STATEMENT OF VOTES

---

This Statement of Votes provides detailed voting results for the 2024 Provincial General Election. It includes summaries of election results by party, candidate and electoral district and a summary of total votes cast by voting opportunity.

2,109,658 votes were cast in the 2024 Provincial General Election, representing 58.45% of registered voters. There were 3,609,288 registered voters as of the close of voting on October 19, 2024.

The Statements of Votes for previous elections have provided results differently, depending on the voting opportunity. For advance voting, where all in-district voters were served on a first-come, first-served basis, results were provided by voting place. Absentee and vote-by-mail results were provided district-wide for each opportunity.

Results from election day voting were reported by voting area (VA), also known as “poll-by-poll” results. A VA is a smaller geographic area within an electoral district that corresponds to a neighbourhood of about 700 registered voters. Several VAs are usually assigned to each voting place. Voters from each VA were assigned to one voting station and ballot box (or “poll”) within a voting place. This allowed us to report votes from election day at the VA level. It also meant that voters could only be served by the election officials working at that station. This resulted in longer lineups for some voters, even while other voting stations stood empty.

In the 2024 provincial election, all advance and most election day voting places served voters on a “first-come, first-served” basis. This meant that voters from different VAs could cast their ballot using the same ballot box. Once a voter’s ballot is inserted into the ballot box, there is no way to connect it to the individual who cast it. This ensures the secrecy of the ballot, which is a key principle of election integrity. We can therefore report voting results by voting place, but not by voting area.

Under B.C.’s “vote anywhere” model, voters can vote at any voting place in the province. They do not have to vote at their assigned voting place. The results reported by voting place include all in-district votes cast at that voting place, regardless of whether the voter who cast it was assigned to that voting place or another voting place.

Before publishing detailed election results, Elections BC carefully reviews the results for every voting opportunity in every electoral district to ensure the secrecy of the ballot can be preserved. In cases where very few voters used a specific voting opportunity, it may be necessary to combine the results with another voting opportunity to ensure votes cannot be traced back to voters. This may include reporting combined results for more than one voting place, or combined results for different voting options (e.g., mail-in voting and assisted telephone voting). Where these combinations occurred, they are noted in the Statement of Votes for each electoral district.

Figures reported in the Statement of Votes may include corrections to previously reported figures, based on any post-election reviews or audits directed by the Chief Electoral Officer. Any errors or omissions in this text identified after publication will be corrected in the electronic version posted on Elections BC’s website.
