marked a new franchise record at the time before topping it in 2019, besting QB Rich Gannon's previous record of 67.6 percent set in 2002, while also ranking fifth in the NFL. Olson also assisted Carr in cementing himself among NFL history when his completion total in 2018 surpassed QB Peyton Manning for most completions (1,759) in NFL history through a player's first five seasons. Carr joined Manning as the only other quarterback in league annals to complete 300 passes in each of their first five seasons.

Olson placed a heavy emphasis on protecting the ball and minimizing turnovers, a facet in which Carr excelled. Carr set a new franchise record for most consecutive pass attempts without an interception in 2018, with his streak coming to an end at 332 attempts. His streak ranked third in NFL history, trailing only QBs Tom Brady (350) and Aaron Rodgers (402). Carr also completed 52 passes of at least 20 yards in 2018, helping the offense rank 11th in the league.

Olson's offense produced a first-time Pro Bowler in TE Jared Cook, who set career highs in yards (896), receptions (68) and touchdowns (six), marks that all either tied for the team lead or outright led the team. With injuries at running back, Olson helped find a larger role for third-year RB Jalen Richard, who tied for the team lead in receptions (68), setting a new career high and also tying Allen for the fourth-most receptions in a single season by a Raiders running back.

In 2017, Olson served as the quarterbacks coach for the Los Angeles Rams, helping the Rams win the NFC West and overseeing the development of second-year QB Jared Goff. Under Olson, Goff enjoyed a breakout season in 2017, earning a selection to the Pro Bowl and throwing for 3,804 yards on 296-of-477 passing (62.1 percent), 28 touchdowns and just seven interceptions. Additionally, Olson helped the Rams post 29.9 points per game, best in the NFL, and the franchise's best mark in 16 years.

Prior to joining the Rams, Olson spent two seasons (2015-16) as the offensive coordinator of the Jacksonville Jaguars. In the first season of his second stint with Jacksonville in 2015, Olson revamped the Jaguars offense into the NFL's 14th-ranked scoring unit (23.5 points per game) after placing 32nd in 2014. The Jaguars also scored 127 more points in 2015 (376) than they did in 2014 (249), and their 376 points scored were the most for the franchise since 2007.

Olson's first tenure with the Raiders came from 2013-14, also as the team's offensive coordinator, where he was charged with tutoring first-year Carr in 2014. Olson played a key role in the development of the rookie quarterback, who threw for 3,270 yards and 21 touchdowns, a franchise rookie record and tops in the NFL among rookie quarterbacks that year. Additionally, Olson oversaw an offense that allowed only 28 sacks on the year, the sixth fewest in the NFL.

In 2013, the Raiders' offense averaged 20.1 points and 333.8 yards per game. Despite starting a league-high eight different offensive line combinations, Olson's group showed improvements in many significant areas from 2012, including yards per rush (3.8 in 2012 to 4.6 in 2013), 20-plus-yard runs (eight to 18), red zone touchdown percentage (42.9 to 59.5) and points on the opening possession (three to 41). He also tutored two young quarterbacks to lead the Raiders offense – QBs Terrelle Pryor and Matt McGloin. Pryor threw for 1,798 yards and seven touchdowns, while setting a franchise record for a quarterback with 576 rushing yards. McGloin took over as the starter midway through the campaign and finished up his rookie season with 1,547 passing yards and nine touchdowns.

Olson served as assistant head coach/quarterbacks coach for the Jacksonville Jaguars in 2012, overseeing the quarterback duo of Blaine Gabbert, the 10th overall pick in the 2011 draft, and Chad Henne, a second-round selection in 2008.

Prior to joining the Jaguars, Olson served four seasons with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, including the last three as offensive coordinator. Olson was responsible for the development of QB Josh Freeman, the 17th overall pick in the 2009 draft. Under Olson's guidance, Freeman threw for 8,898 yards and 51 touchdowns in his first three seasons as a starter. In 2011, Olson helped guide the Buccaneers to one of their best offensive seasons in team history, setting franchise records for yards per play (5.61), average per rush (4.64 yards), average per pass play (7.21), passer rating (96.2) and fewest interceptions thrown (six).

The Buccaneers were the youngest team in the NFL in 2010 and WR Mike Williams, a fourth-round draft pick, finished the year leading all rookie receivers in the league in every major receiving category while setting a single-season team record with 11 touchdown receptions. RB LeGarrette Blount's 1,007 rushing yards led all rookie running backs and he became just the second undrafted rookie running back in NFL history to finish with over 1,000 yards.

Despite his late elevation to the coordinator position in 2009, Olson's offense showed consistent growth around Freeman. Working closely with Olson, Freeman led all rookie quarterbacks in completion percentage (54.5) while setting Buccaneer rookie records for touchdown passes (10) and passing yards (1,855) despite starting in just nine games. TE Kellen Winslow had the best season by a tight end in team history in 2009 as he led the team in receptions (77) and receiving yards (884), both good for single-season franchise records among tight ends.

In his first season in Tampa Bay in 2008, Olson was part of Head Coach Jon Gruden's staff. The Buccaneers' offense finished the season amassing 5,456 total yards, the highest total in team history at the time, while scoring 361 points, the second-highest total in team annals. Under Olson's tutelage, QB Jeff Garcia tied for second in the NFL for fewest interceptions (six), was ninth in the league and third in the NFC in completion percentage (64.9) and ninth in the NFL and fifth in the NFC in quarterback rating (90.2).

Prior to joining Tampa Bay, Olson spent two seasons (2006-07) as offensive coordinator for the St. Louis Rams. In his first year with the Rams in 2006, he helped guide a high-powered offense that ranked sixth in the NFL in total offense (360.4 yards per game) and a passing offense that ranked third (247.6) in the NFC. Under Olson's direction, the 2006 Rams became just the fourth team in NFL history to produce a 4,000-yard passer (QB Marc Bulger), a 1,500-yard rusher (RB Steven Jackson) and two 1,000-yard receivers (WRs Torry Holt and Isaac Bruce). Bulger, Jackson and Holt were all selected to the Pro Bowl.

Prior to his time with the Rams, Olson spent one season as quarterbacks coach (2004) and one season as offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach (2005) for the Detroit Lions. In 2004, Olson took over play-calling duties for the Lions with three games remaining in the season and the Lions offense went on to average 403.6 total yards per game. In 2005, Olson was named offensive coordinator of the Lions in Week 11.

Following one season as tight ends/recruiting coordinator at Purdue, Olson spent one season as quarterbacks coach for the Chicago Bears in 2003. Olson entered the NFL as quarterbacks coach for the San Francisco 49ers in 2001 under head coach Steve Mariucci. In 2001, Garcia threw for a career-high 32 touchdown passes while posting a career-best 94.8 passer rating and 62.7 completion percentage.

OLSON

From 1997-2000, as quarterbacks coach at Purdue, Olson played a key role in the development of future Pro Bowl and Super Bowl-winning QB Drew Brees. Under Olson, Brees was a Heisman Trophy finalist in 1999 and 2000 while winning the Maxwell Award as the nation's most outstanding player in 2000. He was also a finalist for the Davey O'Brien Award as the nation's top quarterback in 1999 and 2000. Brees finished his collegiate career as the Big Ten and Purdue's all-time leader in passing yardage (11,792), touchdown passes (90), total yards (12,693), completion percentage (61.1), completions (1,026) and attempts (1,678). He also ranked fourth in NCAA Division I-A history for total offense, completions and attempts upon his departure from Purdue. Brees earned Big Ten Player of Year honors in 1998 and 2000 and All-Conference accolades for three straight years (1998-2000).

Olson began his coaching career in 1987 as a graduate assistant under the guidance of head coaches Dennis Erickson (1987-88) and Mike Price (1989) at Washington State, where he earned his master's degree in athletic administration, and published his master's thesis titled "Developing Quarterback Skills in a Passing Offense." He spent four seasons (1990-93) as an assistant at Central Washington University and two seasons at Idaho (1994-96). At Central Washington, Olson developed QB Jon Kitna, who went on to become an NFL starter at Seattle, Cincinnati and Detroit. Olson also served as wrestling coach for four seasons at Central Washington including the last two as head coach.

PERSONAL: Native of Richland, Wash. ...Played quarterback at Spokane Falls Junior College (1981-82) and Central Washington (1983-84)...Earned bachelor's degree in education from Central Washington...He and his wife, Lissa, have twins, Kenneth and Grayce (21)...Lissa is currently the jumps coach at Cal-Berkeley.

Joe Philbin enters his second season as a senior offensive assistant with the Las Vegas Raiders. Last season (2024), Philbin started as a senior offensive assistant before moving to interim offensive line coach in Week 10. Philbin owns 40 years of coaching experience, including 20 seasons in the NFL ranks and five seasons as a head coach in the NFL. Last season (2024), Philbin oversaw an offensive line that included two rookie starters, G Jackson Powers-Johnson (14 starts) and T DJ Glaze (14 starts). Powers-Johnson earned a selection to the PFWA All-Rookie team, the fifth rookie offensive lineman in Raiders history to be selected since the award's inception in 1974.

Before joining the Raiders in 2024, Philbin spent one season at Ohio State (2023) working with the offensive line, where he tutored first-team All-Big Ten selections in T Josh Fryar, G Donovan Jackson, and G Matt Jones. Philbin assisted an offense that finished first in the Big Ten in total yards per game (407.9), second in passing offense (278.9) and third in scoring (30.5 ppg).

Philbin most recently worked in the NFL with the Dallas Cowboys from 2020-2022, serving as the club's offensive line coach. During the 2021 season, he oversaw seven different line combinations for a unit that blocked for the No. 1 offense in the league in total yards per game (407.0) and points per game (31.2). The offensive line provided protection for a 4,000-yard passer (Dak Prescott, 4,449), a 1,000-yard receiver (CeeDee Lamb, 1,102) and a 1,000-yard rusher (Ezekiel Elliot, 1,002). Under Philbin's guidance, he saw two players named to the Pro Bowl in T Tyron Smith and G Zack Martin, with Martin also earning first team All-Pro honors.

During his first season in Dallas, Philbin started eight different offensive line combinations that helped the offense tie a team record with four 500-yard performances, while ranking seventh in the league in first downs (371) and first in drives of 10-or-more plays (41).

Philbin previously served as offensive coordinator with the Green Bay Packers during two different stints, first from 2007-11, and then again in 2018. He rejoined the Packers after two seasons as the assistant head coach/offensive line for the Indianapolis Colts (2016-17) and four seasons as the head coach of the Miami Dolphins (2012-15).

In his return to Green Bay in 2018, Philbin helped QB Aaron Rodgers throw for 4,442 yards and 25 touchdowns against two interceptions – a TD/INT ratio of 12.5, the best single season mark in Packers' history.

During his two seasons with the Colts, Philbin led an offensive line that helped the offense rank seventh in the NFL in fewest giveaways (37) from 2016-17. The offensive line also paved the way for RB Frank Gore, who ranked ninth in total rushing yards (1,986) from 2016-17.

In 2016, Philbin tutored four different rookie starters along the offensive line, the most in the NFL, with C Ryan Kelly (16 starts) and T Joe Haeg (14) leading the way. Under his guidance, QB Andrew Luck finished in the top-10 in passing yards (4,240), passing touchdowns (31) and passer rating (96.4), while Gore became the first NFL running back to rush for 1,000-plus yards at the age of 33 or older since Redskins RB John Riggins in 1984.

As the head coach of the Miami Dolphins, Philbin helped the team increase their win total in his first two seasons (2012-13). From 2012-14, Miami ranked first in the NFL in fewest penalties with 233 over that span.

In 2014, Philbin coached QB Ryan Tannehill (4,045) and RB Lamar Miller (1,099) to become the first duo in franchise history to throw for 4,000-plus yards and rush for 1,000-plus yards in the same season.

In 2013, Miami ranked eighth in the league in scoring defense (20.9 ppg) and fifth in opponent passer rating (77.3). In his first season as head coach in 2012, Philbin led the Dolphins to the seventh-ranked scoring defense (19.8 ppg) and top-ranked red zone defense (42.6 percent) in the NFL, while guiding Tannehill to set a franchise rookie record in passing yards (3,294).

From 2007-11, Philbin served as the Packers offensive coordinator and directed an offense that ranked third in the NFL over that span in points per game (28.3), touchdowns (267), passing touchdowns (170) and net yards per game (372.8). During that time, the Packers ranked in the top-10 in the NFL in total yards and total points each season, one of only two teams do so, and ranked second in the league in fewest giveaways with 97. Three of the Packers top scoring seasons (2007, 2009, 2011) in team history came during his tenure.

In 2011, Philbin helped the Packers set franchise single-season records for total points (560), touchdowns (70), total yards (6,482) and net passing yards (4,924), while guiding Rodgers to the best single-season passer rating in NFL history (122.5). Green Bay led the league in scoring (35.0 ppg) and ranked second in fewest giveaways (14) and third in total yards per game (405.1).

In 2010, en route to winning Super Bowl XLV, the Packers finished with the NFL's fifth-ranked passing offense at 257.8 yards per contest, marking the first time in franchise history that the Packers averaged 250.0 net passing yards in back-to-back seasons. The offense also posted two 45-point games during the regular season, the first time Green Bay had accomplished that feat since 1983.

From 2008-09, Philbin helped the Packers become the first team in league history to have a 4,000-yard passer (Rodgers), a 1,200-yard rusher (RB Ryan Grant) and two 1,000- yard receivers (WRs Greg Jennings and Donald Driver) in back-to-back seasons.

In 2007, Philbin helped the Packers' offense rank second in the NFL in total yards per game (370.7). He helped QB Brett Favre throw for 4,155 yards and 28 touchdowns that year, which combined with Rodgers' 4,038 yards in 2008 marked the first time in league history that a team had different 4,000-yard passers in consecutive years.

In 2006, Philbin oversaw a line that ranked fifth in the NFL with 24 sacks allowed and improved their rushing average by a half-yard per carry. In 2005, Philbin's tight-end group featured three players with 25-plus receptions each (Donald Lee, David Martin, Bubba Franks), one of only two teams in the NFL to do so that season.

Philbin originally joined the Packers in 2003 as an assistant offensive line coach and then spent two seasons as the tight ends/assistant offensive line coach (2004-05) before being promoted to offensive line coach in 2006. He helped the offensive line rank second in the league in sacks allowed (60) from 2003-05, including a franchise low 14 in 2004.

Philbin came to Green Bay after 19 seasons coaching at the collegiate level, including four as offensive line coach at the University of Iowa (1999-2002). In 2002, he coached an offensive line that helped the team finish second in the Big Ten in rushing (214.2 yards per game). Under Philbin's guidance, Eric Steinbach, Robert Gallery, and Bruce Nelson earned first team All-Big Ten honors, while Steinbach also earned All-America honors. All three players went on to be selected in the first two rounds of the NFL Draft.

Prior to Iowa, Philbin served as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Harvard from 1997-98. He was the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Northeastern University from 1995-96 after one season as offensive line coach at Ohio University in 1994.

He also spent four seasons (1990-93) at Allegheny College, where the program finished with two undefeated seasons and the NCAA Division III national championship in 1990.

PERSONAL: A native of Springfield, Mass., Philbin graduated from Washington & Jefferson College (Pa.), where he played tight end...He earned a master's degree in education from Tulane University in 1986...Philbin and his wife, Diane, have six children, Matthew, John, Kevin, Tim, Colleen, and deceased son, Michael.

2023	Bowling Green State	Cornerbacks/Special Teams Assistant
2024	Florida	Quality Control Cornerbacks
2025	Las Vegas Raiders	Defensive Quality Control

Rasool worked at Bowling Green State University in 2023, serving as the cornerbacks coach/ special teams assistant. Under his guidance, the Falcons' secondary finished tied for fourth in the NCAA with 17 interceptions and led the nation with 28 takeaways. He mentored CBs Jordan Oladokun and Jalen Huskey, as they both finished with a team-high four interceptions, tied for 19th-most in the nation and second-best in the conference. Huskey was a first-team All-MAC performer and Oladokun earned second-team honors.

Before his time with Bowling Green State, Rasool served as the senior defensive analyst for the University of Arizona for two seasons (2021-22). In 2022, the defense forced 16 turnovers and ranked seventh in the conference in passing yards allowed per game (258.6).

In his first season with the Wildcats, Rasool helped coach a secondary that held opposing offenses to just 190 yards passing per game, a mark that ranked second in the Pac-12 and 15th nationally. Arizona held their opponents to fewer than 100 yards passing four times that season.

Prior to his arrival at Arizona, Rasool was a defensive assistant at Missouri for two seasons, working with the safeties in 2019 before moving to the defensive line in 2020.

In 2020, Rasool saw DL Trajan Jeffcoat earn first-team All-SEC honors after posting 23 tackles, six tackles for loss and 6.0 sacks. His 6.0 sacks led the team and ranked tied for third-most in the conference.

During the 2019 season, Rasool helped tutor safeties Tyree Gillespie and Joshuah Bledsoe as they both earned All-America honors. Gillespie finished with 50 tackles, seven pass break-ups, four tackles for loss and one forced fumble, while Bledsoe recorded 49 tackles, four tackles for loss and a team-high 10 passes defensed.

Rasool served as the secondary coach/recruiting coordinator at Eastern Arizona College from 2014-16 after working with the cornerbacks at Pima Community College in 2012.

At Eastern Arizona, he mentored three defensive backs who earned All-WSFL/ACCAC first team honors and helped the unit rank top 10 nationally in the NJCAA in passing yards allowed in two of his three seasons (131.1 in 2016, 4th; 129.9 in 2014, 7th).

PERSONAL: A native of Tucson, Ariz., Rasool played football at Eastern Arizona College from 2006-07...He graduated from the University of Missouri with a Bachelor of Arts and Science degree in general studies in 2020...Previously coached in the high school ranks in Arizona from 2008-2011.

MARCUS ROBERTSON

DEFENSIVE BACKS

30th season in NFL | 4th season with Raiders
(12 as a player)

Marcus Robertson enters his second stint with the Raiders in 2025, having spent the 2014-16 seasons as the team's defensive backs coach. A 12-year NFL veteran as a player and former All-Pro safety, Robertson brings with him 18 years of NFL coaching experience.

Most recently served as the secondary coach for New Orleans from 2023-24. Last season, Robertson oversaw a unit that ranked second in the NFL in passes defensed (93), fourth in fewest touchdown passes allowed (19), fifth in opponent completion percentage (61.9) and fifth in opponent passer rating (84.8). Robertson coached S Alontae Taylor, who finished third in the NFC and tied for fifth in the NFL in passes defensed (16), while tying S Tyrann Mathieu for the team lead with three interceptions. Robertson also developed rookie CB Kool-Aid McKinstry who played in 15 games with nine starts and recorded 44 tackles and seven passes defensed.

COACHING BACKGROUND

Years	College/Pro Team	Position Coached
2007-08	Tennessee Titans	Assistant Secondary
2009-11	Tennessee Titans	Secondary
2012	Detroit Lions	Defensive Assistant/Secondary
2013	Detroit Lions	Secondary
2014	Oakland Raiders	Assistant Defensive Backs
2015-16	Oakland Raiders	Defensive Backs
2017-18	Denver Broncos	Defensive Backs
2019-22	Arizona Cardinals	Defensive Backs
2023-24	New Orleans Saints	Secondary
2025	Las Vegas Raiders	Defensive Backs

In 2023, Robertson coached a secondary that finished first in the NFL in passes defensed (99), tied for third in the league for interceptions (18) and ranked tenth in opponent passing yards per game (207.3). He coached CB Paulson Adebo, who recorded the third-most passes defensed (18) in the league and led the team with six takeaways. Mathieu recorded four interceptions, tying for the team lead with Adebo. The club's 18 picks were double the team's 2022 total of seven.

Prior to New Orleans, Robertson served as the defensive backs coach for the Arizona Cardinals from 2019-22. Under his tutelage, S Budda Baker was the only safety in the NFL named to the Pro Bowl each of those three seasons. In 2022, Baker ranked seventh among NFL defensive backs with 111 tackles and added seven passes defensed and three takeaways. Robertson also coached CB Marco Wilson who led the Cardinals with three interceptions, including one returned for a touchdown, and ten passes defensed.

In 2021, Baker was named to his third consecutive Pro Bowl at safety and was a second-team All-Pro selection after recording 98 tackles, 2.0 sacks, six tackles for loss, a career-high three INTs, three QB hits, seven passes defensed and a forced fumble. Fellow S Jalen Thompson set career-highs in tackles (120), interceptions (three), passes defensed (seven) and tackles for loss (three). CB Byron Murphy Jr. also posted a career year, tallying four INTs (one returned for a TD) and 12 passes defensed, making him one of just four players in the NFL that season with 4-plus interceptions and 12-plus passes defensed.

In 2020, Baker was a first-team All-Pro selection and was named to the Pro Bowl after tying for the team lead with 118 tackles while also collecting seven tackles for loss, 2.0 sacks, two interceptions, six passes defensed and a forced fumble. The Cardinals finished that season with the tenth ranked pass defense in the NFL (226.4 avg).

In his first season with the Cardinals in 2019, Robertson helped Baker get selected to his first Pro Bowl as a position player after starting all 16 games and totaling 147 tackles, including a league-leading 104 solo tackles.

Robertson helped the 2018 Broncos tie for fifth in the NFL in interceptions (17). The Broncos had 16 different players contribute to the team's 28 takeaways, the second-most players to force a turnover in the NFL (Ind., 17). CB Chris Harris Jr. and safety Justin Simmons each recorded three interceptions.

During Robertson's first season with the Broncos in 2017, Denver ranked fourth in the NFL in pass defense (200.6 avg.) while its secondary accounted for all 10 of the team's interceptions. In addition to CB Aqib Talib being voted to his fifth consecutive Pro Bowl, Harris Jr. was selected as a Pro Bowl alternate and CB Bradley Roby led the team with a career-best 17 passes defensed. Simmons started 13 games for the unit and tied fellow S Darian Stewart for third on the team with 63 tackles.

Prior to the Broncos, Robertson worked in his first stint with the Raiders, serving as the assistant defensive backs coach in 2014 before being promoted to defensive backs coach from 2015-16. During his last two seasons in Oakland, the Raiders ranked eighth in the NFL with 30 interceptions and sixth in the league with 163 passes defensed, while Hall of Fame DB Charles Woodson (2015) along with S Reggie Nelson (2016) were each selected to the Pro Bowl.

In 2015, Robertson helped a young crop of defensive backs step into starting roles and contribute at a high level. He tutored third-year CB David Amerson, who joined the Raiders prior to Week 3 and quickly assumed a starting role. Amerson went on to post a franchise record 26 passes defensed and rank second on the team with four interceptions. Under Robertson's tutelage, second-year CB TJ Carrie was able to assume a dual role as cornerback and safety, helping the team allow only 202.9 passing yards per game over the team's final eight contests despite multiple injuries within the unit. Robertson's unit was also instrumental in helping Oakland's defense finish ninth in the NFL in red zone efficiency (51.7 percent) and 11th in the league in third-down conversion percentage (37.5).

Robertson coached Charles Woodson, as the 18-year NFL veteran earned a Pro Bowl selection in his final NFL campaign. Woodson led the team with five interceptions, his most as a Raider since his rookie season of 1998. He notched four interceptions over a three-game span from Weeks 3-5, helping him earn AFC Defensive Player of the Month honors for October after notching three interceptions over a two-game span. Woodson's five interceptions in 2015 were the most in NFL history by a player in his 18th season or later.

As the assistant defensive backs coach with the Silver and Black in 2014, Robertson tutored Woodson, who led the team in tackles (160) and interceptions (four). Woodson earned Defensive Player of the Week accolades for his performance in Week 12 against the Kansas City Chiefs when he became the first player in NFL history to post 50 career interceptions and 20 sacks. The defensive backs also contributed to a defense that finished in the top half of the league in red zone efficiency (15th, 52.6 percent) and third-down conversion percentage (14th, 38.5).

While serving as secondary coach with Detroit in 2013, Robertson helped the Lions finish seventh in the league with a total of 92 passes defensed. The Lions' defense also excelled in red zone efficiency and third down conversion percentage, thanks in large part to the secondary. The unit led the NFL in third-down conversion percentage (30.3) and finished second in the league in red zone efficiency (38.1 percent). Robertson also tutored CB Chris Houston, who totaled two interceptions in 2013, becoming the first Lions defensive back to record 10 career picks since 2000. He served as defensive assistant/secondary coach in his first season with Detroit in 2012, when the unit finished 10th third-down efficiency (36.5 percent).

Robertson was the secondary coach for the Tennessee Titans from 2009-11, helping the team rank second in the NFL in average passing yards/completion (10.6) during that span. In 2011, the Titans' defense finished eighth in the league in points per game (19.8), fourth in the NFL in passing yards allowed per attempt (6.1) and 10th in red zone efficiency (47.9 percent). In his first season as secondary coach in 2009, the Titans finished eighth in the NFL in interceptions (20) and second in interceptions returned for a touchdown (four).

Robertson's coaching career began as the assistant secondary coach with Tennessee for two seasons (2007-08). In 2008, the Titans secondary boasted three Pro Bowl selections, including CB Cortland Finnegan, S Chris Hope and S Michael Griffin. Overall, Tennessee defensive backs collected 19 interceptions, which ranked second in the NFL in interceptions by a secondary. In Robertson's first season assisting with the secondary, the Titans improved from 27th to 10th in pass defense and from 32nd to fifth in overall yardage allowed.

ROBERTSON

Robertson served as the Titans director of player development from 2003-06. He spent those four years assisting players with their career transition into and out of the NFL through continuing education, financial education and administering player programs. Robertson and his staff earned the Winston and Shell Award in 2006 for their innovation and commitment to player development in the NFL.

RIP ROWAN

DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

1st season in NFL | 1st season with Raiders

COACHING BACKGROUND

Years	College/Pro Team	Position Coached
2015-16	Southern Miss	Graduate Assistant
2017-18	Florida Atlantic	Defensive Graduate Assistant
2019-20	University of Washington	Defensive Analyst
2021	University of Washington	Defensive Line
2022-24	Georgia Southern	Defensive Line
2025	Las Vegas Raiders	Defensive Assistant

Rip Rowan enters his first season as a defensive assistant for the Las Vegas Raiders, bringing with him 10 years of coaching experience at the college level.

Before joining the Silver and Black, he served as the defensive line coach at Georgia Southern for three seasons (2022-24). During the 2024 season, Rowan helped the Eagles rank fifth in the Sun Belt Conference in forced fumbles (10) and seventh in fumble recoveries (six).

In 2023, Rowan coached DL Isaac Walker to third team All-Sun Belt Conference honors and DL Justin Rhodes to honorable mention All-Sun Belt honors. Walker ranked tied for first in the FBS in forced fumbles (five) and Rhodes tied for 13th in the conference in tackles for loss (13).

In his first season at Georgia Southern, Rowan tutored DL Justin Ellis as he earned third team All-Sun Belt honors after posting 10.0 tackles for loss and 4.5 sacks.

Rowan spent three seasons at the University of Washington, serving as the defensive line coach in 2021 after two seasons as a defensive analyst from 2019-20. In his final season with the Huskies, he helped coach DL Tuli Letuligasenoa to All-Pac-12 honorable mention honors after recording 36 tackles and a team-high 6.5 tackles for loss.

In 2020, Rowan worked with a defensive unit that ranked first in the Pac-12 in fewest total yards allowed per game (346.3) and fewest passing yards allowed per game (185.0). He helped mentor DL Zion Tupuola-Fetui to All-Pac-12 First Team honors after recording seven sacks and three forced fumbles in only four games, ranking 18th and fifth in the nation respectively. Additionally, LB Edefuan Ulofoshio and DB Trent McDuffie were named second team All-Pac-12.

In 2019, Rowan saw two defensive players earn All-Pac-12 honors, as DB Elijah Molden was named All-Pac-12 First Team after leading the conference in interceptions (four) and passes defensed (13), while DB Myles Bryant earned second team honors after posting 68 tackles and three interceptions.

Prior to the University of Washington, Rowan served as a graduate assistant at Florida Atlantic for two seasons (2017-18). In 2018, he helped coach DB Jalen Young as he earned second team All-CUSA honors after recording 59 tackles, one interception and two passes defensed.

In his first season with Florida Atlantic, the Owls' defense finished first in Conference USA in sacks (38), interceptions (20), and fourth in forced fumbles(10). The defense also allowed the third-fewest scoring average (22.7). He helped a unit that included three First Team All-Conference-USA selections in LB Azeez-Al-Shaair, Young and DB Shelton Lewis. Young led the conference with seven interceptions and Al-Shaair finished second in the league with 147 total tackles.

Rowan entered the coaching ranks as a graduate assistant for Southern Miss, working primarily with the defensive line from 2015-16.
In 2016, the Golden Eagles ranked first in the conference in the fewest total yards allowed per game (324.8) and produced two first team Conference-USA selections in DL Dylan Bradley (seven sacks, 14 TFLs) and DB D'Nerius Antoine (82 tackles).

In 2015, Rowan helped mentor DL Michael Smith as he was a second team All-Conference -USA selection after posting 25 tackles and four sacks.

PERSONAL: A native of Marietta, Ga., Rowan was a four-year letterwinner at Austin Peay from 2010-13, where he played defensive end and linebacker...Earned his bachelor's degree in history and education...Worked as a history teacher and assistant football coach at Northwest High School in Clarksville, Tenn., in 2014.

RICK SLATE

ASSISTANT HEAD STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

8th season in NFL | 8th season with Raiders

COACHING BACKGROUND

Years	College/Pro Team	Position Coached
1987-92	Florida State	Assistant Strength and Conditioning
1992	Florida Marlins	Minor League Strength and Conditioning Coordinator
1993-2001	Florida Marlins	Strength and Conditioning Coordinator
2003-10	New York Mets	Strength and Conditioning Coordinator
2011-12	Atlanta Braves	Minor League Strength and Conditioning Coordinator
2012-17	Atlanta Braves	Director of Strength and Conditioning
2018-19	Oakland Raiders	Strength and Conditioning Assistant
2020-24	Las Vegas Raiders	Strength and Conditioning Assistant
2025	Las Vegas Raiders	Assistant Head Strength & Conditioning

Rick Slate, who brings 37 years of strength and conditioning experience, enters his eighth season with the Silver and Black. He joined the Raiders in 2018 after spending 25 seasons in Major League Baseball with the Florida Marlins, New York Mets and Atlanta Braves.

Working extensively with all position groups on the roster, Slate's focuses include strength training and assistance in transitioning players back from injury into participation. He also helps manage performance data for the team's strength and conditioning staff.

In 2024, Slate helped produce two Pro Bowlers in DE Maxx Crosby and rookie TE Brock Bowers. Crosby earned his fourth-straight Pro Bowl selection after leading the team with 7.5 sacks and tying for sixth in the league in tackles for loss (17) in only 12 games. Bowers earn a first-team All-Pro selection and Pro Bowl honors after breaking multiple league and franchise records, recording the most receptions by any player in his rookie season (112) and the most receiving yards by a tight end in his rookie season (1,194) in NFL history. Slate assisted in training 16 players who appeared in all 17 regular season games and helped transition a rookie draft class that accounted for 66 starts.

In 2023, Slate helped DE Maxx Crosby earn his third-straight Pro Bowl selection after finishing with career highs in total tackles (90), TFLs (23) and sacks (14.5). He assisted in training 25 players who appeared in all 17 regular season games and helped transition a rookie draft class that accounted for 17-of-31 total touchdowns on offense (Aidan O'Connell, 13; Michael Mayer, 2; Tre Tucker; 2).

In 2022, Slate worked with a group that helped produce five Pro Bowlers in WR Davante Adams, DE Maxx Crosby, RB Josh Jacobs, QB Derek Carr and P AJ Cole. He also assisted in the strength development of four undrafted free agents who made the final 53-man roster, tied for the most over the last 10 seasons by the Raiders and the most since 2019.

In 2021, Slate's work with the team helped the Silver and Black earn a 10-7 record, clinching their first postseason berth since 2016. Slate also saw the Raiders produce four first-time Pro Bowlers in P AJ Cole, DE Maxx Crosby, LB Denzel Perryman and WR Hunter Renfrow. Renfrow set career highs in catches (103), receiving yards (1,038) and touchdowns (nine), while Cole averaged a league- and career-high 50.0 yards per punt, a mark that ranks eighth all-time in NFL history. Additionally, Crosby and Perryman anchored a defensive unit that ranked sixth in the AFC with just 337.2 yards per game allowed.

Under Slate's training, QB Derek Carr put together one of his best seasons as a Raider. Carr set a career and franchise record with 4,804 yards and became the only quarterback in the NFL to rank in the top-five in passing yards (4,804) and completion percentage (68.4).

During his third season with the Raiders in 2020, Slate's guidance in the weight room helped the Raiders produce two Pro Bowlers in RB Josh Jacobs and TE Darren Waller, both earning the nod for the first time in their careers. Waller led the team in all major receiving categories, setting a new club record with 107 receptions and posting career highs in receiving yards (1,196) and touchdowns (nine), while Jacobs surpassed the 1,000-yard mark with 1,065 yards on the ground and set a career high with 12 touchdowns. Slate also saw Carr set personal bests in yards per attempt (7.9 avg.) and passer rating (101.4), while extending his streak of most seasons (three) in franchise history with at least 4,000 passing yards.

In 2019, Slate continued to help implement the team's strength and conditioning program while working with multiple position groups throughout the roster. Slate saw T Trent Brown and C Rodney Hudson earn Pro Bowl honors, while G Richie Incognito, FB Alec Ingold, Jacobs and Waller were named as alternates.

Slate helped guide the 2019 rookie class in their transition from college to the NFL, as Raiders rookies combined to lead the NFL in scrimmage touchdowns (17), sacks (14.5), yards after the catch (676), rushing yards (1,167), rushing touchdowns (seven) and rushing first downs (60) among their rookie peers. The Raiders rookies also ranked second in receptions (107) and receiving yards (1,112).

In 2018, Slate worked with TE Jared Cook as he earned his first Pro Bowl selection in 2018. Cook set career highs in receptions (68), receiving yards (896) and touchdowns (six) and tallied four 100-yard contests on the season. Slate also helped train Hudson and G/T Kelechi Osemele in 2018, who were named Pro Bowl alternates.

With Slate's guidance in the weight room, Carr started in all 16 contests for the third time in his career and finished the season with 4,049 yards on 381-of-553 passing (68.9 percent), 19 touchdowns against 10 interceptions for a passer rating of 93.9. In his fifth season in the league, Carr's completions, completion percentage, yards and yards per attempt (7.3 avg.) all marked then-career highs.

Prior to entering the NFL, Slate was with the Braves organization from 2011-17 serving as the team's director of strength and conditioning. Slate initially joined Atlanta in 2011 and served as the Braves' minor league strength and conditioning coordinator before being promoted in 2012.

In Atlanta, Slate oversaw all aspects of the Braves' strength and conditioning program throughout all levels of the organization. Under his program, the Braves reached the postseason in back-to-back seasons from 2012-13 and saw the team capture the NL East title in 2013.

From 2003-10, Slate was with the Mets for eight seasons as New York's strength and conditioning coordinator. Slate helped the club win the NL East title in 2006, their first division crown since 1988, and went on to reach the League Championship Series.

Slate began his professional career with the Marlins in 1992, one year prior to their inaugural season, as the team's minor league strength and conditioning coordinator. He was promoted in 1993 and served as Florida's strength and conditioning coordinator for nine years. During his tenure with the Marlins, Slate helped them win the 1997 World Series, becoming the first wild card team ever to win the World Series.

Before entering professional baseball, Slate spent six years at Florida State as an assistant strength and conditioning coach from 1987-92. During his time at Florida State, he helped the football program record six consecutive seasons with 10 or more wins, while earning six bowl wins and one ACC championship. He also helped his collegiate teams make it to the Sweet 16 in basketball and the College World Series in baseball while at Florida State.

Certified Strength and Conditioning Coach and Registered Strength and Conditioning Specialist through the National Strength and Conditioning Association...Holds numerous other certifications including CrossFit Level 1, SFG Kettlebell Instructor Level 1 and 2, USAW Club Coach Level 1, USTF Level 1, FMS Level 1, Stick Mobility Level 1 and CPR...A member of the 2019 NFL Combine and Senior Bowl staff as well as the 2020 NFL Combine staff...Earned the NSCA – Strength and Conditioning Coach and CSCS*E Award.

LUKE STECKEL

TIGHT ENDS

17th season in NFL | 2nd season with Raiders

COACHING BACKGROUND

Years	College/Pro Team	Position Coached
2009-12	Cleveland Browns	Assistant to the Head Coach
2013	Tennessee Titans	Assistant to the Head Coach
2014-16	Tennessee Titans	Offensive Assistant
2017	Tennessee Titans	Assistant Wide Receivers
2018-20	Tennessee Titans	Offensive Assistant
2021-22	Tennessee Titans	Tight Ends
2023	Chicago Bears	Assistant Offensive Line
2024-	Las Vegas Raiders	Tight Ends

Luke Steckel enters his second season as tight ends coach with the Silver and Black in 2025.

In his first season with the Raiders, Steckel led a tight end unit that accounted for 143 of the team's 410 total completions for 1,443 total yards. Their 143 receptions ranked second among tight end units in the NFL - and were the most in a single season by a tight end unit in Raiders history since 2020 - while their 1,443 receiving yards were the most among tight end units in the NFL in 2024. Under Steckel's guidance, rookie TE Brock Bowers was selected to the Pro Bowl and became the first rookie tight end to earn first-team All-Pro honors since 2002. Bowers established multiple NFL records as he finished with 112 receptions, the most in a single season by a rookie in NFL history, and 1,194 receiving yards, breaking Hall of Fame TE Mike Ditka's record set in 1961 for most receiving yards by a rookie tight end.

Steckel joined the Raiders after spending one season as the assistant offensive line coach with the Chicago Bears. In 2023, Steckel worked with an offensive line that paved the way for a rushing attack that ranked second in the NFL in rushing attempts (534), rushing yards (2,399) and rushing yards per game (141.1). The Bears also ranked tied for first in big plays rushing (10+ yards) with 74, fifth in rushing first downs (137) and sixth in yards per carry (4.49). With Steckel's guidance, first round draft pick Darnell Wright started in all 17 games at right tackle and was named First Team All-Rookie by the Pro Football Writers of America.

Prior to joining the Bears, Steckel spent 10 seasons with the Tennessee Titans in multiple roles. In 2022, he completed his second season as tight ends coach and helped TE Chig Okonkwo lead all rookie tight ends in the NFL in receiving yards (450) and receiving touchdowns (three), earning PFWA All-Rookie honors. Steckel also worked with TE Austin Hooper, helping him finish second on the team in receptions (41) and tied third on the team in receiving yards (444).

In 2021, Steckel was promoted to tight ends coach following three years as an offensive assistant. Under his guidance, TE Geoff Swaim set career highs in receptions (31) and touchdowns (three), while TE MyCole Pruitt recorded then-career bests in catches (14), receiving yards (145) and touchdowns (three). The tight ends combined for eight of the team's 22 receiving touchdowns and helped the offense rank fifth in the NFL in rushing (141.4 yards per game).

In 2020, Steckel was part of an offensive staff that helped the Titans rank second in total offense (396.4 yards per game), second in rushing (168.1) and third in scoring (30.7 points per game). He continued his work with the wide receivers, helping WR A.J. Brown earn his first career Pro Bowl honor after recording 70 receptions for 1,075 yards and 11 touchdowns. He also coached WR Corey Davis to a career-high 984 receiving yards and five touchdowns. In 2019, Steckel helped QB Ryan Tannehill register an NFL-best 117.5 passer rating, a 70.3 completion percentage, an NFL-high 9.6 yards per attempt and 22 touchdowns – all career highs – en route to being named Associated Press Comeback Player of the Year. The Titans' offense ranked fourth in the league in yards per play (6.12) and first in red zone efficiency (75.6 percent).

In 2018, Steckel began his second stint as an offensive assistant, working with second year WR Davis who led the offense with 65 receptions for 891 receiving yards and four touchdowns.

In 2017, he was promoted to assistant wide receivers coach and helped WR Eric Decker finish second on the team with 54 receptions and 563 receiving yards. WR Rishard Matthews finished with 53 catches for 795 receiving yards and a team-high four receiving touchdowns.

From 2014-16, Steckel served as an offensive assistant and worked primarily with the tight ends and running backs positions.

In 2016, Steckel assisted the tight ends group and helped TE Delanie Walker earn his second Pro Bowl honor after recording a team-high 65 receptions for 800 yards and a career-high seven touchdowns. The run-blocking by the tight end group also played a key role in the success of the Titans run game, which ranked third in the NFL and saw RB DeMarco Murray lead the AFC in rushing yards (1,287).

In 2015, Steckel coached RB Dexter McCluster, who was the only player in the NFL that season, and the first player since Darren Sproles in 2011, to record 200-plus receiving yards, 200-plus rushing yards, 200-plus yards on kickoff returns and 200-plus yards on punt returns. McCluster is 1-of-23 players to accomplish the feat in a single season in NFL history.

In 2014, Steckel helped with the development of rookie RB Bishop Sankey who played in all 16 games and led the team with 551 rushing yards with two touchdowns. In his first year with the Titans in 2013, he served as the assistant to the head coach.

Prior to Tennessee, Steckel spent four seasons with the Cleveland Browns as the assistant to the head coach, where he handled a variety of duties for the head coach and coaching staff.

PERSONAL: Born in Boston, Ma., Steckel played linebacker at Princeton (2003-06)...As a senior, he served as a team captain and led the Tigers to a 9-1 record and Ivy League Championship...Graduated with a degree in political economy...Attended Brentwood (Tenn.) High School, where he earned all-region and all-Midstate honors as a senior middle linebacker and helped win the 5A State Championship...His father, Les Steckel, was a football coach in the NFL from 1978 to 2003...Steckel is married to his wife, Lindsay.

2018	Detroit Lions	Offensive Assistant
2020	Arizona Cardinals	Assistant Special Teams
2021	Los Angeles Chargers	Special Teams Coordinator
2023-	Las Vegas Raiders	Assistant Special Teams

Derius Swinton II enters his third season with the Las Vegas Raiders as the assistant special teams coach, his 15th season in the NFL coaching ranks.

In 2024, Swinton helped P AJ Cole finish the season with a league-high and single-season career best 50.8 gross punting average, as well as finishing seventh in the league in net punting average (42.5). Cole also set a career-high in punts of 60+ yards with 17, the second most in the NFL in 2024. He also saw K Daniel Carlson become just the 15th player in NFL history to reach 800 career points in his first seven NFL seasons. Carlson finished the season making 34-of-40 field goals and 23-of-25 extra points. With Swinton's assistance, the special teams unit also finished fifth in the NFL in kickoff return average (29.6).

In 2023, Swinton supported a special teams unit that performed among the best in the NFL, helping Cole earn his third-straight Pro Bowl appearance after finishing the season with a league-high 45.1 net punting average, also the best average in a single season in Raiders history since 1976. He also saw Carlson become just the 12th player in NFL history to reach 700 career points in his first six NFL seasons. Carlson finished the season making 26-of-30 field goals and 32-of-32 extra points. Swinton also oversaw WR DeAndre Carter in his first season with the Raiders, who returned 24 punts for 232 yards (9.7 avg.). His 9.7 yards per punt return was tied for the 12th best average in the NFL in 2023 (min. 20 returns).

Swinton joined the Raiders after serving as the special teams coordinator of the Los Angeles Chargers for the 2021 season. His new position in Las Vegas completes his AFC West career tour as Swinton has now held coaching positions for all four teams in the division beginning with the Chiefs in 2012, the Broncos in 2013-14, the Chargers in 2021 and now the Raiders in 2023.

In his lone season with the Chargers, he led a special teams unit that made significant improvement from 2020 to 2021 in the kicking and return game. Under Swinton, LA improved from 29th in the league in field goal percentage (72.7) to ninth in 2021 (88.9 percent), in large part to the mid-season acquisition of K Dustin Hopkins, who made 18-of-20 (90.0 percent) field goals after joining the Chargers in Week 8...In the kickoff return game, Swinton helped improve the Chargers from the 15th best average in the NFL in 2020 (22.0) to the fourth best average in the NFL in 2021 (25.0), led by the mid-season acquisition of Andre Roberts, who averaged 32.8 yards per kick return after joining the Chargers in Week 8, the second best mark in the league.

Swinton also spent a short stint of his career on the offensive side of the ball in 2018, serving as an offensive assistant with the Detroit Lions before returning to the special teams ranks with the Cardinals in 2020 as the assistant special teams coach, helping the team improve to the fifth best kickoff coverage in the NFL in 2020 (19.5 opp. avg.).

Swinton served as assistant special teams coach with the Chicago Bears for two seasons (2015, 17), highlighted by the Bears punt return unit posting the third-best average in the NFL in 2017 (10.5 avg.) and K Robbie Gould making a league-best seven field goals from 50+ yards in 2015.

Between his two seasons in Chicago, Swinton got his first opportunity as a special teams coordinator with the San Francisco 49ers in 2016. During his time in the Bay Area, he helped improve the 49ers kickoff coverage from the 25th fewest average return yards allowed to the fifth fewest return yards allowed in the NFL.

Swinton began his NFL coaching career with the St. Louis Rams in 2009, where he served as a special teams quality control coach from 2009-11 before coaching in the same role with the Chiefs in 2012.

After his lone season with the Chiefs in 2012, Swinton spent two seasons with the Denver Broncos (2013-14) as an assistant special teams coach, helping K Matt Prater to a Pro Bowl selection and second-team All-Pro honors after making 96.2 percent of his field goal attempts (2nd in the NFL), including an NFL-record 64-yard field goal.

PERSONAL: A native of Newport News, Va., Swinton began his coaching career after graduating from Hampton University in Hampton, Virginia, where he was a two-sport athlete, doubling as a star in the secondary and key contributor on the basketball team...After graduation, he took a defensive graduate assistant position at the University of Tennessee, where he helped safety Eric Berry earn All-America honors as a sophomore and second-team All-Southeastern Conference recognition as a freshman...In his second season with the Volunteers in 2008, Tennessee ranked third in the nation in total defense...Swinton is married to Hillary Thomas, and they have two sons, Cameron and Carter.

2020-22	Cleveland Browns	Defensive Coordinator
2023-24	New Orleans Saints	Defensive Coordinator
2025	Las Vegas Raiders	Pass Game Coordinator/ Defensive Backs

Joe Woods joins the Raiders in 2025 as the pass game coordinator/ defensive backs coach, bringing with him 33 years of coaching experience, including 21 years of coaching in the NFL ranks.

Woods enters his second stint with the Raiders after spending the 2014 season in Oakland as the defensive backs coach. This time, Woods joins the Silver and Black after spending the last two seasons (2023-24) with the New Orleans Saints as the defensive coordinator. Over his two seasons in New Orleans, Woods' defenses ranked ninth in the NFL in third down conversion percentage allowed (37.7%) and fourth in the league in fourth down conversion percentage allowed (47.2%). His defenses also totaled 46 takeaways over the last two seasons, tied for the 12th most in the NFL over that span.

Last season (2024), Woods led a pass defense that ranked fourth in the NFL in surrendering the fewest touchdown passes (19), fifth in lowest opponent completion percentage (61.9%) and fifth in lowest opponent passer rating allowed (84.8). Saints defenders also combined for 14 interceptions and 93 passes defensed in 2024, the 11th most and the second most in the NFL respectively.

In his first season with the Saints in 2023, the Saints made significant improvements in forcing turnovers. New Orleans ranked 31st in the NFL in 2022 in forced turnovers and improved to fourth in 2023 (29 takeaways), helping New Orleans to a 5-1 record when they forced at least two defensive turnovers in a game. Woods also helped the Saints increased their interception total from seven to 18 in 2023, tied for third in the league. The Saints defense also led the NFL with 99 passes defensed, ranked eighth in points allowed per game (19.2), tenth in net passing yards allowed per game (207.3) and fourth in the league in third down defense (34.5%) after tying for 24th a year earlier.

Woods came to New Orleans after serving as defensive coordinator of the Cleveland Browns from 2020-22. In 2022, Woods led a Browns defensive unit that had a constantly-evolving cast of players. Despite the changes, the Browns tied for fourth in the NFL in passes defensed (85) and ranked fifth in opponent net passing yards per game (196.2 ypg.), helping Cleveland win four of its last seven games after a 3-7 start, surrendering 17 points or fewer in five of the contests. In a 24-10 victory over the Washington Commanders in Week 17 that eliminated Washington from the playoff chase, Cleveland held them to 260 net yards and recorded three interceptions. Veteran contributors also enjoyed standout campaigns and others made strides as young professionals under Woods' leadership in Cleveland. DE Myles Garrett tied his own team record with 16.0 sacks, first set in 2021, tied for second-most in the NFL. He became the only player to record 16.0 sacks in 2021 and 2022, as he was a Pro Bowl and second-team All-Pro selection. S Grant Delpit showed significant growth in his second season, when he led the team in interceptions (four) and tackles (101), as one of only three NFL players to have at least four picks and 100 stops. Rookie CB Martin Emerson Jr. tied with CB Denzel Ward for the team lead in pass breakups (15), earning a Pro Football Journal All-Rookie nod, as Cleveland was one of only two teams in the NFL to have two players with at least 15 passes defensed.

Under Woods' supervision in 2021, the Browns finished fifth in the NFL in total defense (311.5 ypg.), marking just the third time since 1970 the team ranked in the top-five and the club's highest finish since 1987. Cleveland was one of just three NFL teams to finish in the top-12 in total defense (311.5 ypg.; 5th), run defense (109.2 ypg.; 12th) and pass defense (202.3 ypg.; 5th). Garrett earned first-team All-Pro and Pro Bowl honors with 16.0 sacks and Ward earned his second career Pro Bowl selection.

Upon arriving in Cleveland in 2020, Woods helped the Browns reach the playoffs for the first time since 2002, as they led the NFL with six red zone takeaways and tied for second in the league with 17 forced fumbles, helping Cleveland to a 6-0 record when they forced two or more turnovers in a game and 8-1 in games with at least one takeaway. The Browns also finished ninth in run defense (110.8 ypg.) after finishing 30th in 2019 prior to Woods' arrival. Under Woods, Garrett earned first-team All-Pro and Pro Bowl honors as he ranked among the league leaders in strip sacks (tied for second with four), forced fumbles (tied for third with four), fumble recoveries (tied for third with two) and sacks (sixth with 12.0). Along with DE Olivier Vernon (9.0), the Browns were one of just four teams to have a pair of teammates each record at 9.0+ sacks.

Prior to his tenure in Cleveland, Woods served as defensive backs/pass game coordinator for the San Francisco 49ers in 2019, who won the NFC Championship and had an appearance in Super Bowl LIV. Under Woods, San Francisco held opponents to 169.2 passing yards per game, the best mark in the NFL in 2019 and the lowest total allowed by an NFL team in a single season since 2009. San Francisco also led the league with 21 forced fumbles and finished in the top-eight in nine other major defensive categories.

Woods spent four seasons in Denver from 2015-18, where he served as defensive backs coach his first two seasons and as defensive coordinator his final two. Under Woods' tutelage in 2018, LB Von Miller and rookie LB Bradley Chubb combined for 26.5 sacks, as Miller's 14.5 were the second-most in a single season in his career and Chubb's 12.0 set the Broncos franchise rookie record. Miller was selected to his fifth consecutive Pro Bowl, as he reached double-digit sack totals for the fifth consecutive season, while also adding four takeaways.

Woods was part of Broncos defense in 2017 that finished third in the NFL in total defense (290.0 ypg.) and joined the Minnesota Vikings as the only two teams to rank in the top five in run defense (89.4 ypg.) and passing defense (200.6 ypg.) that season. Woods' defense also held its opponents to less than 300 net yards passing in all 17 games, one of only two teams in the NFL to accomplish the feat (Cin.). Miller led the team with 10.0 sacks as he was selected to the Pro Bowl and PFW/PFWA All-NFL team. LB Brandon Marshall led the team with 106 tackles at inside linebacker and added a career-high 3.0 sacks.

Prior to his promotion to defensive coordinator, Woods coached Denver's defensive backs to first-place rankings in the NFL in opponent net passing yards per game allowed in both 2015 (199.6) and 2016 (185.8). The Broncos also held opponents to the lowest completion percentage (57.8%), yards per attempt (5.99) and passer rating (74.3) during those two seasons. From 2015-16, the Broncos secondary led the NFL in defensive touchdowns (seven). Each of Denver's four starting defensive backs made at least one Pro Bowl playing for Woods from 2015-16, including CBs Chris Harris Jr. (2015-16) and Aquib Talib (2015-16), who were also named first-team All-Pro selections in 2016. Under Woods, S T.J. Ward (2015) and S Darian Stewart (2016) also earned Pro Bowl honors.

In 2014, Woods led the Oakland Raiders defensive backs where he worked with Pro Football Hall of Fame DB Charles Woodson, who led the team with 160 tackles (105 solo) and four interceptions in his 17th NFL season. The Raiders allowed 212.4 passing yards per game in 2014, the 12th best mark in the NFL.

WOODS

Prior to his season in Oakland, Woods spent eight seasons coaching defensive backs for the Minnesota Vikings (2006-13). The Vikings finished in the NFL's top 10 defenses in four of his first five years with the team, winning consecutive NFC North Division titles from 2008-09 and making an appearance in the NFC Championship game following the 2009 season.

In 2013, Woods was instrumental in the development of first-round CB Xavier Rhodes, who appeared in 13 games (six starts) for the club and set a Vikings rookie record with 23 passes defensed. CB Antoine Winfield earned all three of his career Pro Bowl selections (2008-10) playing for Woods, recording 14 interceptions and 58 passes defensed in his six years with the Vikings.

Woods was brought to Minnesota in 2006 along with defensive coordinator Mike Tomlin, who worked side-by-side with him as a secondary coach in Tampa Bay from 2004-05. With Woods serving as a defensive quality control coach, he assisted Tomlin in coaching a talented secondary led by CB Ronde Barber, who would earn first-team AP All-Pro both seasons and is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame's Class of 2023. In 2005, the Buccaneers boasted the NFL's top defensive unit (277.8 ypg.)— including the league's sixth-ranked pass defense (183.1 ypg)—while finishing 11-5 and capturing the NFC South Division title. Barber set a team record for most tackles (120) by a cornerback and led the club with five interceptions.

Tampa Bay ranked first in the NFL in pass defense (161.2 ypg.) in Woods' first season with the club in 2004 and limited opposing quarterbacks to a 77.2 passer rating. Barber was selected to his second career Pro Bowl after finishing the season as one of just four NFL cornerbacks to record at least three interceptions and three sacks.

Before joining the Bucs, Woods was the defensive backs coach for three seasons (2001-03) at Western Michigan. He coached the same position with Hofstra (1998-2000), helping the school make consecutive trips to the 1-AA playoff quarterfinals. Woods also served as defensive backs coach at Kent State University (1997) and Grand Valley State University (1994-96) following a stint coaching linebackers during the spring of 1994 at Northwestern State University. He began his coaching career as a defensive backs coach at Muskingum College (1992) and moved on to become a graduate assistant coach at Eastern Michigan University a year later (1993).

PERSONAL: Woods lettered four times as a cornerback and safety at Illinois State, graduating in 1992 with a degree in criminal justice...He was team captain as a senior in 1991 and went on to earn first-team All-Gateway Conference following his final season...Born on June 25, 1970, in North Vandergrift, Pa., Woods and his wife, Ellen, have two daughters and one son.

FOOTBALL ADMINISTRATION

MATT CAPURRO

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, COACHING OPERATIONS

In her role with the UFC, Banks was responsible for the growth, and marketing of UFC Pay-Per-View, broadcast programming, and UFC FIGHT PASS, UFC's digital streaming network to fans in over 152 countries. Moving from Florida, she supported Consumer Brand Marketing and Global Promotions at NBCUniversal/Comcast. Here Banks worked on several high-profile releases including The Wizarding World of Harry Potter, Jurassic World, and Rise of Minions, along with several on-location productions of Jimmy Fallon and The Tonight Show, Access Hollywood, and Ant & Dec's Saturday Night Takeaway on BT in the UK. She holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Communication and Media Studies from Florida Southern College and a Master of Arts in Organizational Communication with a concentration in Marketing Analytics from the University of Denver.

JUSTIN CARLEY

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, CHIEF LEGAL OFFICER AND GENERAL COUNSEL

Justin Carley joined the Raiders as Senior Vice President and General Counsel in October 2022 and plays a critical role in deal-making, contract negotiation, crisis and litigation management, and political and public relations. He also provides advice and counseling on football matters and business operations, including stadium and headquarter management, real estate development, construction, employment issues, sales and sponsorship relations, and event management. Recently, he assumed responsibility for Allegiant Stadium operations, and managing the Raiders non-stadium real estate, facilities, and office administrative departments.

Immediately before joining the Raiders, Carley was Senior Assistant General Counsel for the Howard Hughes Corporation with nationwide responsibilities. Prior to that, he started his legal career and spent 13 years practicing law at the law firm of Snell & Wilmer, in Las Vegas, Nevada. Carley has been immersed in the southern Nevada legal community, was voted a Top Southern Nevada Attorney for 9 consecutive years and a Mountain States Super Lawyer for 6 consecutive years. He is also Martindale-Hubbell A/V Rated Preeminent, was voted one of The Best Lawyers in America® for Commercial Litigation (2018-2019) and made Vegas Inc.'s 40 Under 40 list in 2018. In February 2023, Carley joined the Board of Directors of the Las Vegas Global Economic Alliance, a position he still holds today.

Carley was born and raised in Rhode Island, spent his first year at Hawaii Pacific University, and then completed his studies and graduated from Rhode Island College. In 2003, he relocated to Las Vegas for law school at the University of Nevada Las Vegas - William S. Boyd School of Law, which he graduated from in 2006. Justin is married to Anna Carley, and they have two dogs – Rosy and JJ.

MICHAEL CROME

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

Michael Crome, now in his fifth season as Senior Vice President, Chief Financial Officer for the Las Vegas Raiders, brings over two decades of leadership experience across finance, operations, technology, and analytics.

Prior to joining the Silver & Black, Crome was a partner at private equity firm Sorelle Capital. He also held executive finance roles at Pinnacle Entertainment and Caesars Entertainment. He began his career as a business strategy consultant with Accenture, working across industries including automotive, government, telecommunications, and retail/e-commerce.

A Columbus, Ohio native, Crome earned his bachelor's degree in accounting from the University of Akron and an MBA from the Darden School of Business at the University of Virginia. As a graduate student, he spent a semester in Hyderabad, India studying the dynamics of doing business in one of the world's largest and most complex economies.

Crome serves as an independent director on the board of Goodwrx, Inc., and also sits on the boards of Communities in Schools of Nevada, the Vegas Chamber of Commerce, and the University of Akron Foundation. He was appointed by the Governor to the Nevada Economic Forum and currently serves on the Economic Advisory Council for the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco. He previously served as Chairman of the Board for Junior Achievement of Southern Nevada.

Crome and his wife, Chaka, have one daughter, Brie. An avid distance runner, he completed the World Marathon Challenge—seven marathons on seven continents in seven days.

HEATHER DeSANTO

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, HUMAN RESOURCES

Heather DeSanto is entering her fourth season with the Las Vegas Raiders as Senior Vice President, Human Resources. Before joining the Raiders, DeSanto spent 23 years as a progressive Human Resources leader in hospitality and gaming, with her most recent role as the Senior Vice President, Human Resources for The Venetian Resort in Las Vegas. DeSanto lived abroad in Singapore for eight years, where she last served as Vice President, Human Resources for Marina Bay Sands, an integrated resort.

In her current role, DeSanto drives organizational effectiveness through various Human Resources initiatives and supports management on all major initiatives impacting employees, while developing relevant Human Resources programs and strategies. She leads efforts in strategic workforce planning and learning programs that support employee development and align with the organization's long-term goals. Additionally, she champions diversity and inclusion by integrating inclusive practices into talent management and organizational culture initiatives.

A Bay Area native, DeSanto grew up in Santa Cruz, California. She earned a bachelor's degree in business administration (management) from San Jose State University and in 2015 attended an executive leadership program at the INSEAD Asia Campus in Singapore.

SUPER BOWLS

SUPER BOWL II

Miami Orange Bowl; Sunday, Jan. 14, 1968; Attendance: 75,546; Time: 2:34 PM PST; Weather: 68°F; partly cloudy, 52% humidity, wind W 14 mph

The Raiders stormed into Super Bowl II after claiming the club's first-ever American Football League championship with a 40-7 romp over the Houston Oilers on Dec. 31, 1967. The Raiders mounted a spirited challenge to the Green Bay Packers, the defending Super Bowl champions, but ultimately fell short in Miami, 33-14.

In a game that drew the first $3 million gate in football history, the Bart Starr-led Packers jumped out to a 13-0 lead in the second quarter after a 62-yard touchdown reception by Boyd Dowler. The Raiders cut into the lead with a 23-yard touchdown pass from Daryle Lamonica to Bill Miller, the first of two touchdown receptions on the day for the wide receiver, who played collegiately at the University of Miami.

Down 16-7 entering the second half, the Raiders were unable to contain a Packers offense that added a 2-yard touchdown run by Donny Anderson and Don Chandler's fourth field goal of the day, in the third quarter. Herb Adderley's 60-yard interception return for a touchdown on a fourth-quarter Lamonica pass sealed the Packers victory. Lamonica connected with Miller for a 23-yard Oakland touchdown late in the final period.

Starr earned the game's MVP honors after completing 13-of-24 passes for 202 yards and one touchdown. Miller hauled in a game-high five passes for 84 yards and two touchdowns to lead the Raiders.

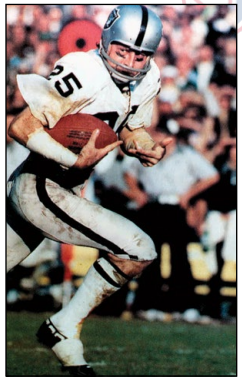
SUPER BOWL XI

Rose Bowl; Sunday, Jan. 9, 1977; Attendance: 103,424; Time: 3:03 PM PST; Weather: 58°F; clear and sunny, 59% humidity, wind NW 5 mph

The 1976 Raiders advanced to Super Bowl XI with a 13-1 regular season record and a 2-0 mark in the playoffs, upending the Pittsburgh Steelers in the AFC Championship Game for the first time in three tries, 24-7. Against the NFC Champion Vikings in front of 103,424 fans at the Rose Bowl, the Silver and Black put forth dominant efforts on both offense and defense in posting a 32-14 victory and capturing the club's first-ever Super Bowl championship.

Oakland built a 16-0 first-half lead as Dave Casper and Pete Banaszak each scored short touchdowns after receptions by Fred Biletnikoff brought the Raiders to the goal line on two separate drives. An additional short-yardage touchdown run by Banaszak in the second half put the Raiders up, 26-7, and set the stage for the signature moment of the contest. With Fran Tarkenton under heavy pressure in the fourth quarter, veteran Willie Brown intercepted a pass and returned it 75 yards for a touchdown to seal the victory.



The Vikings could only muster two second-half touchdowns as the Silver and Black put together a dominant defensive performance, limiting Chuck Foreman to just 44 yards rushing and intercepting Tarkenton twice.

Biletnikoff's 79 yards on four receptions, three of which set up Raider touchdowns, earned him MVP honors, while Clarence Davis helped pace the offense with 137 rushing yards on 16 carries.

A startling 12 Raiders from Super Bowl XI would go on to enshrinement in the Pro Football Hall of Fame, with Owner Al Davis joining Head Coach John Madden, Biletnikoff, Brown, Ted Hendricks, Ray Guy, Ken Stabler, Gene Upshaw, Art Shell, Casper, assistant coach Tom Flores and Cliff Branch in Canton.

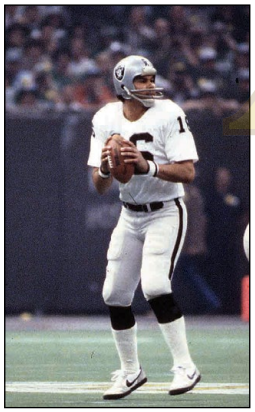
SUPER BOWL XV

Louisiana Superdome; Sunday. Jan. 25, 1981; Attendance: 76,135; Time: 3:13 PM PST; Weather: played indoors, domed stadium

The 1980 Oakland Raiders entered Super Bowl XV against the NFC Champion Philadelphia Eagles as the ultimate underdogs. Not only were the Raiders the first wild card team to advance to the Super Bowl since the NFL adopted the new playoff format in 1978, but the Eagles had already defeated the Silver and Black, 10-7, just eight weeks earlier. This matchup would be markedly different, as a team that started the season with just a 2-3 record would claim the club's second championship with a dominating 27-10 victory.

The Raiders wasted no time establishing themselves in New Orleans, as Rod Martin picked off a Ron Jaworski pass on the game's third play and returned it 25 yards to set up a Jim Plunkett touchdown pass to Cliff Branch. Later in the first quarter, Plunkett hit Kenny King for an 80-yard touchdown strike that set a then-Super Bowl record and gave the Silver and Black a 14-0 lead.



Head coach Tom Flores, employing a philosophy of pressure football, kept the offense firing away in the second half. Plunkett engineered a third-quarter drive that culminated in a 29-yard touchdown pass to Branch that gave the Raiders an insurmountable 21-3 lead. Chris Bahr added two field goals in the second half and the defense, led by a Super Bowl-record three interceptions by Martin, surrendered only a fourth-quarter touchdown.

Plunkett was tabbed for MVP honors after completing 13-of-21 passes for 261 yards and three touchdowns as the Silver and Black became the first wild card team in NFL history to win the Super Bowl.

SUPER BOWL XVIII

Tampa Stadium; Sunday, Jan. 22, 1984; Attendance: 72,920; Time: 3:31 PM PST; Weather: 68°F; partly cloudy, wind NE 20 mph

Famously dubbed "Black Sunday" by NFL Films, Super Bowl XVIII put on display the best that the NFL had to offer as the Los Angeles Raiders drubbed the Washington Redskins, 38-9. The resounding victory rested on the running brilliance of Marcus Allen and the strength of dominating defense and special teams play that lifted the Raiders to the club's third Super Bowl title in eight years.

Clad in their famous black jerseys, the Raiders jumped on the scoreboard first as Derrick Jensen blocked a first-quarter punt deep in Washington territory and fell on the ball in the end zone for a touchdown. In the second quarter, Jim Plunkett orchestrated an efficient three-play drive that culminated in a 12-yard touchdown pass to Cliff Branch.

After a Redskins field goal, the Silver and Black defense would strike just moments before halftime. Keying on a Washington screen pass play that had worked successfully against the Raiders during a regular season meeting between the two teams, defensive coordinator Charlie Sumner inserted reserve Jack Squirek with time winding down in the first half. As Joe Theismann lobbed a screen out towards Joe Washington from the 12-yard line, Squirek stepped in front of the pass and returned the interception for a touchdown to give the Raiders a 21-3 halftime advantage.

The Raiders' second half performance was just as dominant as the team shifted focus to its running game, led by Allen. The second-year running back scored a third-quarter touchdown on a 5-yard run before breaking off perhaps the finest run in Super Bowl history later in the same period. Allen took a handoff from Plunkett and started left on the play but went too wide for his blocking and reversed his field, burst free of pursuit and found the end zone after a 74-yard sprint to give the Raiders an insurmountable lead and give the city of Los Angeles its first Super Bowl victory.

Allen was the easy choice as the game's Most Valuable Player, gaining 191 yards on 20 carries with two touchdowns.

SUPER BOWL XXXVII

Qualcomm Stadium; Sunday, Jan. 26, 2003; Attendance: 67,603; Time: 3:50 PM PST; Weather: 81°F; sunny, 21% humidity, wind WSW 8 mph

After three seasons of knocking on the door, the 2002 Raiders broke through to earn a place in the Super Bowl for the fifth time in franchise history. Led by NFL Most Valuable Player Rich Gannon, the Silver and Black claimed a third-straight AFC West title in 2002, and dispatched the Tennessee Titans in the AFC Championship Game, 41-24, in dominating fashion. The team's ultimate goal of a fourth Super Bowl title would prove elusive, however, as the Raiders fell to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in Super Bowl XXXVII in San Diego, 48-21.

The Raiders got on the board first, capitalizing on a Charles Woodson interception on the game's first possession and getting a 40-yard field goal from Sebastian Janikowski. The score would be the last until late in the third quarter for the Raiders, as the Buccaneers reeled off 34 unanswered points to build a large lead.

The Silver and Black got back into the game with three touchdowns in the second half. Gannon connected with Jerry Porter and Jerry Rice on touchdown passes of 39 and 48 yards, respectively, and Eric Johnson returned a blocked punt 13 yards for a score to move the Raiders to within two scores at 34-21 in the fourth quarter.

Tampa Bay halted any chance of a Raider comeback with two interception returns for touchdowns in the fourth quarter, one by Derrick Brooks for 44 yards and one by Dwight Smith on a tipped pass for 50 yards.

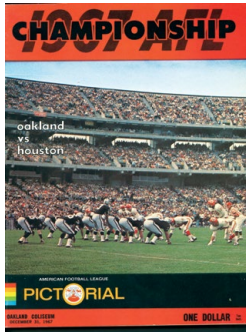
RAIDERS 40, HOUSTON OILERS 7

1967 AFL Championship

Dec. 31, 1967 at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



The Raiders made a splash in the organization's first-ever postseason contest, posting an emphatic 40-7 victory over Houston in front of 53,330 fans at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum.

Fullbacks Pete Banaszak (15-116) and Hewritt Dixon (21-144) each topped 100 yards on the ground and quarterback Daryle Lamonica tossed a pair of touchdown passes and rushed for an additional score in the rout. Veteran kicker George Blanda added four field goals for Oakland.

Following a tight first period, Dixon got the Raiders into the end-zone with a 69-yard touchdown scamper around left end in the second quarter. Blanda set up for a field-goal attempt on fourth-and-1 later in the frame, but Lamonica took the snap and connected with tight end Dave Kocourek for a 17-yard touchdown pass to give the Raiders a 17-0 lead at the half.

In the third quarter, Lamonica's 1-yard dive and the second of Blanda's four field goals gave Oakland an insurmountable 27-0 lead. Two more Blanda field goals and a 12-yard touchdown pass from Lamonica to wide receiver Bill Miller in the fourth period closed out the scoring for the day for Oakland, earning for the Raiders the right to represent the American Football League in the second AFL-NFL Championship.

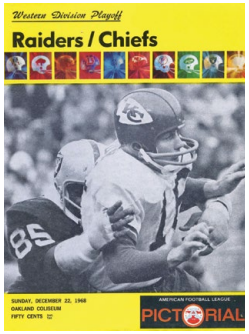
1968 AFL Playoff

Dec. 22, 1968 at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



Deadlocked atop the AFL Western Division standings with identical 12-2 records, the Raiders and Chiefs met in a playoff contest to determine the New York Jets' opponent in the 1968 AFL Championship Game. Oakland used a devastating air attack behind quarterback Daryle Lamonica and receivers Fred Biletnikoff and Warren Wells to hand Kansas City a 41-6 defeat and book a date with Joe Namath's Jets for a shot at the team's second straight AFL title.

Lamonica lived up to his "Mad Bomber" moniker, passing for 347 yards on 19 completions with five touchdowns on the day. All of Lamonica's scoring tosses went to either Biletnikoff (7-180-3) or Wells (4-93-2), while an opportunistic Raider defense picked off Chiefs quarterback Len Dawson four times in the decisive victory.

Oakland jumped out to a 21-0 lead in the first quarter following two touchdown passes from Lamonica to Biletnikoff and an additional scoring toss to Wells. The Chiefs got into the action with a pair of Jan Stenerud field goals in the second quarter, but a 54-yard pass on a third-and-8 play for Biletnikoff's third scoring catch gave the Raiders a 28-6 advantage at the half.

Following a scoreless third period, Lamonica hooked up with Wells for a 35-yard touchdown pass in the fourth quarter to extend the Oakland lead. Wells' second touchdown of the day and a pair of George Blanda field goals following interceptions by defensive backs Willie Brown and Nemiah Wilson sealed the victory for the Silver and Black.

PLAYOFF HISTORY

NEW YORK JETS 27, RAIDERS 23

1968 AFL Championship

Dec. 29, 1968 at Shea Stadium; Flushing Meadows, N.Y.

Just six weeks after the two teams met in the famed "Heidi Game," the Raiders' quest for a second straight AFL title came to an end as Joe Namath's 6-yard touchdown pass to receiver Don Maynard with just under eight minutes remaining in regulation lifted the Jets to a 27-23 win in a back-and-forth struggle.

Oakland quarterback Daryle Lamonica posted a second prolific passing performance in as many weeks, completing 20-of-47 attempts for a franchise-record 401 yards and one touchdown. Fred Biletnikoff hauled in seven passes for 190 yards and one touchdown to lead all receivers.

After surrendering 10 points in the first quarter, a 29-yard scoring pass from Lamonica to Biletnikoff and a George Blanda field goal trimmed the New York lead to 13-10 entering the half. Blanda tied the score with a 9-yard field goal midway through the third period, but the Jets took the lead once again by way of a 20-yard pass from Namath to Pete Lammons, setting up a wildly entertaining fourth quarter.

Blanda's third field goal of the day, a 20-yarder, cut the lead to four points in the final period and rookie defensive back George Atkinson picked off a Namath pass and returned it to New York's 5-yard line on the ensuing possession. Fullback Pete Banaszak barreled into the end zone on the very next play, giving the Raiders their first lead of the game.

The Jets came back with a three-play scoring drive, culminating in Namath's touchdown pass to Maynard after the two had hooked up for a 52-yard gain on the previous play. Lamonica took the Raiders deep into scoring range on two more fourth-quarter drives, the second of which ended on an incomplete swing pass intended for Charlie Smith that was ruled a lateral and recovered by the Jets.

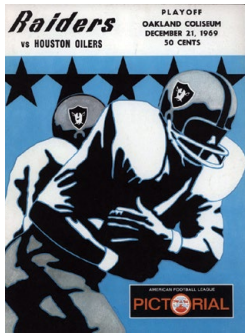
RAIDERS 56, HOUSTON OILERS 7

1969 AFL Divisional Playoff

Dec. 21, 1969 at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



Quarterback Daryle Lamonica, in perhaps his finest hour as a pro, set a single-game playoff record with six touchdown passes to lead the Silver and Black to a swift and decisive 56-7 victory over the visiting Houston Oilers in an AFL Divisional Playoff.

Under the direction of first-year head coach John Madden, a quick-strike offense and a smothering defense paced the Raiders to 28 first-quarter points. On the team's second possession, Lamonica connected with running back Larry Todd for a 40-yard completion, setting up a 13-yard scoring pass to receiver Fred Biletnikoff. On the ensuing possession, defensive back George Atkinson picked off a pass from Houston quarterback Pete Beathard and returned it 57 yards for a touchdown, staking the Raiders to a 14-0 advantage.

The Raider defense struck again on the Oilers' next series, as lineman Carleton Oats recovered a fumble on a first-down play. The turnover set up another scoring strike, with Lamonica finding receiver Rod Sherman for a 24-yard score. Another Oiler fumble, this time by Beathard on a first-down snap, set up an immediate 31-yard scoring pass from Lamonica to Biletnikoff.

Oakland's offense continued to fire on all cylinders in the second quarter, as Lamonica hooked up with running back Charlie Smith for a 60-yard touchdown catch-and-run to make the score 35-0.

Third-quarter touchdown passes to Sherman and tight end Billy Cannon gave Lamonica the record and effectively put the game out of reach for Houston. A late fourth-quarter touchdown pass from Beathard was equaled by a 4-yard touchdown run from fullback Marv Hubbard to round out the scoring.

Lamonica's touchdown bounty established the single-game playoff standard, and has been matched only twice since his record-setting day. As a team, the win over Houston remains the highest playoff point total and largest postseason margin of victory in franchise history.

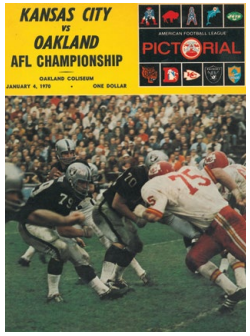
KANSAS CITY 17, RAIDERS 7

1969 AFL Championship

Jan. 4, 1970 at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



The final American Football League Championship fittingly took place in Oakland, as the Raiders had come to dominate the AFL's Western Division, advancing to the championship contest for the third straight season.

A stifling Kansas City defense and a balanced offense led by quarterback Len Dawson conspired to derail the Raiders' attempt for a second AFL title in three seasons. The Chiefs' defense harassed Oakland quarterbacks Daryle Lamonica and George Blanda, forcing the signal-callers to throw four interceptions. Despite the best efforts of running back Charlie Smith, who totaled eight catches for 86 yards and rushed for the Raiders' lone touchdown, the high-flying Oakland offense was limited to its lowest point total of the season.

Smith got the Raiders on the scoreboard first, scampering in around left end from three yards out to cap a 66-yard drive at the end of the first quarter. The Chiefs leveled the score behind a 1-yard scoring plunge by running back Wendell Hayes, and the teams entered the half tied at seven.

Blanda entered the contest at quarterback for Lamonica, who sustained a hand injury, in the third quarter but was picked off deep in Kansas City territory. The Chiefs capitalized on the ensuing possession, marching 94 yards on a drive that culminated in a 5-yard touchdown run by running back Robert Holmes.

Back in the huddle, Lamonica and the Raiders attempted to even the score, but the dinged-up quarterback was picked off on three straight possessions in the fourth quarter. A Jan Stenerud field goal capped the scoring for Kansas City, which came away with the upset victory in Oakland.

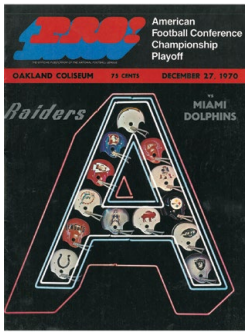
RAIDERS 21, MIAMI 14

1970 AFC Divisional Playoff

Dec. 27, 1970 at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



The Raiders spoiled Miami's postseason debut on a muddy Coliseum field, using an opportunistic passing attack to upend the upstart Dolphins. Quarterback Daryle Lamonica tossed two touchdown passes and defensive back Willie Brown's 50-yard interception return for a touchdown earned the Raiders a spot in the first AFC Championship game with the 21-14 win.

Miami struck first, as quarterback Bob Griese found receiver Paul Warfield in the end zone for a 16-yard touchdown pass in the second quarter. Oakland pulled even near the half, as Lamonica connected with receiver Fred Biletnikoff for a 22-yard score with 1:50 left on the clock.

Oakland drove to the Miami 2-yard line on the opening possession of the third quarter, but a fumble by running back Charlie Smith was recovered by safety Jake Scott. The Dolphins drove to their own 38-yard line but a Griese pass intended for Warfield was picked off by Brown and returned half the length of the field for a score.

Following a missed Miami field-goal attempt early in the fourth quarter, Lamonica unleashed an 82-yard touchdown pass to receiver Rod Sherman with 9:34 left to play, extending the Raider lead. Griese led the Dolphins to within one score with a 7-yard scoring toss to Willie Richardson, but the Oakland defense held firm on Miami's following possession to close out the victory.

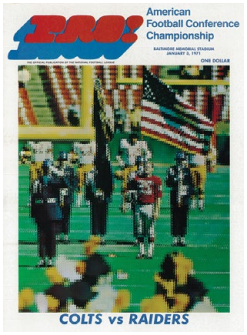
BALTIMORE COLTS 27, RAIDERS 17

1970 AFC Championship

Jan. 3, 1971 at Memorial Stadium; Baltimore, Md.



The Silver and Black fell short of a Super Bowl berth for the third straight season, falling to Baltimore on a barren Memorial Stadium field in the first AFC Championship game, 27-17.

The matchup between Oakland, owners of the league's top offense, and the Colts, who were led by legendary signal-caller Johnny Unitas, made for a most compelling championship battle that was dubbed the "Duel in the Dust" by NFL Films.

The Baltimore defense immediately posed problems for quarterback Daryle Lamonica, and the Raider offense stalled in the first quarter, failing to record a first down. Rookie kicker Jim O'Brien gave the Colts the lead midway through the opening frame, booting a 16-yard field goal.

Oakland drove into Colts territory early in the second period but Lamonica was sacked by Bubba Smith, forcing the quarterback to leave the game due to injury. Grizzled veteran George Blanda was called into action once again, looking to spark the Raiders to victory as he had over a remarkable five-game stretch during the regular season. After a 2-yard touchdown plunge by rookie running back Norm Bulaich put the Colts up 10-0, the Raiders drove into Colts territory and Blanda put Oakland on the board with a 48-yard field goal.

Blanda quickly drew the Raiders level in the third quarter, piloting the half's opening drive and connecting with receiver Fred Biletnikoff for a 38-yard touchdown pass. The Colts answered immediately with a field goal and took a commanding lead at the end of the period on Bulaich's second rushing touchdown of the day, an expertly-blocked 11-yard scamper around left end.

The Raiders pulled to within three points on their first drive of the fourth period. Blanda hit Warren Wells for a 15-yard touchdown, part of a five-catch, 108-yard day for the deep-threat receiver. Matching Blanda blow-for-blow was the immeasurable Unitas, who promptly tossed a 68-yard scoring strike to receiver Ray Perkins to bring the Colts' lead back to 10 points.

Blanda's magic could not rally the Raiders again, however, as two of the team's final four possessions resulted in interceptions deep in Baltimore territory and the Colts advanced to Super Bowl V.

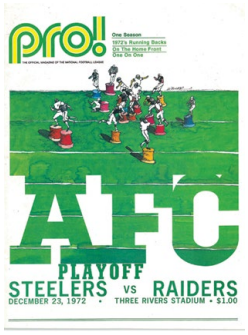
PITTSBURGH 13, RAIDERS 7

1972 AFC Divisional Playoff

Dec. 23, 1972 at Three Rivers Stadium; Pittsburgh, Pa.



What many have referred to as the greatest and most controversial play of all-time, "The Immaculate Reception," decided an AFC Playoff tilt between the Raiders and Steelers, setting the stage for numerous postseason battles between the two elite teams during the 1970s.

Oakland, returning to the postseason after a one-year hiatus, nursed a 7-6 advantage in a physical contest, and the Steelers were facing a fourth-and-10 as time wound down in regulation. Quarterback Terry Bradshaw's pass, intended for running back Frenchy Fuqua, ricocheted back toward the line of scrimmage and was scooped up by running back Franco Harris, who rumbled 60 yards into the end zone. The pass was deemed by officials to have been deflected by a defender, Raider safety Jack Tatum, and ruled a reception and touchdown in what remains one of the most controversial plays in NFL history.

All of the scoring came in the second half, with defense dominating the first two quarters on both sides. Quarterback Daryle Lamonica was intercepted on Oakland's first drive and a fumble by running back Marv Hubbard put the Raider defense on short fields, but the unit held strong on both occasions and halftime came with no score for either team.

The Steelers, making the organization's first postseason appearance in a decade, struck first with a Roy Gerela field goal early in the third quarter. The Raider offense could not get on track against the "Steel Curtain" defense, and Lamonica was removed in favor of Ken Stabler after throwing a fourth-quarter interception.

Pittsburgh tacked on a 29-yard field goal by Gerela with less than four minutes left in regulation and Stabler assumed the controls from the Raider 20-yard line with 3:42 left on the clock. "The Snake" converted a fourth-down play and connected with four different receivers to move the ball to the Pittsburgh 30-yard line. From there Stabler, almost stopped in the backfield, circled left and darted untouched into the end zone to give the Silver and Black their first lead of the day.

On the Steelers' final possession, Bradshaw moved the offense to the 40-yard line but stalled out there, setting up the controversial play that is still debated to this day.

1973 AFC Divisional Playoff

Dec. 22, 1973 at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.

A pair of Marv Hubbard touchdown plunges and four George Blanda field goals helped the Raiders exact a measure of revenge for the previous season's "Immaculate Reception" game with a 33-14 win over Pittsburgh.

Quarterback Ken Stabler's precision passing coupled with a versatile running game, which generated 232 yards on 55 carries, cut through Pittsburgh's "Steel Curtain" defense, while a smothering defense limited running back Franco Harris to just 29 yards on the ground and forced quarterback Terry Bradshaw to throw three interceptions.

The Raiders wasted no time getting on the scoreboard, as the ground attack keyed a 16-play, 82-yard touchdown drive on Oakland's first possession. Hubbard broke off a 20-yard run to put the Silver and Black in scoring range, while Clarence Davis had four carries for 27 yards to set up Hubbard's 1-yard touchdown run over left tackle.

Blanda's first field goal gave the Raiders a 10-0 lead early in the second period, but a 20-yard punt return set up the Steelers in Oakland territory later in the frame. Pittsburgh capitalized and cut the lead to three following Bradshaw's 4-yard scoring toss to Barry Pearson.

The Raiders continued to pound the ball on the ground in the third quarter, racking up yardage and dominating possession, but producing only a pair of field goals. The Pittsburgh offense took to the air in an attempt to make up for lost time, but the game was effectively put out of reach when a Bradshaw pass was picked off by cornerback Willie Brown and returned 54 yards for a touchdown.

Down 23-7, Pittsburgh again tried to move the ball through the air, but Bradshaw was picked off, this time by safety George Atkinson, setting up Blanda's fourth field goal of the day.

Pittsburgh got a late touchdown, but Hubbard's leaping 1-yard touchdown dive over the middle with 19 seconds left in regulation put an exclamation point on an outstanding all-around performance.

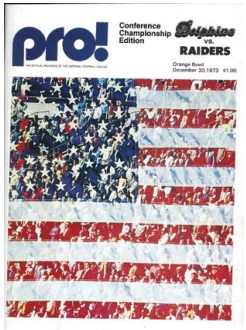
MIAMI 27, RAIDERS 10

1973 AFC Championship

Dec. 30, 1973 at Orange Bowl; Miami, Fla.



An effective running game, led by Larry Csonka's 117 yards and three touchdowns, lifted the Dolphins to a 27-10 victory over the Raiders in front of 75,105 fans at Miami's Orange Bowl. Csonka's effort paced a Dolphin offense that chewed up 266 yards on the ground, averaging over five yards per rushing attempt.

Miami set the tone early, taking the opening kickoff and embarking on a nine-play, 64-yard drive that included just one pass attempt. Quarterback Bob Griese's 27-yard scamper set up an 11-yard touchdown run by Csonka, giving the Dolphins an early lead.

The Oakland offense failed to get on track, punting twice and missing a field-goal attempt before Miami doubled its lead by virtue of a 2-yard Csonka score. The touchdown capped a drive that included 14 running plays and just two pass attempts, both of which fell incomplete.

The Raiders got back into the contest in the third quarter, as kicker George Blanda booted a 21-yard field goal on the first possession of the second half. On the Silver and Black's next offensive series, quarterback Ken Stabler found receiver Mike Siani three times for 45 yards, including a 25-yard touchdown pass that cut the Dolphin lead to 14-10.

Miami returned to the ground game, running the ball on 11 straight plays to set up a Garo Yepremian field goal in the fourth quarter. The Dolphins defense then held firm on a fourth-and-1 play on the Raiders' next possession, stopping running back Marv Hubbard to turn the ball over on downs.

Csonka struck again late in the final period, scoring on a 2-yard run with 1:49 remaining to close out the game and send the Dolphins to their third straight Super Bowl.

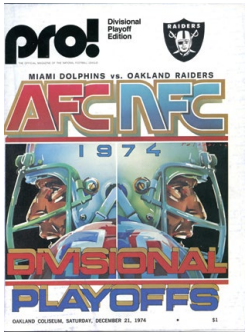
1974 AFC Divisional Playoff

Dec. 21, 1974 at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



In the closing seconds of a tight contest, Clarence Davis hauled in a desperation toss from quarterback Ken Stabler amidst a "Sea of Hands," giving the Raiders a 28-26 victory over the Miami Dolphins in what NBC Sports play-by-play announcer Curt Gowdy called, "the greatest game I have ever seen."

In an epic contest chock full of individual heroes, Stabler's 293 passing yards and four touchdowns and receiver Fred Biletnikoff's knack for timely receptions to the tune of eight catches for 122 yards, edged out Miami's vaunted running game and 114 yards from running back Larry Csonka.

The Dolphins wasted no time getting on the scoreboard, as Nat Moore returned the opening kickoff 89 yards for a touchdown to stake the visitors to a 7-0 lead. The Raiders drew even in the second quarter, as Stabler tossed a perfect pass to Charlie Smith in single coverage down the middle for a 31-yard touchdown. Miami turned to the ground game on the ensuing possession, driving into Oakland territory and settling for a 33-yard field goal from Garo Yepremian to enter the half with a 10-7 lead.

Oakland briefly took the lead in the third quarter, with Stabler and Biletnikoff hooking up three times, the third of which was a marvelous one-handed touchdown grab just inside the pylon while draped in coverage. The Dolphins quickly retook the lead, as quarterback Bob Griese found a wide open Paul Warfield in the end zone for a 16-yard touchdown after defensive back Nemiah Wilson slipped in coverage.

A memorable fourth quarter began well for Miami, as Yepremian's second field goal increased the Dolphin lead to 19-14. On Oakland's next possession, Stabler's deep pass was caught by a diving Cliff Branch, who having not been touched by a defender, rose to his feet and scampered 72 yards for a touchdown. Running back Benny Malone gave the Dolphins the advantage once again, breaking tackles and ducking under defenders for a 23-yard touchdown.

Behind the swashbuckling Stabler, the Raiders then drove to the Miami 8-yard line with 35 seconds left on the clock. On first-and-goal, the Miami rush closed in on the quarterback and with defensive end Vern Den Herder at his legs, Stabler looped the ball toward the end zone, where Davis outfought a crowd of white jerseys to come down with the football, clutching it to his chest for the game-winning touchdown.

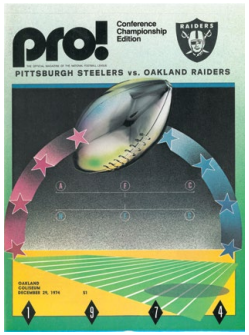
PITTSBURGH 24, RAIDERS 13

1974 AFC Championship

Dec. 29, 1974 at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



A pair of Franco Harris touchdowns, 21 fourth-quarter points and a stingy Pittsburgh defense ended the Raiders' hopes for an AFC title in Oakland. Quarterback Ken Stabler completed 19 passes for 271 yards, but three interceptions contributed to a second straight championship defeat for the Silver and Black.

A fumbled punt on the game's first possession put Oakland within scoring range, and a 40-yard George Blanda field goal gave the Raiders the early advantage. A strong Pittsburgh ground game put kicker Roy Gerela in field-goal range late in the first quarter, but his 20-yard effort sailed wide left. A second-quarter field goal by Gerela, this time from 23-yards out, drew the game level and an interception by Raider defensive back Nemiah Wilson in the end zone helped preserve the 3-3 tie at the half.

Using an efficient passing attack, the Raiders grabbed the lead midway through the third quarter. Stabler drove the offense to the Steelers' 38-yard line, and connected with receiver Cliff Branch on the left side for a touchdown strike.

The Oakland lead was short-lived, however, as Pittsburgh used seven running plays and a 13-yard completion to drive to Oakland's 8-yard line, from where Harris took it up the middle for a score. On the ensuing drive, Stabler was intercepted by linebacker Jack Ham deep in Raider territory, setting up a 6-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Terry Bradshaw to receiver Lynn Swann.

Oakland cut the lead to 17-13 with a 24-yard field goal by Blanda, but Pittsburgh's J.T. Thomas picked off a Stabler pass to dash the Raiders' hopes late in the game. Harris capped the game with a 21-yard touchdown run shortly after the interception, lifting the Steelers to the organization's first Super Bowl appearance.

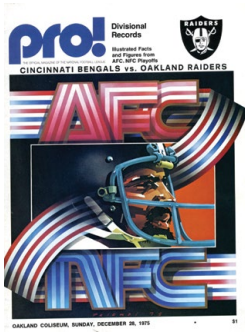
RAIDERS 31, CINCINNATI 28

1975 AFC Divisional Playoff

Dec. 28, 1975 at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



The Raiders out-paced a vaunted Cincinnati passing attack, building a significant lead before withstanding a furious Bengal rally to post a 31-28 victory in an AFC Divisional Playoff contest in Oakland.

The Silver and Black offense got off to a fast start, driving into field-goal range on the first possession of the game, but the Raiders came up empty as George Blanda's 41-yard effort fell short. Blanda would make amends later in the period, booting a 27-yard field goal to give the Raiders a 3-0 advantage.

Capitalizing on a short field following a late first-quarter punt, the Raiders added to their lead when quarterback Ken Stabler found receiver Mike Siani in the middle of the end zone for a 9-yard touchdown completion. Cincinnati got on the board via a 1-yard plunge over right tackle by running back Stan Fritts, but Oakland regained its 10-point advantage with an 8-yard touchdown pass from Stabler to tight end Bob Moore with just two minutes remaining in the first half.

The Bengals were forced to punt on their opening second-half possession, and a 20-yard return by Neal Colzie put the Raiders in scoring position at the Cincinnati 35-yard line. Four plays later, running back Pete Banaszak rumbled into the end zone from 6 yards out to increase the Raider lead. Cincinnati scored on the ensuing possession, as quarterback Ken Anderson orchestrated an 11-play, 91-yard drive that culminated in a Lenvil Elliott 6-yard touchdown run.

In a fourth quarter that saw the Coliseum air filled with footballs, the Raiders re-established a significant lead with tight end Dave Casper's 2-yard touchdown catch from a Stabler, his third scoring pass of the game. Cincinnati worked to get back in the game and, following an interception, scored on a 25-yard pass from Anderson to receiver Charlie Joiner. Anderson led a touchdown drive again on the Bengals' next series, connecting with receiver Isaac Curtis for a 14-yard score.

With the lead cut to three points, Cincinnati had one last chance to score the upset, but a tackle for loss by linebacker Ted Hendricks and three incomplete passes on the Bengals' final drive halted any chance of a come-from-behind triumph for the visitors.

PITTSBURGH 16, RAIDERS 10

1975 AFC Championship

Jan. 4, 1976 at Three Rivers Stadium; Pittsburgh, Pa.

On a frigid, ice-covered synthetic turf field at Three Rivers Stadium, the Raiders' vertical passing game was limited to the tune of a 16-10 defeat in what the NFL Network called one of the top "bad weather" games in league history. A defensive struggle turned into an offensive onslaught in the fourth quarter, with the Raiders falling just short against the defending Super Bowl champion Steelers.

With the temperature reaching just 16 degrees at kickoff, both teams struggled to find the end zone through the game's first three quarters. The Steelers got on the scoreboard first in the second period, turning the first of two interceptions by safety Mike Wagner into a 36-yard field goal by Roy Gerela.

Play on both sides got increasingly sloppy on the slippery turf, as the third quarter featured an interception, three turnovers on fumbles, two missed field-goal attempts and two punts, yet yielded zero points.

Pittsburgh broke through early in the fourth quarter, driving to the Oakland 25-yard line before running back Franco Harris bounced to the left after breaking a tackle and raced up the sideline for the game's first touchdown. Oakland answered back, as quarterback Ken Stabler connected with tight end Dave Casper on three consecutive passes for 46 yards, setting up a 14-yard scoring strike to receiver Mike Siani.

The Steelers increased their lead, capitalizing on a fumble recovery deep in Raider territory to score on 20-yard pass from quarterback Terry Bradshaw to receiver John Stallworth. Oakland got a 41-yard field goal from George Blanda late in the fourth quarter to cut the deficit to 16-10, and recovered the ensuing onside kick, but receiver Cliff Branch was tackled as time expired to quell Oakland's comeback.

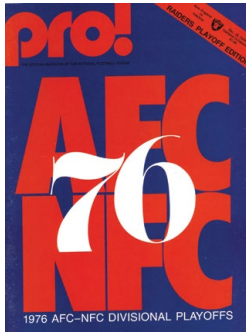
RAIDERS 24, NEW ENGLAND 21

1976 AFC Divisional Playoff

Dec. 18, 1976 at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



Two fourth-quarter touchdowns, including a Ken Stabler scramble with just 10 seconds left in regulation, helped the Raiders avoid a valiant upset bid by the Wild Card qualifier Patriots in Oakland. Stabler's 233 passing yards, and nine receptions for 137 yards from receiver Fred Biletnikoff, put the Raiders through to the team's fourth straight conference championship game with the win.

New England, the only team to defeat the Raiders during the regular season, scored first via a 1-yard touchdown run by running back Andy Johnson. Oakland got on the board with a 40-yard field goal by Errol Mann later in the opening period. A 31-yard touchdown pass from Stabler to Biletnikoff late in the second quarter gave the Silver and Black a 10-7 lead at halftime.

The third quarter was dominated by New England, as second-year quarterback Steve Grogan engineered two long scoring drives. Grogan connected with tight end Russ Francis for a 26-yard touchdown pass to cap off a 9-play, 80-yard drive, and running back Jess Phillips scored on a 3-yard run late in the period to give the Patriots a 21-10 advantage.

The Raiders, in danger of being upset at home after a 13-1 regular season, cut the lead to four points with running back Mark van Eeghen's 1-yard touchdown run early in the fourth quarter. Later, facing a third-and-18 from the New England 27-yard line, Stabler was hit as his pass intended for running back Carl Garrett fell incomplete. Patriot defensive lineman Ray "Sugar Bear" Hamilton was flagged for roughing the passer on the play, and the Raiders were given a fresh set of downs. Four plays later, Stabler scrambled left and dove between two defenders into the end zone for the game's winning touchdown.

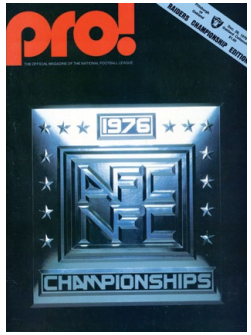
1976 AFC Championship

Dec. 26, 1976 at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



A solid rushing performance and a stout defensive effort lifted the Silver and Black to a convincing 24-7 victory over arch-rival Pittsburgh in Oakland. The victory snapped a streak of two straight AFC Championship game victories for the Steelers and punched the Raiders' ticket to Pasadena, Calif., for Super Bowl XI.

Oakland's ground attack, paced by running back Mark van Eeghen's 22 carries for 66 yards, accounted for 157 of the team's 220 total yards of offense. The Raider defense was equally impressive, limiting the Steelers to 72 rushing yards and holding receiver Lynn Swann to just three catches.

A 39-yard field goal by Errol Mann staked the Raiders to an early lead in the first quarter. In the second period, linebacker Willie Hall picked off a Terry Bradshaw pass and returned it 25 yards to the Pittsburgh 1-yard line, setting up a short touchdown run by running back Clarence Davis

Pittsburgh scored their first points on the ensuing possession, as Bradshaw connected on a pair of deep passes to set up a 3-yard scoring run by running back Reggie Harrison. The Raiders pushed the lead to 10 points just before halftime, mixing a strong running game with mid-range passing to set up Stabler's 4-yard touchdown toss to receiver Warren Bankston in the left side of the end zone.

The Raiders extended the lead on the team's second offensive possession of the third quarter, embarking on a 12-play, 63-yard touchdown drive that culminated in Stabler's 5-yard scoring pass to running back Pete Banaszak.

Oakland's defense clamped down for the remainder of regulation, and jubilant Raider fans poured onto the Coliseum field to celebrate as time expired.

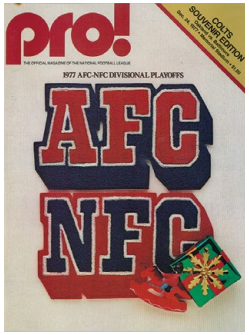
RAIDERS 37, BALTIMORE COLTS 31 (2 OT)

1977 AFC Divisional Playoff

Dec. 24, 1977 at Memorial Stadium; Baltimore, Md.



The defending Super Bowl champion Raiders, a Wild Card entrant after posting an 11-3 regular-season record, engaged in an epic double-overtime battle with Baltimore at Memorial Stadium, a game that is best remembered for a single pass play, the "Ghost to the Post." Tight end Dave Casper was on the receiving end of three touchdown passes from quarterback Ken Stabler on the day, but it was his late grab to set up the game-tying field goal that earned notoriety in a contest that lasted three hours and 50 minutes.

Running back Clarence Davis put the Raiders up in the first quarter, breaking loose over left guard and scoring on a 30-yard run. The Colts drew even in the second quarter when defensive back Bruce Laird intercepted a Stabler pass and raced 61 yards for a touchdown. A Baltimore field goal gave the Colts a 10-7 lead at halftime.

Stabler took to the air on the Raiders' first possession of the second half, connecting with receiver Cliff Branch for a 41-yard gain before hitting Casper in the end zone from 8 yards out. The Colts retook the lead on the ensuing kickoff, with Marshall Johnson returning Ray Guy's kick 87 yards for a score. The see-saw contest swung in the Raiders' favor later in the third period, as linebacker Ted Hendricks blocked a Baltimore punt to set up Casper's second touchdown catch, a 10-yard toss from Stabler.

Quarterback Bert Jones drove the Colts to Oakland's 1-yard line early in the fourth quarter and running back Ron Lee punched it in for the go-ahead score. Raider running back Pete Banaszak countered with a 1-yard plunge of his own, and the Silver and Black went up once again. A four-play, 73-yard drive capped by Lee's second touchdown run, a 13-yarder, gave the Colts the lead and set up one of the most famous plays in NFL history.

After the teams traded punts on the next four possessions, the Raiders found themselves facing a second-and-10 from their own 44-yard line with the clock winding down. Stabler dropped back to pass, pump faked, and passed to Casper who, running a post pattern, split two defenders and made an over-the-shoulder catch for 42 yards to the Baltimore 14-yard line. Three Banaszak runs brought the ball to the 5-yard line and kicker Errol Mann evened the score with a 22-yard field goal.

Both offenses labored through a scoreless overtime period, with the Raiders driving to Baltimore 13-yard line as the frame closed. Two plays into the sixth period, Stabler, with his 40th pass attempt of the game, fittingly found Casper in the back of the end zone for the game-winning touchdown.

DENVER 20, RAIDERS 17

1977 AFC Championship

Jan. 1, 1978 at Mile High Stadium; Denver, Colo.

Denver's "Orange Crush" defense and a controversial ruling on what appeared to be a late-game fumble by Bronco running back Rob Lytle, conspired to deny the Silver and Black a second straight Super Bowl berth at Mile High Stadium. On a frigid, 18 degree day, quarterback Ken Stabler passed for 215 yards, including two touchdown tosses to Dave Casper, but Oakland fell short in the team's fifth consecutive conference championship game appearance.

Kicker Errol Mann scored the first points of the game, booting a 20-yard field goal to cap the Raiders' first drive. The Broncos responded immediately, with quarterback Craig Morton connecting with receiver Haven Moses for a 74-yard catch-and-run for a touchdown. After a scoreless second quarter, the stage was set for a compelling second half between the two AFC West rivals.

Raider running back Clarence Davis fumbled deep in Oakland territory early in the third quarter, and the Broncos took over and drove to the 2-yard line. Lytle got the carry and was blasted by Raider safety Jack Tatum, causing what appeared to be a fumble that was recovered by Oakland lineman Mike McCoy. An official had blown his whistle, however, and after a conference, ruled Lytle down and assessed the Raiders with an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty, setting up a first-and-goal from the 1-yard line. On the very next play, Morton pitched to running back Jon Keyworth on the right, who scampered in for the touchdown.

Oakland cut the deficit to 14-10 early in the fourth quarter, as Stabler hit Casper just inside the end zone for a 7-yard touchdown. The Morton-to-Moses connection then gave the Broncos a two-score lead following a Stabler interception, with Moses' second touchdown catch covering 12 of his 168 receiving yards on the day.

The Raiders scored on the ensuing possession, Stabler's 17-yard touchdown toss to Casper capping an eight-play, 74-yard drive, but Denver took over with three minutes remaining and was able to run out the clock to seal the AFC title.

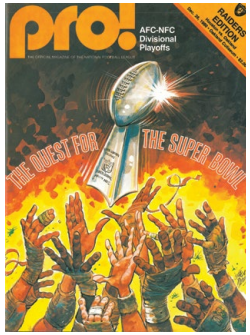
PLAYOFF HISTORY

RAIDERS 27, HOUSTON OILERS 7

1980 AFC Wild Card

Dec. 28, 1980 at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



A potent offense and a swarming defense stymied the Houston Oilers and propelled the Raiders to an emphatic 27-7 victory in an AFC Wild Card contest in Oakland. Quarterback Jim Plunkett guided a balanced attack on offense, while cornerback Lester Hayes picked off two passes by former Raider Ken Stabler, returning one for a touchdown in the win.

Houston stumbled out of the gate, as running back Earl Campbell's fumble on the first play from scrimmage was recovered by Raiders safety Mike Davis. Oakland capitalized on the turnover with a 47-yard field goal by kicker Chris Bahr. The Oilers took the lead late in the first period, capping a nine-play, 55-yard drive with a 10-yard touchdown run by Campbell. Plunkett then connected with running back Kenny King for a 37-yard gain in the second quarter, setting up a 1-yard touchdown pass to tight end Todd Christensen.

A scoreless third quarter gave way to a fourth period that would see the Silver and Black dominate on both sides of the ball. Plunkett hooked up with receiver Cliff Branch for a 33-yard completion at the end of the third quarter, setting up a 44-yard touchdown strike from Plunkett to a streaking Arthur Whittington along the right sideline on the first play of the fourth period.

The Raider defense forced punts on the next two Houston possessions, and Bahr added his second field goal of the day, a 37-yarder, to give the Raiders a 13-point lead. Desperate to get back into the contest, Houston took to the air on the ensuing possession. On a third-and-20 play, Stabler's pass was picked off by Hayes, his second of the game, and returned 20 yards for a touchdown to give the Raiders an insurmountable lead.

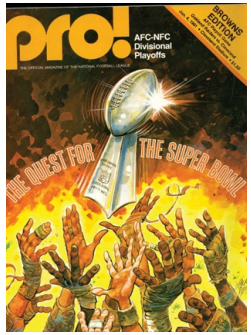
1980 AFC Divisional Playoff

Jan. 4, 1981 at Cleveland Municipal Stadium; Cleveland, Ohio



Two rushing touchdowns from running back Mark van Eeghen and safety Mike Davis' game-saving interception on a designed pass play called "Red Right 88," propelled the Raiders to a 14-12 victory over the Browns on a bitter-cold afternoon at Cleveland Municipal Stadium.

With the temperature at one degree Fahrenheit at kickoff, both offenses struggled to get started on the frozen turf. With whipping winds limiting the passing game, the first quarter came and went with no score and only two total first downs, both by Cleveland.

The Browns' defense would provide the first score of the game in the second quarter, with defensive back Ron Bolton intercepting a Jim Plunkett pass and returning it 42 yards for a touchdown. The Raiders answered back before halftime, embarking on a 14-play, 64-yard drive that culminated in a 1-yard touchdown run by van Eeghen to give Oakland a 7-6 lead at the break.

Cleveland promptly retook the lead in the third quarter, driving 48 yards and getting a 30-yard field goal from kicker Don Cockroft. The Browns added another field goal later in the period, making the score 12-7 entering the fourth quarter.

The Raiders opened up the fourth quarter on a steady drive, Plunkett mixing runs and passes all the way down to the Browns' 3-yard line. Oakland gave the ball to van Eeghen on three straight plays, including a 1-yard dive to give the Raiders a slim two-point lead.

Quarterback Brian Sipe and the Browns' offense, known as the "Cardiac Kids" for their propensity for late comebacks, took over with 2:22 left in the game and drove all the way down to Oakland's 13-yard line. Instead of opting for a field-goal attempt, and facing a second down with :49 left in regulation, Cleveland coach Sam Rutigliano called for a pass play, "Red Right 88." Davis cut in front of tight end Ozzie Newsome on the play, tumbling to the ground with the ball and preserving the narrow victory for the Silver and Black.

RAIDERS 34, SAN DIEGO 27

1980 AFC Championship

Jan. 11, 1981 at Jack Murphy Stadium; San Diego, Calif.

The Raiders got off to a fast start behind a masterful performance by quarterback Jim Plunkett, and used a ball control offense to upend the Chargers for the AFC title on a slick Jack Murphy Stadium field. Facing a vaunted San Diego passing attack, it was Oakland, led by Plunkett's 14-for-18 passing for 261 yards, which jumped out to a 28-14 halftime lead and held on down the stretch to advance to the Super Bowl for the third time in franchise history.

Oakland wasted no time getting on the scoreboard, as a Plunkett pass glanced off of the hands of intended receiver Kenny King directly to tight end Raymond Chester, who galloped 65 yards into the end zone for the score. The Chargers used their aerial attack to even the score, with quarterback Dan Fouts connecting on a 48-yard touchdown toss to receiver Charlie Joiner.

The Raiders retook the lead on the ensuing possession, as a 48-yard completion to receiver Cliff Branch and a pass interference call set up a 5-yard scoring scamper by Plunkett. Oakland scored again on its next possession, Plunkett finding King with a perfect pass in the end zone for 21 yards, to close out a wild first quarter.

A second-quarter fumble recovery by linebacker Ted Hendricks led to another Raider score, as running back Mark van Eeghen got into the end zone on a 3-yard run. The Chargers cut the deficit to two scores on the ensuing possession by virtue of an 8-yard pass from Fouts to Joiner, marking the receiver's second touchdown of the day.

After a break-neck scoring pace in the first half, San Diego chipped away at the Oakland lead with a 26-yard Rolf Benirschke field goal to begin the third quarter. The Chargers cut further into the advantage on their next possession, as running back Chuck Muncie capped off a drive by diving into the end zone following a 6-yard sweep around left tackle.

Starting the fourth quarter on offense, the Raiders controlled the ball for over five minutes on a drive that culminated in kicker Chris Bahr's 33-yard field goal. The Chargers followed with a field-goal drive, but over eight minutes had elapsed and the Raiders took over with less than seven minutes left on the clock. Plunkett expertly engineered four first downs on a 15-play drive that included 14 running plays to close out regulation, ending the game with San Diego's potent offense on the bench.

RAIDERS 27, CLEVELAND 10

1982 AFC Wild Card

Jan. 8, 1983 at Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, Los Angeles, Calif.

The Raiders, entering the playoffs as the AFC's top seed in a strike-shortened season after posting an 8-1 record, used an efficient passing offense and a smothering defense to dispatch Cleveland at the L.A. Coliseum, 27-10. Quarterback Jim Plunkett completed 24-of-37 pass attempts for 386 yards and rookie running back Marcus Allen found the end zone twice in the Raiders' first playoff game in Los Angeles.

Kicker Chris Bahr opened the scoring with a 27-yard field goal following a 64-yard toss from Plunkett to receiver Cliff Branch, but two Plunkett interceptions halted any further potential damage by the Raiders in the first quarter. Cleveland tied the game with a 52-yard field goal by Bahr's brother, Matt, but the Silver and Black quickly retook the lead on the ensuing possession, driving 88 yards on just eight plays to set up a pitch to Allen for a 2-yard touchdown.

Cleveland briefly tied the game once again, with quarterback Paul McDonald finding receiver Ricky Feacher for a 43-yard touchdown connection. The Raiders' added a field goal at the end of the second quarter, as Chris Bahr was true from 37 yards out, giving the Silver and Black a 13-10 halftime lead.

The Browns drove to the Raiders 11-yard line on the second half's opening possession, but a fumble by running back Charles White halted their momentum, and the Raiders capitalized with an 89-yard drive that culminated in Allen's second touchdown of the day, a 3-yard run.

A 1-yard touchdown dive in the fourth quarter by running back Frank Hawkins essentially sealed the victory, and the Raider defense took over, not letting the Cleveland offense advance any further than the Los Angeles 47-yard line for the remainder of the contest.

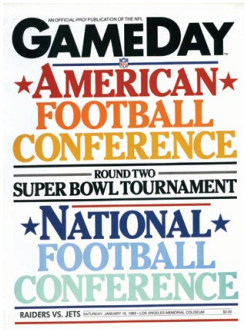
NEW YORK JETS 17, RAIDERS 14

1982 AFC Divisional Playoff

Jan. 15, 1983 at Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum; Los Angeles, Calif.



The visiting Jets stifled the Raiders' offense and a late touchdown negated 14 third-quarter points from the Silver and Black in an upset at the L.A. Coliseum. Quarterback Jim Plunkett passed for 266 yards and one touchdown, but was intercepted three times as the Raiders dropped a narrow decision.

The Raiders were in position to score first, but a 34-yard attempt by kicker Chris Bahr hit the right upright. The Jets capitalized immediately, with quarterback Richard Todd orchestrating an 80-yard touchdown drive that culminated in a 20-yard scoring pass to receiver Wesley Walker. Los Angeles drove into Jets territory on the ensuing possession, but a Plunkett pass was picked off by cornerback Bobby Jackson at the 12-yard line. The Jets added a 30-yard field goal by kicker Pat Leahy later in the second quarter and entered the halftime break with a 10-0 advantage.

Plunkett got the Raiders on the board immediately in the third quarter, engineering a 12-play, 77-yard scoring drive that was capped by running back Marcus Allen's 3-yard touchdown run. Regaining possession following a partially-blocked punt, Plunkett promptly connected with receiver Malcolm Barnwell for a 57-yard touchdown strike, giving the Raiders their first lead of the game.

The teams traded turnovers early in the fourth quarter, but a 45-yard completion from Todd to Walker put the Jets in scoring position with just under four minutes remaining in the game. From 1-yard out, running back Scott Dierking dove over the top for the go-ahead touchdown with just 3:45 left on the clock.

The Raiders would have two more opportunities on offense, but on both drives Plunkett was intercepted by linebacker Lance Mehl, ending the Silver and Black's first season in Los Angeles.

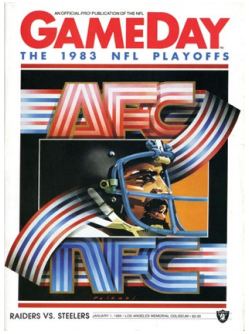
RAIDERS 38, PITTSBURGH 10

1983 AFC Divisional Playoff

Jan. 1, 1984 at Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum; Los Angeles, Calif.



Running back Marcus Allen rushed for 121 yards with two touchdowns, and 21 third-quarter points led the Raiders to a dominating 38-10 victory over Pittsburgh in a renewal of one of the NFL's fiercest rivalries at the L.A. Coliseum. Quarterback Jim Plunkett guided an efficient offense and an intimidating defense harried quarterback Cliff Stoudt all afternoon, sacking the Pittsburgh signal-caller five times and intercepting him once.

The Steelers got on the board first with a 17-yard field goal by Gary Anderson. On Pittsburgh's next possession, cornerback Lester Hayes picked off a pass from Stoudt and returned it 18 yards for a touchdown. The Raiders added to their lead in the second quarter, with Allen capping off an 80-yard drive with a 4-yard run over right guard for a touchdown, his first of the day. The Los Angeles defense held firm, allowing Pittsburgh to cross midfield just once on their next three possessions, and a 45-yard field goal by Chris Bahr at the end of the half made the score 17-3.

The third quarter belonged solely to the Silver and Black, as a precision passing game and big-play capability on offense dimmed Pittsburgh's hopes. On the half's opening possession, Plunkett promptly guided a scoring drive by moving the Raiders 72 yards on nine plays, culminating in a 9-yard touchdown run by running back Kenny King.

Allen gave Los Angeles a commanding lead on the team's next series, taking a handoff from Plunkett and breaking free up the middle for a dazzling 49-yard touchdown run. Pittsburgh cut into the lead with a long 58-yard touchdown pass from Stoudt to receiver John Stallworth, but running back Frank Hawkins' bull-dozing 2-yard score at the end of the third quarter essentially wrapped up the victory for the Silver and Black.

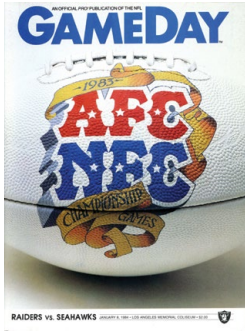
RAIDERS 30, SEATTLE 14

1983 AFC Championship

Jan. 8, 1984 at Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum; Los Angeles, Calif.



The Raiders were not to be denied in the organization's fifth AFC Championship game appearance in nine years, getting out to a fast start and cruising to a 30-14 triumph at the L.A. Coliseum in front of 92,335 fans, a championship game record. A stifling defense held Seattle scoreless deep into the third quarter, and the combination of quarterback Jim Plunkett and running back Marcus Allen proved too much for a Seahawk team that had defeated the Raiders twice during the regular season.

Seattle's game-opening drive was halted by a Lester Hayes interception, the first of five picks on the day for the Raiders, and led to a 20-yard field goal by kicker Chris Bahr. In the second quarter, running back Frank Hawkins got into the end zone on a 1-yard plunge, capping a 61-yard drive. On the team's next offensive series, Plunkett connected with receiver Malcolm Barnwell for 49 yards, setting up Hawkins' second touchdown of the quarter on a 5-yard run around left end. Safety Mike Davis' first of two interceptions came on the ensuing possession, setting up a 45-yard field goal from Bahr and a commanding 20-0 lead at the half.

The Seahawks switched quarterbacks early in the third quarter, going with veteran Jim Zorn, but the results were much the same, as Davis picked off a pass on Zorn's first series under center. Allen broke off a long run on the very next play, picking up 43 of his 154 yards on the day, and setting up his own 3-yard touchdown reception from Plunkett. Seattle finally got on the board with Zorn's 11-yard touchdown pass to running back Dan Doornink, but the final result was not in doubt.

A fourth-quarter field goal by Bahr and a late Seahawk touchdown rounded out the scoring, and the Raiders advanced to the Super Bowl for the fourth time in franchise history.

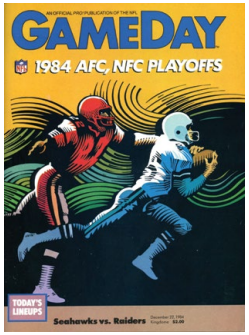
SEATTLE 13, RAIDERS 7

1984 AFC Wild Card

Dec. 22, 1984 at Kingdome; Seattle, Wash.



A grinding Seattle running game and just four completions by Seahawk quarterback Dave Krieg, including one for a touchdown, was enough to edge the Silver and Black in an AFC Wild Card contest in Seattle. Running back Marcus Allen rushed for 61 yards and caught five passes for 90 yards, while Seattle running back Dan Doornink carried the ball 29 times for 126 yards in front of 64,910 fans at the Kingdome.

Seattle scored first, capping a nine-play, 93-yard drive with a 26-yard touchdown pass from Krieg to receiver Daryl Turner. The teams traded punts frequently until a fumble by Raiders running back Frank Hawkins led to a short field for Seattle late in the third quarter. A 35-yard field goal by kicker Norm Johnson extended the Seahawks' lead, and the first of two interceptions thrown on the day by Plunkett preserved the 10-0 score at the end of three periods.

Johnson added a 44-yard field goal in the fourth quarter, but the Raiders looked to get Allen going on a drive beginning on their own 22-yard line. Plunkett connected with Allen for two completions for 29 yards before hitting him again over the middle for a 46-yard touchdown catch-and-run.

Looking to hold on to their slim lead, the Seahawks took nearly four minutes off the clock before being forced to punt. Taking over at the 16-yard line with under a minute to go, Plunkett completed two quick passes but his third was intercepted by safety Kenny Easley, sealing Seattle's victory.

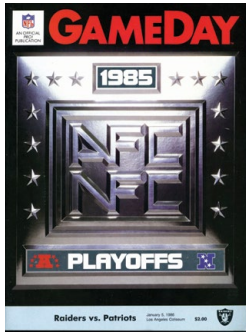
PLAYOFF HISTORY

NEW ENGLAND 27, RAIDERS 20

1985 AFC Divisional Playoff

Jan. 5, 1986 at Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum; Los Angeles, Calif.



Six Raider turnovers led to 20 New England points and Craig James became the first running back to rush for over 100 yards against Los Angeles all season, as the visiting Patriots upended the Silver and Black at the L.A. Coliseum, 27-20. Running back Marcus Allen rushed for 121 yards and one touchdown, but the top-seeded Silver and Black failed to score in the second half in the upset defeat.

A muffed return on a first-quarter punt set up the game's opening score, a 13-yard pass from quarterback Tony Eason to tight end Lin Dawson. Greg Townsend blocked a punt later in the opening period, but the Raider offense stalled and had to settle for a 29-yard field goal by Chris Bahr.

Los Angeles took the lead in the second quarter, as quarterback Marc Wilson found receiver Jessie Hester in the end zone for a 16-yard touchdown. Defensive lineman Howie Long pounced on a fumble on the Patriots' next possession, and the Raiders capitalized with an 11-yard touchdown run by Allen. On the ensuing series, New England covered 80 yards on a 10-play scoring drive, with James capping the sequence with a 2-yard touchdown around left end. After trading field goals, the teams entered halftime with the Raiders clinging to a narrow 20-17 advantage.

Turnovers continued to plague the Raiders in the third quarter, as an Allen fumble in New England territory led to a game-tying, 32-yard field goal by kicker Tony Franklin. On the ensuing kickoff, returner Sam Seale muffed the kick and then fumbled before Jim Bowman fell on the ball in the end zone for a New England touchdown.

The special-teams touchdown would provide the difference in the game, as the Patriots limited the Raiders to just two fourth-quarter possessions, picking off Wilson for the third time to close out the upset.

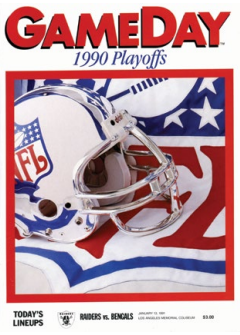
RAIDERS 20, CINCINNATI 10

1990 AFC Divisional Playoff

Jan. 13, 1991 at Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum; Los Angeles, Calif.



Returning to the playoffs after a five-year hiatus, the Raiders used 10 fourth-quarter points to defeat Cincinnati, 20-10, in a game that is perhaps most remembered as running back Bo Jackson's last career appearance on a football field. Quarterback Jay Schroeder passed for 172 yards and two touchdowns on just 11 completions, and running back Marcus Allen gained 140 yards on the ground to lead the Silver and Black.

Art Shell's team drove to the Cincinnati 24-yard line early in the first quarter, but an incompletion on a fourth-and-1 play turned the ball over on downs. A second-quarter field goal gave the Bengals an early lead, but the Raiders' running game got going on the ensuing possession, as Jackson and Allen combined for 56 yards on five rushing attempts before Shroeder found receiver Mervyn Fernandez in the end zone for a 13-yard strike.

Early in the third quarter, Jackson took a pitch from Schroeder and dashed around right end for 34 yards before being dragged down from behind. It would mark the final play of a short but bright career for the dynamic running back, as Jackson suffered a career-ending hip injury on the play.

Kicker Jeff Jaeger booted a 49-yard field goal to cap a third-quarter drive, but the Bengals pulled even when quarterback Boomer Esiason hooked up with receiver Stanford Jennings for an 8-yard touchdown early in the fourth period. On the ensuing possession, Schroeder orchestrated an 80-yard touchdown drive that was highlighted by a 41-yard scoring pass to tight end Ethan Horton, who made a finger-tip grab on the play.

The Bengals began to drive on their next possession, but Greg Townsend's third sack of the game helped derail their offense. Jaeger's 25-yard field goal with just 19 seconds left on the clock ended Cincinnati's hopes and sent the Raiders to the AFC Championship game for the first time since the 1983 season.

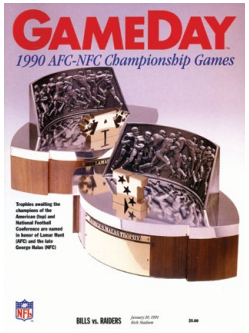
BUFFALO 51, RAIDERS 3

1990 AFC Championship

Jan. 20, 1991 at Rich Stadium; Orchard Park, N.Y.



Buffalo's potent offense jumped out to 41 first-half points en route to a 51-3 defeat of the Raiders at Rich Stadium. Quarterback Jay Schroeder, directing an offense devoid of star running back Bo Jackson, threw five interceptions, and the Los Angeles defense could not keep pace with a Bills offense that got 300 passing yards from quarterback Jim Kelly and three rushing touchdowns from running back Kenneth Davis.

The Bills got off to a fast start, as Kelly connected with former Raider James Lofton for a 13-yard touchdown on the team's first drive. The Raiders answered immediately, getting a 41-yard field goal from kicker Jeff Jaeger on the ensuing possession. A relentless Buffalo offense scored again on a 12-yard touchdown run by Thurman Thomas, and added seven points on an interception return for a touchdown by linebacker Daryl Talley to make the score 21-3.

With the Raider offense stuck in neutral, the Bills added 20 points in the second quarter via two short-yardage runs by Davis and Lofton's second touchdown catch of the game.

Any spark the Raiders looked to ignite after halftime flamed out in the form of two interceptions in Buffalo territory. Davis' third score of the game on a 1-yard dive and a fourth-quarter field goal from kicker Scott Norwood closed out Buffalo's first conference title.

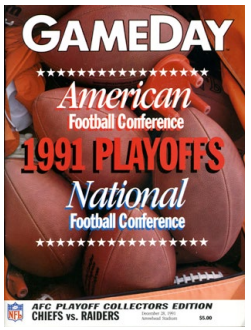
KANSAS CITY 10, RAIDERS 6

1991 AFC Wild Card

Dec. 28, 1991 at Arrowhead Stadium; Kansas City, Mo.



The Raiders fell to the Chiefs, 10-6, in a contest highlighted by dominating defense on both sides in an AFC Wild Card game. Rookie quarterback Todd Marinovich, who threw three touchdown passes in his NFL debut the previous week against the same Kansas City squad, threw four interceptions, and Chiefs running back Barry Word rushed for 130 yards at Arrowhead Stadium.

Both offenses struggled to put points on the board in the first half, as the two teams combined for three interceptions, two fumbles, two missed field goals and one punt on the game's first eight possessions. Safety Deron Cherry's second interception of the game midway through the second quarter put Kansas City in scoring position, and quarterback Steve DeBerg capitalized with an 11-yard touchdown strike to receiver Fred Jones. Marinovich engineered a score near the end of the second quarter, getting three points on a 32-yard Jeff Jaeger field goal following a 10-play, 65-yard drive.

The Raiders drew closer at the start of the second half, driving to the Kansas City 8-yard line before settling for a 26-yard chip shot by Jaeger. The Silver and Black's offense could not remain on track, however, and the Raiders' final three possessions ended in turnovers. The Chiefs added a Nick Lowery field goal in the fourth quarter, handing Los Angeles the narrow defeat.

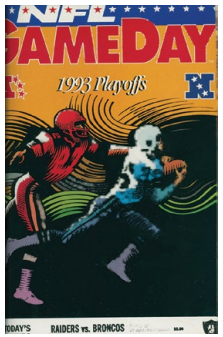
RAIDERS 42, DENVER 24

1993 AFC Wild Card

Jan. 9, 1994 at Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum; Los Angeles, Calif.



A quick-strike offense and three second-half touchdowns by running back Napoleon McCallum propelled the Raiders to a 42-24 shootout victory over Denver at the L.A. Coliseum. Quarterback Jeff Hostetler passed for 294 yards and three first-half scores against a Bronco team that the Silver and Black had defeated in overtime the previous week, forcing Denver to return to Los Angeles for the Wild Card contest.

Los Angeles and Denver exchanged scores on a "blow-for-blow" basis in the first half. The Raiders opened the scoring with Hostetler's 9-yard touchdown pass to tight end Ethan Horton, only to be matched by quarterback John Elway's 23-yard strike to tight end Shannon Sharpe. Hostetler connected on the first long score of the game, hitting receiver Tim Brown for a 65-yard touchdown later in the first quarter. Elway followed suit with a 16-yard touchdown in the second period to tight end Reggie Johnson, but Los Angeles went up again via a 54-yard pass from Hostetler to receiver James Jett. Denver pulled even on Elway's 6-yard toss to receiver Derek Russell, and the game went into the half tied, 21-21.

After posting a pair of three-and-outs on defense, the Raiders took to the ground on offense in the third quarter. McCallum, who had just one carry in the first half, broke loose for a 26-yard touchdown to give the Silver and Black the lead for good. McCallum powered through the middle for a 2-yard score to cap a 52-yard drive later in the period, and the Los Angeles defense did not yield a Bronco first down on four third-quarter possessions to maintain a commanding lead.

Kicker Jason Elam booted a 33-yard field goal to get Denver back on the board in the fourth quarter, but McCallum's third touchdown of the game following a long Raider drive sealed the victory for the Silver and Black.

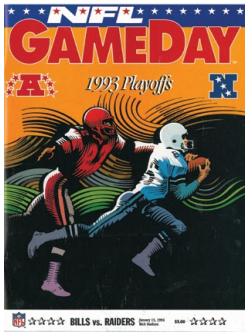
BUFFALO 29, RAIDERS 23

1993 AFC Divisional Playoff

Jan. 15, 1994 at Rich Stadium; Orchard Park, N.Y.



The Raiders were edged by the Bills, 29-23, on a frigid artificial turf at Rich Stadium in a competitive AFC Divisional playoff game. With temperatures at game time dipping to zero, the Silver and Black built a 17-13 halftime lead, but succumbed to Buffalo behind a pair of second-half touchdown passes from quarterback Jim Kelly to receiver Bill Brooks.

The Bills provided the game's initial threat in the first quarter, driving to the Raider 30-yard line before turning the ball over on downs. The Silver and Black responded immediately, embarking on a 58-yard drive that culminated in kicker Jeff Jaeger's 30-yard field goal in the second quarter.

Running back Kenneth Davis put the Bills ahead with a leaping 1-yard touchdown dive on the ensuing possession, but Raiders running back Napoleon McCallum matched the score with a 1-yard scoring run of his own. Los Angeles extended its lead following a fumble recovery, as McCallum capped an 11-play, 40-yard drive with his second 1-yard touchdown run of the day. The Bills got back into the game on the heels of a 37-yard pass interference call, with running back Thurman Thomas punching it into the end zone from 8 yards out.

Buffalo grabbed the lead in the third quarter, getting a touchdown on Kelly's 25-yard pass to Brooks and adding a field goal to move ahead, 22-17. The Bills' lead was short-lived, however, as quarterback Jeff Hostetler connected with receiver Tim Brown from the Raiders 24-yard line, and Brown streaked up the middle and eluded a tackler to score an 86-yard touchdown.

Kelly guided another scoring drive to put the Bills up for good, connecting with Brooks from 22 yards out to provide the difference. The Raiders' two remaining possessions resulted in three-and-outs, and the Bills ran out the clock to end the Silver and Black's season.

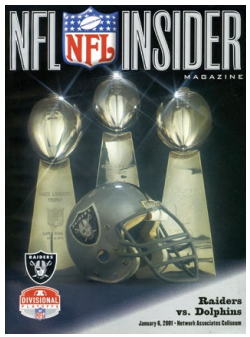
RAIDERS 27, MIAMI 0

2000 AFC Divisional Playoff

Jan. 6, 2001 at Network Associates Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



The Raiders made a triumphant return to the postseason, dismantling the visiting Miami Dolphins and posting a 27-0 victory, the first postseason shutout in franchise history. Quarterback Rich Gannon's efficient passing and cornerback Tory James' two interceptions, including a 90-yard return for a touchdown, spelled doom for the Dolphins at Network Associates Coliseum.

Miami quarterback Jay Fiedler drove the Dolphins to the Raiders' 16-yard line on the team's first possession, but James jumped receiver Leslie Shepherd's route for a pick and raced 90 yards down the sideline for a tone-setting touchdown. Kicker Sebastian Janikowski added a 36-yard field goal in the opening period and the end result was never in doubt.

Another Janikowski field goal, this one from 33 yards out, boosted the Oakland lead in the second quarter, and when Gannon connected with receiver James Jett on a 6-yard touchdown pass, the rout was truly on.

The Raider defense halted any hope of a Miami comeback, holding running back Lamar Smith, who had rushed for 209 yards the previous week against Indianapolis, to just five yards on eight carries. A 2-yard touchdown run by running back Tyrone Wheatley in the third quarter put the game out of reach, and two fourth-quarter interceptions, including a second of the day by James, closed out the convincing victory.

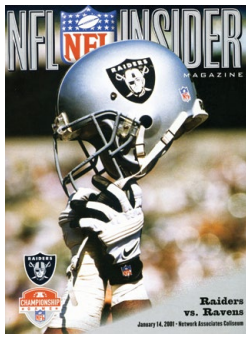
BALTIMORE RAVENS 16, RAIDERS 3

2000 AFC Championship

Jan. 14, 2001 at Network Associates Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



The Baltimore Ravens spoiled the first conference championship game played in Oakland since 1976, using a stifling defense to upend the host Raiders, 16-3. Quarterback Rich Gannon was injured on a second-quarter play, and the Raiders fell short in their bid for a return to the Super Bowl.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Ravens got on the board first when quarterback Trent Dilfer hit Shannon Sharpe over the middle and the tight end split two defenders, rumbling 96 yards for a touchdown. Shortly following the Ravens' score, Gannon was forced to leave the game due to a shoulder injury and his replacement, Bobby Hoying, threw an interception that Baltimore capitalized upon with a 31-yard field goal.

With Gannon back under center, the Raiders mounted a scoring drive early in the third quarter. Kicker Sebastian Janikowski booted a 24-yard field goal after the Oakland drive stalled out at Baltimore's 6-yard line. The Ravens added short Matt Stover field goals, one each in the third and fourth quarters, and the Raiders were kept out of the end zone for the first time all season in the defeat.

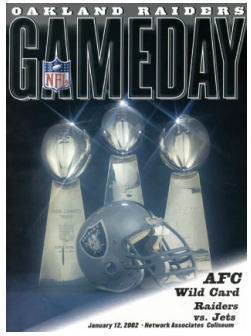
RAIDERS 38, NEW YORK JETS 24

2001 AFC Wild Card
Jan. 12, 2002 at Network Associates Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



An explosive offense led by quarterback Rich Gannon, receiver Jerry Rice and running back Charlie Garner overwhelmed the visiting New York Jets in an AFC Wild Card contest, 38-24. Rice's nine catches for 183 yards and Garner's 158 rushing yards proved too much for the Jets, who had defeated the Raiders at Network Associates Coliseum the previous week to earn a playoff berth.

The Raiders got off to a fast start in the first quarter, with Gannon leading two long drives that resulted in Sebastian Janikowski field goals. After the two teams traded field goals in the second quarter, the Silver and Black got into the end zone on a 2-yard pass from Gannon to receiver Tim Brown to give the Raiders a 16-3 halftime lead.

The Jets pulled closer on the second half's opening drive, as QB Vinny Testaverde found receiver Wayne Chrebet wide open for a 17-yard touchdown. The Raiders recovered a fumble near the end of the third period, setting up a wild fourth period in which the teams would combine to score 36 points.

Fullback Zack Crockett got the final quarter started with a 2-yard plunge for a score, and a two-point conversion gave the Raiders a 24-10 advantage. A 3-yard toss from Testaverde to fullback Richie Anderson cut the Oakland lead to seven points, but Gannon promptly led a 68-yard scoring drive on the ensuing possession, connecting with Rice for a 21-yard touchdown toss.

The Jets stormed back, as Chrebet hauled in his second touchdown pass of the game from 4 yards out. On the Raiders' next possession, Garner took a handoff and broke free around the right end for 80 yards to set a franchise postseason record and put the game out of reach.

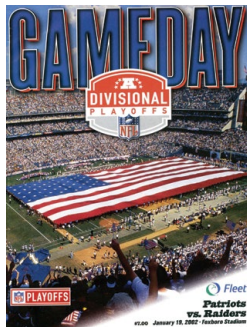
NEW ENGLAND 16, RAIDERS 13 (OT)

2001 AFC Divisional Playoff
Jan. 19, 2002 at Foxboro Stadium; Foxboro, Mass.



A New England snow storm created a majestic setting at Foxboro Stadium, as the Patriots edged the Raiders in the "Tuck Game," one of the most controversial contests in NFL history.

With less than two minutes remaining in regulation and the Raiders clinging to a three-point lead, cornerback Charles Woodson sacked Patriots quarterback Tom Brady, causing what appeared to be a fumble that was recovered by Raider linebacker Greg Biekert to seal a Raider win. Citing Rule 3, Section 22, Article 2, Note 2 in the NFL rule book, the officials ruled the play an incomplete pass, leading to the game-tying field goal by kicker Adam Vinatieri.

The Raiders built an early lead in the contest, as quarterback Rich Gannon connected with receiver James Jett in the corner of the end zone for a 13-yard score in the second quarter. Two Sebastian Janikowkski field goals, from 38 and 45 yards out, gave the Raiders a 13-3 advantage entering the final period.

Brady was efficient in an early fourth-quarter drive, completing nine consecutive pass attempts before scampering into the end zone for a 6-yard touchdown to cut the Raider lead to three points. Brady then led a late-game drive that culminated in Vinatieri's 45-yard, game-tying field goal that came on the heels of the "tuck rule" play.

In overtime, Brady promptly piloted a 61-yard drive that led to Vinatieri's game-winner from 23 yards out.

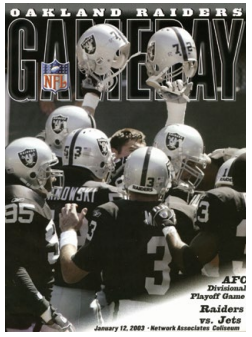
RAIDERS 30, NEW YORK JETS 10

2002 AFC Divisional Playoff
Jan. 12, 2003 at Network Associates Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



An opportunistic offense scored 17 points off of three Jets turnovers, and quarterback Rich Gannon passed for 283 yards and two touchdowns to lead the Raiders to a convincing 30-10 victory over the New York Jets at Network Associates Coliseum.

After trading first-quarter field goals, the Raiders capitalized on a fumble recovery in Jets territory by way of a 1-yard dive by fullback Zack Crockett. The Jets drew even late in the second quarter, as quarterback Chad Pennington capped a long drive with a 1-yard touchdown pass to fullback Jerald Sowell to tie the game at the half.

The second half was all Silver and Black, with Gannon connecting with receiver Jerry Porter for a 29-yard touchdown in the third quarter to give the Raiders the lead for good. Gannon and Porter hooked up again later in the third period for 50 of Porter's 123 receiving yards on the day, setting up a 9-yard touchdown pass to receiver Jerry Rice early in fourth quarter.

Two fourth-quarter field goals by Sebastian Janikowski closed out the victory and pushed the Raiders one step closer to the Super Bowl.

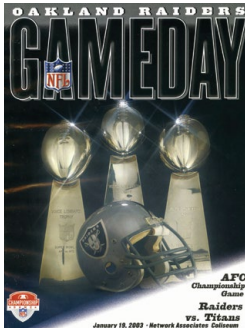
RAIDERS 41, TENNESSEE 24

2002 AFC Championship
Jan. 19, 2003 at Network Associates Coliseum; Oakland, Calif.



The Raiders got out to a fast start and out-lasted Tennessee in the second half to secure the Silver and Black's first Super Bowl berth since the 1983 season. A relentless passing attack, led by quarterback Rich Gannon's 286 yards and three touchdowns through the air, proved too much for the visiting Titans.

Oakland wasted no time getting on the scoreboard, as Gannon took the offense 69 yards on the opening possession and connected with receiver Jerry Porter for a 3-yard touchdown pass to open the scoring. The Titans answered immediately, with quarterback Steve McNair hitting receiver Drew Bennett for a 33-yard touchdown on the ensuing drive. The Raiders went up again on their next possession, Gannon moving the offense swiftly downfield to set up a 12-yard touchdown pass to running back Charlie Garner.

Tennessee cut into the Raider lead with a field goal in the second quarter, and the Titans briefly took the lead by virtue of a 9-yard touchdown run by McNair.. The Raiders took the lead back near the end of the first half, capitalizing on a fumble recovery deep in Tennessee territory with a 1-yard scoring pass from Gannon to tight end Doug Jolley. A fumble recovery on the ensuing kickoff gave the Raiders the ball in scoring range once again, and kicker Sebastian Janikowski was true from 43 yards out.

A second Janikowski field goal was matched by McNair's second touchdown run of the game, a 13-yard scamper to make the score 27-24 in Oakland's favor entering the fourth quarter. Gannon began the final period by capping off a 66-yard drive with a 2-yard touchdown run of his own, and closed out the victory by leading the Silver and Black on a time-consuming drive that resulted in fullback Zack Crockett's 7-yard touchdown run. McNair and the Titans moved the ball down to the Oakland 6-yard line, but turned the ball over on downs, and Gannon took a knee as the Coliseum erupted in celebration.

HOUSTON 27, RAIDERS 14

2016 AFC Wild Card

Jan. 7, 2017 at NRG Stadium; Houston, Texas

The Raiders' return to the postseason was spoiled by injuries and an efficient Houston Texans team that capitalized on three turnovers and 20 first half points en route to a 27-14 verdict at NRG Stadium.

Quarterback Connor Cook became the first rookie to make his first career start in a playoff game, taking the reins following a season-ending injury to Derek Carr in Week 16 and a shoulder injury to backup Matt McGloin in the regular season finale.

Houston got off to a fast start, opening the scoring with a 50-yard field goal by Nick Novak. On the ensuing possession, Texans defensive end Jadeveon Clowney tipped and intercepted a third-down screen pass from Cook deep in Raiders territory, setting up a 4-yard touchdown run by Lamar Miller and a 10-0 lead for the home team. The Raiders cut the lead to 10-7 later in the first period, as a 37-yard punt return by rookie running back Jalen Richard started the Raiders at the Texans' 38-yard line, initiating a drive that saw running back Latavius Murray grind out 27 yards on four carries, including a 2-yard touchdown run.

The Texans stemmed the tide and took control in the second quarter, getting a 38-yard field goal from Novak before quarterback Brock Osweiler found wide receiver DeAndre Hopkins for a 38-yard gain and a 2-yard touchdown connection to close the half with a 20-7 lead.

Oakland and Houston combined for seven punts in a third quarter that was dominated by defense, and the Texans moved the score to 27-7 with a 1-yard run by Osweiler early in the final period. The Raiders answered with a 75-yard touchdown drive, culminating in an 8-yard scoring pass from Cook to receiver Andre Holmes.

Battling a dwindling clock in addition to the NFL's top-ranked defensive unit, the Raiders' final two drives of the game ended in interceptions for Cook, who finished 18-for-45 passing for 161 yards, one touchdown and three interceptions in his debut start.

CINCINNATI 26, RAIDERS 19

2021 AFC Wild Card

Jan. 15, 2022 at Paul Brown Stadium; Cincinnati, Ohio

A furious comeback that had the Silver and Black inside the Bengals' 10-yard line and poised to tie the game ended with the ball in the hands of the defense at the 2-yard line, spoiling the Raiders' return to the postseason.

The 26-19 verdict was an abrupt conclusion to a season full of valiant efforts by the Raiders, who went on a remarkable four-game winning streak to close out the season and secure the franchises' first postseason berth in five years.

Quarterback Derek Carr, making his postseason debut, piloted an opening drive that resulted in a 47-yard field goal by Daniel Carlson to begin the scoring. Cincinnati roared back with a 7-yard touchdown pass from Joe Burrow to tight end C.J. Uzomah and the Bengals defense then harried Carr with sacks on back-to-back possessions. A stout defensive effort held Cincinnati to two field goals on their next two possessions despite Cincinnati taking possession in Las Vegas territory on both occasions.

Carlson pulled the Raiders closer with a second-quarter field goal, but the Bengals extended their lead on a controversial play in which Burrow scrambled right towards the sideline and connected with receiver Tyler Boyd in the back of the end zone. An inadvertent whistle was audible as Burrow released the ball but the result of the play stood, giving the Bengals a two-touchdown advantage. The Raiders took possession with 1:51 left in the half and Carr promptly executed an efficient scoring drive, connecting with five different receivers for 55 yards and rushing for 20 more himself, the sequence culminating in a 14-yard strike to Zay Jones to make the score 20-13 at intermission.

The Raiders and Bengals traded a pair of field goals in the second half, Carlson's fourth score of the day tying a franchise single-game record originally set by George Blanda, and Carr took the helm from the 35-yard line facing a seven-point deficit with just 1:51 left in regulation. Remarkable third-down completions to Darren Waller and Jones set the Raiders up at the Cincinnati 9-yard line, but their quest fell just short as Carr's attempt to find Jones on fourth down was intercepted by linebacker Germaine Pratt.

RAIDERS RADIO NETWORK GAMEDAY BROADCAST INFORMATION

Lotus Broadcasting Corp's KOMP 92.3 FM "The Rock Station" and KRLV "Raider Nation Radio 920 AM," a 24/7 sports-talk station that is home for daily Raiders content year-round, serve as the Silver and Black's flagship radio stations in Las Vegas via Compass Media Network. In addition to the flagship radio stations, you can listen live by downloading the Raiders + Allegiant Stadium app. If you are an out-of-market fan, listen in with NFL Game Pass.

Raiders gameday broadcasts include the popular "Raiders Opening Drive" pregame show, beginning two hours prior to each game. Following the postgame wrap-up, coverage will continue with a 90-minute local postgame show.

RAIDERS RADIO BROADCAST TEAM

Jason Horowitz returns for his fourth season as radio play-by-play announcer for Raiders games. Horowitz will be joined on the call for all Raiders games this season by Kirk Morrison, who played eight NFL seasons, including his first five with the Silver and Black.

Horowitz has most recently called Army Football games for CBS Sports Network and has been the lead studio anchor of Westwood One's NCAA Football and Basketball coverage, a role he has held since 2009. His additional work with Westwood One includes NCAA tournaments and Final Four games since 2014 and various shows on SiriusXM NFL Radio and ESPNU over the past 13 years. Horowitz's work has also included coverage of Super Bowls, Olympic Games and Final Four Games. He has also called FCS Championship Games and hosted NFL Drafts.

Morrison continues to serve as an analyst on ESPN and ABC's college football coverage, as well as ESPN's UFL coverage. He was also the pre- and post-game radio host of the Los Angeles Rams on ESPNLA and remains a regular host on Sirius NFL Radio, a contributor to The Athletic and a guest on sports talk radio shows across the country. Following a decorated career at San Diego State, the Oakland native was the Raiders' third round selection in the 2005 NFL Draft and immediately became a starter at linebacker, registering 116 tackles and two fumble recoveries during his rookie campaign.

Hosts/analysts of the Raiders Radio pregame and postgame shows are JT The Brick, Lincoln Kennedy and Pro Football Hall of Famer Eric Allen.

JT The Brick, in his fourth decade with the Raiders, hosts his popular show on Raider Nation Radio 920 AM and is a regular on a number of Raiders media platforms.

Former All-Pro tackle Lincoln Kennedy, who handled color analyst duties from 2018-24 after serving as Raiders Radio sideline reporter for four seasons, moves to the postgame show this season. Kennedy starred for the Raiders from 1996-2003, where he anchored the offensive line that captured three straight AFC West titles (2000, 2001, and 2002) and played in Super Bowl XXXVII. Prior to joining the Raiders Radio Network broadcast, Kennedy hosted a national radio show on Fox Sports Radio, was on the NFL Network for two years and served as a track reporter during NASCAR races. Kennedy has also made numerous appearances on both the large and small screen. An All-American at the University of Washington, Kennedy was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2015.

Allen spent the last four of his 14 NFL seasons with the Raiders, where he played in 58 games and picked off 15 passes for 256 yards, scored three defensive touchdowns and helped the Silver and Black win the AFC West in 2000 and 2001. Over his NFL career, Allen recorded 54 interceptions, nine defensive touchdowns and played in six NFL Pro Bowls. He is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame's Class of 2025.

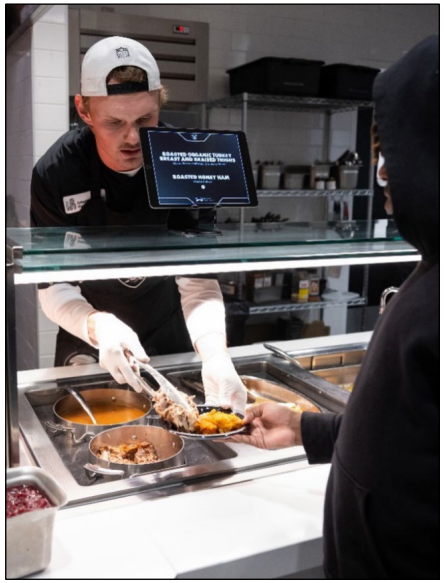
RAIDERS IN THE COMMUNITY

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

The Las Vegas Raiders Community Relations Department strives to enrich the community and enhance the lives of others through outreach and engagement, employee community service and charitable giving. During the 2024 season, these efforts impacted over 5,645 people, 55 nonprofit organizations and provided 11,149 meals in Nevada. Additionally, 78 players have made 170 total appearances supporting 8 Raiders community programs and events.

The Raiders launched four special edition Library cards aiming to connect the community to resources and events offered by their local Library district. To further our literacy efforts, the Raiders participated in Nevada Reading Week at nine elementary schools, reaching over 550 students instilling the joy of reading.

Lastly, through Corporate Giving investments, the Raiders have contributed $2,104,531 benefitting initiatives aimed at health and wellness, youth development, and military and veteran support.



RAIDERS IN THE COMMUNITY

GOVERNMENT RELATIONS

The Government Relations Department works to engage government stakeholders around the Raiders' strategic business priorities. We engage with elected and appointed officials at the local and state levels, monitoring legislation, advocating for fair policy on matters that impact our business, conducting public testimony, and maintaining knowledge of current political dynamics.

The Government Relations Department also leads innovative and impactful initiatives in collaboration with government stakeholders. During the 2024 season, the department led the historic Raiders NFL/Las Vegas Votes initiative and worked with government stakeholders to host the first Naturalization Ceremony at Allegiant Stadium.

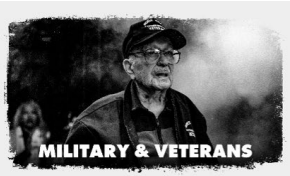
FOOTBALL DEVELOPMENT

Football serves as a powerful platform for youth in our community, fostering a sense of belonging, promoting health and wellness, and nurturing leadership skills. The Raiders are committed to removing barriers and increasing access to youth football through our empowering signature programs called the Four Quarters of Football Development in which each program corresponds to a quarter of a professional football game: (1st Q) Football Introduction, (2nd Q) Team Play, (3rd Q) Competitive Football, (4th Q) Creating Opportunities.

We work to grow the game of football year-round by hosting camps, supporting school athletic programs and curating engaging experiences.

Since 2018, the Raiders have conducted dozens of Raiders Junior Training Camps in elementary schools throughout Nevada serving thousands of youth. The Silver & Black Youth Flag Football League encompasses programs in the City of Las Vegas, Clark County, North Las Vegas and all Clark County Middle Schools. Throughout the high school boys tackle season and girls flag season, we run our showcase, coach of the week and equipment donation programs as well as hosting championship games at Allegiant Stadium. Opportunities for student athletes post high school include continuing to play the game at the collegiate level, working as a game official or coaching. We have local partnerships that focus on pathways for high school student athletes after they graduate.

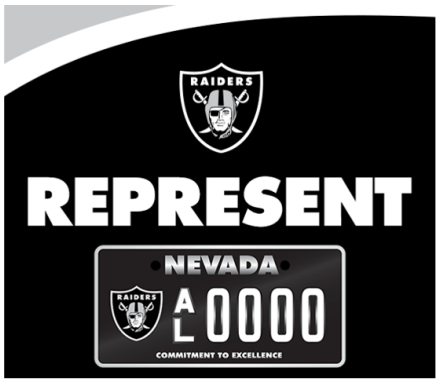
The Raiders Foundation is the charitable arm of the Las Vegas Raiders. The Foundation uplifts the community by supporting military members and veterans, health and wellness initiatives, and youth development efforts, driven by a legacy and unwavering commitment to advance social justice, equity, diversity, and inclusion in everything we do.



Primarily focusing its efforts in Nevada, the Raiders Foundation works with community partners to honor military, veterans and their families through programs which provide immediate and ongoing support; advance the wellbeing of our community through initiatives that positively impact social determinants of health; and support programs which improve outcomes for children and encourage youth to be active and healthy.

During the 2024 season, the Raiders Foundation donated close to $2.3 million, supporting 120 non-profit organizations and schools in Nevada. These grants provided access for students to post-secondary education, free dental services and emergency housing assistance for veterans, food and medical care to those living in poverty, equipment to football programs at Title 1 schools, financial literacy programming to underserved youth, mental health resources, and more.

The Raiders Foundation invites fans to showcase their team pride while supporting the community through programs like Raiders license plates and legacy bricks. For more information, visit raiders.com/foundation.



ALUMNI

The Raiders Alumni Relations Department serves to preserve and promote the relationships between the organization, its fans, and its more than 950 Alumni. The department fosters camaraderie and well-being through strategic outreach, the Alumni Peer-to-Peer Program, appearances, and community engagement. Signature initiatives include hosting annual Raiders Reunions and a first of its kind in professional sports, Alumni Wellness Weekend which brought every collectively bargained benefit available to Alumni together in one room. We aim to ensure the overall well-being of our organization's most valuable asset, the Raiders Alumni.

@RAIDERS_PR X: Media can retrieve up-to-date schedules, notes and team information via the official "X" account of the Raiders' Communications department. The Raiders Communications department's email address is FootballCommunications@raiders.com.

TRAINING CAMP 2025: Training Camp will be hosted at Raiders Headquarters at Intermountain Health Performance Center, 1475 Raiders Way, Henderson, Nevada, 89052.

TRAINING CAMP CREDENTIALS: Media requesting access to Training Camp should contact Raiders Communications Sr. Manager, Cam Russo (crusso@raiders.com). Credential requests must be received 24 hours in advance of the desired date to attend.

MEDIA AVAILABILITY: Press conferences for all coaches, players and other personnel will be executed in person and potentially via video conference or conference call. Video of press conferences will be provided to local television and web-based outlets regularly. A media advisory with times and dates will be distributed to media via email.

GAME CREDENTIAL REQUESTS: Credential requests for home games will be honored only for working media on specific assignment for a recognized news or sports organization. Credentials will not be issued to freelance writers or photographers. All single-game requests must be received by 5 p.m. (PT) (crusso@raiders.com) on the Monday prior to each Sunday home game. All full-season and single-game credential requests must be submitted by an editor or sports director.

PARKING: Every effort will be made to accommodate requests for parking passes, but due to limited space, parking cannot be provided for all credentialed media. Television trucks that provide satellite, uplink or microwave functions will need to make prior arrangements with the Raiders Communications department.

MEDIA WILL CALL: Media Will Call is located at the Southwest entry gate of Allegiant Stadium, closest to Parking Lots A and K on Polaris Ave. Each member of the media must pick up their own individual credential and present corresponding photo identification. Media Will Call opens four hours prior to the scheduled kickoff and stays open until the end of the first quarter.

MEDIA ENTRANCE: The media entrance is clearly marked and located at the Southwest entry gate of Allegiant Stadium. Media credentials will not be honored at any other gate. All media must check in at the media entrance before entering Allegiant Stadium. For security purposes, individuals and their belongings will be searched upon entry into the stadium. Photographers and videographers can retrieve appropriate sideline vests at the media entrance.

MEDIA INFORMATION POOL REPORTER: As assigned by the Professional Football Writers of America (PFWA), the Las Vegas pool reporter for the 2025 season is Case Keefer of the Las Vegas Sun.

ON-FIELD AND POSTGAME INTERVIEWS: On-field postgame interviews will be accommodated in accordance with the NFL media policy.

INTERVIEW REQUESTS: The Raiders respectfully ask that all interview requests, for any member of the organization, be submitted through the team's Communications department. Players, coaches, executives or other team personnel should never be contacted by media directly by telephone, email, or via social media. Interview requests for Owner Mark Davis, General Manager John Spytek, Head Coach Pete Carroll and other club executives should be directed to Will Kiss (wkiss@raiders.com). Pete Carroll is available to media after most practices as well as following each game. He will conduct a weekly press conference, typically on Mondays, during the regular season.

Interview requests for assistant coaches should be directed through the Raiders Communications department. Those requesting interviews with Raiders Coordinators or Assistant Coaches should contact FootballCommunications@raiders.com.

Other assistant coaches will be made available in accordance with the NFL media policy. Individual interview requests will also be considered, provided the request is made at least 24 hours in advance to the Raiders Communications department. During a typical regular-season Sunday game week, coordinators are only available on Thursdays, while other assistants are only available Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. Following games, Carroll is the only coach available for comment.

All player one-on-one requests should be made through the Raiders Communications department. With respect to all players, the Raiders will make them available to accredited media in accordance with the NFL's media policy.

Interview requests for Raiders Alumni, the team's Community, Foundation initiatives and Raiderettes should be directed to RaidersPR@raiders.com.

PRACTICE ACCESS & PHOTOGRAPHY/VIDEOGRAPHY GUIDELINES: Accredited members of the media that regularly cover the NFL are welcome to attend the first 30 minutes, or until the "team" portion, of regular-season practices. Photography and videography are allowed, in general, during this window. The team reserves the right to limit photography to certain periods due to competitive-advantage reasons. During any practice open to the media, media should stand at a safe distance and hold all belongings, including bags and video cameras. Tripods are not allowed on the field during practice, for safety reasons.

MEDIA INFORMATION MEDIA WEBSITE: Launched in 2020, The Las Vegas Raiders Online Media Guide is also accessible through an interactive platform on NFLOMG.com. Tailored to be a one-stop shop for all media members, the Raiders' new home for online media will provide standard media guide information, weekly game releases, in-game player tracking features, in addition to statistical reports generated directly from NFL GSIS. If you wish to request a personal account, please contact Joseph Hooven(jhooven@raiders.com).

PRACTICE REPORTING POLICY: Blogging and tweeting from offseason, training camp and regular-season practices are permitted for practices that are open to the public. For all practices that are closed to the public, blogging and tweeting are permitted only within the designated viewing window. Consistent with Super Bowl reporting protocol for practices, the following are general reporting policies for all media, including blogging and tweeting:

- Media may note which players are practicing as well as those who are not.
- Media may report non-strategy and non-game plan observations.
- Not permitted is any reference to plays run or game strategy. This includes describing formations, personnel groupings (i.e., composition of offensive line) or non-conventional (i.e., "trick") plays.
- Not permitted is the reporting of which players are practicing with individual units (goal line offense, nickel/ dime defense, etc.)
- Not permitted is the reporting of practice injuries until the team has provided an official update.
- Access to the head coach following practice will be provided for comments and injury updates.
- Not permitted is quoting, paraphrasing or reporting comments made by coaches, players or team personnel during a practice session.
- Not permitted are any photo/video transmissions after the designated shooting period has closed.
- Not permitted are wide-view photos/videos of formations and/or personnel groupings (shots must be tightly focused on the player/ball.)
- Not permitted is any audio of quarterback cadence, keywords, audibles, etc.
- All cell phones must be turned to "silent" or "vibrate" mode for practice and all press conferences.

MEDIA GUIDE: The 2025 Las Vegas Raiders Media Guide includes information current as of July 4, 2025. All writing, research and editing by Will Kiss, Mike Taylor, Cameron Russo, Joseph Hooven, Jade Capristo, Ashley Smith, and Roman Bruno. Photography by Michael Clemens, Matt Aguirre, Jeff Bennett, the Associated Press and Sports Information departments of schools that have produced Raiders players. Additional photos are from the Raiders archive. The 2025 Las Vegas Raiders Media Guide is available online at Raiders.com.
